Mr. W. G. Murdoch, the well-known criminal lawyer, had a narrow escape from being blown through a brick wall Tuesday night and he carries about with him in the shape of singed hair and eyebrows marks of the struggle he had with an accumulation of coal gas in his furnace. Mr. Murdoch, who resides in a brick mansion on University-street, retired about 11 o'clock and a few minutes later imagined he observed a smell of gas. He ran down to the furnace in his night-dress, and opened the door of the furnace to find out what was wrong. The discovery he made surprised him. A large amount of gas had accumulated in the furnace, and when the door was opened a loud explosion occurred. A large sheet of blue flame seemed to pick Mr. Murdoch up bodily and dash him against the brick wall. When he came to his senses he felt for his night-dress but it had disappeared, leaving him in an embarrassing position, as the housekeeper, who had been awakened by the explosion, was at the head of the stairs making inquiries. How Mr. Murdoch escaped serious injury he can hardly tell, but he considers his escape a most fortunate one.

Charles Pierce, a young man, is a prisoner at Headquarters under peculiar circumstances. It is alleged against him that on Tuesday he swindled Matthew McMaine, a farmer, out of a load of potatoes. McMaine stayed in town until yesterday, when while on King-street he recognized Pierce as the man who had swindled him. He at once seized him and landed him in Headquarters by main strength. The potatoes have not been recovered.

The Police Magistrate yesterday committed Charles Nelson, bookkeeper, for trial on the charge of forging the endorsation of J. H. Pendrith to a check for $15.36.

The Board of Examiners of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario held an examination of candidates for degrees Tuesday and yesterday. The degree of fellow was conferred on John M. Martin, Toronto, and a certificate of competency was awarded to George Edwards, Whitby.

The Public School Board yesterday elected Mr. H. A. E. Kent chairman.

The conference of the Sabbath School Association of Ontario was continued in Knox Church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. F. Crafts gave the audience an idea of her system of teaching in a specimen lesson. To make the children think and talk was an important point. Particular attention should be paid to timid or dull pupils. The lesson should be made practical, brisk and brief. At the evening session Rev. Principal Caven delivered an instructive address on the "Structure of the Bible," which was followed by Rev. A. E. Dunnings's paper on "The History of the Bible."

The Teuton and the Yankee.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The belief has become general in diplomatic circles that the troubles in Samoa must lead to serious friction between the United States and Germany, out of which will probably grow a better understanding between England and America, beginning with the relegation of the Sackville incident to oblivion. It is asserted by persons in a position to know the facts that Secretary Bayard informed Lord Salisbury of the recent happenings in Samoa forty-eight hours previous to the publication of the first account of the trouble, and it is further stated that this is almost the only communication that has passed between the English and American Governments since the Sackville correspondence.

Her Trunk Is on the Back Stoop.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Miss Lula Stetson, daughter of E. G. Stetson, a dentist, and John Peterson, an employe in the office of S. K. Nester, a maltster, were secretly married in Romulus last Wednesday. Peterson had been paying attention to Miss Jennie Jennings, to whom on Christmas day he presented a gold watch. A few days before he ran away he asked for the return of the watch. Miss Jennings gave it to him. Mr. and Mrs. Stetson strongly objected to Peterson's attentions to their daughter, and forbade her accepting them. When Mr. Stetson learned of the marriage he had the bride's trunk packed and placed upon the back stoop.

An Alleged Horsethief and Bigamist.

WHITBY, Jan. 17.—A young man giving his name as W. J. Shaver from Prescott, who came here with a horse and buggy on Sunday accompanied by a woman claiming to be his wife, sold the rig yesterday to Liveryman Lewis Sebert for $50. A telegram sent to the Chief of Police at Prescott inquiring as to the ownership of the property elicited the reply that the man's real name was Silas E. Seymour, and that a warrant was out for his arrest as a horsethief and bigamist. He was arrested and committed to jail.

The Case of the Nautilus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Some time ago Isaac McCabe of New York purchased the Nautilus, a small pleasure yacht built in Canada. He now finds that owing to the fact that it is not registered in the United States he cannot have the machinery and repairs inspected. A bill has been introduced directing the proper officers to register the vessel.

Both Were Drowned.

KINGSTON, Jan. 16.—While skating near Millhaven yesterday afternoon, Herbert Milligan, son of Samuel Milligan, and another young man were drowned. Milligan broke through the ice while trying to rescue his companion. He leaves a young wife whom he married in Odessa three months ago.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting for the Transaction of Business.

West Peterborough Agriculturists in Council—Reports Received and Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society was held at the council chamber Wednesday afternoon. There was a fair attendance, though, as the President remarked, not as large as there should have been. Mr. Rutherford, President, occupied the chair. Mr. Wm. Collins, Secretary, read the following reports:—

South Monaghan.

The directors reported upon the fall fair held on the 4th and 5th of October last. The weather was favorable and the attendance larger than at any previous show. The show of general purpose horses was fair, while that of carriage horses was above the average. In cattle, sheep and pigs the exhibit compared favorably with other years. Poultry was in advance of last year and grain was as good as usual, considering the season. Roots and fruits surpassed all expectations, while ladies' work and fine arts as usual ranked high.

The total receipts were $283.20, which included $54.60 as admission fees to exhibition. The expenditures were $294.35, in which was a bill for $219.50 for prizes, leaving a balance due the treasurer of $36.15.

The officers and directors for 1889 were:

PRESIDENT—Wm. Rutherford.
VICE-PRESIDENT—John Mounsey.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—E. B. Truscott
DIRECTORS—Jas. Greer, Alex. Anderson, Nicholas Dawson, Samuel Smithson, Wm. McAllister, John Beckham, W. H. Hutchison, Geo. Fair and Robt. Laug.
AUDITORS—E. Ball and Geo. L. Fair.

Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield.

The directors sent in a copy of the prize list and a financial statement by the treasurer, M. S. Dean, by which it was seen that the receipts of the Society for the year were $675.19, to which amount the gate receipts contributed $200.25. The expenditures amounted to $634.61, the chief amounts being $269.50 for prizes and $280.33 for the purchase of grounds. This left a balance on hand of $41.58. The officers for 1889 are:

PRESIDENT.—H. C. Garbutt.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—G. W. Fitzgerald.
SEC.-TREAS.—M. S. Dean.
DIRECTORS.—Wm. Abbott, C. Quinn, J. H. McWilliams, Hugh Davidson, R. H. Bradly, M. E. Sanderson, G. J. Galvin, G. W. Mann and R. C. Strickland.
AUDITORS.—Andrew Fairbairn and Wm. M. Graham.

Horticultural Society.

The report of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was also read. A full report of the annual meeting of the Society has already been published in the EXAMINER.

West Peterborough.

The Secretary read the following report:—

To the President and Members of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society.

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting our annual report for the past year we have the gratification of reporting a substantial increase in the membership. In 1887 the membership of the Society numbered 230, and this year there are 299 members, and in addition 96 subscribers.

The steady increase in the number of entries at the annual exhibition shows that the exhibition is growing in favor with exhibitors. In 1886 the number of entries was 925; in 1886, 1,506; in 1887, 1,877; and last year it rose to 2,050. This is a gratifying increase and with judicious management may be continued.

The Society has to thank subscribers for their liberal donations to the prize list, which enabled your Directors to make the list more comprehensive and attractive for exhibitors.

The sums paid out in prizes in the different classes were as follows:—

	Cash prizes.	Prizes donated not cash.
Horses	$ 555 00	$ 231 50
Cattle	270 00	2 00
Sheep	209 00	2 00
Pigs	69 00	2 00
Poultry	30 00	6 00
Dairy produce and miscellaneous	35 00	43 25
Grain and Seeds	70 00	11 00
Roots	44 00	7 00
Orchard and Garden and Plants and Flowers	136 50	3 00
Implements, etc	(Diplomas)
Musical Instruments	(Diplomas)
Fine Arts	(Diplomas)
Ladies' Work	151 00	5 00
Other articles	(Diplomas)
	$1040 00	$ 316 25
Total		$1356 25

Exhibitors of implements for which no prizes were offered, were afforded space to show them. A number took advantage of this and implements of various kinds were shown. The exhibition was opened by the Hon. C. A. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, who kindly accepted an invitation to be present and officiate at the formal opening.

The special attractions provided were speeding in the ring, which included a number of events, and a baseball tournament, which seemed to be appreciated.

We would suggest that more special attractions be provided for the exhibition, and that they be arranged for earlier, so that they may be thoroughly advertised, and the exhibition receive the full benefit from them.

The experience of the past season leads to the conclusion that four days should be set apart for the exhibition instead of three. With four days there is an opportunity to have a good attendance on at least two days, and there is less danger of loss to the Society through unfavorable weather. In that case the live stock might be removed at 2 o'clock on the last day.

It would facilitate the business if the secretary were given more power to deal with correspondence, with an advisory committee to assist. Much delay is caused by the time taken to consult the Board of Directors and often annoyance is caused by it.

In many places, similar in size to Peterborough, the agricultural grounds are owned by the town and used as a park and pleasure grounds, the agricultural societies also holding the exhibitions in them. The grounds used by this society are large and well adapted for these purposes, and it would be well to call the town's attention to this matter. The County Council should also be pressed to assist the society, as the exhibitions are chiefly for the purpose of benefitting agriculture and the County Council is the body through which the farmers can best unitedly aid the Society in holding good shows.

If suitable buildings were provided on the Society's present grounds, there would we believe, be no difficulty in securing the Provincial Exhibition for Peterborough in 1890. The Society's grounds are large enough and suited in every way for the Provincial show, and more building room is all that is required to accommodate the exhibition.

WM. RUTHERFORD, President. WM. COLLINS, Secretary.

Peterborough; Jan. 16, 1889.

MR. HUGH DAVIDSON in speaking to the report said there were one or two ideas in it that commended themselves to the meeting. That was with regard to purchasing the grounds and approaching the county council for the purpose of gaining their assistance.

There was some talk as to how the townspeople regarded the Society's grounds and on part what terms the Society had the land they occupied.

MR. COLLINS, secretary, stated that the Society had a lease on the grounds that expired in five years, at which time they had the privilege of purchasing the ground at $500 per acre, or the land went back to the present proprietors. At present they paid only a nominal rent, and while they had it so cheap it would be useless to purchase the grounds.

There was some further discussion on the matter, after which the Secretary's report was adopted.

THE OFFICERS.

The officers were then elected for the ensuing year by ballot. The reporters of the EXAMINER and Review, having the confidence of the Society, were appointed scrutineers. The election resulted as follows:—

PRESIDENT—Wm. Rutherford.
1st VICE-PRESIDENT—Wm. M. Fair.
2nd " " —G. W. Fitzgerald.
DIRECTORS—A. P. Morgan, Jos. Tully, Geo. E. Elliott, Geo. Berry, Jas. Stevenson, Jas. Baptie, R. Vance, Jos. Forster and A. Matchett.
AUDITORS—Messrs. J. Carnegie and Hugh Davidson.

The meeting then adjourned.

The election of a Secretary and Treasurer was deferred till Saturday, 26th inst., when a special meeting of the directors will be held for the purpose.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w3d

"Eureka" and "Golden Hair Wash."

These are two of A. Dorenwend's standard preparations. The "Golden Hair Wash" gives the hair that beautiful golden shade so universally admired; it does not injure the hair in the slightest degree. "Eureka" removes all superfluous hair from the face, arms or neck at one application. See that each bottle of either preparation bears on the label the signature of A. Dorenwend. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "Swayne's Ointment," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs, but a trifle. Lyman, Sons & Co. Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

Clever Robbery at Hamilton—Money or Bond—Another Libel Suit.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—Two clever sneak thieves put up a daring job on Alex. Campbell, grocer, 54 York-street, last evening, and enriched themselves to the extent of $120. About 6 o'clock Mr. Campbell, who is an elderly gentleman, was in his store when a well dressed man came in and spoke to him about the handsome plants that were in the window facing on Merrick-street. While the conversation was going on Geo. Plato, a shoemaker who has a shop next door to Mr. Campbell's, came in to purchase a window shade. Mr. Campbell said he would hunt a shade and bring it into the shoemaker's, which he subsequently did, and was followed into the store by the admirer of the plants. They talked for some time, when Mr. Campbell remembered that there was no body in his store and started to walk out, but the man tried to stop him and detain him as long as possible. Finally he got away, and as he entered the store he saw a man sneaking from behind the counter. The man said he wanted to get a plug of tobacco, and before Mr. Campbell could get it both of the men left the store. Mr. Campbell then suspected that something was wrong, and on searching discovered that the $120 which he had put aside to pay a local wholesale firm was gone.

Robert Harrison of Zimmerman has received the following rather startling letter, which was mailed at Palermo:

JANUARY, 1889.—Villain! Demon! Wretch! I have sworn to make your heart's blood pay the price of Mary Watson's fall if you do not place a sufficient sum in the hands of Richard Watson Palermo or George Watson Lowville to support your victim for two years, say two hundred dollars, within 3 months. Your money or your blood. You damned hypocrit.

Mr. Harrison is not at all alarmed at the fierce threats of the anonymous blackmailer; but thinks it just as well that the public should know about it.

The suit brought by Mr. M. Malone against The Spectator Printing Company, for libel, was taken up at the assizes yesterday and was proceeded with again to-day. Mr. Malone claims $10,000 damages, on the ground that The Spectator libelled him in a number of articles commenting upon the discharge of one Canary from the city's employ.

At the meeting of the Hamilton Presbytery yesterday a committee was appointed to prepare a petition for presentation to the Dominion Parliament and to secure the services of a competent member of the House of Commons to present the petition, asking that traffic on the Welland Canal be closed on the Lord's day.

The ninth annual grand reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of the Valley of Hamilton, A. F. and A. M., opened this morning at ten o'clock in the rooms of the rite, Masonic Hall, James-street. A very numerous gathering of the brethren, including large delegations from Canadian and American cities and towns, [illegible] attendance.

The annual meetings of the North and South Wentworth Agricultural Societies were held here to-day. The usual motion to amalgamate with the Hamilton society in holding a central fair was carried each.

At the Police Court this morning James W. Buckingham, secretary of Court Marquis of Lorne, No. 6490, A. O. F., charged with embezzling $6.40 of the funds of the society on March 13, pleaded not guilty, and the case was enlarged until Thursday.

David Young and Ralph Cole, two 13-year-old boys, were tried at the Police Court this morning on three charges of larceny and remanded until Friday for sentence.

Three householders were fined $1 each at the Police Court this morning for neglecting to remove the snow from their sidewalks.

Tables Turned on Detectives.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 17.—Word reaches here that "Bad Anse," Capt. Hatfield and several of their friends, who have become so notorious as participants in the Hatfield-McCoy vendetta, laid a trap for the detectives who are after them, and last Friday captured Dan Cunningham, Evans and another detective, all of this city. From what can be learned the Hatfields put out a spy and coaxed the detectives to a certain point in the mountains, near their home in Logan county, and when the detectives came along compelled them to surrender. The Hatfields had procured peace warrants, arrested the detectives and took them to Logan Court House, where they are now jailed awaiting bonds for their release. They will be compelled to give bonds to keep the peace. This explains why the Hatfields were in Logan Court House two weeks ago to make terms of peace.

Dragged to Death by a Bucket of Water.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—As the Hoboken ferryboat Morristown was leaving her slip at Fourteenth-street, this city, on her 10,30 trip yesterday morning a bootblack named Francisco Fralelli took the draw bucket from the cabin and was about to draw some water when the deck hands took the bucket from him. He again secured the bucket, and, opening the gates when the boat was in midstream, dropped it into the water. He was dragged overboard and drowned in the sight of the passengers.

Objects of Charity.

A correspondent writes:—"It is time that objects of charity should be defined. The paragraph which appeared in Monday's papers under the above heading, needs ventilation. The man of the family referred to, is earning three dollars per week board included. He has not had to buy any wood of consequence so far, and has had no rent to pay till about three months since. When "objects of charity" can afford to live on fruit biscuits, grapes, snaps, and other dainties of an expensive nature, they can hardly be called legitimate objects of charity. It is time such cases should be investigated; the public are imposed on by highly colored versions of their need. The woman, by her own showing, earned three dollars per week."

Thanks, Awfully.

The town council last night voted the sum of $10 to each of the reporters of the local papers for "faithfully and truthfully reporting the meetings of the council during the past year." So read the resolution. Mr. Cahill introduced the subject in a nice little speech, redolent of compliments to the "gentlemen of the press," and Mr. Moore also supplemented a few flattering remarks. Mr. Douglass added the substantial portion by proposing the $10 remuneration. This latter consideration is what particularly touched our hearts. Before the first mad ecstacy of joy which overwhelmed the impecunious reporters at the prospect of hugging a genuine $10 note on the morrow, had time to pass away and leave the quill-drivers in a sufficiently calm state of mind to frame a suitable acknowledgment in words, the council had adjourned, and they had lost the opportunity of unburdening themselves of all the eloquence which a ten-dollar incentive would doubtless have wrung from them. However, the bewildered scribes were able to smile their thanks, and hope that the custom may become a permanent one in Peterborough. Of course no objection will be made if the amount is increased. No class of men deserve it more, if we do say it ourselves. As to doing "faithful and truthful" work, that of course goes without saying. We always try to do our level best, and what more can any man do? Gentlemen, our thanks for the acknowledgment is only exceeded by the celerity with which we hasten to accept the "tenner." We are always open to such favors, and hope to always merit them.

That Branch of Promise Case.

A Sad Death.

This morning a young man named William Stenton died at the Morgan House from inflamation of the lungs. Deceased was employed at Dr. Stevenson's stables, and last Friday morning called at the Morgan House, where he was in the habit of taking his meals, and asked to have a room for a few hours, as he was suffering from a severe cold and wished to lie down. He went to the room, but never left it again alive. Inflamation set in, and though everything possible was done for the young man, he died this morning. Deceased has two brothers, George and Robert Stenton, living in town. He was a member of the order of Foresters, under whose auspices he will be buried. The funeral takes place from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Chas. Curtis, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

'Twas the Lady.

St. Peter's Literary Society last night debated the answer to Frank R Stockton's query in his tale entitled "The Lady or the Tiger?" There was a good attendance, and besides the debate a musical programme was rendered consisting of songs by Misses L. Mahony and M. McFadden, and Messrs. M. Tierney and Dan Donoghue. Dr. McGrath occupied the chair. The debaters were, Dr. Brennan on behalf of the supposition that it was the lady who appeared in the arena in answer to the lover's knock upon the fated door, and Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle for the argument that it was the blood-thirsty tiger which the jealous mistress had determined should destroy the man who had dared to refuse her love. The decision was left to the audience, the majority of whom were of opinion that it should be the "lady of his love" who responded to the young man's call.

A FINAL, FOND FAREWELL

The Retiring Members of the Council Say Adieu.

The Last Meeting of the Council of 1888—The Question of Charity a Prominent One—The Year's Doings on the Streets.

At the "farewell meeting" of the council Wednesday evening all the members were present except councillor Hartley, who was out of town.

MAYOR STEVENSON said he had called the council together that they might wind up business, but more especially that they might consider the best means to give employment to the many unemployed men who were at present about town. There were a great many of them who would not accept charity of the town and yet they could not get work. He thought if the Townsend street bridge were to be built now it would give some of these men employment.

Mr. DOUGLASS said he thought the Street Inspector should employ only men living in town on corporation work, and that would help relieve the difficulty.

The town clerk stated that on the 9th of January he had been served with a notice from the solicitors of Mr. Thos. Howden claiming $80 damages for injury to his buggy incurred on George street. Mayor Stevenson stated that he would himself undertake to have the matter settled without having a suit brought against the town.

A communication was read from Messrs. Dumble & Leonard, solicitors, notifying the town that damages were claimed on behalf of Mr. John Gamble, whose premises on Smith street had been injured.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

Mr. Michael Halpin wrote the council that he had placed a billiard table in his house, but as no playing fee was charged he did not think he should pay a license. However, in order to save trouble he was willing to pay a pro rata license.—Referred to the License Committee.

Mr. Michael Fawcett's application for the position of town assessor was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

CHARITY.

Mr. A. Hall presented the report of expenditures for charity in the town during December, amounting in total to $120.15, divided as follows:—No. 1 Ward, $41.50; No 2, $50.10; No. 3, $28.55; No. 4 Ward did not report. The report was adopted.

MOTIONS.

Mr. Cahill moved that Mr. John Adlum be paid $110 in payment of all claims against the town.—Carried.

Mr. Yelland moved, seconded by Mr. Keudry, that in view of the large sums received by the town for fine under the Canada Temperance Act, and the large benefits obtained, there be paid to E. B. Edwards, solicitor, the sum of $75 in full discharge of all claims by the "Scott Act Committee" for expenses incurred in prosecutions under said Act.—Carried unanimously.

Mr. Davidson moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that the sum of $14 be granted to the Street Inspector and Chairman of Street Committee for expenses in going to Toronto re block pavement matter.—Carried.

FAREWELL WORDS.

Mr. Cahill, in presenting the following motion, spoke a few complimentary words of the past efforts of the three members for No. three Ward, whose services would be greatly missed in the council. The Mayor also endorsed Mr. Cahill's remarks. The motion was:—

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Davidson, and resolved, that this council sincerely regrets that the corporation is about to lose the services of the three councillors for No. 3 Ward, Messrs. Moore, Yelland and Douglass, all of whom have been zealous and active members of the corporation for a number of years, and have rendered efficient services to the town in various capacities as councillors.

The motion was carried by a standing vote.

Mr. MOORE replied to the motion, expressing his regret at the severance of his friendly relations with the members of the council. His experience in the council had been of benefit to him, and he could say that he had always been on friendly terms with his colleagues. Mr. Moore said he had always endeavored to do his duty in the council, and had he been privileged to remain in the council another year (though he was not disappointed at being left out) he had intended to bring up several important measures calculated to be of benefit to the town. One was the reclaiming of the land between the shores of the river and the line of the new C. P. R. spur to the mills. He had also proposed to moot the advisability of advertising the town throughout the whole continent. This he regarded as an important matter, for there was no gainsaying the benefit that new industries would be to the town. They should endeavor to attract capitalists here, and if this were done he hoped and expected to see Peterborough in the year 1893, which would be an auspicious year in the town's history—inasmuch as they would then be able to wipe off all debt—a thriving and prosperous city.

Mr. YELLAND also replied, briefly expressing his thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He had always tried to do his duty fearlessly, and though, perhaps there were times when all the councillors could not agree, they had on the whole been very good friends together. He had been in the council 14 years and he parted on friendly terms with them all. He had not sought re-election, but he was sorry to see such a good councillor as Mr. Moore left out of office.

Mr. DOUGLAS said he had been in the council about the same time as Mr. Yelland, and he has always acted above board in everything he did. The council was a friendly one all round, and though they sometimes had sharp words they never went beyond the door. He thought in retiring it was proper to give the new men a chance. Some of the ratepayers of No. 3 were inclined to grumble, but he saw by the street inspector's report that the third ward got its share of the expenditures. He thought in view of this the present representatives could retire with good grace.

Mayor Stevenson and Mr. Cahill added a few remarks regarding the necessity of bringing industries to the town to build it up, and the advisibility of encouraging capitalist to locate here.

HARD LINES.

Regarding the Mayor's suggestion about the completion of the Townsend street bridge, Mr. Langford said there was no work on building the piers and bridge for the class of men who are out of work. It required skilled labor for this. But if gravel could be got to fill in the approaches, it would give employment to a few laborers.

The MAYOR said they might give employment to the most needy. There were men with families who would rather starve than ask charity.

Mr. A. HALL said one case came under his notice last week where a woman had not had anything to eat for four days.

There was some discussion as to where gravel could be got, but no definite action was taken.

MORE MOTIONS.

Mr. A. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. E. H. D. Hall, that the contract prepared by the town solicitor with the Electric Light Co. be signed by the Mayor and Clerk, and the corporation seal be attached.

Mr. MOORE objected to the motion on the ground that the old council should not bind the new one to any contract, but should trust to its doing what was fair and just in the matter.

The motion was, however, carried.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that the reporters of the town papers be thanked for their faithful and truthful reports of the council proceedings during the past year.

Mr. Douglass added a rider to the effect that each reporter be granted $10. Mr. Moore seconded this and the motion carried.

The council adjourned

A Runaway Couple.

A Cardiff Girl Elopes with an Objectionable Lover and is Pursued.

Last night about dark a farmer drove into town in all haste and put up at an hotel. His name was Hughie, and he had driven all the way from Cardiff township, a distance of sixty miles, since early morning on a pair of bob sleighs. He said he was in pursuit of his eighteen year-old daughter, who had eloped with a young widower who had been courting her, and won her affections. The girls parents objected to her marrying, the man, who was nearly 40 years of age, while she was but 18, and the pair had taken French leave and gone off together. As soon as their elopement was known the irate father started in pursuit. He arrived in Peterborough just two hours too late, the couple of whom he was in quest having left the town for Asphodel, where the prospective bridegroom has relatives. The runaway pair had put up at an hotel, and left last evening, just in time to escape the old man. The latter, seeing that he was too late to prevent his daughter's reaching the Asphodel relatives of her fiancee, considered it useless to pursue further and gave up the chase. The pair are doubtless married, let us hope happily, by this time, though the father learned while here that no marriage license had been taken out in Peterborough. Mr. Hughie returned to his home in Cardiff today.

THE R. M. C. GRADUATES.

THEIR MILITARY KNOWLEDGE GAINS FAVOR IN ENGLAND.

Promotions in the Department of Agriculture—A Fleet of Seamers to Set Out Shortly for Behring Sea.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Colonel Panet, Deputy Minister of Militia, has had advices from England stating that the authorities are extremely well satisfied with the military knowledge possessed by the graduates of the Royal Military College who received commissions last year. In consequence of this the graduates are absolved from entering upon certain initiatory studies, which they would otherwise have been obliged to go through. Colonel Panet's son is one of the graduates and holds a commission in the Royal Engineers.

It is stated that Mr. H. B. Small, accountant of the Department of Agriculture, has been promoted to the secretaryship of the department by the appointment of Mr. John Lowe as Deputy Minister, and that Mr. J. W. Lynch of the Auditor-General's office has been transferred to the Department of Agriculture as accountant.

Private advices from the Pacific coast state that a fleet of nearly 100 American and Canadian vessels will set out shortly for Behring Sea and take the chances of capture by the United States revenue cutters.

The annual meeting of the Ottawa branch of the Imperial Federation League will be held to-morrow night.

Fashionable Wedding at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The most fashionable marriage of the year took place here this afternoon, when A. W. [illegible] of Aberdeen, Scotland, was united in the bonds of matrimony with Miss Miall, eldest daughter of the commissioner of inland revenue. The ceremony was performed in St. Andrew's Church by Rev. T. Herridge, B.D., over 200 guests being present. The newly-wedded pair subsequently held a reception at the Russell House. Mr. Rennie is a son of the great Aberdeen ship owner. He left this afternoon with his bride for Natal, South Africa, where he will manage his father's business agency for two years. The wedding presents are valued at several thousand dollars.

SOUTHERN CHIVALRY.

Outrages in Mississippi—Women and Children Driven From Their Homes.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 17.—The following letter will appear in The New Mississippian. A copy was handed to-night to a correspondent of the Associated Press:

"SHAGULAK, Miss., Jan. 16.—Editor New Mississippian, Jackson, Miss. Dear sir. I sent you a telegram this morning giving you a short account of what is going on in the northern part of Nemper and the southern part of Noxubee. Had previously written the Governor on the same subject. I am not a sensationalist, but when a mob composed of the most depraved and irresponsible part of our community can rob and plunder defenceless women and children and drive them from their homes, carrying on their barbarous work for three weeks without check or hindrance, it is time that some one take the initiative, and I appeal to those who are high in authority and have been entrusted by the law with the preservation of our lives and property. Crimes have been committed that the outside world have not dreamed of.

"As I telegraphed you to-day over 40 families, by actual count, have been driven from their homes. Many of these families by years of industry and economy have paid for their lands and had stock and supplies sufficient to make crops. These people have committed no crime, unless indeed it is a crime to be born black. No charge has ever been made against them. Three families who sent to me yesterday for protection have been notified to leave within five days. One woman has a child 11 days old and another a child about three weeks old. Their limit will expire to-morrow. They are now rushing through mud and rain, hauling the corn-meal and bedding and household furniture to save them from the vandals.

It is time that the press of the state should be aroused. We have been criminally negligent in permitting these outrages to go on almost at our doors without giving any notice to the outside world. I am perhaps not competent to judge but it does seem to me that the Governor of the State ought to place these people back on their farms and protect them there in the enjoyment of the fruits of their labor and the comforts of their homes. CHAMBERLAIN."

Governor Lowry is making enquiries into the facts and will take necessary measures to suppress lawlessness.

A South Carolina Feud.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 17.—About a month ago Butler Banks of Newberry County was shot and suspicion pointed to James C. Banks as his assailant. Last Saturday week Butler Banks lay in wait for James C., and taking deliberate aim with a shot gun fired at his supposed assailant wounding him in four places. James Banks implored Butler, who is not a relative though of the same name, to desist but he later fired the second barrel of his shotgun and also the contents of a pistol at James. James is in a dangerous condition. Butler Banks escaped.

Last Saturday night, a party of men went to the house of Butler Banks, where were his wife and six little children, the oldest being only 13, and set fire to the house, compelling the woman to remain until its destruction was certain. The men then set fire to the corn crib and feed house, leaving the mother and little ones without food or shelter or sufficient clothes.

Some Facts About Wheat.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—The Millers' Association has issued a private circular for distribution among its members, which gives the following important information regarding the amount of wheat and flour on hand in six states—Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan; and also the condition and acreage of the growing wheat crop of the six states. The reports come from 154 winter wheat mills. The amount of wheat held by these mills is placed at 1,060,000 bushels more than one year ago, and of flour 200,000 barrels, or 90,000 barrels more. The average acreage of wheat planted in Missouri is 100, and the condition 100; Illinois is 99 in acreage and 101 in condition; Kansas is 144 in acreage and 100 in condition. The other states average from 94 to 98 in acreage and condition. Of the amount of wheat in farmers' hands Missouri reports it large; three states about the same, and the others say smaller.

Proposal to Test Immigrants to the U.S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Ford committee on contract labor held another long meeting to-day and practically concluded its work. Respecting the tax to be imposed upon immigrants the committee was not unanimous, but the majority finally agreed upon a tax of $3 with a view to excluding paupers. Chairman Ford proposed an additional section contemplating the exclusion of aliens who do not intend to become citizens. This met with some opposition as likely to lead to unpleasant complications with other nations which now admit citizens of the United States, and it was decided to permit the amendment to be sent in as an independent suppression.

QUEBEC'S ELECTIONS ACT.

SWEEPING AMENDMENTS PROPOSED IN THE ASSEMBLY.

Provisions of the Bill Introduced by Mr. Pelletier—Mr. Langelier's Fee in the Manitoba Crossing Case.

QUEBEC, Jan. 17.—In the Assembly today a number of new bills were introduced, including one by Mr. Lynch, to obtain recognition of the Protestant university degree of B.A. in examinations for admission to study in the learned professions, and the usual number to shake municipal and civil codes.

In response to Mr. Lynch, who asked how much Hon. Francis Langelier was paid for his services in watching the interests of the Province of Quebec in the Manitoba crossings case before the Supreme Court, Premier Mercier replied that, in view of the importance of the question and the work imposed on Mr. Langelier, and in order that he might effectively defend the interests of the Province, the Government thought it their duty to pay him $3000 and traveling expenses.

Among the bills introduced this afternoon was one by Mr. Pelletier to amend the Controverted Elections Act. It provides that to annul the election on act of corruption must be proved on the part of the candidate, and to disqualify him two acts of corruption must be proved by two different witnesses as respects each act.

A distinction is made between real agents and those acting on their own responsibility and no annulment of the election can be obtained for trivial reasons.

Should the majority in the election exceed 200 it is provided that the election cannot be annulled unless general corruption is proved. If between 200 and 300 ten acts of corruption will be necessary, between 100 and 200 eight acts and less than 100 six will be necessary.

The Legislature reserves the right to say who shall be eligible to vote or hold office under it. Employes of the Dominion and Provincial Governments are debarred from voting.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Blaze in the Bon Marche—Baby Burning—A Test Case.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—A fire broke out in the Bon Marche dry goods store, owned by F. X. Cousineau, early yesterday morning. The chemical engines only were used, but the fire was soon under control. Large quantities of dress goods were destroyed by fire and smoke, the damage amounting to from $15,000 to $20,000. The insurance on the whole stock is $58,000.

Chas. Pierce pleaded not guilty to the charge of having defrauded Matthew McQuarrie, the Maple farmer, out of twenty four bags of potatoes. The prosecution obtained a remand. It is said that this case will develop into something bigger.

William H. Scott was yesterday convicted of stealing an overcoat, the property of Martin Dunphy, from a hotel in Paris, Ont., in December last. He was remanded.

The Crown failed to establish a charge of highway robbery against Fred. Matthews, owing to a conflict of testimony of the principal witness, Walter Palmer, and an eye-witness.

George W. Verral was fined $1 and costs, or 30 days, for violating the express bylaw by employing runners on the trains. The conviction will probably be appealed against to test the validity of an agreement between the Verral Company and the G. T. R. and to specify the powers of the Board of Police Commissioners in passing bylaws regulating traffic on private corporations.

Hannah Stokes, Louisa-street, and Mrs. Stridway, Wilton-avenue, were brought before the Magistrate for keeping unlicensed baby farms. Both defendants pleaded ignorance of the law in extenuation for their offence. Each had three children to farm. Mr. Archabold stated that two infants had died in Mrs. Stridway's place, and on investigating her case he discovered Mrs. Stokes' farm and likewise a third one. They were remanded.

Principal Kirkland addressed 100 young women and 28 young men, embryo teachers, at the opening of the session of the Normal School yesterday morning. Hon. G. W. Ross, Mrs. W. L. Crafts of New York, and others were present.

The third day of the Conference of Sabbath School Workers in Knox Church was, as usual, well attended yesterday morning. Class management was ably dealt with by Mrs. Crafts of New York. Teachers' preparation was discussed in the evening.

The following letter was received yesterday by City Clerk Blevins:

VAN BUREN, Mo., Jan. 12, 1889.

City Clerk, TORONTO: A German by the name of William Madden, who lived in your city several years ago, has been murdered here. He had a father, mother and brothers at or near your place. The murderer was caught, and will be tried in March. JOHN C. SNOWE.

Inquiry among leading German citizens fails to find anyone who knows of any German family of that name in the city or neighborhood. It is thought that there is a mistake either in the name or nationality.

A most interesting lot of cases will be those set down for trial at the Criminal Assizes which open next Tuesday with Mr. Justice Rose on the bench and Mr. Samuel Lount, Q.C., as Crown Prosecutor. The most important will be those of Roland Gideon Israel Barnett, fraud; John O. Wood, Dr. Valentine and Ally Wilkinson, murder; Polly Bredin, bigamy; and The World's libel case in which Mr. H. A. Massey is the complainant.

Premier Thomas Greenway arrived in Toronto from Winnipeg yesterday morning and will remain in the city a few days. His visit is in connection with the business of emigration to the Prairie Province. Mr. Greenway says that the establishment of an emigration office in this city has given such returns that similar offices will be opened in the Maritime Provinces and in the Province of Quebec.

Canon Knox Little opened his mission in Toronto at St. Luke's Church last night with a fervent address on "Unseen Things."

Champion Corbman O'Connor left for San Francisco yesterday, where he is to measure oars with Gaudaur.

Killed for Building His Cook.

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—Wilson Wilder shot and killed Sol C. Dees yesterday afternoon. Both boarded with John Curtis, whose daughter is the wife of Wilder. Mrs. Wilder does the cooking, and Dees had been saying that their food was not fit for hogs. This put Dees and Wilder on bad terms, and yesterday while quarrelling Dees drew a pistol and snapped it at Wilder, upon which the latter drew his weapon and shot him in the head.

Fatal Counting Accident.

NEWBURG, Ont., Jan. 17.—James, the eldest son of James Sheets of this place, was injured by a sleigh while counting Tuesday evening. His injuries resulted in his death this morning.

A Prosperous Trust.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 17.—The trustees of the whisky trust are holding their regular meeting here. They claim everything is working smoothly, and that the trust is making money.

It Was an Ill Wind.

RACINE, Wis., Jan. 17.—Last night the [illegible] a freight [illegible] a side track to the main track of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road at Sylvania. A freight train ran into it, wrecking the engines and seven cars. Harvey Brabaker, a brakeman, was crushed to a jelly, Engineer A. J. Flack was fatally injured by [illegible] scalding steam and Head Brakeman Geo. Coles was badly scalded and bruised.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD

DELANEY'S EVIDENCE BEFORE THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

The German Success and Its Sentence—The Report of Bismarck's Illness Denied—A Bill of Comfort From Russia.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The cross-examination of Patrick Delaney was resumed before the Parnell Commission to-day. The witness persisted in declaring that he saw Boyton point out to Invincible Brady the chairman of the prison board, Mr. Bourke, for assassination. On cross-examination by Michael Davitt, Delaney said he was positive that he had often seen Davies in company with Dan Carley, although he could not fix dates.

Re-examined with reference to the funds of the Fenians, he stated that until 1879 the party was without money other than the few pence weekly subscribed by members. Some pawned their watches, to send delegates to America. Carey, after the invincibles were organized, obtained funds from the Leagues and started business as a contractor. Being shown the photograph of a man in uniform witness declared that it was Invincible No. 1.

At the close of the examination Justice Hannen ordered that Delaney be held in custody London in case he should be wanted again.

Attorney-General Webster then read correspondence between Miss Harris and Michael Davitt, with reference to the land agitation. The only letter that attracted attention was one from Davitt to Harris, written in New York, in which Davitt said:

"Perhaps you are not aware that John O'Leary is here. He came from Paris to upset my Land League endeavors. He will go back a wiser though a sadder man. He is supported by nobody saving the few boothooms following that blatant ass, Rossa. The nationalists on this side are commonsense men. O'Leary failed to get up a crusade against the League in America. Rossa is now trying his hand. He will achieve more success upon your side than upon this. He is a cowardly, low ruffian, who has not the courage to resent an insult I offered him in The Herald. He has not sufficient courage to set fire to a British haystack. Do your utmost to keep the people within bounds."

Justice Hannen asked if the letters of Mr. Parnell would be shown to the Parnellite counsel, as the court seemed to be within a reasonable distance of getting at them. Attorney-General Webster refused to be pinned to a definite time for the production of the letters. Justice Hannen then expressed the opinion that both sides should show the letters in their possession intended to be used for comparison.

Stopped the Sale.

LIMERICK, Jan. 18.—As a result of Justice Hannen's speech in the O'Brien case, Irish agents have stopped the sale of The London Times pamphlet on "Parnellism and crimes."

The Latest From Khartoum.

SUAKIM, Jan. 17.—One of the messengers sent from here to Khartoum early in November last has returned. He was 24 days in making the return trip. He brings a letter from a European which says that Lupton Bey died on May 8. It then reported that the equatorial provinces had yielded to the Mahdi. Nothing was known of Emin Pasha. Staten Bey and the other Europeans were well.

Stanley's Letter.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Concerning Stanley's letter to Tippoo Tib, Sir Francis De Winton says it merely confirms the explorer's previous despatches and furnishes little additional information. He expects that further reports from Stanley will shortly be forthcoming. A great deal of speculation is rife as to why the letter to Tippoo Tib was forwarded to Brussels and the other despatches from Stanley withheld, but as yet no theory has been arrived at that will serve to explain the circumstances.

Fugitive Warriors.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The resignation of Capt. Lord William Cecil, son of Lord Salisbury, from the Grenadier Guards has caused a great stir in military circles. No reason for the resignation was given to the public, but it is asserted that his withdrawal was due to a fist fight which His Lordship recently had with a brother officer at the Knightsbridge barracks. From the reports in circulation it is gathered that Lord Cecil got very much the worst of the encounter and besides receiving two blackened eyes sustained other injuries at the hands of his antagonist which will necessitate his retirement from public view for some time. It is understood that some of the Radical members of the House of Commons have resolved to question the Secretary of War concerning the affair when Parliament meets.

Right on the heels of this storm comes the report of another fight between a major and a private at Portsmouth, in which the private was badly beaten. The major, it is stated, overheard the private during parade express to one of his comrades his burning desire to punch the officer's head. After parade the major sent for the private and afforded him an opportunity to gratify his desire, but the private's physical strength and pugilistic skill were not equal to the measure of his ambition, and he is now quartered in the hospital.

The German Success and Bordeaux.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Pall Mall Gazette commenting upon the Geffcken affair, says: "The animus of Prince Bismarck against Prof. Geffcken is of long standing. Ten years ago, at a social meeting, in succession after dinner, Prof. Geffcken delivered an extravagant diatribe declaring that Bismarck had not one single noble trait of character and was without a trace of kindliness or pity. These words, in accordance with the system of espionage practised by Germany, were reported to the "Reptile Bureau" at Berlin and noted down in Bismarck's black book. The whole affair recalls the story of Haman and Mordecai. The German Haman seeks to gibbet his Mordecai by publishing the indictment, the only result of which is to justify Geffcken in the eyes of the world."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 18.—The negro, George Meadows, was hanged at Pratt Mines yesterday morning by a mob of quiet but determined men who had him in charge all the previous day and night. Wife Mrs. Redfern, his victim, was shown positive in her identification, she still asked the mob not to hang him, as she might possibly be mistaken. There is little doubt that she was because she shrank from the responsibility of saying what she knew would mean certain death, and the mob so regarded it. It was proved at the coroner's inquest that Meadows had previously criminally assaulted a negro girl, and the crowd decided that the ravisher must [illegible] there was. They swung him and riddled his body with bullets. He protested his innocence to the last.

THE MODERN PALESTINE.

Dr. Wad El Ward Lectures on the Subject.

An Exceedingly Interesting Address—The Home Life and Habits of the Jews—A Few of Their Curious Customs—The Doctor Lectures Again This Evening.

The home life and habits of the modern Jews were laid bare in a most explicit manner at the Baptist church Thursday evening by Dr. Wad El Ward, a native of Palestine, who is making a tour of the civilized world for the purpose of informing himself of the customs of other countries and at the same time giving them an insight into the mode of living among the Hebrews. Dr. Ward is an ordained minister in connection with the Presbyterian church (which denomination he joined since coming to America) and is accompanied by his wife Rebecca. Wherever they appear they are attired in the complete Oriental costume, which is at once unique and picturesque. Dr. Ward wears a long dress of brown silk, girdled about the waist by a thick sash, and with big sleeves. Over it is loosely thrown a cardinal gown that reaches to the floor. On his head he wears a white turban with a red crown. The Doctor is an average-sized man, with grey whiskers and hair, of pleasant countenance and apparently about 50 years of age. He is intelligent and well educated, and speaks English almost perfectly, with rare distinctness for a foreigner. He apparently has a bright sense of humor, as his lecture was illustrated by witty sayings and laughable anecdotes. That he is also a keen observer of men and things was shown by his familiarization with the uses and abuses extant in the so-called civilized world.

Mrs. Ward wore a dress of many colors—blue, red and yellow silk—tied about the waist by a cord. On her head was a sort of lace cap. The costumes have that Dr. Ward says is so pleasant, that he would not exchange it for a European dress for any consideration.

Dr. and Mrs. Ward looked very much like English people. Mr. Ward is a counterpart of the complacent and buxom British matron, while neither of them seem to possess the distinguishing features of the typical Hebrew. Were it not for their dress, one could scarcely imagine that they were not English.

The audience was not a large one, but it was appreciative, and enjoyed the lecture immensely. Rev. P. C. Parker presided and made a few introductory remarks denying the reports circulated by some parties, that Dr. Wad El Ward was not an authorized minister of the gospel.

Dr. Wad El Ward then began his lecture upon Oriental life. He took his hearers upon an imaginary trip from the steamer to the city of Joppa, and through its streets into the houses of the modern Jews. Approaching the land by steamer, from her decks could be got sight of as beautiful a stretch of land as the sun shone on. It was said Palestine was an uncivilized country, but even if that were so, he preferred it to any other. It was par excellence the land of holy recollections and books. The Hebrew language was a difficult one to master, hence there were many mistakes made in the English translations of the Bible, a few of which he pointed out. In order therefore to be able to thoroughly understand the Bible, it was necessary for the civilized Christian to understand the Hebrew tongue, and also to have a knowledge of the country and the habits of its people. Palestine was rapidly filling up, the lecturer said, with Jews from all over the world, returning to their native country, and in consequence it could no longer be called for spots that were once uninhabited are now gardens and towns. Palestine was the greatest country in the world for fruit far exceeding boasted California in this respect. All these thoughts came into mind as the tourist gazes on the landscape while approaching the city on the steamer.

The Doctor said he would not deal with the general outlines, the history or geography of the country; all these are accurately given in the Bible. He would rather endeavor to give his audience a glimpse at the home life and habits of the Jew of to-day.

On landing, a tour of the dirty and narrow streets is made. Here the evil influence of Turkish rule are manifest. The Jews found it necessary to carry lanterns in walking the streets after dark—hence the scriptural saying, "He shall be a lantern unto my path," etc. Passing along one would observe piles of debris and dead animals, deposited these after night as the best means of getting rid of the refuse. The cities of Palestine had the best scavengers in the world, the hordes of pigs and dogs that ran loose and cleaned up these heaps of offal generally pretty thoroughly.

The lecturer referred, among other things, to the modes of salutation, embracing and kissing being customary among the men and women alike. The women in Palestine are excluded from sight of the men, and are only allowed to leave their homes twice a year—once to see their parents and once to visit the cemetery. The lecturer entered into a minute description of the arrangement of a Hebrew home, the most interesting part of which was the gateway. He explained that the gate was fitted with large valves that swing apart to admit a camel with its load, and there was also a smaller door in the gate to admit men. This latter in Hebrew was named "the needle's eye." Hence the Bible passage about which there has been so much disputation, "it is easier for a camel to go through than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven." By getting down on its knees a camel could crawl through this smaller gate. This was a correct explanation of the passage, because the modern needle that the seamstress used was not invented till 1523. The costumes (already described), manner of sitting on the floor with the feet under the body, and the many uses to which the long cloak worn by the Jew were put to, were referred to at length. It was considered the highest mark of respect for a Jew to place his mantle on the floor for his friend to walk over upon entering his house; hence the action of the Jews in spreading their garments before Jesus. The phrase, "head of an ass," mentioned in the Bible, was, the speaker explained, simply the name for a quantity of barley which the dealer gives out in the cap he takes off his head and measures the grain in.

The Jewish habit of celebrating the birth of a child was next mentioned. If the first born was a boy they celebrated the event by hiring an orchestra; but if a girl, only vocal music is heard. The former for one apparent favoritism shown boys, is that they are regarded as more important from the fact that they always remain with the family as long as the other children are too young to look after themselves; while the girl is married off and leaves the home very early in life. The boy is educated, but the girl is taught only home duties. But withal the girls were highly honored in Palestine, their names being such tender-ones as "my queen," "the pupil of my eye," etc.

Another curious Hebrew habit was the "salting" of children. As soon as a child is born, when it first breathes, it is dipped into a briny bath and for three days thereafter is salted sprinkled with fine salt. The fourth day it is bathed in warm water and anointed with olive oil and then wrapped in swaddling clothes. The result was that the Jewish children were free from the complaints common to American children. It was contained in God's charge to Jeremiah in the Book of Ezekiel. In this country it was seldom people lived to an old age, while in Palestine it was a common sight to see people over a century old. The speaker said his own father died a few months ago, aged 112 years, while his grandfather had lived 114 years; he himself expected to live to the same age. He attributed this solely to the habit of "salting" in youth, which rendered the children less susceptible to diseases in after years. For this reason scrofula or leprosy never appeared among the Jews. An erroneous idea had got abroad that there were many Jews afflicted with the dread disease. There were many lepers in Palestine, but they were all Arabs or Gentiles. Another reason for the Jews' freedom from disease was that they never ate pork; the lecturer said he knew of no more poisonous and nasty food than pork. It engendered scrofula and kindred diseases.

The Doctor next dwelt upon the training which children received in Palestine. They were taught primarily to be truthful and respect their parents. There was no coming of age in that country; children looked up to their parents for guidance as long as the latter lived. Hebrew parents chose wives for their boys and husbands for their girls. The speaker described minutely the process of match-making amongst Jewish matrons, and the marriage ceremony. For the latter, notice is given in the streets to all the public, and an invitation extended to meet the bridegroom at midnight, for at that hour their marriages usually take place. Arriving at the house, wedding garments are provided the guests by the parents. The bride is brought in to where the bridegroom and the relatives and guests are assembled. She is taken back again and returns again and so on until in all she is brought in seven successive times, on each occasion wearing a new dress. These seven dresses are supposed to last her through life. The ceremony is very simple and soon completed, the bridegroom at the conclusion merely kissing the hem of the bride's garment.

Here the lecturer took occasion to refer to the

which led him up to a comparison of Canada and the United States from a moral standpoint. The States was, he said, superior in Canada in wealth and enterprise, but Canada had three characteristics that were vastly better. Canadians observed their Sundays, brought up their children better and had no divorce law. In all these things the Americans were abominably loose. The lecturer denounced especially the latter feature as one destined to bring domestic unhappiness to the land that tolerated it. In Palestine any trouble between husband and wife, which by the way occurred rarely, was ventilated before a council of their relatives, so that no outsiders were able to pry into their private matters. If the woman was found bad or the man unworthy, they were taken outside the city walls and stoned to death. That might seem a cruel treatment, but it was really the better one.

This concluded the address, and Dr. Wad El Ward said he would speak this (Friday) evening on the amusements of Palestine—athletic sports, dancing and singing. He said the style of dancing indulged in Christian lands, particularly round dancing, and the full dress costumes of civilized ladies, would not be tolerated in his country.

The Doctor and his wife sang Hebrew, Lesotonian, French, German, Greek, Turkish, Arabic and English songs, to illustrate the different styles of singing peculiar to each country. At the request of an auditor the Doctor performed the Hebrew dance, a very simple affair consisting of a regular step and bow process.

The proceedings were brought to a close in the usual manner.

WISCONSIN'S DANCE HOUSES.

The Horrors of the Stockade Dens Recalled By a Scene in Court.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The stories of the horrors suffered by unfortunate girls in the dance houses stockades in Northern Wisconsin were recalled by a scene in the court of insane inquiry this morning. A slight and handsome young girl, dressed in black, was tried in. Hattie Nathan was her name, so the doctor told Judge Prendergast. He said her ailment was acute mania. As he spoke the prisoner glanced behind her and cowered in her chains, muttering: "Save me, they are after me! I hear them barking and the men are right behind them!"

Hattie Nathan was the daughter of parents who live in Oconto, Wis. She was a wayward girl and got into trouble which resulted in her entering one of the dens near Marinette. She soon realized the horrors of her position, and made repeated but unsuccessful attempts to escape, with the result that she became demented. Then she was released.

She next appeared at the door of a house of ill-repute in this city and was cared for. She has remained there since, being rational a portion of the time. Of late her dementia has been more acute, and the result was to-day's proceedings. She will be sent back to her home in Oconto.

An Investigation Ordered.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 17.—The Assembly has adopted a joint resolution for an investigation of the Pinery dens.

Experiments in Vivisection.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 18.—Prof. Hartigan, of the West Virginia University, is conducting two interesting experiments in vivisection. In one he made an incision into the stomach of a dog, in which he placed a fistula tube from the outside. When a vessel of milk is placed before the dog and the animal drinks, the fluid runs out through the tube as fast as it is lapped up, and the dog's thirst is not quenched. As soon as the tube is stopped so that the milk is retained in the stomach, the animal soon becomes satiated, showing that the seat of thirst is not in the throat, but is a demand of the entire system. The food may also be taken by the tube from the stomach at any time and the process of digestion studied under the microscope. The other operation is one which required more skill. The professor removed a portion of the skull of another dog and replaced it by a nicely fitting plate of glass. Through the window he successfully studies the action of the brain while the animal is asleep.

Beaten by Alleged White Caps.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 18.—Paul Purdy and Joseph L'Shure, weavers in the Monument Mills, at Housatonic, were met on their way home from work last night by "White Caps," who pounded them so severely that their recovery is doubtful. A strike took place in the Monument Mills some time ago, and forty weavers are still out. Purdy and L'Shure were among the men who took the places of the strikers. It is supposed that the "White Caps" are a part of a strong organization in which are included the striking weavers who have determined to prevent the "scabs" from taking their places. The assailants of the two weavers numbered sixteen, all masked. Purdy and L'Shure were terribly beaten with stones and clubs, and were left for dead on the frozen ground. When they regained consciousness they managed to crawl to their homes, a half-mile away. There is great excitement here over the outrage, and officers are endeavoring to discover the assailants of the two men.

Ingenious Pipe-Iron Machinery.

SHARON, Penn., Jan. 18.—Probably the most marvellous hydraulic machinery in the world was placed in operation in the Westland Rolling Mill yesterday. It is the invention of Mr. Mattocks of Pittsburg, and is designed for rolling pipe-iron. Huge slabs of iron weighing hundreds of pounds were pulled from a furnace, glowing at white heat, and placed on a long iron bed which moved forward, upward, downward and sideways, pushing the mass through rolls, back again, and stopping only when it had been reduced to the proper size in the shape of pipe-iron. The whole operation required the attendance of only one or two employes, who controlled the machinery by a few simple levers. The saving in labor is in the proportion of sixteen to one.

Gifts to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A meeting of the trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art was held this afternoon. A letter was read from Mrs. Joseph M. Drexel presenting to the museum in the name of herself and her late husband some valuable gifts of paste, coins, etc., which are said to be worth $60,000. A letter from H. G. Marquand, presenting to the museum his collection of old masters, was read and the gifts were accepted.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1889.

IRREPRESSIBLE ZEAL.

In yesterday's impression the Review returns again the charge against Mr. Stratton. Our contemporary seems to be determined to make the public believe that it is in earnest, that the expression of its sense of the importance of seeing the strictest letter of justice done is irrepressible—that nothing but the pound of flesh will satisfy its cravings for vengeance, under the diaphonous disguise of simulated interest for the public welfare. The Review deserves every credit for the high ground it has taken. No knight of old ever went forth in search of adventure—of wrongs to redress, and rescues to make, with more lofty zeal than our suddenly virtuous contemporary exhibits in its tilt against the tremendous corruption in connection with the printing required for the schools. While its hand is in, it might keep on in the good work and devote a little attention to other members of the board, and it might find, by a little diligent research, in the ranks of the members of the town council, some slight reason for pursuing its anti-corruption crusade in that direction. Such disinterested zeal for the purity of public affairs, should not be confined to the crushing of one humble individual.

The "Breach of Promise Case.'

To the Editor of the Examiner:

MR. EDITOR,—I have to-day, for the first time, seen the article in your paper with reference to the above matter. As my name is given as the solicitor retained on the one side, I take the earliest opportunity to repudiate all connection with the publishing of the article in question, and to protest against the particulars of a case pending before the courts being published in such a way as is done in this case, as to create a false impression in the minds of the public, some of whom may ultimately be jurors in the case.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

January 19th, 1889.

[NOTE.—With reference to the above we might say there was nothing contained in the paragraph to wrongfully prejudice the minds of a jury or anyone else; it was simply a statement of facts as nearly correct as could be learned, given without any comment whatever. The particulars were secured from parties who were directly concerned in the case and could be relied upon for accurate information. We want the public to distinctly understand that we are publishing a newspaper, and will continue to publish from day to day the latest and most readable news we can gather, having all due regard, of course, to the dignity of the law and without giving unnecessary offence to one person more than another. It is coming to this Peterborough that every person who gets into trouble, wants his name kept out of print, and the only safeguard newspapers have is to adopt a general and inviolable rule, that all items of public interest shall be chronicled independently of personal considerations, and without fear or favor. That is the stand the EXAMINER takes. With all respect for Mr. Edwards, we fail to see wherein we have been guilty of any impropriety in giving publicity to the breach of promise case. Mr. Edwards is exculpated from all connection with the publishing of the article; the EXAMINER is willing to shoulder the whole responsibility. We just wish to emphasize the fact that there are a great many people who are only too ready to impute wrong motives to newspaper men in giving publicity to matters in which the public are interested. We have been grossly libelled with reference to the publication of the proceeding of a meeting held recently, in which wrong motives were imputed to us. If these interesting matters are not printed, the people want to know if we have been asleep; if they are given publicity, some persons ask "what have you against this man?" We can't please everyone, therefore the wisest course is for offenders to keep out of trouble and avoid notoriety.

The T. Mennies' Estate Sale.

Taylor & Co. of Toronto, Buy the Stock and C. W. Sawers the Book Debts.

There was a large attendance at the sale of the bankrupt stock of Mr. T. Mennies at the court house to-day. There was a number of gentlemen in the stationery and bookselling business present from a distance. The stock-list showed the stock to be valued at $10,149.40, barring a few hundred dollars' worth sold since stock-taking. Mr. Chas. Stapleton was auctioneer. The bidding was spirited throughout, beginning at 25c. on the dollar and running rapidly up to 40c., then by halves to 45, then 50, and finally reaching to 58½c., at which figure it sold to C. M. Taylor & Co., of Toronto. The purchaser was notified by Mrs. Mennies, who holds a lease of the store after first of February, that the stock would have to be removed by that date. The sale of the book debts followed. These, amounting to $4,475.48, were purchased at the rate of four cents on the dollar, by Mr. C. W. Sawers.

The Registry of Deaths.

The revised statutes for 1888 contains changes in the registry act. For instance, deaths must be registered by the person in whose house the death occurs, and before the burial of the body. Any persons failing to comply with the law is liable to a fine. Readers would do well to remember this advice.

Ashburnham Brevities.

The members of the Mark street church choir and their friends, to the number of about thirty, were entertained by Mr. Hiram Armstrong at his residence, Otonabee, Thursday night. A very pleasant evening was spent, and the party returned with the highest praise of Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong's hospitality.

A meeting of St. Luke's Young Men's Guild was held Thursday night. The principal subject of interest was a debate on prohibition. The gentleman who was to lead the affirmative did not put in an appearance, so that duty fell to his colleague, Mr. E. B. Bert, who proved himself quite capable of doing so. Messrs. Bert and F. Saunders championed prohibition, and Messrs. John Burnham and J. J. Rooney took the opposite side. The rules of debate were, to some extent, suspended, and each speaker was allowed about twenty minutes to uphold his side of the question. The speakers on both sides made very pointed speeches and elicited deserved applause. The chairman did not give decision, but the general feeling, at the close, was in opposition to prohibition.

Threshing in Oregon.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Having noticed through the columns of the EXAMINER, this last year, of some big threshing being done, and being a thresher myself, I thought the following would be of interest to those who follow the same trade:

We threshed twenty-four hundred and thirty-eight (2,438) bushels of oats in ten hours, or a little over two hundred and forty-three bushels an hour.

Crops of all kinds good, and prices good, too. We have had very little frost as yet, and the weather is mild. Wishing the EXAMINER prosperity, I remain,

Yours, etc.,

Arrangements have just been completed whereby another clergyman will at once begin work at St. John's church. Particulars of this new arrangement will be announced at the intercessory service in St. John's, this evening.

Last night the choir of St. Peter's cathedral, the orchestra, and the Christmas money collectors and ushers of the church, were entertained at supper at the priests' house, and afterwards the Bishop invited the guests into the palace, where the remainder of a most pleasant evening was spent. On Tuesday, January 15th, Mr. John Neil, of Barrie, brother of Mr. Robert Neil, of Peterborough, was married at Cincinnati, Ohio, to Miss Amelia R. Adelman, of that city. The young couple are now on their honeymoon tour, and will take up residence in Barrie about the end of the month. Mr. Neil's many friends in Peterborough will wish him and his bride a life of prosperity and unalloyed happiness.

Grand Junction Suit and Solicitor's Remuneration.

It will be remembered that the question of Mr. E. B. Edwards' remuneration for his successful services in connection with the Grand Junction suit, engaged the attention of the county council, and that that body met Mr. Edward's claim for $3000, by voting him half that amount, $2500. Mr. Edwards feeling that the council had not fully considered the subject, and had not fully appreciated the labour involved, nor the services rendered, procured a reconsideration of the matter, and it was agreed that the question of amount should be referred to the taxing officer of the High Court of Justice, Mr. J. H. Thom, Toronto. That gentleman has decided in favor of Mr. Edwards, thinking that, considering the magnitude of the interests involved, and the ability displayed by Mr. Edwards in watching over the public welfare, $3000 is a reasonable remuneration in a suit involving $150,000. It is difficult for laymen, even with a desire to deal justly and liberally, to place a proper estimate upon the services of a professional gentleman. Mr. Edwards is to be congratulated on his success in bringing the Grand Junction suit to a successful issue, and upon receiving recognition of his claims to remuneration.

Public Works.

Mayor Stevenson's Trip to Ottawa and the Results.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., returned from Ottawa this morning, where he had been interviewing government officials in regard to public works projected in Peterborough. Mr. Stevenson says that on the whole he is well satisfied with the trip, and thinks it will not be an unprofitable one.

He first interviewed Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, with regard to the projected Customs House on the Phelan lot, corner of Charlotte and George streets. From the Minister he received assurances that an amount would be placed in the estimates to be passed at the coming session, sufficient to give the building a good start this summer. Mr. Stevenson considers the new Customs House building a certainty in the near future.

With reference to the drill shed and armory, both he and Col J. Z. Rogers, who accompanied him to Ottawa for the purpose, saw Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia. Nothing more definite than promises to give the matter careful consideration could be gained. Sir Adolphe stated that a policy of retrenchment had been adopted in the militia department, and expenses were being cut down as much as possible. All he could promise was that the department would undertake to pay half the expenses of the new armory and drill shed. So that unless the town supplies half of the necessary sum, Peterborough will not likely have a new drill shed for some time to come.

Mr. Stevenson also mooted the question of having a survey of the river made between here and Lakefield, to the Minister of Public Works. The latter fully agreed with Mr. Stevenson that it was an important matter, and gave the usual promise to consider the subject. But at the present nothing could be done. The Chief Engineer was away from Ottawa, and he would have to be consulted before any steps were taken. Mr. Stevenson stated that she wanted the survey made for the purpose of ascertaining the exact number of dams that would be required for this distance.

The proposal to dredge Little Lake was not mentioned. Mr. Stevenson considering that the matter was already settled. The government has offered to bear one half the expenses of relieving the bottom of the lake of its bed of sawdust and transferring it to Spalding's Bay for filling-in purposes. As soon as the town agrees to pay its share of the expense the government may be called upon to assist.

Railway Notes.

Brakeman Pearose, who lost his arm at Stirling a couple of weeks ago, is recovering rapidly.

Day before yesterday a light engine that was running in for repairs broke its shaft and delayed the trains on the G.J.R.

The other morning Conductor Morris' train made the run from Belleville in two hours and eight minutes. The train left Belleville behind time but arrived in Peterborough with several minutes to spare.

WIGWAM

More About the Elopement.

The escapade of the runaway couple chronicled in yesterday's EXAMINER was conducted under rather peculiar circumstances. It seems that Mr. Hughey, father of the girl, learning of her attachment to the man Evans, the forty-year-old widower, and wishing to prevent her marrying while so young, sent the girl to Peterborough and got her a place as domestic in the family of Mr. R. Wainwright, who received instructions to keep her under surveillance. Evans was not informed of her whereabouts, but managed afterwards to find out for himself, and began communication with the girl. In order to prevent this the father determined to make another change and take his daughter back home, but the lover learning of his intentions, stole a march on the old man and got to Peterborough first. He had some difficulty in getting the girl away from Mr. Wainwright, but succeeded and started for Hastings just two hours before Mr. Hughey arrived in town. The latter, deeming further pursuit useless, and considering perhaps that all is fair in love and war and that he had been fairly out-generalled, gave up the chase and returned home. Score another victory for Cupid.

Highly Successful Church Social.

The social in aid of the funds of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church, held at the residence of Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., was a splendid success in every sense, socially and financially. The house throughout was thrown open to guests, of which there was a very large number, drafted from different denominations. The medical profession was largely represented, no fewer than five socially-inclined "mawbones" having been present, Rev. Mr. Torrance was also amongst the guests present. Rev. Mr. Shorey and Mrs. Shorey were prevented from being there by illness in the family. Dr. Kincaid, in his usual genial and urbane manner, contributed largely to the great success that attended the musical portion of the entertainment, by introducing, with felicitous comment, the various numbers of the following programme:

Instrumental solo	Mr. Geo. Schneider
Vocal solo	Dr. Scott
Recitation	Miss Gorman
Vocal solo	Mr. Davis
Violin solo	Miss Yokome
Reading	Mr. R. H. Hall
Instrumental solo	Miss M. Stratton
Guitar solo	Mr. Walke
Duet	Miss Lumsden and Master Brooks
Song	Miss Cameron
Reading	Miss Gray
Recitation	Mr. O. C. Rowse
Song	Miss Pearson
Trio	Messrs. Elliot, Rush and Shaw

All the participants in the programme acquitted themselves with credit, in many cases enthusiastic encores having been demanded and given. The refreshments provided under the superintendence of the ladies of the Society, were of the best and were highly enjoyed. The occasion was an exceptional success, the most pleasant and practical feature of which was the addition of a nice sum of $60 to the funds of the Society.

An Unfortunate Fire.

Last night about 9.30 o'clock, while Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rebill were at the S. A. barracks, their home on lower George street, just across the bay, was totally destroyed by fire. Only a couple of chairs were saved. The cause of the fire is a complete mystery. The building, a small roughcast one valued at about $350, owned by Mr. E. Whitfield, was insured for $225 in the Citizens; there was only a small insurance on the contents. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Rebill in their loss. Much talk has been caused by the alleged inability of the brigade to cope successfully with the fire on this occasion. Spectators say that the firemen were very lax in their efforts. No corporation horses were on hand to draw the engine, and after a long wait the town clerk ordered a team from Snowden's. Then the engine when at the fire could not be got to work for some reason or other, and before the firemen had a stream turned on from the C.P.R. hydrant, necessitating the use of about 1,500 feet of hose, the building was burned to the ground. However, they managed to save the house of Mrs. McGee along side from destruction. Probably, though, the firemen did the best they could under the circumstances, and they should not be too severely criticised by idle onlookers.

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Last week our village was considerably excited over the marriage of Miss Maggie Phelan to Mr. Francis H. Fortier, merchant, formerly of Montreal, now of Lakefield. The ceremony was performed in St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, by the Rev. Father Dabe, in the presence of a few intimate friends. Miss Aggie Phalen, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Wm. Warmington, Port Hope, as groomsman. On the conclusion of the nuptials they proceeded to the residence of the bride's mother, where a splendid dejeuner was provided. After ample justice had been done the good things, the happy couple received several congratulatory speeches.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and valuable presents from friends in Danville, Ill., Port Hope, Cobourg, Peterborough, Young's Point and Lakefield.

"Joe" has always been a favorite among the boys, and his acquisition to the ranks of benedicts, will leave a gap in their midst.

The Forester's band serenaded Mr. Fortier and his bride on Friday evening, and were handsomely entertained.

POOR HOMANS.

And Story of a Wife's Perfidy—Died of a Broken Heart.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—"Poor Homans!" That was the heartfelt utterance of every one among the crowd of mourners which filled the American church yesterday when the full choir of men and boys chanted the solemn service for the burial of the dead. From his long residence in France and his important position as European manager of the New York Life Insurance Company, Mr. Homans had been honored with numerous decorations which were displayed upon a cushion. Eight years ago Mr. Homans married his second wife. She was from New Orleans, and was then in the full splendor of her southern beauty. To-day she is about 35 years old, and is still a handsome woman. She became a second mother to his three children, two sons and a daughter, and she also had a daughter of her own by a former marriage. It is the subsequent perfidy of this heartless creature that brought the mournful gathering to the little American church yesterday.

Some time after the couple came to Paris scandalous reports concerning the wife's conduct were current, but Homans turned a deaf ear to them. Some three months ago the bubble burst, the crash came, the blind man's eyes were opened, his home was wrecked, and his noble heart was broken. It happened at Aix-les-Bains. There was an Italian nobleman in the case. Some say he was a prince. Mr. Homans, who was his friend, had received him at his table and had trusted him. One day toward the end of September an accident revealed the whole truth. Mrs. Homans had gone back to Paris professedly to arrange her hotel for the winter season. The prince had gone to Geneva, so he said, but he had covered his tracks badly. An indiscreet concierge revealed to the astonished husband that, so far from being in Switzerland, his Italian highness was really in Paris, and that during his stay in Aix-les-Bains he had secretly occupied a room opposite to that of Mrs. Homans. The conclusion was easily drawn. Mr. Homans took the express to Paris, and when there was no longer room for doubt he acted as a man has to act in this country in such cases.

On Nov. 29 there was the formal Constatation du Flagrant delit with the aid of a commissaire de police, and Mrs. Homans spent the night in the Saint Lazare prison. Mr. Homans spent it pacing the floor of his chamber, and then determined that his wife, however great her guilt, could not be confined in prison to be herded with a crowd of fallen women. On the following day at his request she was released on bail, he having received all his rights for criminal and civil action against her. Having taken steps to secure a divorce, Mr. Homans, quite broken down, left Paris secretly and went to Brussels. He wanted to be alone. His wife made frantic efforts to secure a reconciliation and a meeting.

One night at the Hotel Bellevue at Brussels Mr. Homans was aroused from his slumber by a knocking at the door. He arose and opened the door, and instantly Mrs. Homans pushed into the room. The shock to Mr. Homans was tremendous. He gasped for breath and his face became livid. Heart disease is hereditary in the family and for a few seconds it was a question whether he would live or die. His wife promptly took advantage of the situation. She rang for assistance, had hot water brought and mustard poultices, and worked over him for an hour, till the danger was passed and the attendants withdrew, leaving the two together. It was 3 o'clock in the morning, and he was already compromised by the fact that his wife had remained with him for over an hour. She declared by all that was holy that if he drove her from the apartment she would commit suicide in the street. He allowed her to remain, surrendering to her his bedroom and he himself sitting up in the salon for the balance of the night. Next morning he insisted on her returning to Paris, but the harm was done. Immediately on her arrival Mrs. Homans called on the judge d'instruction in charge of the case and informed him that a reconciliation had been effected. She also spread the story about Paris. In vain Homans telegraphed a denial of the statement. Hurrying back to Paris he explained the real facts of the case to the judge d'instruction, who listened patiently, but said an investigation must be made into the Brussels affair before a divorce could be granted. Investigation in Brussels meant diplomatic interference, an indefinite amount of official red tape, and, worst of all, considerable delay.

Now, before any decision has been reached, Homans is dead. He died of congestion of the brain, so the doctors say, but sorrow and shame can kill.

Poor Homans!

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $496,331.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even[this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assur'ces.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,432 60	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,396 14

Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

TURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1889.

Mr. Menzies' Creditors.

Adjourned Meeting Held—The Real Estate to be Sold by Auction.

The adjourned meeting of the creditors of Hon. Menzies was held at the Court House on Friday afternoon at the close of the sale. The inspectors presented a valuation list of the real estate owned by Mr. Menzies, a copy of which was published in the EXAMINER'S report of the last meeting, which amounted together to $18,565. Against this property there was about $12,565 of mortgages. There was some discussion as to the best means of disposing of the property, and finally the meeting was instructed to hold an auction sale of all the real estate in this county, upon the following terms, and upon an upset price to be fixed by the inspectors.

Then an inquiry was set afoot as to whether the inspectors had, as instructed, made an examination of Mr. Menzies.

Mr. W. J. HALL said that the books were in such a bad state that they could make neither head nor tail of them, and it would require an accountant's services to get them straight, and, even if shortages were found, the books would not show where the money had gone to.

Mr. PEARAS said he had found on enquiry that the inspectors had no power to examine Mr. Menzies. It could only be done under a judgment summons.

Mr. EDMISON stated that on behalf of the principal creditors he represented, he had obtained a judgment against Mr. Menzies.

Mr. R. H. Wood stated that he had two, and he understood both Mr. Doyell and Mr. Pearas had one each.

Mr. DOYELL claimed that Mr. Menzies and others should be examined.

Mr. TAYLOR said he thought one thing required investigation, and that was the alleged claim of Mrs Menzies.

It was finally decided to appoint Mr. R. Wood to conduct the examination of Mr. Menzies and others on behalf of the creditors, under the power of a judgment summons.

A motion passed at a last meeting authorizing the inspectors to have the books audited, was rescinded, as it was considered that the books were not reliable records of the business transactions of Mr. Menzies.

The meeting then adjourned.

Put the Blame Where it Belongs.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

DEAR SIR,—In your issue of last evening in reference to the fire at Rehill's you say that such talk was caused by the alleged inefficiency of the firemen to cope successfully with the fire on this occasion." Allow me to give you a few facts in reference to the fire. The firemen, with the hose carts, were on their way to the fire when the bell rang, having got an alarm by telephone, hitching up and driving the horses as received, as there was no driver around. On the arrival at the fire, if there had been a hydrant anywhere near we could easily have put out the fire before any spectators arrived on the scene. As it was, all we could do was to lay our hose and wait for the engine, for it is not our business to look after getting the engine to a fire as the town pays for a man and driver to do that. When the engine came, from some cause or other known to the engineer, she would not work. This is the first time in nearly two years that we have had occasion to use the hose at a fire. But the town has been paying an engineer his wages all the same, and when we did want to use her she was not there, (or, rather, the engineer), as Hamilton experts say she is as good as the day she was first brought here. Now, the firemen are not to blame for this, for we have explained several times to the council in regard to the way the engine was run, and how it was all we could do in the matter. Before going back to the station we got all the hose in reserve and coupled them all up making a stream from Hamilton's hydrant, with 1,750 feet of hose, and was it any wonder we were a long time getting water? We would like to know how we can be blamed.

Yours, etc.,

A. FIREMAN.

Bellegham, Furniture Dealer

Mr. D. Bellegham gets, and literally deserves, the credit of having the most complete and best equipped furniture factory in the Midland district. He gets, and literally deserves the credit of turning out first-class work. Those who want a good job in fine house furnishing know where to go to get it. No other day a bank in Port Hope needed fitting up in first class style and Bellegham was the man selected to do it, and of course he performed the work in first class style, and to every satisfaction. The Central Canada Loan Company's offices, among the finest banking offices in Canada, were done by Bellegham, and wherever you see the best shop fittings and finest church fittings, you may be sure that you see the handiwork of Bellegham's establishment. And not only in the making of furniture, but in keeping of furniture Bellegham takes the lead. His large and spacious warerooms are filled with a magnificent stock of superb goods of every needed kind and in variety of styles and prices to any requirement. When you want first class furniture, finished in first rate style at reasonable prices, be sure to call at Bellegham's, Hunter street, and you will get what you want. "If you don't see what you want ask for it," and if it isn't in stock you can have it made to your liking in short order. Be sure of having a good job as can be turned out in Canada; as good a job as skilled workmen, first class machinery and thoroughly kiln dried material can produce.

From Dan to Beersheba.

A Little Journey With Dr. Wad el Ward.

Last night there was a fair audience assembled in the Baptist church to listen to the second address by Dr. Wad el Ward. The Hebrew doctor and his wife, clad in the brilliant Oriental costume, occupied seats on the pulpit platform.

After devotional exercises Rev. Mr Parker referred to the profit and instruction he had derived from the speaker's address of the previous evening, and after bespeaking attention for the present occasion introduced Dr. Wad el Ward to give the audience a Donkey Ride from Dan to Beersheba.

Beginning with Joppa, which is a modern city—yet it has its shrine, the alleged home of Simon, the Tanner—the speaker referred to the several places of interest in and about Joppa, which was a cosmopolitan place filled with all nationalities. The Arabs lived in villages for fear of the robber Bedouins, but now there were numerous smiling farms, secured through the efforts of Sir Moses Montefiore. The Jews had returned to their old calling and they made good farmers. The ploughs used were primitive in form, and they did well enough because the soil was rich. The oxen are very small, only used a few weeks for ploughing; the rest of the year they ran wild in the hills. Not every body has oxen and the sight of a donkey and camel yoked together is common. The handle of the plough is held in the right hand, thus explaining a familiar Scripture passage. Reference was made to the slavery modes of the Mahometans. The taxation was most grievous, and on that account the speaker left Palestine. He denounced England for its friendship for tyrannical Turkey. Government extortion kept the natives in poverty and squalor. The farmers and their stock live under the same roof. The old time hospitality was kept up. Food was very cheap. Sheep and fowls were the staple meats. A sheep is dressed and then covered with clay, and roasted in a hole in the ground. Honey was abundant. The butter, white as snow, was made of goats' milk. Cheese were made of the goat skins suspended from a limb and shaken till the butter came. Reference was made to the village where Samson caught the foxes. The typical Jew of this country were not like those of Palestine. Most Jews in Palestine were ruddy of complexion with blue eyes. The true Jew could be told by his hand—short fingers and broad palm. Reference was made to some rock hewn graves, nine feet long, the graves of the sons of Anak. In the valley of Adjalon, Joshua commanded the sun to stop still, and from the physical conformation of the valley and surrounding mountains, the Dr. showed the possibility of this miracle taking place. Passing on, the city of Jerusalem comes in sight, and one has to pass through three miles of houses before the city is reached. The city was built on hills, and the speaker described the places of interest in the city, the various shrines and holy show places. There was no such mount as Calvary—which was the place of a skull—the skulls of criminals left for example. Of the temple there was nothing left of the original structure. The mosque, which occupied its site, was built from the debris. The mosque covered the rock of Mount Moriah where Abraham offered up Isaac, and where the ark of the covenant rested, and the speaker believed in the cavity of this rock the ark of the covenant now rested, and would stay till the Jews returned to Palestine. The only two authentic places associated with our Lord, were the manger and the garden of Gethsemane. The speaker went on to illustrate the custom of the burial of the dead, in explanation of the saying of our Lord, "Let the dead bury their dead." Dr. Wad el Ward interlarded his interesting and instructive remarks with numerous amusing anecdotes, illustrative of his subject. At the close of the address the speaker and his wife sang several Hebrew chants and songs, and Dr. Wad el Ward answered several questions respecting the customs of the Jews, and stated in answer to one question that the prospects of the return of the Jews to Palestine were very promising. The Dr. excused himself from responding to further enquiries as he had promised to make some remarks at a Masonic meeting that night.

Building and Saving Society.

The Peterborough Workingmen's Building and Saving Society Organized.

Last Thursday evening in the offices of Mr. T. Cahill, the Peterborough Workingmen's Building and Saving Society was organized and has been duly incorporated. The new society has been talked of for a long time and it has finally become an accomplished fact. These societies are for the purpose of accumulating a fund to be loaned out to the members for building or other purposes. The modus operandi is as follows: It is a stock company consisting of shares of $200 each. The shares are payable in monthly instalments of $1 each, and if the society comprises 200 or 300 shares, there will be a fund of $200 or $300 coming in monthly. This money is immediately offered to the members of the society who desire a loan at a rate of 6 per cent. interest, which is also payable in monthly instalments. If more than one member seeks the loan, the money is put up at auction and the one giving the highest rate of interest gets it. The Peterborough Society has over 100 shares already subscribed for, and the prospects are assuring for the society becoming a success. There was a large attendance at the organization meeting, and the officers of the Society were elected as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—T. Cahill.
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT.—John Lynch.
TREASURER.—Wm. Radkins.
SECRETARY.—P. Henry.

For the present, until the society gets into working order, all monies will be received by the secretary at his office.

These building and saving societies are not a new thing by any means. The laws in this province for their operation have been in force for over thirty years and there are numbers of the societies scattered throughout the United States. Philadelphia has over 600 societies, Chicago 300, Rochester 90, and other cities in like proportion; while in Ontario, Toronto has six, and Hamilton has one that has been in operation for five years and has accumulated a fund of over $90,000. Brockville had one which matured its shares and paid the members off, in 1885.

It has been shown by the actual workings of these societies that the monthly payment of $1 pays up the $200 share in ten years, during which time the stockholder pays in $120, for which he gets the $200 share. If a shareholder withdraws before the end of his first year in the society, he is returned the exact amount of money he paid in; if at any time after one year, he draws a 5 per cent addition to his actual payments; at the end of the ten years, the full amount of the share, $200.

This saving system enables a person who can only have the small sum of $1 or $2 per month to have a place where he can deposit it with profit to himself, and it also enables the borrower to repay his loan in the easiest manner possible, by the monthly instalment plan. The following illustration shows how the scheme works. A shareholder who has $250 desires to purchase a $1250 house. He borrows $1000 on five shares, for which he pays per month $5 as an investor, and $5 as a borrower, the first $5 going to a fund to accumulate to $200 like all other investors, and the latter being for the use of the loan. In addition he pays a premium of say 40 cents per share or $2 per month, which makes his total payments $12 per month = $144 per year. 10½ years at $144, $1512.00; cash paid at time of purchase, $250.00; taxes, say $10 per year, $105.00; insurance, say $1 per year, $10.50; total, $1,877.50. Deduct 10½ years' rent at say $120, $1,260.00, which you would have paid to owner, and for $617 you have a house worth $1,250.

Some members have acquired property which pays them in rent their monthly instalments, and leaves a surplus for taxes, insurance and repairs.

The Play.

Will L. Smith's Swiss Bell Ringers and Refined Pantomime Company were greeted by a large audience at Bradburn's Opera House last night. The entertainment is one calculated to especially amuse young people, and, judging from the success of their last night's performance the company ought to do a big business in Peterborough. They play again this afternoon and to-night.

The Bride Did Not Repent.

Mr. Smithson, of Otonabee, called at the EXAMINER office to day. He says the story of the "Repentant Bride," published a few days ago, is not correct, and that there was no grounds for the statements that the young couple did not live harmoniously together. Mr. Smithson explained the apparently inconsistent actions of the bride which he said had given rise to the reports, but which had been simply brought about by force of circumstances. However, the story as published is well known and generally believed throughout the township.

A Cold Dip.

Last night's frost put a film of ice on the goose island pond, and this morning little Johnny Fligg undertook to skate on it. Though having only one sound leg, the other being a stump, the result of an accident that caused the amputation of the limb, Master Johnny has become quite expert and by the use of his one leg and a crutch manages to get around with the other boys and indulge in all their sports. This morning his skating was suddenly terminated by his breaking through the ice and getting up to his neck in the water, which at that place was shallow. The little fellow got out easily.

The Iron Moulders.

Through their delegates at the St. Louis Convention in July, 1888, they voted for the nine-hour movement as per the following resolution:—"Resolved: That on and after April 1st, 1889, nine hours shall constitute a day's work for the members of the Iron Moulders' Union of North America." The local Moulders' Union, No. 191, being members of this International Union, are bound by the resolution above cited.

A Bonus Wanted.

Observe the effect the grant of $10 to the Peterborough reporters has upon the scribe of the Port Hope Times. The state of his feelings may be imagined from the following:—Ten dollars! Great Scott, what a snap those Peterborough newsys have! Ten real dollars! Gosh! don't we wish we were there. That's the kind of a council to have. What's the matter with Port Hope Council? Ten dollars! Heavens! How long since we saw a "tenner" bill! Now look here, you Port Hope Councillors, you're away behind the Peterborough fellows. If you don't posy up something for the reporters of Port Hope, who, rain or shine, dance attendance on you every Monday night. How we would hug thee to our bosom, and print the names of your donors in big black capitals! And then such a long time since we saw ten! Oh! Ten dollars! T—E—N dollars! Councillors of Port Hope, if you don't remove the stigma on your characters of allowing a backwoods town to give their "reps" ten dollars, while you donate nothing, you had all better grow warts on the back of your necks to save buying collar buttons. Merchant of Venice. Act 5, Scene 1.

A writer in the St. Louis Republic appeals to Americans to study what the Scotch call the humanities. "No man liveth to himself." Have you money? Feed the hungry and clothe the naked. Have you position? Use it to help others up and on. Have you knowledge? Put it on top. Have you leisure? Devote some of your spare time to the drudger. As our friend, Mr. Goodheart, will sometimes throw a handful of small coins for boys to scramble after, so, dear reader, throw out thought, taste, talent, opportunity by the handful.

Michael Angelo (poet, painter, sculptor—three men in one—a trinity of genius) stood one day with folded arms, in wrapt contemplation of a block of marble. Presently a pupil stepped to his side and said softly; "Master, what seest thou?" "Hush!" replied Angelo, I see an angel in the stone and I mean to chisel it out." The Republic writer comments, still sermonizing: There is an angel in human nature—in every jail-bird; in yonder shape of painted shame, fitly attended by shadows of fallen womanhood; in that cut-throat, crawling under the gaslight; in this little girl, adrift with bare feet on the icy pavement; in the diminutive Arab of the street, born in iniquity and rocked to sleep with curses. Yes, the angel is there, in slum as in parlor, in squalor as in refinement, in vice as in virtue. Fail to and bring it out! John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, saw a criminal led forth to execution, "There goes John Wesley," exclaimed he, "but for the grace of God."

Says this same writer: An empty stomach is not a means of grace. Indeed, it is not a means of anything but deviltry. Full-fed people are mostly stout conservatives. It is your lean and hungry kind that cut throats and topple over the existing order. When some one in the House of Commons proposed a certain measure involving large expense on the ground that it would benefit posterity, Sheridan rose and objected: "What has posterity ever done for us that we should tax ourselves for her?" In the same spirit the empty stomach regard civilization as a bad step-mother. Sidney Smith fell ill, and the physician advised him to take a walk every morning on an empty stomach. "Upon whose?" asked the wit. The bravest soldiers are cowards when hungry. Good Generals always send their regiments into battle well fed.

Try this. Cobbett, the English political economist, asserts that the stomach is the seat of civilization.

Mr. Mackenzie, the agent of the British East African Company, on New Year's day presented hundreds of slaves with papers giving them their freedom. His action has created much enthusiasm.

The Swiss good night refers to the custom of the Swiss mountaineers of calling through their speaking trumpets at dusk, "Praise the Lord God." One herdsman starts the call and his neighbors from every peak echo it. The sounds are prolonged by reverberation from one mountain to another. After a short period, which is supposed to have been devoted to prayer, a herdsman calls "Good night." This, too, is repeated, and as darkness falls each retires to his hut. These calls may be heard for miles, and are re-echoed from the rocks for some minutes after the original call has died away.

THIS MEANS BARGAINS

We are are going to make it worth your while to Buy. The Goods we most want to get rid of are Goods that would have to be packed and stored for another season. These will be our main feature. MUNCASTER'S

THE PULSE OF TRADE.

Some Improvement in the Situation—Strike Statistics—Why Wheat Dropped.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Ten out of fifteen telegraphic advices to Bradstreet's from the larger distributing centres report a noticeable improvement in the movement of general trade. With few exceptions mercantile collections are no easier. Fears that very unfavorable results will be shown by some expected railroad reports check the other bullish elements in the speculative situation. Bonds are strong and active and investments are in good demand. Money at New York is plentiful and rates are becoming even easier on stock requirements.

There have been thus far in January 23 strikes involving 6985 men, against 60 strikes involving 35,000 men (2800 in the Reading strike) in 1888. Of the 6985 strikers this month 5000 are accounted for by the coal-miners' strike in West Virginia and cigarmakers' strike in New York City. There were 650 strikes reported to Bradstreet's in 1886 involving 207,841 employes, against 894 strikes involving 340,765 employes in 1887.

It is estimated that the total United Kingdom supplies of wheat since Sept. 1 have been sufficient to increase stocks there 10,834,000 bushels, allowing for 4,000,000 bushels weekly consumption. The outlook is for stocks larger than the normal average on April 1 next. The United States Government report of 10,000,000 bushels more wheat in the 1888 crop than had been announced in previous reports, together with the large stocks abroad, broke the wheat market 3½c.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Business failures during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 294 and for Canada 46, a total of 330 against 261 last week and 267 the week previous. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 314, made up of 276 in the United States and 38 in Canada.

TORTURED BY THE SKIPPER.

Henry King's Feet Frozen and His Mind Gone Through Cruelty at Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A horrible tale of cruelty at sea was told last night by a young man who limped into the Charles-street Station House with both feet fearfully frozen and begged to be sent to a hospital. The sufferer said that his name was Henry King, and that he shipped in London in the latter part of December as coal trimmer in the tramp steamship Rio Janeiro, bound for this port. The voyage had scarcely begun when the captain, whose name he could not remember, began to treat him with the utmost brutality, punishing him unmercifully on the slightest pretext.

When all other modes of torture had been exhausted the captain caused the unfortunate fellow to be carried up on the bridge and there lashed, exposed to a violent storm which was then raging, for twelve hours. This was on January 4. When unfastened both his feet were found to be frozen. On the 10th inst., according to King's story, the vessel reached this port. How he has spent his time since then he was unable to say. The poor fellow, who is little more than a boy, has a terrible impediment in speech, which renders him almost unintelligible. He also appears to be half-witted. He was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He Was Guilty of Another Crime.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala, Jan. 19.—Everything is intensely quiet in the Pratt mines. The men are all back at work and the lynching of George Meadows is not even talked about. It is not so among the officials, however. In the county jail is a yellow negro named Louis Jackson, who was arrested several days ago and who answers to the description of Mrs. Kellum's assailant much better than Meadows did. Mrs. Kellum never positively identified the man who was lynched and it is believed the mob made a mistake. Jackson said that he had been employed at Thomas' furnace, but the managers declare that this is untrue. The negro who was hanged was guilty of a previous assault on a woman, however, and no remorse will be felt by the lynchers if it is proved that he was not the man who assaulted Mrs. Kellum. Jackson will be taken before Mrs. Kellum to-day.

Accused of Strangling His Child.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—William H. Shenck, colored of Jamesburg, N.J., is in jail at New Brunswick, upon a charge of burglary, but must now face a much more grave accusation—that of murdering his own 2-year-old boy, who died on Christmas day. Schenck, having suspected his wife of infidelity, took it suddenly into his head that the boy was not his. Entering his house on Christmas day, he dashed the infant into its cradle and stifled it to death. So say two colored women, who peered through the window. County Physician Riva and Detective Oliver went to Jamesburg yesterday morning and exhumed the body of the child, which showed evidences of death by suffocation.

A Batch of Opium Smugglers Sentenced.

ALBANY, Jan. 19.—In the United States District Court to-day the grand jury made its presentments. Chang Lee, Low How and Ah Quong of Buffalo were indicted for smuggling opium into the United States from Canada. Ah Quong and Low How pleaded guilty. Low How was fined $400. Ah Quong was sentenced to the Albany County Penitentiary for two years and fined $100. The evidence against Chang Lee was insufficient and he was acquitted. William Land and Edward Mallinger of Erie County, accomplices of the Chinamen, pleaded guilty to the charge of smuggling opium at Suspension Bridge and were fined $400 and committed to the Erie County Jail until it should be paid.

Librarian Hannah Returns.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—George Hannah, the librarian of the Long Island Historical Society in Brooklyn, who disappeared last Saturday, returned to his home in this city a little after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. He looked pale and tired. He appeared dazed and gave confused answers to the questioning of his family. He said he left the library intending to take a walk in the fresh air to see if he couldn't get over a headache. He remembered going across the bridge and finding himself finally in the stateroom of a steamer bound for Boston. He remembered nothing further consecutively, but his answers showed he had some dim idea of having read about his disappearance in the papers.

Total in 1887	$425,831 54	$1,750,004 46	$10,273,777

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

THE BAND BOYS' SUPPER.

Their Annual Feast an Unqualified Success.

A Large Number of Ladies Present on the Occasion—A New Departure That Proved Satisfactory—How the Band Entertained its Friends.

Without indulging in any exaggerated "blowing" it may be said that the annual dinner of the Fire Brigade Band at their hall Friday evening was an unqualified success, and its was satisfactorily demonstrated that the band could do something besides play well; that they were splendid entertainers as well as good musicians. About seventy-five persons were present to partake of the good cheer provided by the hospitable "band boys," and of these a large percentage was ladies. This was a rather new departure from the usual order of things, but it succeeded admirably. The evening passed off far more smoothly and pleasantly owing to the benign influences of the ladies, whose presence cast on the proceedings an air of sociability and homeliness that they would otherwise have lacked. Who cannot talk better and be more agreeable with a lady at his elbow? And how the spirit of chivalry stirs the hearts of the speakers and prompts them to outbursts of eloquence when they are aware that ladies are listening to and watching them! These effects were noticeable at the supper Friday night, and the members of the band may congratulate themselves upon the happy thought that led to the invitation of ladies to be present at their annual feast.

THE SUPPER.

Bandmaster Miller, the genial "Finch," was on hand with a hearty word and smiling countenance to greet the guests. The firemen's hall was made a reception room for the occasion. When they had all arrived, the company adjourned upstairs to the dining hall, where tables were spread to accommodate 75. The seats were all filled in a short space of time. About the hall were observed traces of the handiwork of some decorative genius, who had by a combination of evergreens, banning and flags given the place a pretty appearance. Along the wall were the band instruments arranged according to size, and they presented quite an imposing spectacle. The menu was supplied by Mr. Thos. Hooper, caterer, who set up a very creditable table.

THE GUESTS.

Mr. F. W. Millar, leader of the band, occupied the vice-chair, and Mr. J. Fraser, secretary, the vice-chair. Among the guests present besides the ladies were, Mayor Stevenson, Councillors Kelly, Cahill and Ratherford; Mr. T. Ratherford, chief of the fire department; Major R. W. Bell, Capt. Millar and Sergt.-Major Rundle, of the 57th Batt.; Chief of Police Rossel; Messrs. Jones, Dunn, Tierney, the members of the press and other gentlemen.

RESORTS.

After the edibles had been disposed of, the vice-chairman read letters of regret from Col. J. Z. Rogers and Messrs. A. Elliott and H. Calcutt, who were unable to attend but expressed their best wishes for the success of the supper and the band.

THE TOASTS.

The CHAIRMAN then began the toast list by proposing one to the Queen, which being duly honored was followed by the "Governor General and House of Commons," introduced by the vice-chair.

To this toast Mr. JAS. STEVENSON, M. P., replied, expressing his pleasure at being present on this occasion, which was an agreeable departure from the customary rule in having ladies with them. On his trip to Ottawa yesterday, he said, he had the pleasure of seeing Sir John Macdonald, who was looking well and was far more robust and healthy since he had become a thorough temperance man (applause). Mr. Stevenson gave some interesting details observed about the House of Commons during the sessions, referring to the interest the ladies took in the debates and the benefit the library was to the public. He said the band had his most ardent wishes for their success. A good band was a necessity to every town; almost as great a necessity as the corporation itself, and the Peterborough band would always have his encouragement and support.

MUSICAL INTERVALS.

Mr. Pierce sang "Angel Faces" to orchestral accompaniment, and was hearty applauded.

"The Lieut.-Governor and Legislature of Ontario," were next honored with a toast. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., was expected to be present to reply to this toast, but to his great regret was unavoidably detained elsewhere.

Messrs. M. Tierney and T. Dunn rendered in duet "The Larboard Watch," in a style that was quite befitting the occasion.

THE MILITIA.

To "The Army, Navy and Volunteers," Major Bell, Capt. Millar, and Sergt-Major Rundle replied, the former on behalf of the volunteers and the 57th Batt. in particular, for whom he could say that he felt the band was a decided acquisition. The officers were helping the band all they could, and they felt justified in calling upon the citizens for further aid.

Capt. MILLAR made a patriotic speech in which he boasted of Canada's militia and her connection with the mother country, and referred in glowing terms to the bravery and pluck characteristic of Canadians. This spirit was shown especially in the volunteer force.

Sergt.-Major RUNDLE co-incided with the closing remarks of Capt. Miller, and took occasion to pay a tribute to the gentlemanliness and bravery of the Canadian officers.

THE CORPORATION.

A toast to the Mayor and Corporation brought to their feet Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Cahill, Kelly and Ratherford, all of whom had good words to say of the band, which they referred to as an institution worthy of support. Mr. Ratherford in addition referred to municipal matters, advocating a new market place, and a drainage system. He also pointed out the substantial progress Peterborough was making.

Mr. PIERCE gave another excellent solo, entitled "The old folks that are gone."

OTHERS TOASTS.

A toast to "Our Guests," was ably responded to by Mr. Jones, sr., Mr. Thos. Dunn and Mr. T. Ratherford.

"The ladies" were toasted in a right hearty manner, and found eager champions in Messrs. M. Tierney, Wm. Crough, R. Beech and Fred Jones.

The toast to the press closed the list, but Dr. Bell proposed an impromptu toast to the band, which the guests drank with bumper glasses.

HERE'S TO THE BAND.

Bandmaster Miller, Mr. J. Fraser, Secretary, and Mr. E. McCabe, President of the Band, each replied briefly, hoping that their guests had enjoyed themselves. This suggestion drew many vigorous affirmations from those present, who were unanimous in the expression that they had enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The gathering broke up by the singing of the National Anthem, but the young people remained for a couple of hours and engaged in the delights of the dance in the firemen's hall, which gave ample room for enjoyment of the Terpsichorean exercise.

ONTARIO CABINET CHANGES.

Hon. T. B. Pardee Steps Out and Hon. A. H. Gibson Sworn In.

HON. J. M. GIBSON.

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—Hon. John Morrison Gibson, M.P.P. for Hamilton, was sworn in yesterday as Provincial Secretary of Ontario, vice Hon. A. S. Hardy, who has been appointed Commissioner of Crown Lands in place of Hon. T. B. Pardee, who has resigned on account of ill health. The call of Mr. Gibson to become a member of the Mowat Government is not unexpected. Ever since it became known that Mr. Pardee's illness was of such a nature as to make a change necessary, the name of Mr. Gibson has been mentioned as that of a man well qualified to enter the Cabinet. Since his election to represent Hamilton in the Legislature in 1879, he has taken a prominent part in the proceedings of the House.

At a meeting of the Civic Executive Committee last night it was unanimously determined to recommend that the Mayor be given a bonus of $1000 over and above his salary of $3000 for 1889 as a slight token of appreciation of his valuable services.

A writ was issued yesterday by W. R. Bingham against Police Sergeant Hales for $3000 for false arrest and imprisonment in connection with the "clam fight."

CANON HOUR-LITTLE preached four times yesterday to large congregations.

The Police Magistrate yesterday sentenced Ellen Sullivan to 60 days for theft of dress goods from Messrs. John Eyre & Co. Inspector Archibold preferred a charge against Conductor Harry Webb of violating the Liquor law by the furnishing of wines at the Board of Trade dinner at the Pavilion. No evidence was heard and the case was adjourned till Tuesday.

A young man named William Winchester, aged 18, and living at 27 Sautter-street, while skating last evening was drowned in the new channel of the Don.

To Cure a Cough.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. dw2d

"Eureka" and "Golden Hair Wash."

These are two of A. Dorenwend's standard preparations. The "Golden Hair Wash" gives the hair that beautiful golden shade so universally admired; it does not injure the hair in the slightest degree. "Eureka" removes all superfluous hair from the face, arms at once at one application. See that each bottle of either preparation bears on the label the signature of A. Dorenwend. EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cures your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last, I noticed some red pimples like smallpox out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until no time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and, to my almost immediate relief, began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared, one by one, and I have now fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and they think me for the favorable use of them, especially mothers who have been tet with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

DUTY ON CANADIAN CARS.

THE RECENT U.S. CUSTOMS ORDER ATTRACTING ATTENTION.

Hon. Mr. Bowell Talks—Statement of Exports and Imports for December—Imperial Federation League Merging.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—The order issued by the American customs authorities to collect duty on Canadian cars transporting freight from one point in the United States to another passing through Canadian territory is attracting considerable attention in railway circles here. The opinion is that both the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk have enough American-built cars to carry all such freight and that no great amount of inconvenience will be felt unless the Canadian Government should retaliate and prohibit cars carrying in bond of freight through Canada in American cars. The Minister of Customs said to-day that there were conflicting statements published about the matter and until he had more definite information he would not express any decided opinion. He added, however: "I don't imagine it is probable that the American Government would think of doing it. There is no reason why the Americans should at this moment interfere with a system which has been in vogue ever since the existence of railways.

It is stated that the Joliette election will be protested.

The statement of exports for December shows a total of $5,340,446, of which $5,111,729 is the produce of Canada.

The statement of goods entered for consumption during December is as follows:

Dutiable goods	$1,847,277
Coin and bullion	7,074
Free goods	1,967,956
Total	$3,822,309
Duty collected	$1,363,975

The statement of circulation and specie shows the amount outstanding Dec. 31 to be $16,632,467, being an increase of $75,933 during the month. The excess of specie and guaranteed debentures is over $2,000,000.

At a meeting of the Orangemen last night a petition to the Governor-General was adopted praying for disallowance of the Jesuit Estates Act.

The effect of want of snow is being severely felt in the Upper Ottawa and Gatineau regions, and lumbermen here begin to fear that unless the weather changes shortly it will be impossible to get out enough logs to keep the mills running next summer. The only regions where sufficient snow has fallen are along the Petewawa and Kippewa Rivers.

The ice in the Ottawa below the Rideau Falls commenced breaking up this morning and moving down the river, and unless heavy frost sets in all the ice in the Lower Ottawa will probably go down. Crossing even on foot is entirely stopped. This is believed to be unprecedented.

A despatch to the Marine Department says that a gentleman left Georgetown at 5 o'clock by the Stanley for Pictou and arrived at Halifax at 1.30, making the journey in less than nine hours, the fastest time on record.

A deputation from Belleville waited on the Minister of Justice to-day and submitted the draft of the bill of which notice will be given to incorporate the Belleville Harbor Commission.

The first annual meeting of the Ottawa branch of the Imperial Federation League was held this evening, about thirty members being present. The annual report reviewed the business of the branch during the year and showed the organization to be in a flourishing condition. President Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., in his annual address spoke of the objections taken to the name of the league as indicating a leaning to imperialism and centralization of the powers of government in one arbitrary executive, and declared this to be far from the purpose of the league. He thought the aims and purpose of the league would have been better expressed by some such name as the British Alliance or the British Union League. Sandford Fleming was re-elected president. Vice-Presidents—J. S. Featherston, Thomas McFarlane, Rev. Father Dawson. Treasurer, Thomas McFarlane; Secretary, R. G. Code.

Was He Poisoned, and by Whom?

FISHKILL LANDING, Jan. 19.—Wm. Gaohl, a gardener and marketman, died here last week, leaving property valued at $15,000, and was buried on Sunday. Now there are queer rumors as to the cause of death and the coroner is collecting evidence. It is said that Gaohl was poisoned. His widow is nearly 30 years younger than her husband was. A man living in Newburg is thought to know more than he will tell about the case.

Ran Off With His Brother's Wife.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19.—Charles and Albert Marx are sons of a wealthy Hebrew shoe manufacturer of St. Louis. Charles is 24 years of age and Albert 21, and both occupied positions with their father. Both fell in love with the same young lady, Miss Eva Berger. Charles, the eldest young man, won the prize, and on May 27 last he married Miss Berger, and they went at once to keeping house. Meanwhile, Albert left the city and opened a branch store in Arkansas. He returned just before Christmas, and yesterday he eloped with his brother's wife to Arkansas. The husband is very much affected by the elopement, but he says he will not follow her presents the guilty couple.

A BIG PRIZE FOR CANADA.

TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES AND BRITISH GUIANA.

Hon. John Macdonald Tells Toronto that Ontario Should Have Reciprocal Commerce Can be Increased.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—Senator John Macdonald's remarks at the recent Board of Trade banquet excited no much attention that he was invited to read a paper to the members of the board last night on the present prospect of commercial relations between Canada, the West Indies and British Guiana. The Senator said:

Within five or six days' journeying from our own city there are islands strangely beautiful, wonderfully productive, islands where perpetual summer reigns, where lofty mountain peaks rise to the height of 6000 or 8000 feet, and whose low lands present such pictures of loveliness, arising from their great fertility and marvelous vegetation, as are not to be surpassed on the face of the earth. It is under such circumstances that one realizes the vastness and the power of the British Empire, embracing within itself every climate, almost every class of people, and every produce of the earth.

The British West India Islands (excluding the Bermudas, which are situated in about 32° 20' north) embrace some twenty-two important islands, and extend from the Bahama group, situated in about 27° 40' north, to Trinidad in 11° north; or, if the line be extended to the important colony of British Guiana, to 6° north of the equator. The islands embrace an area of 12,121 square miles, British Guiana an area of 76,000 square miles, and include a population under British rule of at least 1½ millions.

Now it will readily be apparent that the needs of such a population implies for the mere necessaries of life an immense consumption, and, as a consequence, with some nations or nations a very large and a very important trade. "From whence," asked the Senator, "are the islands supplied?" In answering this question he said: Barbadoes draws its supplies:

United States	$397,117
British N. A. Colonies	92,194
Brazil	97,215
British West Indies	28,563
British Guiana	18,409
Calcutta	14,295

Trinidad draws its imports:

United States	$ 309,267
Venezuela	268,615
British West Indies	118,120
France	491,206
British East Indies	22,970
British North America	54,523

British Guiana supplies herself from:

United States	$ 247,021
India	160,566
British North America	94,249
British West Indies	23,277
France	17,275

"Do we then," he asked, "as compared with the United States, get our fair share of the West Indian trade?" I think not! In Barbadoes, for example, they do four dollars for our one, in Trinidad about seven dollars to our one, in British Guiana three dollars and thirty-seven cents to our one.

Canada has taken a very leading position as a cheese-producing country. Why then, it may be asked, do our dairymen allow our neighbors to monopolize the market, so that while to three of the colonies only they send 694,000 pounds, we to the same colonies send only 300 pounds? Can we not produce as good butter as they do? Is our flour not equal to theirs? Have they a monopoly in the making of bread? Have they all the land on the continent? Are their meadows better than ours? Do their fields grow better grain than ours, or their forests yield better lumber? Why, then, if these questions have to be answered in the negative, do we find the strange differences which exist in the trade of their country and ours with these islands, the difference being immensely in favor of the United States? Why, for example, as against the 21,000 pounds of bread which we send to three of these islands, do our neighbors send 4,648,239? Why, as against our paltry shipment of butter, amounting only to 356 lbs., do our neighbors send 1,021,758? Why is it that the Americans can find a market for corn and oatmeal to the extent of 3,651,190 lbs., and we are unable to send a pound? Why, they, 216,606 barrels flour and we not one? Why, we also one pound of lard and they 1,808,893?

And perhaps Ald. Frankland will be able to render the public a service by explaining why it is that the United States can send to two islands alone, those of Barbadoes and Trinidad, meat to the extent of 6,106,198, to the former, 3,163,047 lbs.; to the latter, 2,943,589 lbs.; while we appear to be unable to send one pound? Again, why they, the United States, exclusively supply Trinidad with staves, we do double the amount in staves in British Guiana which they do? We do double the amount in shingles in Trinidad which they do; and it appears to me a very natural question, if we can beat them in shingles in Trinidad, why cannot we beat them in staves?

Still more remarkable is the disparity in our favor in Barbadoes, for while they supply to the island 556,150 shingles, we supply 2,530,260, while in Barbadoes and British Guiana, they supply 5,406,695 feet of lumber, we supply 13,175,645. While they send to Barbadoes 1,812,517 bushels of oats, we send 2,403,788 bushels; and while we send 16,734 bushels of potatoes to British Guiana, they send but 1715 bushels; and while we send to Barbadoes and British Guiana fish to the extent of $5,712,036, they to the extent of $408,213 only.

I come now to the consideration of my second question: Is it possible to increase our trade? We say to you to-day, go up and get your fullest share of this West India trade, the share that is yours by proximity to them, the share that is yours by affinity with them, the share that from their interest and yours they desire you to have. You ask, What, a trade conflict with a nation of 60,000,000 with any hope of success! The answer is, "There are the markets, and there are your competitors."

It would be idle to suggest any material change in trade relations with matters as they exist at present. I have asked: Is it possible to increase this trade? It is. But this can only be brought about under certain conditions.

But let us look at what will be necessary to secure this end:

1. A rapid and regular steam communication.
2. A direct and inexpensive cable service.
3. A regular and prompt postal service.
4. An efficient light-house service; and,
5. A new departure bringing our merchants, millers, lumber dealers and manufacturers into direct contact with the great leaders in trade in the various islands and in British Guiana.

In conclusion the hon. gentleman said: Our destiny is in our own hands and not in the hands of any foreign power, however near or however great, and realizing this fully I feel that if in working it out we are but true to those great underlying principles of truth and righteousness, which are the guarantees, not only of a nation's prosperity but of a nation's stability; if we are but true to our country and true to ourselves nothing can stand in the way of our progress, nothing could by any possibility retard our development. For them we shall be prosperous and contented at home, and we shall be honored and respected abroad.

White Caps Force Cowards.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 18.—White Caps at Andrews, this county, are making good the warning sent to parties in that place. Sunday night William Dowell, who fails to provide for his family, was surprised by twenty masked men when in a saloon and dragged out. A rope was thrown over his neck and he was swung up to the nearest telegraph pole. Ostimond who had been attracted by his cries came to his rescue, and the White Caps fled without being recognized.

Battle With Moonshiners.

SHELBY, N. C., Jan. 19.—United States Deputy Marshal George W. Means, with a posse of five men, was fired at from ambush by about twenty five moonshiners last night. Means was thrown from his horse, and his shoulder injured; W. B. Wray, one of the posse, was shot in the neck; one prisoner, name unknown, was shot in the leg and carried off by the attacking party, and one moonshiner was shot.

A GLADSTONIAN VICTORY.

THE UNIONISTS DEFEATED IN THE GOVAN DIVISION.

Liberals Elected by the Bounds of the London County Elections—Provisions of the German East Africa Bill.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—In the parliamentary election in the Govan division to-day Wilson (Gladstonian) received 4420 votes and Pender (Unionist) 3340. In the last contest Pearce (Conservative) received 3574 and Dickson (Gladstonian) 3212.

The London County elections have been completed. Of the 118 members 70 are Reformers, including Lord Rosebery, Sir John Lubbock, Lady Sandhurst, Mr. Harris of the Drury Theatre and the socialist Burns, and 48 are Independents. The contests did not involve politics, but the large proportion of the Liberals returned causes rejoicing in the party, as indicating a change of opinion in the metropolis. All the candidates who were members of the board of works associated with the recent plunder revelations were rejected.

The German East Africa Bill.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The East Africa bill was submitted to the Bundesrath to-day. It is entitled "A bill for the protection of German interests and combatting the slave trade in East Africa." It asks a grant of 2,000,000 marks. The task of executing the provisions of the bill is entrusted to a commission which shall have the right to supervise the proceedings of the East Africa company. Regarding the proposed expedition the bill authorizes the Chancellor to draw the necessary money from the Imperial funds.

Riotous French Strikers.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Strikers at Origny are resorting to riotous demonstrations. They have set fire to one factory and seriously damaged others. A detachment of soldiers has been sent to suppress the rioters.

SCOUNDREL, THAT'S MY WIFE.

An Injured Husband Exposes Her Perfidy —A Cab-Chase.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The spectacle of two excited men chasing a cab down Broadway attracted much attention at 10 o'clock last night. The cab at length stopped opposite the Metropolitan Opera House and a well-dressed, handsome man sprang out. He led forth a beautiful young woman, who was richly dressed and who wore several large diamonds. By this time the two followers had arrived on the scene and the younger one at once jumped at the man with the lady, exclaiming: "You scoundrel, that is my wife!"

"I know it," was the reply. "You have got all the evidence you want for a divorce. Let her go with me."

With a cry of rage the husband began to pummel the stranger, the woman screamed and the lively rough-and-tumble fight drew a big crowd. The whole party were arrested and taken to the Thirtieth-street station. The husband said he was Augustus Stuhler, a clerk of No. 247 East One Hundred and Twentieth-street, and the man with him was his father. He said that his wife and Charles J. Harrison, a wealthy resident of Waterloo, N.Y., had stopped at the Gedney House the previous night, and he had found it out and watched them. When they started out in a cab he had followed them.

The three men were locked up on a charge of disturbing the peace. Mrs. Stuhler begged Sergeant Schmittberger to look her up in a cell next to that occupied by Harrison, but her request was refused. The parties are said to be well known in Harlem, and a spicy story is expected when they are arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court. Mrs. Stuhler went away alone and spent the night at a hotel.

DIVORCED BUT DIDN'T KNOW IT.

Some one, Presumably, Personates Mrs. McMurdy and Gets a Decree.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Marion B. McMurdy, according to her statement embodied in a petition to the Superior Court, is the victim of an extraordinary plot by which she was divorced from her husband without her knowledge and consent. She alleges that she was married to John H. McMurdy at Georgetown, D.C., June 19, 1886, and lived with him until May, 1872, when he deserted her. She thinks he is now somewhere in Colorado.

Some time last month she was shown papers purporting to be divorce proceedings instituted by her against her husband in the Superior Court in this city, which resulted in a divorce absolute in her favor. The papers show that service was made on her husband in this city Nov. 9, 1871, by H. J. H. Miller, the summons being signed by Charles T. McKay as her attorney. The testimony taken by Referee Bushnell was given by a woman purporting to be Mrs. McMurdy, supported by evidence given by John McDonald and John E. Benson. Mrs. McMurdy says she never authorized the institution of the proceedings, never saw Mr. McKay, never gave any evidence and was never in New York until 1872, when she came here with her husband. It is supposed some woman personated her in the proceedings.

Judge Drage yesterday denied an application to set aside the decree. Henry Daily, who is retained by Mrs. McMurdy, refuses to state what further steps will be taken.

Back to Springfield for Trial.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 19.—City Marshal Southmayd has gone to Philadelphia to effect the extradition of Harry Taylor, an employe of Forepaugh's circus, under arrest in that city for the murder of James T. Borthwick, an old farmer. The murder took place on June 13 last, while the show was exhibiting here. Taylor was on usher on the reserved seats. Borthwick, who had been drinking, tried to force his way into the inclosure without a ticket, and after a dispute Taylor struck him a heavy blow on the jugular vein and Borthwick fell dead. Although the murder was committed in sight of 3000 persons, Taylor was able to disappear, and was not heard of again until his capture a few days ago.

Killed by Half a Gallon of Whisky.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 19.—John Owsley, a stout colored roustabout, had a dispute with one Geoghegan as to how much whisky each could drink. Finally they decided to toss coppers to see which should test the other's capacity. Geoghegan won and Owsley undertook to drink all the liquor Geoghegan could buy. Geoghegan had just $1.35, which paid for half a gallon of the cheapest whisky at a levee saloon, and Owsley drank the stuff. An hour later he was found on the wharf unconscious and, although remedies were administered, he died within twenty-four hours.

No Chinese Laundry for Them.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 19.—The colored washerwomen of Atlanta have served notice upon Chung Lee, a Chinese laundryman who arrived there yesterday, that he must leave the city at once. A year ago they drove a couple of Chinese laundrymen out of the city by force. The Chinaman says he will go.

The Reading's Annual Meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 14.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company held to-day, the present managers and officers were re-elected without opposition. The annual report presented by President Corbin shows the net earnings as compared with 1887 to have decreased $3,782,000.

JESUITS' ESTATES BILL.

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT DECIDE NOT TO INTERFERE.

Lord Stanley Accepts an Invitation to the Montreal Board of Trade Banquet, but Sir John is Unable to Attend.

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—A few days since it was stated in this correspondence that there was no truth in the rumor that the Jesuit Estates Bill had been disallowed. I am now in a position to announce on authority that the bill has been under consideration of Council and it has been decided that the act, being one coming entirely within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislature, should not be interfered with by the Dominion Government, and it will not therefore be disallowed.

A deputation from the Montreal Board of Trade waited on the Governor-General yesterday and tendered him an invitation to attend the banquet on Wednesday, which he accepted. They also waited on Sir John, but he will be unable to attend. Sir Hector Langevin, who had already accepted an invitation, left for Quebec yesterday, and will come up to Montreal Wednesday.

It is stated that at a meeting of the ratepayers of Prescott and Russell to be held at L'Orignal next Tuesday with reference to the proposed railway from Ottawa to Vaudreuil, S. W. Foster, representing the Grand Trunk, will announce that his company is prepared to build the road, which, when completed, will shorten the distance between Ottawa and Montreal by about eight miles. It is also said that the Grand Trunk will extend the Midland system to Ottawa and thus secure a loop line between Toronto and Montreal, which will greatly relieve the main line.

In the Supreme Court yesterday the case of the Montreal Seminary v. the City of Montreal was argued and judgment reserved. The case arises out of an assessment of the seminary under the local improvement bylaw for a drain fronting its property, which the seminary resists on the ground that educational institutions are exempt from taxation.

RUN INTO BY A TRAIN.

A Selfdest Farmer's Close Call—Hamilton's Police Report

HAMILTON, Jan. 20.—A butcher's wagon belonging to William Murray and driven by Charles Williams and John McCauley was backed into by the Toronto accommodation at the King-street crossing yesterday morning and both young men thrown out, but neither seriously injured. The horse's leg was broken and the animal had to be shot.

As Elijah Fenton, a well known farmer of the township of Salidest, was driving home Friday evening from Hamilton, when crossing the iron bridge which spans the Big Creek, about four miles east of the city, the structure gave way. Mr. Fenton felt the movement and instead of going down with his wagon and team jumped into the creek, alighting in four or five feet of water. Both horses were badly hurt.

Chief of Police McKinnon presented his annual report yesterday. The number of arrests made during the year were 2799; of these 490 were made by warrants, 1272 without warrants, and 937 summonses were issued. The cases were disposed of as follows: Fines imposed, 1765; 777 were acquitted, 58 committed to jail direct, 33 to central prison, 21 to Andrew Mercer reformatory, 66 to the higher court for trial, 6 to the Kingston penitentiary, 20 to Penetanguishene reformatory, 41 allowed to go on suspended sentence, 23 bound over to keep the peace and 9 not yet disposed of. No less than 126 boys were arrested during the year charged with larceny.

TEST OF THE DYNAMITE GUN.

Capt. Zalinski Exhibits His Invention at Fort Lafayette.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A test of Capt. E. L. Zalinski's pneumatic dynamite gun, made yesterday afternoon at Fort Lafayette in the harbor, was very satisfactory. Three tests at 1000, 500 and 100 yards were to have been made but the program in this respect was not carried out. Only two shots were fired—one a 200-pound shell and the other of 500 pounds—charged with No. 1 dynamite, and each was discharged at a point the size of a vessel's deck, marked with buoys, at a distance of one mile. The absence of an object made it impossible to demonstrate thoroughly the destructive power of the shots, but it was said that either of the bombs would have destroyed any man-of-war afloat. Captain Zalinski fired the first 200-pound shell with remarkable precision, but the second was not so accurately gauged. The gun was of a 14-inch caliber, and each shot sent upward a body of water to a height of about 300 feet.

An Ex-Convict's Money-Making Scheme.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 20.—A circular has been received here from the International Marriage Association of Mount Clemens, Mich. The manager is T. M. Kimball, alias Griswold, who a couple of years ago was sent up for a year to the Central Prison for working the green goods and sawdust racket at Chatham. On his release he was re-arrested on a charge of burglary, but while lying handcuffed to a sleeping constable at the Duke House here, he managed to get the keys and release himself. In a letter which he was cheeky enough to write to Officer Skirving to make inquiries after some person, he says he is "making lots of money out of this loving business." The alleged object of the International Marriage Association is to find partners for forlorn swains and sighing maids.

Sudden Death of an Ottawa Lady.

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—Mrs. C. H. Carrier, wife of the manager of the local branch of the Banque Nationale, was found dead in bed about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause of her death was heart disease. The lady was just recovering from an attack of measles taken while nursing her two children, who had the disease. She was a daughter of the late Colonel Coffin, ordnance land sergeant in the days of old Bytown.

Nine Men Drowned.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 20.—The steamer Cariboo Fly returned last night from an exploring trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands. The vessel brings news that on Dec. 16, while Cunningham's schooner Skena was making a trip to Skidate she sprang a leak and sank. Eight Indian passengers and Cunningham were drowned. The captain, a white boy and seven Indians escaped.

Ontario County Council.

WHITBY, Jan. 20.—The Whitby hotelkeepers have made great preparations for the reception of the members of the County Council, who will commence the January session on Tuesday next. A strong poll and no end of lobbying will be made for the Wardenship.

The Stanley Mystery.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—There is some mystery about the latest news from Mr. Stanley. Hints are heard that the King of the Belgians knows more than he chooses to tell, but the belief that Mr. Stanley will come out all right is now general

Supposed to be in Canada.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Charles C. Kendall, the real estate agent who disappeared from South Boston yesterday, has not yet been heard from. It is impossible to say how much, if anything, of a criminating nature attaches to his disappearance. His counsel is confident that he will soon return. He is now believed to be in Montreal. His counsel says that $6000 will cover Kendall's indebtedness.

A VICTORY FOR HONESTY.

THE RESULT OF THE LONDON ELECTIONS SUMMED UP.

Interesting Personalities Among the Successful Candidates—Gladstonian Sixteen Over the Gain in Seven.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The municipal elections in London prove clearly how strong is the revolt against both the Vestries and Metropolitan Board of Works. Roughly speaking, it is municipal reform that has triumphed over municipal jobbery, politics having been put aside. The new Council will not be brilliant, and may not be wise, but it is pure. The City of London proper rightly takes the lead. It elects only two men who, out of 113, have a National reputation. Sir John Lubbock is at the head of the poll with over 8000 votes. Lord Rosebery is a few hundreds behind him, and each has more than twice the number of the two other successful candidates. Lord Rosebery is named as the probable chairman.

There are other interesting, if not eminent, personalities. Mr. Firth has long led the movement for reform; Mr. Beal is of the same party, and Mr. John Lloyd is a third. Dowager Lady Sandhurst is one of Mr. Gladstone's most ardent supporters, and Miss Cobden is a daughter of the great Free-Trader. Legal doubts exist whether any woman is eligible. No party, as factios, can say it has no representative. Even the Socialists have their man, John Burns, the champion of disorder coming in at the head of the poll in Battersea. Mr. Augustus Harris, of Drury Lane Theatre, who is anything but a Socialist, is in a similar position for the Strand, and Mr. Wren, a well-known crammer, will look after education. Mr. Conybeare has the unique distinction of being defeated in two districts. Mr. Dobbs, to whom London owes much for his successful attack on some of the many abuses practised by the water companies, is ungratefully left in the minority. The press of all shades proclaims this first experiment toward self-government by London a success.

The result in the counties proper is curious. The very men whose control the Radicals sought to destroy are chosen by the people, landlords, country gentlemen and peers. Sir Wilfrid Lawson, however, is beaten by a brewer, a specimen of local option he will not like.

Gladstonians Jubilant.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Liberal triumph at Govan was confidently predicted by the knowing on both sides. Sir William Pearce held the seat on personal grounds, as the largest employer of labor in the borough. Sir John Pender, who stood as a Liberal Unionist, polled nearly as many votes as Sir William, but nearly a thousand electors who would not oppose Sir William came joyfully to the polls to support their principles in the person of Mr. Wilson, another large employer. The victory is none the less a damaging blow to the Government and full of encouragement to the Gladstonians, who are jubilant.

SALISBURY AND BISMARCK.

The Two Premiers Pulling Together in the East African Affair.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—The Bundesrath will dispose of the East Africa bill without delay, and it will be submitted to the Reichstag at the end of the week, when it will evoke the long expected declaration from Prince Bismarck on the government's colonial policy and its relations with England. The measure, it is believed, will be finally passed by a large majority. Interest really centres in what Prince Bismarck will choose to reveal concerning the co-operation of England. It is noted here that English opinion against colonial extension by Germany gains ground, and even Conservative papers suggest that Lord Salisbury weakly yielded to the request of Prince Bismarck without knowing how far the Chancellor's designs extended. Probably Prince Bismarck will frankly disclose how completely the English Government has been apprised of every phase of the German policy as embodied in the East Africa bill. He is desirous of preventing English Liberals from making party capital from the consent of the Government. Every suggestion coming from Lord Salisbury during the negotiations has been accepted here. The Chancellor will therefore announce absolute harmony in the co-operations.

The Morier incident has not had the slightest effect in the relations between the two governments. It may have formed the subject of conversation during recent interviews between Prince Bismarck and Sir Edward Malet, the British Ambassador. Lord Salisbury leaves Morier to fight his own duel. The diplomatic circle is confident that Prince Bismarck has a strong card in reserve against Morier, and will probably oblige Lord Salisbury to take official notice of the affair by transferring Morier from St. Petersburg to some post that has less influence on European politics.

The Geffcken correspondence, covering 180 folios, has been submitted to the Bundesrath. It was intended to publish the correspondence, but the government is beginning to learn that the country has had a surfeit of Geffcken. Besides, public opinion is returning in favor of Geffcken. The Progressist press, knowing it to be a powerful weapon of offense, would sustain the agitation. The Tagblatt demands a complete clearing of the affair, the production of the appendices to the indictment, the answers for the defence, and the reasons for the decision of the tribunal. The semi-official press continues to give favorable extracts from the correspondence, but otherwise has ceased to refer to the matter. The official press of Vienna upholds the action of Prince Bismarck.

The malicious reports of the ill-health of the Chancellor originated with The Kreuz Zeitung, the organ of the Ultra-Conservatives and orthodox declarants associated with Dr. Stocker. The reports represent the yearnings of the orthodox to see Bismarck prostrated. His life in Berlin under his modified work agrees with him. He walks daily in the vicinity of Wilhelm-strasse, seemingly unattended, but, in reality, guarded by several police agents. His residence is also guarded on both the Wilhelm-strasse and Koeniggraetz-strasse sides. The household is limited, twelve servants being sufficient for the simple life led by himself and the princess. He works in a spacious cabinet plainly furnished with a bookcase and an immense table covered with documents. On the walls are two paintings representing the late Czar and William I. The Chancellor works to a late hour and is not an early riser.

Welland Salvation Army Barracks Burnt.

WELLAND, Jan. 20.—About 1 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the Salvation Army barracks, a large frame structure. Captain Crosby and Lieut. Odear, both young women, who occupied the upstairs as a dwelling, were rescued with great difficulty in a half-smothered condition. The fire was confined to the barracks, which was owned by R. Merwood. Loss about $800, no insurance. The officers lost all their clothing and furniture.

Said To Be a Mad Man from Bertie.

BUFFALO, Jan. 20.—Specials filed and Taylor of the First precinct arrested yesterday morning in Pearl-street David Ford, aged 28 years. He is wanted in the town of Bertie, Ont., to answer to charges of criminal assault on Sarah J. Ford, his sister-in-law, on Jan. 7, and attempted murder of his brother with an axe on Jan. 16. He came to Buffalo last Thursday. It is said by the police that he has served two terms in Kingston Penitentiary.

"THE TERRIBLE GERMANS"

AMERICAN CITIZENS IN SAMOA ROUGHLY HANDLED.

The Stars and Stripes Torn Down—United States Citizens Stabbed in the Street—An English Man's Crew Shot at.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The steamer Alameda arrived here yesterday morning from Samoa. A correspondent writing from Apia under date of Jan. 5, says: A serious state of affairs exists in Samoa. On the night of Dec. 18 some sailors from the German men-of-war Adler, Olga and Eber attacked Mataafa's soldiers under direction of the German consul and Captain Fritz, the senior German naval officer in port. As a result of the encounter 22 German sailors were killed and 32 wounded. Since then the German war-ships have burned the American houses, torn down the United States flags, seized some American citizens in neutral water of Apia harbor and taken them prisoners on board the German men-of-war. A boat's crew from a German vessel in command of an officer have shot at the captain and lieutenant of an English man-of-war.

On the night of Dec. 16 a party of 120 German sailors came ashore at Apia, stabbed United States Marshal George Scanlan and his brother George in the back and ran through the streets attacking all persons they met except the Germans, and injured the adherents of Tamasese, among the number being native women and children. Some of Mataafa's soldiers came in from the bush and were anxious to begin shooting, but were urged by United States Consul Blacklock not to fire.

The Samoan Times, published at Apia, and which has been impartial in its accounts of the events on the islands, gives the following version of the fight on Dec 16: At two o'clock on the morning of Tuesday 60 sailors from the Olga were landed at Mataafa and 60 more were sent in boats along the coast, the 60 men marching on land to meet Mataafa at a German farmer's plantation. The short party were reinforced by all the imported laborers (said to be New Britain men), so that Mataafa was between the 200 men who came down the day before and the German sailors and foreign laborers.

Mataafa, knowing the danger of interference with the German soldiers, returned inland a few hundred yards. The Germans followed up and fired into Mataafas's people killing a young son of the chief. The chief getting terribly excited was only prevented by his own people from firing into the Germans, but while struggling he himself was shot and fell dead beside his son.

Mataafas's people could not stand this and by common impulse, without orders, returned fire. Their first volley killed six Germans and wounded others. Several of Tamasese's men fled and the laborers refused to fight it out. Knowing that this meant certain death against vast odds the sailors beat a hasty retreat to their boats, Mataafa's warriors following them some distance. Mataafa lost about 10 killed and wounded, while the German loss is stated at twenty killed.

The United States steamer Nipsic steamed to Salafata on Tuesday on hearing that German war ships were going to shell Mataafa's stronghold. Captain Mullan had communications with the German commanders and entered his protest against their reported project. His protest was not taken notice of, however, for the Olga threw shells into the spot where Mataafa was supposed to be but which he vacated.

The Chronicle says that concurrent testimony of the action of the Germans shows that the Germans brought upon themselves the fate that overtook them, as it was not until two of Mataafa's chiefs were killed that he ordered his men to fire on the Germans.

Secretary Bayard Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A copy of the dispatch from San Francisco in regard to insults to Americans and the American flag at Samoa by German soldiers, was shown to Secretary Bayard. He said the disturbance referred to was undoubtedly the same as that briefly described by Consul Blacklock in his cable message to the department of Jan. 5. The consul's account, he said, was not news or sensational as the one just received from San Francisco, but the latter information told that the Americans who were seized had been released immediately afterwards. The Secretary added that the department is in constant communication with Samoa through its agents, one of whom is stationed at Auckland, and the latest information received is to the effect that affairs are quiet in that country and that no serious trouble has occurred since Jan. 5.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The Derailing of a G. & R. W. Car Causes the Death of Three Men.

NIAGARA, Jan. 20.—A terrible railroad accident occurred on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, at Elmwood siding, 180 miles west of here, shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The accident was caused by a defective truck or car-wheel, which broke and threw the rear coach from the track. The car was dragged ten lengths and struck against a stump. The rear truck of the car was demolished, and three of the passengers were instantly killed. The three killed were:

James H. Macdonald of Escanaba, Lieutenant-Governor of Michigan, a native of Scotland, who came to Michigan as a railroad laborer about 1863, having previously lived in Nova Scotia.

Horace H. Tuttle, of Tuttle, Ogilvy & Co., a prominent iron firm of Cleveland.

William F. Cochrane of Escanaba, inventor of the Cochrane rolling mill.

The wounded are: Mrs. Percy Beaser of Ashland, Wis., spine injured very badly.

Mrs. McClure of Watermeet, wife of the train brakesman, badly cut and severe internal injuries. Mrs. E. P. Foster of Iron Mountain, severe cut in head and an injured spine. Conductor H. Armstrong, injured in head and leg broken.

Mr. O. C. Davidson of Commonwealth, at the time of the accident was playing cards with Lieut.-Gov. Macdonald, Mr. Tuttle and Mr. Cochrane. He says that the first intimation that he had that anything was wrong, was a jolting sensation, the car then swayed two or three times and then turned on its side. He remembered nothing more until he found himself 200 or 300 feet in the rear of the train in the snow.

It seems that the car in turning over struck a stump, which penetrated it between the men who were playing cards. Mr. Tuttle, who was seated in the seat to the rear of the table, was instantly killed, his neck being broken. Mr. Macdonald was in the same seat with him and his arm was torn out of the shoulder and was found at least forty feet from the body. He lived about one hour and was conscious for a few minutes.

The whole side of the car was torn out by a second stump and it seems miraculous that any escaped.

BELVIDERE, N.J., Jan. 18.—The jury in the case of M. Nason Huntsman, indicted for impersonating the Son of God, allowing his followers to pay him divine honors and passing judgment on those for whom he conceived a dislike, brought in a verdict of guilty last night. The court this morning sentenced him to six months in the county jail and to pay $100 fine and the cost of prosecution. The prisoner made a speech setting forth that his life was in keeping with the life of Christ and the apostles, and that he stood ready to suffer anything for his religious belief.

Ontario Cabinet Changes.

By the retirement of Hon. T. B. Pardee on account of ill health, a vacancy was created in the Commissionership of Crown Lands. Hon. Mr. Hardy, provincial secretary, was assigned to this position, and his vacancy caused by his translation, has been filled by the appointment of Mr. J. M. Gibson, M. P. P., of Hamilton, an eminently wise selection. Hon. Mr. Gibson has great ability. As a parliamentarian, he has been active and energetic. The last two appointments to the Ontario Cabinet, show that the Hon. Mr. Mowat is desirous to have every section fairly commercially represented. Mr. Drury's appointment showed that the welfare of the agricultural class was bound to receive due attention, and in Mr. Gibson's appointment, the labor interest, if not represented by one officially identified with organized labor, have a minister who has signalized his parliamentary career by an unusually active and agressive interest in the welfare of the working classes, in the amelioration of their condition, and the removal of grievances peculiarly affecting them. Below will be found biographical sketches of the two new ministers:

THE NEW COMMISSIONER OF CROWN LANDS.

The Hon. A. S. Hardy, the new Commissioner of Crown Lands, is well known throughout the Province. He is a native of Brant County, having been born of U. E. Loyalist stock at Mount Pleasant in 1837. His father was the late Russell Hardy, merchant, of Brantford. Educated at the Mt. Pleasant Grammar school, then under the care of Prof. W. W. Nelles, M. A., and the Rockwood Academy, he read law in Brantford and completed his legal course in the office of the late Chief Justice Harrison, in Toronto. Called to the bar in 1865, he entered upon the practice of his profession in Brantford, where he soon made a position for himself as a brilliant and successful counsel, even beside such able men as the late Chief Justice Wood and the late Chief Justice Sir Matthew Cameron, then holding the leading briefs at the Assize Courts. He was appointed city solicitor in 1867, and first offered for public position in 1873, when he was elected to the Legislature and still continues to sit for South Brant, his last majority being 657. He soon made his mark and became a prominent figure in the House, so that within four years after becoming a member, in March, 1887, he was called to the Cabinet, receiving the portfolio of Provincial Secretary, which he has ever since held. In 1875 he was elected a Bencher of the Law Society and created a Queen's Counsel in 1876. As a counsel he has long been at the head of the Bar of the county and enjoys an enduring Provincial reputation.

To the important department of which Mr. Hardy becomes head he carries experience derived from his official life, activity, industry, and ability which have enabled him to manage, with much success, not only his own department proper, but the various branches of the Government from time to time attached to that department. In addition to his duties as Secretary and Registrar and Registrar-General, Mr. Hardy has had charge of the administration of the license laws, the Division Courts, the Immigration Office and the Provincial Board of Health, the Board having been created and set to work under his supervision. After the retirement of the Hon. S. C. Wood, the public institutions were added to the Provincial Secretary's Department, entailing a very large amount of work in connection with the asylums, hospitals, prisons and public charities of the Province. Altogether, this department has been a heavy one, and the manner in which the multifarious duties have been discharged speaks well for the executive ability of its late head.

It is a common opinion that Mr. Hardy is the very best platform speaker in the Province. He has championed the cause of the Government, of which he has been, for so long, so important a member, probably in every county in Ontario, and always with splendid effect. He is ready, bold, alert, with a gift of humor and a mastery of the weapons of rough-and-tumble warfare, that make him a very dangerous opponent and a great favorite with his own following. He has done grand work in the constituencies and in the House. When a vigorous defence or a rattling attack is wanted the new Commissioner is very often the one called to the rescue. Perhaps he does not now speak so often as a few years ago, but he has lost none of his force and effectiveness and is ready as ever to go before the people and to bear his share of the work of Parliament. As a legislator he had charge of all Government legislation in relation to license, joint stock companies, Division Courts, juries, and, as chairman of the Municipal Committee, he was also charged with amendments to the Municipal Act. He served as Minister of Education during the illness of the late Hon. Adam Crooks, and acted as Attorney-General during Mr. Mowat's recent absence in England. Mr. Hardy is in his fifty second year, and is in vigorous health. He was married on January 10, 1870, to Mary, daughter of the late Hon. Mr. Justice Morrison.

THE NEW PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

The Hon. John Morison Gibson, M.A., LL.B., is a Canadian by birth and in sentiment. Born in Toronto Township, York County, on New Year's Day, 1842, he has the appearance and the vigor of a man much younger. His father the late William Gibson, came to Canada from Forfarshire, Scotland, in 1827, and married Miss Mary Sinclair, of Nelson Township County of Halton. William Gibson was a cousin of the David Gibson who represented North York in the old Parliament of Canada, and who was prominently associated with William Lyon Mackenzie in the days of 1837. The new Provincial Secretary went to Hamilton when a boy. He has made that city his home ever since, and no man enjoys a greater personal popularity among the people of that community. His early education was received in the Hamilton Central school. His career at the Provincial University was one which gave promise of a future rise among his fellows. Graduating in 1863 with the degree of B.A., he was the winner of the Prince's prize of that year, together with silver medals in classics and modern languages and the Oriental languages prize. Mr. Gibson chose the profession of law, was called to the Bar in 1867 and received the degree of LL.B. and the gold medal of 1869. He was examiner in the Legal Faculty of the University for the years 1871 and 1872.

The Provincial Secretary has taken a deep interest in educational matters. He served as a member of the Hamilton Board of Education for several years, and for two years presided over that body, where his training and abilities enabled him to be of great service in the development and administration of the schools of his city. He is at present an active member of the Senate of Toronto University having first been elected in 1873.

Nor were his energies confined to this line. When a youth he joined the 13th Battalion, of Hamilton, and was a lieutenant with his regiment at Ridgeway in 1866. His rise in the regiment has been steady, until on the retirement of Col. James A. Skinner, he was promoted to the command of the battalion, which he now holds. In all his connection with the Thirteenth he has been foremost in all efforts to increase its efficiency, particularly in the direction of rifle shooting. His efforts were not confined to precept. He also practised and the distinction he has reached as a marksman is a notable proof of his determination to prevail over all obstacles. His eyesight was none of the best, and the artificial aid of glasses was necessary. This would have deterred most men from attempting to gain prominence in such a direction as that of shooting, but not so Mr. Gibson. By patient and assiduous practice he acquired such skill with the rifle that he was able to hold his own with the best shots of the world assembled on Wimbledon Common. He was a member of the Canadian team at that Meeon of riflemen in 1874, '75 and '76, and won prizes every year, capturing himself the Prince of Wales' Prize (a badge and £100) in 1875. Two years later he went to Wimbledon again in the command of the Canadian team, and the Canadians brought home the Kolapore Cup, a trophy, perhaps more eagerly coveted than any other at Wimbledon. Col. Gibson was a member of the Canadian long-range teams at Creedmoor in 1876 and 1880, and has been president of the Ontario Rifle Association for three years. The history of the Victoria Rifle Club of Hamilton would be incomplete without the record of his share in its many victories, and his work and example have in a great measure been the means of making the Thirteenth one of the most prominent shooting battalions in the Dominion. In every movement calculated to benefit his city and his people for twenty years past, the name of John M. Gibson is to be found among the hardest workers.

His political career has been one of continued success. In 1879 he was elected to succeed Mr. J. M. Williams as member of the Ontario House for Hamilton, defeating Mr. Hugh Murray. At the next general election in 1883, with a largely increased majority he was elected against the late Mr. Richard Martin (Con.) and Mr. Edward Williams (Labor). At the last election in 1886 he again triumphed in a three-cornered fight, the other candidates being Mr. John Milne (Con.), and Mr. J. Hamilton Racey (Labor) The last named, by the way, is now a member of Rev. J. Hudson Taylor's Inland China Mission. In his profession Mr. Gibson is a member of the firm of MacKelcan, Gibson & Gamsby.

In Parliament Mr. Gibson has always held a leading position. He took special interest in labor, legal and educational questions, and his name is associated with a number of measures of wise reform in all three branches of legislation. His aim has always been to cheapen and simplify the processes of the courts, to strengthen the Public school system with the masses, while zealously guarding the interests of higher education, and to promote by wise and liberal measures the welfare of the working classes. As chairman of the Private Bills Committee he was acceptable to and popular with members on both sides of the Chamber, and his opinions, spoken with vigor and clearness, always commanded the attention of the House and the Government of which he has now become a member.

Mr. Gibson has been married three times, the present Mrs. Gibson being a daughter of the late Judge Mallock, of Brockville.

Provisions of the Bill Regulating Immigration Reported to the U. S. House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The bill reported yesterday by the Ford committee on contract labor and immigration to the House, as a result of the investigation of last summer and fall, proposes in its first section to prohibit the admission into the United States of any person who is an idiot, insane, a pauper, or liable to become a public charge, or who has been legally convicted of a felony, other infamous crime, or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, anarchist or socialist, or who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, or who has entered into contract, express or implied, oral or written, to perform labor or service for any person, firm, company or corporation in the United States or doing business therein, or whose passage is paid on a promise to labor. It also provides that alien laborers, other than those accepted by the contract labor law, shall not be admitted to labor for a limited time with the intention of returning. The section excepts professors in universities and ministers from its prohibition.

The second section declares it to be a misdemeanor for such objectionable person to come into the United States or for any person to assist them so to do, and a penalty of not exceeding $1000 and imprisonment for three years is provided in such cases. Prosecution may be commenced within two years after the commission of the offence and the alien may be returned within two years to his country at the expense of the transportation company or of the United States.

Section three limits the carriage of incoming foreign passengers, to one passenger for every five tons burden of the ship, excepting children under one year of age and counting those between one and eight years of age as one passenger. Violation of the provision is made punishable by a fine of not exceeding $300 for each passenger in excess of the allowance.

The fourth section proposes to levy a tax of $6 on every alien coming into the United States, which is to be paid to the collector at the nearest port by the transportation agent or master of the vessel. Diplomatic representatives, consuls or agents of foreign governments are excepted. This section also creates permanent annual appropriations to defray the expenses of the execution of the act.

Section five requires an intending immigrant to the United States to possess a certificate from a United States diplomatic representative or consul near his residence, issued after examination, to his character, without fee, but this certificate is not to be conclusive evidence of the right of the person to come into the United States nor relieve masters of vessels of responsibility.

The sixth section requires the masters of vessels and officers of railroad trains coming into the United States to report to the collector of the port or his agent the number, nationality and condition of foreign passengers. The Government officer is then to board the vessel or train, inspect the passengers and compare their certificates. Passengers may be landed temporarily awaiting inspection, and the only appeal from the collector's decision shall be to the Secretary of the Treasury.

In the seventh and eighth sections the Secretary of the Treasury is charged with the duty of supervising immigration, authorised to make rules and contract and employ assistants, not to exceed three inspectors at any one port, at a salary of between $1500 and $4000, and to use United States property and reservations.

The last section vests full jurisdiction in United States Circuit and District Courts in all causes arising under the act, which is to take effect July 1 next.

The report accompanying the bill gives the result of the investigations made by the committee in New York, Boston, Pittsburg and Detroit. The report says as no inspection is made of immigrants along the border between Canada and the United States, large numbers of alien paupers, insane persons and others not lawfully entitled enter the United States by this way. The number during six months was estimated at 50,000. In many instances immigrants coming to Quebec have within 48 hours after their arrival been applicants for shelter in New York almshouses and the charitable institutions of Wayne County, Mich., are filled to overflowing from this cause. The report condemns the practice which has prevailed among certain foreigners resident in this country of importing men for the purpose of contracting them on railroad works and keeping them in a state of almost abject slavery. Reference is also made to the daily crossing into the United States of Canadian laborers, it being shown that about 800 Canadian carpenters daily labor in Detroit, while the same number of Americans lie idle for lack of employment.

In conclusion the committee says: "Certainly the effect of the present unrestricted system of immigration, as applicable to the conditions under consideration upon the industrial situation of this country, has been very bad and the committee believe that the time has come when immigration should be more effectively regulated, that persons who immigrate to the United States should at least be composed of those who in good faith destire to become its citizens and are worthy to be such."

Mr. Spinola does not agree with the majority in regard to the report submitted or bill presented. He makes a minority report.

FATAL FIRE AT DETROIT.

Watchman John H. Middleton, Formerly Mine of Toronto, Burnt to Death.

DETROIT, Jan. 20.—About 1110 last night smoke was seen issuing from the heading and stave works of Brandon & Keyes, at the corner of Clark-avenue and the Michigan Central Railroad track. The entire establishment was burnt to the ground. The loss on the stock, buildings and machinery is estimated at anywhere between $25,000 and $30,000. The insurance is $8000, made up of $1000 policies in eight different companies. The origin of the fire is shrouded in mystery, but the general impression seems to be that it was of an incendiary nature.

The body of John R. Middleton, the watchman, was found suspended on an iron rod over the boiler-house. The body was frightfully burned. The head was burned from the body, only a charred stump projecting from the neck, both hands were burnt off between the wrist and the elbow and both feet between the ankle and knee.

Middleton was about 60 years old, and leaves a wife, who lives at 5 Brandon-avenue. His mother, who is very advanced in years and who lives in Toronto, is visiting here at the present time.

The chances are that Yale will row the Oxford crew in England, between August 1 and 15 next.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,573,777.00, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,940 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,900 for $14,081,377.00.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even, this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in Income.	Gain in Assets.	Gain in same case.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,492 89	$1,149,743 09

Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 43	$10,573,777 09

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 50 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

AN ADVENTUROUS CAREER

A Reformed Musician Tells His Life's History.

Professor Wiggins at the Salvation Army Barracks—The First Taste of Rum And Its Consequences—Sentenced to be Hanged at the Yard-arm—The Depths To Which Liquor Brought Him—All Washed Away by the Blood of the Lamb.

Professor Wiggins, the Salvation Army musician, was at the barracks at the Saturday and Sunday services and will hold a special musical entertainment to-night. The Professor is a first-class musician, who at one time earned his thousands of pounds sterling a year, but like too many other men of superior ability fell a victim to drink and nearly ruined himself body and soul before rescued from his slavery, after 20 years continuous debauchery, by the instrumentality of the Salvation Army.

At the Saturday night meeting Professor Wiggins told the history of his life, beginning with his boyhood in England, and an interesting tale it was, though its details were enough to make one shudder. The opening services consisted of singing and prayer, the Professor presiding at the piano and singing a number of hymns to the airs of popular songs, the company joining in the chorus on instruments. He has a good voice as well as being a clever performer. Afterwards the Professor began his address.

He seemed to have been a born musician. At the age of seven years his musical education began, and he was placed under the tuition of two masters. When twelve years old he was entered as a chorister in the choir of the large Anglican church in the town of Leeds, where he lived. While a chorister he had the pleasure of appearing before the Queen and royal family at the Crystal Palace, London, on which occasion there was a choir of 10,000 voices and 500 instruments, and an audience of 60,000 people. When only about twelve years old he was engaged as organist and choir-leader in a Primitive Methodist church. The choir comprised a great lot of instruments and even a big drum. This proved that the Salvationists were not the

in their worship. Those Primitive Methodists, the Professor said, had their souls in the music, and such music as they produced! No paid choir of musicians could equal them. About this time, too the organist of the Anglican church in which he was chorister fell ill and for several months he took his place. He played the full service every Sunday. It was at this time he composed his first music. The Professor said he has composed about 300 pieces altogether. At the age of 14 he was entered at the Stationers' Hall, London, as a student for composer, but soon afterwards he and another young student who was taking the same course as himself, went to Leeds, in Yorkshire, to spend their vacation. While idling about they picked up some trashy literature telling of heroic deeds and bloodcurdling adventures among the savages and wild animals of distant lands. These tales filled their minds with a desire for adventure, and were the direct means of leading them to lives that terminated in the death of one and nearly the ruination of the other. The Professor denounced in strong terms the trashy literature such as boys were fond of devouring, and said that one book in particular, a book that he supposed was in nearly every English home, "Robinson Crusoe" was damning thousands of souls every year by its pernicious influences. Well Wiggins and his chum decided to start out in the world to seek fortune and adventure. They didn't know just where to launch out first, so while standing on the railway station platform in Leeds they flipped a penny to decide the question for them. Heads was to be soldiers and tails to be sailors; Wiggins got head and his comrade tail. They followed the paths the penny had decided for them; Wiggins enlisted in a regiment and the other went to sea. The Professor digressed here to tell the fate of his comrade. He ship got out to the East Indies and the young man was taken in hand by a Calcutta merchant, who educated him and finally gave him a vessel and appointed him captain. He was returning to England on a visit when, in crossing the equinoxes, he took cold and died in a week. Coming back to himself, the Professor said shortly after enlisting his regiment was order out to India for active service. It was on board the troopship that he got his that was destined to drag him down to the lowest depths. In the rations of the men was included a half-pint of rum, and every man was supposed to drink it. When Wiggins got his tin pannikin of rum he didn't know what to do with it; he belonged to the Band of Hope and had pledged himself never to drink. The cook of the ship observed his actions and said, "see here, you give me your rum every day and I will give you an extra tin of pea-soup." This was readily agreed to, and for two weeks the cook got a double dose of rum while Wiggins got the extra quantity of pea-soup. At the end of a fortnight a new captain took charge of the vessel. He was a veritable martinet, and when he saw Wiggins walking away with the rum to give it to the cook, he called the lad back and ordered him to drink it. Wiggins refused, but the captain commanded him to drink it or be court-martialled for mutany in disobeying orders. Still the lad refused, and he was arrested and put in irons. He was tried for mutiny, found guilty and sentenced to be

HANGED AT THE YARD-ARM.

When the thought came on him that he would never see his old mother again, he wept sorely and finally consented to drink the liquor. He was made to drink a double quantity before he was liberated. The rum made him sick for three days, but when he got up he had to drink it again and again, until he grew to like it, and then he spent all his money in buying up the liquor of which he was so fond. Before the voyage was ended he was a confirmed drunkard and thoroughly disgusted with himself. He drank so hard that his health was shattered, and he was invalided and sent home. On returning to England he was ashamed to see his parents and did not go to his home. But he never gave up drinking and as time passed on he went from bad to worse. He became associated with gamblers and the like, and was getting into trouble continuously on account of his drunkenness. On one occasion when he had no money he went into an hotel and catching the bar-tender by the throat pointed a pistol at his head and threatened to blow his brains out if he did not give him liquor. The demon of drink had such possession of him that he did not know what he was doing half the time. Oh, the horrors of that life, the Professor said, would even remain with him. He tried many times to do better but always failed. Then he decided to come out to Canada, and re-joining the Army was sent out with a regiment that was quartered at Halifax, St. John and Fredericton, during the trouble of 1861. He taught music to pupils in Fredericton and was in the choir, but kept on drinking steadily. He was put into gaol several times and once while singing in the choir saw dreadful monsters rushing at him. He had an attack of the delirium tremens. He saw he was becoming worse and asked to be sent back to England. He was invalided, and on returning to the old country entered the Royal Academy of Music. He also taught a large number of pupils and was making lots of money, but he spent it all in liquor. Then he got married and became a worse drunkard than ever, if that were possible, blighting the lives of his wife and children. He again tried to give it up but always failed. In 1873 he determined to come out to Canada again, and leaving his family behind, came across the Atlantic and settled in Whitby, where he got charge of the organ in the church of England, and besides taught 40 or 50 pupils. But all the money he made was spent in drink. While here he received word that his little girl had died in London, next his wife, and lastly his son. All the family had died as the

CONSEQUENCE OF HIS DRUNKENNESS.

Instead of reforming him, this blow only increased his debauchery. All ties were now severed, and he determined to go in for a life of it, and tried to drink himself to death as hard as he could. He did not save enough to pay his board, and became an outcast, sleeping in a barn or haylott, and in the morning, after brushing up and washing at the hotel, go to one of his pupils' house and give a lesson before breakfast. Of course he would be invited for the meal, and that was the way he managed to live, doing the same thing at other houses for his dinner and tea. Finally, however, he sank so low he had to leave town. He went to Toronto, and got together a lot of pupils to whom he taught music. He married again, but did not quit his drinking. Once he went off on a prolonged spree and was away from home for twelve days. He came back without a cent of all the money he had, and demanded his supper. His poor wife told him that she nor the children had had nothing to eat for three whole days. This brought him to his senses. Had it come to this, that he who was earning and spending thousands of dollars a year, was letting his wife and family starve! He went down town and asked the hotelkeeper with whom he spent the most of his money to lend him a dollar; but no, as is always the case, he said, you can leave your fortune to hotel keepers and they will never do you the slightest favor. However, he managed to borrow some money to bring some provisions to the house. He made another attempt to reform, and for never touched liquor—the first time in 29 years! He was offered a position in a large church by a gentleman who thought he had overcome his drinking habits, but while passing down Queen street he got a smell of liquor through one of the swinging doors of a saloon, and the deman again got possession of him. When he got to the gentlemen's house he was so drunk he could scarcely stand. Of course he did not get the position, and again he fell away into heavy drinking. After a few years he returned to Whitby and was again given charge of the Church of England organ. Besides, he taught a large number of pupils and made plenty of money, but most of it was spent on liquor. He was so fond of drink that he would take it to church with him. He played the organ in the Roman Catholic church too, and, after the ten o'clock mass, would go down town, get a bottle of whiskey and, hiding it under his coat, go to the Anglican church. There was, between him and the congregation, a screen, put there by a modest lady organist who had preceded him, and this answered his purposes immensely. After singing, while the priest and people were on their knees praying, he was behind the screen

ON HIS KNEES, DRINKING WHISKEY.

He would soon finish the bottle, and then, when the minister began his sermon, the Professor would slip down through the manhole under the organ, crawl out through the wind-chest and escape by the back door to the hotel, where he would drink liquor until it was about time for the clergyman to be through his address, when he would go back the same way and be in his place in time for the singing. That was the life he lived, but he thanked God about five years ago he realised that the only thing that could save him would be the grace of God. He was converted through the instrumentality of the Salvation Army, and God had taken away his desires for drink. He had not touched a drop in five years and did not intend to, by the grace of God. He pointed out that this was the only salvation for drunkards; nothing else could drive the demon out of their hearts.

Organized for the Year.

The New Town Council Holds its First Meeting—A Short Session to Begin With.

At the inaugural meeting of the town council of 1889, at eleven o'clock this forenoon, there were present, Mayor Stevenson; Councillors Cahill, Davidson and Winch, No. 1 Ward; Messrs. Kelly, E. H. D. Hall and A. Hall, No. 2 Ward; Messrs. Dawson, Baptie and Retherford, No. 3 Ward; Messrs. Langford and Keadry, No. 4 Ward. Mr. Hartley was absent from town.

At the appointed hour, the members having all qualified and taken the oaths of office, the town clerk announced the official returns and formally declared the members duly elected and eligible to sit at the council board. The council was then opened in due form.

Mayor STEVENSON made a few introductory remarks, expressing the wish and belief that the town would be as prosperous this year as previously, and referring again to numbers of men in town out of employment, who he believed did not belong to the town, but had come in from outside places looking for work. He also pointed out the necessity of bringing manufactories here, and said that though he was opposed to bonussing, he realized that in order to compete with other places, they would have to do more than exempt from taxation. In 1893 the town debentures would be paid off and then the town would be in a position to hold out substantial inducements.

TOWN CLERK MACDONALD read a copy of a letter he had sent to a Guelph firm, who had expressed a desire to locate here.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, speaking of the necessity of bringing industries to Peterborough, said he had no doubt that Mr. Simpson, a paper manufacturer, who was here last summer, could be induced to locate here. His was a very large establishment that manufactured a fine quality of paper. Mr. Retherford also expressed the hope that the proposed survey of the Otonabee river between this and Lakefield would be carried out. Peterborough had as good facilities as any town in the Dominion, but whether it was that those who monopolized the water privileges demanded too high rents or not, he could not say, but there did not seem to be as many manufactories here as there should be.

AUDITORS.

The auditors for 1889 were then appointed, Messrs. P. Henry and W. J. Hall, at salaries the same as last year.

Mr. Cahill enquired about the Treasurer's books, which were in the hands of Mr. Pearse for auditing. He urged that they should be returned.

The Mayor said he understood Mr. Pearse was to return them to-day.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that the following be a committee to appoint the standing committees:—Messrs. Davidson, Kelly, E.H.D. Hall, Dawson, Keadry and Langford.—Carried.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Mr. Davidson moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that Messrs. Peter Hamilton and James Keadry be appointed High School Trustees.

Mr. Davidson and Mr. Cahill explained that the motion appointed Mr. Hamilton over Mr. Rutherford, the retiring member of the Board, solely because the South Ward had at present no representative. Mr. Rutherford had been a faithful and careful trustee, but they considered that such a large portion of the municipality as the South Ward should be represented on the board.

Mr. E.H.D. Hall said he thought it contrary to the spirit of the times for the Council to appoint one of themselves on the board, because at any time a clash might occur and it might be awkward for them to act on both boards.

The motion was left a notice of motion, and the Council adjourned till evening.

A public meeting of all those in favor of the nine hour movement will be held in the Knights of Labor hall, this evening at 8 o'clock. Carpenters are particularly requested to be present.

Diocesan Changes.

The changes in the pastorates of the diocese of Peterborough, recently announced in the EXAMINER, will take effect on February 1st, the several pastors taking charge of their new parishes on that date. It is understood that though there is a natural regret at the severances of old ties, the changes are agreeable in all cases to both pastors and flocks.

Three Months in Gaol.

Constable Thos. Olmstead, of Parry Sound, writes Chief Rossel that the Kearns brothers who were arrested here and taken to the Sound on a charge of illegal liquor selling, when brought before the magistrate pleaded guilty and were each fined $50 or 3 months in gaol. They decided to take the three months.

Lessons in Music.

Persons interested in musical culture are referred to the card of Miss Ealand, printed in another column, announcing that she is prepared to give lessons on pianoforte and organ to a limited number of pupils. Miss Ealand is a musician of excellent ability and has that with great success with her pupils. Terms may be learned on application at her residence, 322 Charlotte street, opposite the Methodist church.

Teachers' Association.

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Saturday afternoon in Inspector Brown's office in the Court House. It was decided to hold a convention on Thursday and Friday, the 7th and 8th of March. A programme was partially drafted, to be filled out by Messrs. Rooney, Ellis and Smith, who were also authorized to make all other preliminary arrangements. The secretary, Mr. J. J. Rooney, will issue the programmes in the course of a week or so.

Score Another for Belleghem.

The Traders' Bank in Port Hope have had new premises fitted up at the corner of John and Walton streets, and the Port Hope Times concludes a lengthy description of the places as follows:—The designer and builder of these extensive and elegant fittings is Mr. D. Belleghem, of Peterborough. The only fault we have to find is that the work was not done by Port Hope contractors, but as the owners of the premises live in Peterborough, we can hardly blame them, for "blood is thicker than water." Mr. Belleghem's reputation is widespread throughout Ontario, and he has the satisfaction of knowing that in Port Hope his work will stand to his credit as being of a character unsurpassed by the most superb furnishings in any financial or official institution in Canada.

Ashburnham Brevities.

Miss Juliet Orde, who is spending the winter in Lindsay, is at present the guest of Miss Edith Burnham.

An interesting programme is being prepared for the "At Home" in the parsonage on Tuesday night.

Mr. Will. Matthews, has been appointed a teacher in the Ottawa Business College. Mr. Matthews graduated from the Peterborough Business College about a year ago, taking an unusually high standing. As he is a young man of pluck, perseverance and ability he is sure to gain a name for himself wherever he goes. He is a general favorite and will be greatly missed.

The village council meets to-night. An interesting meeting is expected as a good deal of business is on hand. The new members Messrs. Hamilton Marshall and R. Tivey will make their debut at the board and deliver their maiden speeches. A deputation from the town school board, is expected to confer with the council in regard to high school matters.

On Saturday night a trio of men on the the front street were spoiling for a fight, or at least the whiskey in them was trying to make its escape in profane language. However, Constable Craig who is generally in the right place at the right time, was promptly on hand and prevented matters from coming to a climax. None of the party belonged to the village.

Obituary.

The Late Dr. Massie, of Colborne.

The EXAMINER learns with deep regret, which will be sympathized with by hundreds in this county, of the death of Dr. Massie, formerly of Keene, but more recently of Colborne. On Wednesday last, Jan. 16th, he came to his end by rheumatic fever. The deceased gentleman was a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, where he was born in 1833. At the age of four years he came to Canada with his parents. At first they settled in Kingston, afterwards removing to Seymour, Northumberland County, settling on a farm, where the deceased lived till he had finished the studies for the profession of medicine, which were conducted at Queen's College, Kingston. He graduated from Queen's in 1855, first practised in Colborne for eight years, at the end of which time he removed to Norwood, and subsequently to Keene, since which time his history is familiar to the people of the county. Dr. Massie was an ardent Liberal, always staunchly upholding his principles. He was also an active and earnest temperance reformer and energetically indentified himself with the promotion of temperance principles. He was a man of considerable literary culture and, very successfully devoted himself to the music of poetry. His poetical effusions were numerous, one of the most prominent was his Jubilee ode, which received the gracious acknowledgement and commendation of Her Majesty, the Queen. No further details of Dr. Massie's illness are to hand, and no higher words of praise can be said of him than that he was a citizen in every sense worthy of being honored, and that he filled his station in life and the duties of citizenship in a manner to win the respect of all. In 1866 Dr. Massie was united in marriage with Miss Mary Marvin, adopted daughter of Rev. James Hughes. Dr. Massie was for several years and at the time of his death a member of St. Andrew's Society, of Peterborough, and while a resident of Keene he took a prominent and creditable part in all the proceedings of the society.

A False Alarm.

About eleven o'clock last night a burning chimney in the house of Mr. John Macfarlane, Charlotte street, was the means of an alarm of fire being rung. The brigade turned out promptly, but their services were not required. The night was a wild one, and had a fire gained any headway, it would have been a difficult job to check it.

As Busy as Bees.

The William Hamilton Manufacturing Company are exceedingly busy at present. They have shipped two car loads of machinery for the Vancouver lumber company to Vancouver, another car load is to follow. The works are now busy upon a complete outfit of saw mill machinery for a New Brunswick lumbering firm. No matter how dull times in other business may be the superior quality of the machinery of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company is sure to create an active demand.

Explanation.

Mr. Smithson, of Otonabee, explained to a reporter of the EXAMINER on Saturday that the reports, published respecting the circumstances of the marriage of his adopted daughter, are incorrect, and while the peculiar circumstances attending the home bringing of the bride, in the mouths of exaggerating gossipers, have taken a wide range, far beyond the bounds of truth, and there is not the slightest basis of truth in the reports circulated. The newly wedded pair are living happily together.

The Question of To-day!

Why are the George street Methodist Church bachelors so intensely active? This is the question and here is the answer. They give an entertainment on the evening of the 29th inst.—the most novel and attractive of the season. They are doing all the cooking and baking, and will provide an unique and attractive programme. The ladies are amused at this assumption of their prerogative, and doubtless will be surprised to see what can be accomplished without their assistance. Entertainment including refreshments, 25c.

Back to His Old Love.

On Saturday last, Mr. E. Phelan returned to his old love, the solid old Phelan house. That day it was formally re-opened to the public as a first-class house of "entertainmen,"—as the best inns of the old country are—"for man and for beast." And in its renewed condition it admirably answers this purpose in every respect. The Phelan house, with the new boniface, Mr. E. Phelan, at the helm, has been thoroughly renewed and refurnished from cellar to basement, from reception room to stable. In the first place, the walls of every room in the place have been re-papered and the ceilings calcimined, and the floors re carpeted with rich, warm-colored carpets. Every article of furniture is new and of the best—all walnut or oberry. Every bed has a first class mattress and woven wire springs. Everything is first class. The furniture and silver of the dining room are all new, and the capacious kitchen, with its huge, new range, manufactured by Mr. Adam Hall is new in every respect. In fact every part of the house has been made and furnished anew. When it is said that the house has been made new throughout it is not a figure of speech but an actual fact and to this town or in any other town there is not a better fitted-bed, nor more cosy or comfortable hotel than the Phelan House, Simcoe Street, under its new (and old too for that matter) proprietor. Not only have the wants of "man" been attended to, but those of the "beast" have not been neglected. Splendid new stables have been erected, with stabling for twenty-one horses, and capacious hay lofts 121x35 feet. The sheds have been all fixed up and everything in every department is in "applegie order." With a horse equipped in first class style, with his experience as an hotel keeper, and a reputation of being a thoroughly good fellow, no doubt Mr. Phelan's return to the hotel keeping business will meet with abundant success. Whoever wants first class meals, clean, tidy, comfortable rooms and courteous attention, should make their way to the new Phelan House, Simcoe street, E. PHELAN, the "old reliable", proprietor.

MATTERS IN MONTREAL.

THREATENING LETTERS SENT TO JUDGE DUGAS.

The St. Lawrence Bridged by Ice—The Dunphy-Kehoe Case—Constable Duval Likely to Die.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—The ice bridge across the St. Lawrence River has formed and several boys crossed over to St. Lambert on foot yesterday. The river has risen considerably and the pumping stations were started yesterday to prevent the flooding of low cellars. Notwithstanding the heavy fall of snow the railways were not greatly impeded.

When the counsel for the prosecution in one of the minor cases yesterday asked that the case be postponed until the decision on an application for a writ of certiorari, Judge Dugas took occasion to say that he was tired of threats that were being made to him owing to his late judgment in minor cases. He had received two letters threatening him in the name of the Saviour. Such threats were only made, he said, by low scoundrels and by pious cranks. He added that it was a bad principle to try to intimidate a court by threats.

The amount received for personal and water taxes at the City Hall last year was $907,742, as compared with $747,915 received in 1887, an increase of $59,827.

Judge Gill has granted the application of the Crown for permission to intervene in the case of Dame Margaret Dunphy v. Lawrence Kehoe to gain possession of Jack Kehoe's property for damages through the murder of her husband. The Crown claims that the property of a man civilly dead is confiscated to it.

Constable Duval, who was so frightfully beaten by a mob last week whilst attempting to arrest two young men who had stolen a horse and buggy at Sault aux Recollets, it is feared will not recover. Medical examination shows that he has sustained probably fatal internal injuries.

Canon Belcher, who is very ill with pneumonia as well as a painful affection of one of his legs, has tendered his resignation as rector of Grace Church.

The License Commissioners decided yesterday to consider license applications in open court so as to give any citizen an opportunity of entering objections against applicants.

Joseph Chandler, the would-be murderer of Mr. Sheffield, was again brought before the Police Magistrate yesterday. The police reported that Mr. Sheffield was rapidly improving and may be able to make his deposition next week. Chandler, who stood alternately eying the judge and the officer, simply asked, "When is this to have an end?" No answer was given and he was remanded for eight days.

The examination of R. S. White, M.P., in the Cardwell contested election case took place before a Commissioner here yesterday.

An interesting couple from Boston, Mass., stepped off at the Bonaventure station an evening or two ago. The man was about 35 years and she 23 years old. At a hotel in the neighborhood of the station they took a room and registered as Mr. and Mrs. Shears of Boston, Mass. A Bostonian who is on business here recognized Shears as one of the employes of Smith & Weston, at Boston, who has a family on Morris-street. To him Shears made a full confession of his guilt. He had for some time been paying attention to a married lady on Willow-avenue and ran away with her a few days ago, immediately after her husband's death. Before leaving he went to his home and gave his children some candies and then kissed them good-bye. The Boston merchant advised Shears to return immediately, which he did.

Lord Ennismore, who has been convalescing in Strong's hospital after having been treated for a severe attack of typhoid fever from London, Eng., by Sir Andrew Clarke over the Canadian Pacific Railway wires, left yesterday for Ireland via New York, accompanied by his father, the Earl of Listowel, and Captain Wyndham.

James Wyall, aged 23, and a carter named Beauchamp were arrested yesterday on a charge of violently outraging a young girl named Nellie Wilson.

THE QUEBEC ASSEMBLY.

Exemption of Ecclesiastical Properties—Documents Called For.

QUEBEC, Jan. 22.—In the Assembly yesterday Mr. Laroca moved for documents and correspondence in relation to the exemption of certain properties used for ecclesiastical purposes.

Mr. Mercier said it consisted of four or five letters, one from Cardinal Taschereau who upon being asked for his views had asked time to confer with the other bishops of the province. The Government thought the request reasonable and decided to not introduce the measure this year but have it printed and held over till next session, for the information of members and to obtain the opinions of both and Catholic and Protestant ecclesiastical authorities.

After further debate on the modes prevailing elsewhere the motion was adopted.

Kingston Jottings.

KINGSTON, Jan. 22.—The new city council was sworn in yesterday.

About 15 inches of snow has fallen since Sunday evening.

After the service in the First Methodist Church Sunday evening a meeting of these interested in the temperance cause was called. Rev. Mr. Sparling acted as chairman and read a petition which is to be presented to the city council asking that the council take steps to abolish saloons completely, and also to reduce the number of tavern licenses.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 21.—A small boy named Herbert Watson, who lives in Emerald-street north, was run over by a milkman's cart in Victoria-avenue north at noon to-day. The horse kicked him, and it is feared he is injured internally.

The Council for 1889 assembled for organization this morning. Mayor Doran in his address said that the question of entrance of the Canadian Pacific into the city would probably have to be considered during the year.

Francis Booth died yesterday of pneumonia, after an illness of two weeks.

Three Young Men of Fergus.

ELORA, Jan. 22.—Three young men of Fergus, John Dalzell, Michael Phelan and Samuel Hynds, were yesterday arraigned before Magistrates Foote, Gladstone and Smith, charged with rowdyism and using profane language on the street in front of the Salvation Army barracks here on Sunday, Jan. 13. The parties pleaded guilty and were each fined $10 and costs.

A Sawmill Wrecked in Lambton.

FLORENCE, Jan. 22.—A sawmill in the Township of Dawn, in the County of Lambton, belonging to Robert Carter was totally destroyed by the bursting of the steam boiler on Saturday. Loss about $6500. No person was injured, as the hands were at breakfast.

The Yantic Leaves Quarantine.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The United States steamer Yantic left Quarantine this afternoon.

The garrison at Kieff, Russia, has been increased by four squadrons of Ural Cossacks. The number of men recruited in Western Russia is much larger than in any previous year.

It has been decided by the Hamilton Conservatives not to oppose J. M. Gibson's re-election as they expect Adam Brown soon to be called to the Ottawa cabinet and the compliment to be returned on that occasion.

NELSON'S CLOSE SHAVE.

A REVOLVER DISCHARGED IN THE FACE OF A TORONTO MAN.

The Bullet Flies High of the Mark—A Long-Standing Dispute Adjusted—Sentence Answerthy Settles.

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—At the first meeting of the new City Council yesterday Mayor Clarke announced that an agreement would be submitted to settle the long pending litigation between the city and the Street Railway Company. The agreement secures the immediate payment of the company's debenture account for 1887 and 1888, amounting to about $40,000 with interest at 5 per cent. From Dec. 31 last the city is to have the sole control of its streets and the right to determine what kind of roadbeds or pavements shall be put down, and how they shall be constructed, the company paying for the use of all streets occupied by them, no matter whether paved or macadamized, an annual rental at the rate of $200 per mile of single track per annum in quarterly instalments. The arrangement is to extend only until the expiration of the current term of the company's franchise, which ends on March 14, 1891.

At the meeting of the Toronto Ministerial Association yesterday Rev. Septimus Jones moved that the Association is not antagonistic to the Anti-Poverty Society and is willing to hear a deputation from that body. After discussion the motion carried unanimously.

George S. Nelson, proprietor of the Lombard-street Model Lodging House, was shot at yesterday forenoon by a young man named Michael Spellman, who is now in custody on a charge of attempted murder. The prisoner is a brother of Mr. Nelson's son-in-law and was about the place quarrelling with everybody about the whereabouts of a stepladder. He followed Nelson to the latter's office and waited until he saw him stoop to pick up a cane, when he deliberately aimed a bull-dog revolver at him. The bullet just grazed the head of his intended victim and lodged in the wall. Spellman fled, but was subsequently discovered hiding in the cellar. He was arraigned in court and remanded until Monday.

Thomas McHenry was ordered out of the Salvation Army barracks on Centre-street, and in leaving struck the door-keeper, Private W. Carson, in the face. He will cool off for a month in jail.

An officer will be down from Berlin to-day for Frederick Jarvis, arrested here for burglary.

A Winnipeg despatch states that a Toronto commercial traveler has been fined $10 for soliciting orders for clothing at Brandon.

Axworthy, the Cleveland defaulter, who is now located here, has just effected a settlement with the authorities of his native city.

The police yesterday received a letter from a lawyer in Rochester asking for information about a man named William Manley, a former resident of Toronto, who is now under indictment there for murder. The writer of the letter is acting in his behalf, and is putting in a defence on the insanity plea. He hopes to obtain some valuable evidence here in support of the theory.

Frank Kelly, a boarder at the Model Lodging House, Lombard-street, is held at Headquarters on a charge of burglary. He is suspected of complicity in the recent Barrie raid.

A boy named George Clarton, 242 Euclid-avenue, was caught in the act of passing down cigars and other delicacies to the prisoners confined in Headquarters yesterday afternoon. He was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct.

A deputation comprising W. Bryce, A. S. Irving, J. Ross Robertson, Dan. A. Rose, Geo. H. Suckling, G. R. Warwick and R. T. Lancefield left for Ottawa last night. They will be joined by a deputation from Montreal and interview the Minister of Agriculture with reference to the copyright law.

Joseph Kelly was found running around Queen's Park yesterday at 1 p.m. in a state of nature. He had descended in the cellar of the new parliament buildings and had there divested himself of most of his clothing. He then ascended the grand stand in the park. The weather was somewhat cold and a couple of humane citizens had Kelly brought to the Agnes-street station in a cab. A charge of insanity was entered against him.

At 10.40 last night an alarm was sounded from box 154. The brigade had a hard time extinguishing the flames in a carpenter shop owned by William F. and C. Saxton of 46 Leonard-avenue. Their efforts could not save two horses in the stable, where the fire is supposed to have originated. They were literally roasted alive, and the loss on the two animals combined with the ravages of the flames in the carpenter shop will not be less than $1500.

Mr. Edward Farrar, editor of The Mail, is lying ill at his home from an attack of fever. He has been confined to his house for the past few days, but his physicians hope for a speedy recovery.

James Kelly, who was arrested at Streetsville on Saturday on two charges of larceny committed in the city, did not return to Toronto yesterday with Detective McGrath. County Constable Rutledge left the prisoner in a room in a hotel while he partook of dinner, remarking that he would hold the landlord responsible for the young man's appearance. Kelly then quietly slipped out.

Mr. William Gooderham writes to The World with reference to the statement that he volunteered or consented to become a liquidator of the Central Bank without payment for his services, that the allegation is positively and emphatically untrue, and backs up his denial by letters from S. H. Blake and T. Sutherland Stayner.

THE SAMOAN PUZZLE.

German Officers Declare the Reports from Apia Unfounded.

ADELAIDE, Jan. 21.—The German war ship Eber, which left Samoa on Jan. 13, arrived here to-day. The officers denounce the reports sent from Apia by way of San Francisco and declare that the statements regarding the alleged tearing down of American flags, burning of houses of Americans and firing on British officers are unfounded.

Harrison's Samoan Legacy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—It will take at least six weeks for the warships Trenton and Vandalia to reach Samoa so that the Nipsic will be the only United States vessel there until after March 4. The Trenton sailed from Panama a week ago, but is not expected to arrive at Samoa more than a few hours ahead of the Vandalia. No information regarding the state of affairs in Samoa in addition to what has been already published has been received at the State or Navy Department.

Traced to London, Ont.

BUFFALO, Jan. 22.—Charles H. Parr, arrested for stealing $60 and some jewelery from George H. Ostrum, was sent to the penitentiary on a charge of vagrancy to give the police a chance to get evidence concerning his past. They have so far traced him to London, Ont., which is believed to have been his home.

Snowstorm in Virginia.

WINCHESTER, Va., Jan. 21.—Five inches of snow, the first of the season, are resting upon the fine wheat fields of the valley and the farmers are well pleased. There is a cold northwester to-night with a good prospect for ice gatherers.

Picton's New Waterworks.

PICTON, Jan. 22.—The contract for the waterworks for Picton was signed yesterday. The works are to be completed by Sept. 1 next and will cost $28,000. H. Leadlaw of Montreal is the contractor.

A BATCH OF SCOTT ACT PETITIONS PASSED BY COUNCIL.

A Number of Important Matters Discussed at the First Meeting of the New Ottawa City Council—The Car Question.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—At to-day's meeting of Council petitions from the Counties of Frontenac, Peterboro, Colchester, Brant, Wellington and Kent and the City of St. Thomas for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act were passed. The petitions will now be referred back to the Secretary of State for fixing dates for polling and appointment of returning officers. Under the act voting for repeal cannot take place until within two weeks of three years from the date the act came into force. This will make the date for the above-mentioned places somewhere between April 15 and May 1.

In the Supreme Court to-day argument in Galarneau v. Guilbault was concluded and judgment reserved. Laird v. Ross was commenced, but not finished when the court rose. The point involved in this case is whether a transfer of property made by Laird, Gibb & Co. to Ross in 1878, at a time when they were insolvent, is void and the deed of transfer colorable and in fraud of the respondent. The property was purchased in 1879, but the deed of purchase was not registered until 1881, and Gibb, Laird & Co. made an assignment in 1883. The court below held that at the time of the transfer Ross knew of the insolvency of the firm of Gibb, Laird & Co., and that the deed should be set aside. The only other case on the Quebec list is Laflamme v. The Mail. After this case the court will adjourn to Jan. 29, when the Ontario list will be taken up.

The first meeting of the new City Council was held to-day and a motion that the local member (Bronson) be requested to use his influence to have the election law amended so as to provide a separate polling place in each ward for the use of female voters exclusively was voted down, 14 to 7. A motion that he be asked to endeavor to have the election districts of Ottawa enlarged so as to cover the new territory recently annexed was carried. A motion to appoint a deputation to go to Toronto during the meeting of the Legislature in the interests of non-exemption from taxation was voted down.

Invitations have been issued by His Excellency for the usual state dinner on the opening of Parliament.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell said to-day that the information he had received did not alter the character of the statements already published in regard to the order for the levying of duty in the United States upon Canadian cars. He declined to express any opinion as to the probable effect of this, but said it was within the power of railway corporations like the Grand Trunk, who were affected by the change, to make representations to the Government.

It is stated that Judge Hugh McDonald of Nova Scotia has applied for a year's leave of absence and that it is probable he will not again resume duty on the bench. Judge McDonald must not be mistaken for Chief Justice McDonald, recently appointed administrator of the Province during Lieut.-Governor McLelan's absence.

Port Hope Happenings.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 22.—The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. Alfred Sketch fell backwards into a pail of boiling water. The poor child was scalded from the neck down to her heels. She lies in a very precarious condition, suffering terribly.

On Saturday last Mr. Smith Honeywell of Lot 22, 3rd Con., Haldimand, accompanied his neighbor, Mr. Samuel Richardson to Port Hope with a load of beef. After disposing of their load they started on their road home when Mr. Honeywell, who was subject to apoplexy, fell out of the wagon injuring himself in the fall. The injured man was conveyed to the boarding house of Mrs. Moore and a physician sent for who attended to the wants of the patient. Mr. Richardson at once started for home and acquainted the family of Mr. Honeywell of the accident. The wife and son arrived here about 6 o'clock yesterday morning but Mr. Honeywell had breathed his last about an hour previously. The deceased was 55 years of age and much respected in the neighborhood where he resided.

Mysterious Disappearance.

Salvation Lassies Release Prisoners.

ST. JOHN'S, Que., Jan. 22.—Two prisoners effected their escape from the jail here one evening last week, through the connivance, it is believed, of two female soldiers in the ranks of the Salvation Army. Henry Langtin used to attend the meetings regularly until he was sent to jail for breach of the peace, and so did Albert G. Martell till a conviction of larceny made him a companion of Langtin. They were in the second tier of cells and were visited frequently by the two Salvationists, who are called Ellen and May. The girls are said to have smuggled in the saw with which the bars of the window were cut and the rope with which the prisoners scaled the wall, for that was the method of their escape.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

Annual Meeting of Shareholders of the Company.

Reports Presented by the President and Superintendent—A Good Financial Standing—The Directors and Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company was held in the council chamber Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The following gentlemen were present:

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, President; Mr. E. B. Edwards, Secretary, pro tem, Messrs. J. J. Lundy, Chas. Stapleton, Jno. Burnham, Hon. R. Hamilton, Rev. V. Clementi, R. Kingan, G. M. Roger, Wm. Cumming, Henry Deane, E. M. Dennistoun, C. W. Sawers, Dr Boucher, Geo. Hilliard, J. B. McWilliams, R. S. Davidson, John Sawers, W. H. Moore, Chas. Cameron and John Kelly, Superintendent.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

The President, Mr. Jas. Stevenson, presented the following report:—

GENTLEMEN,—It affords me great pleasure to place before you at the end of the year the result of our labors on behalf of this cemetery.

The report of the caretaker will be placed before you and you will be enabled to see the progress of our efforts to place the last resting place of our friends and relatives in a proper and becoming position.

The year which has just closed has taken away from our midst one of the fathers of the cemetery, one who for a great many years has been an active trustee as well as our Secretary-Treasurer. James Edwards now rests in the place he assisted so much to improve, and with those he loved so well. It will become your duty to select some one to fill his place.

The summer of late years was unusually dry, in consequence of which your caretaker was obliged to devote a large portion of his time to watering and caring for the plants. Still a large portion of the Cemetery has been cleaned and laid out in lots, and I am glad to report that the town council undertook the work so very necessary, of putting Crescent street in good repair. I trust to see shade trees planted along its whole length during the coming spring, greatly adding to the beauty of the whole cemetery and its approaches. I also hope to see a good substantial sidewalk laid down along this same street. The amount we have expended this year will be laid before you in the caretaker's report in detail. The balance of cash in the hands of your Treasurer, including the town debentures, amounts to $2,763.97.

I hope next year will be a year in which we shall see still further improvements in and around the Cemetery.

Thanking you, gentlemen, for the honor you have don me in placing me in the position I hold, I remain yours truly,

JAS. STEVENSON,
President.

The report was adopted.

MOTIONS.

Moved by Rev. V. Clementi, seconded by Hon. R. Hamilton, that the stockholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company desire to avail themselves of this their first meeting since the death of the late James Edwards, Esq., to place on record the sense they entertain of the valuable services rendered, during the long period of years, by that gentleman as secretary-treasure of the company; and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the members of the family of the deceased.

The mover added a few words in memory of the late Mr. Edwards and the motion was carried unanimously.

Moved by Mr. Kingan, seconded by Mr. C. W. Sawers, that it is the opinion of the shareholders of the L. L. Cemetery Co., that the Secretary, while he is such, should not hold the office of director.—Carried.

In presenting my usual annual report I wish to be allowed to refer to some of the improvements which have been made in the cemetery during the past season.

First, a portion of section R, which was not completed in 1887, was filled in, graded, the soil seeded and the banks laid to sod. In the same section, there was on Lakeview avenue about 200 feet of cobble-stone gutter constructed. This will be a great saving as the gutter will carry off the water readily in the spring and fall seasons, and thus prevent the washing away of the soil and gravel of the drive.

A new spruce hedge has been planted along the western boundary of the cemetery from the entrance gate to Ware avenue, 400 feet. This hedge has taken well; 35 per cent. of it is living.

The gaps in the cedar hedge fronting the main entrance drive were replanted. Owing to the exceedingly dry weather the previous year a large number of plants had died, and to replace them I sent a man to a neighboring swamp and procured five or six hundred plants with no expense to your company except the wages of the men. On the grounds in general about 200 trees and shrubs were planted and cared for through the summer, the watering and care of them demanding no little time and attention.

On section H, usually known as the single grave plot, about half an acre has been cleared of stumps and trees, graded, seeded and laid out into grave plots.

Section O, comprising all the remaining woodland of about five acres, was cleared by the removal of all the rubbish, dead leaves, under brush, dead limbs, rotten logs, etc.

Allow me to suggest that if the trees in this section were thinned out by about one-third, grass would grow freely, and the section would become, until such time as it is required for burial purposes, a most attractive and pleasant resort from the numerous visitors who come to admire the Little Lake Cemetery.

In regard to the ornamentation of the cemetery, I may state that I placed a large circular flower pot on the new grounds to the right of the main entrance drive. This plot is 20 feet in diameter and was much admired by the numerous visitors.

I also had uprooted and burned the abundant growth of poison ivy which grew along the eastern river banks and in different places, thus removing a source of danger to incautious visitors.

I would take the liberty of again reminding you, gentlemen, of the insufficiency of the water supply. The present tanks are too small to meet the demands for keeping the lawn and flower plots in proper condition. During the dry season the tanks should be enlarged in order to contain a reserve supply of water, in case of their being a lack of wind for two or three days (as is often the case), to drive the wind mill. I would suggest that the tanks be enlarged before spring so that there will be no interference with the spring work.

By reference to a detailed statement given above it will be seen that the cost of labor for 1888 was less by $141.18 than that of 1887, while the receipts for last year were greater than the previous year by $114.45, making a net gain over the past year in the item of labor alone of $255.63. The total income however was less than in 1887, owing to the fact that there were twenty-one lots fewer sold in 1888 than 1887.

In closing my report I cannot omit reference to the excellent job done by the town in cribbing the lake shore along Crescent street; this will improve the appearance of the approach to the Cemetery and in order to secure uniformity of shade trees along this beautiful avenue, I would suggest if the town will furnish the trees that your company empower me to plant and look after the same. In default of this arrangement being adopted it is to be feared that some will plant unsuitable trees and some none at all, and thus destroy the probability of a beautiful and uniform avenue of approach to the cemetery.

JOHN KELLY,
Superintendent.

Peterborough, Jan. 21st, 1889.
The report was received.

PLANTING TREES.

Mr. W. H. MOORE suggested the advisability of having the remainder of Crescent street banked up and cribbed, and Mr. Stevenson said some of the councillors were of opinion that it could be stoned up at about as small expense as cribbing with wood. It could be done this winter and work given the men out of employment.

This led up to a discussion regarding the planting of trees, in which Messrs Roger, Lundy and Hilliard took part, some advocating one row and some two. No action was taken.

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS.

The election of directors then took place, the ballot resulting in the election of the following:—Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, J. J. Lundy, Hon. R. Hamilton, Jno. Burnham, G. M. Roger, Rev. V. Clementi, H. Deane, E. M. Dennistoun and W. H. Moore. There were 16 candidates.

The following officers were elected at a subsequent meeting of the directors:—

PRESIDENT—Jas. Stevenson, M.P.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—E. A. Peck.
SUPERINTENDENT—John Kelly.
COMMITTEE—Messrs. Moore, Lundy and Roger.
AUDITORS—Messrs. J. J. Hall and Jas. A. Hall.

TO DEFEND THE FRONTIER.

War Minister de Freycinet Says France Needs 5,000,000 Men to Line of Seats.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day finally passed the recruiting bill. The members of the Right protested that the measure would aggravate the burden of the country.

M. De Freycinet, Minister of War, replied that France was compelled to place 5,000,000 men in line of battle to defend her frontiers. The whole bill was passed by a vote of 558 to 168.

It is doubted if the Senate will accept the amendments of the Chamber of Deputies.

800 Houses Wrecked by an Earthquake.

SMYRNA, Jan. 21.—Three hundred houses were destroyed in the Hermhal Valley to-day by an earthquake.

Woman Suffrage Convention.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The opening session of the twenty-first annual convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association was held to-day in the Congregational Church. Many prominent persons were on the platform including Senator Blair and Ford Douglass. In the absence of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Miss Susan B. Anthony presided.

Rev. Olympia Brown of Wisconsin spoke upon "Foreign Rule. Shall it exist? All the American people had not been too generous and had nearly turned themselves out of doors. After throwing off the government of the aristocracy of Europe, it would be a striking commentary upon affairs if this country should come to be governed by representatives of the slums of European capitals. While not opposed to foreign immigration she thought it a mistake to confer upon foreigners advantages not given to the native-born. Foreigners were allowed to vote too soon after reaching the country. Speaking of the public schools she said that already in one town in Wisconsin they had been done away with and the same was threatened in another town. She predicted that in the near future there would have to be a contest waged in defence of the public school system.

An Important U. S. Patent Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—By statute of the United States it is provided that when a patent is taken out in a foreign country and one subsequently is also secured in this country the patent shall expire in the United States with the expiration of the patent in the foreign country in which it first runs out. Under the Canadian law patents are granted for five years with the privilege of renewal for two periods of five years each. The question in a case decided in the United States Supreme Court to-day was whether the lifetime of an American patent expired 5 years from its issuance in Canada or at the end of fifteen years, which is the limit to which the life of a patent may be extended in Canada. The court held that the patent in the United States does not expire for fifteen years from the granting of the patent, that is to say, the lifetime of an American patent first taken out in a foreign country does not expire until the extended limit of time for which an extension of patent may be secured in the foreign country.

He Fleeced Buffalo Girls.

BUFFALO, Jan. 22.—Edward W. Mack was arrested yesterday on a charge of swindling. He came to this city last week and advertised in the papers for a number of young women to appear in an "Extravaganza Company" now being organized in New York by a Mr. Hill. He succeeded in duping a number of young women out of various sums, as he charged a commission of $25 for obtaining the positions. Mack claims to have come from New York, and for some time has been living in London, Ont. A check for $60 was found on him which had the name of H. B. Jacobs signed to it. Mr. Jacobs is out of the city but Manager Whitsons said the signature did not in any way resemble Mr. Jacobs' handwriting. Mack has been committed to jail pending the arrival of Mr. Jacobs.

The London Standard's Ottawa News.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The Standard publishes Ottawa telegrams stating that the Dominion Government, owing to pressure from the Knights of Labor, has decided to adopt a policy of hostility toward immigration, forbidding all alien laborers except British to enter Canada, and stopping all grants for aid to emigration. Official circles here discredit the statement. The policy of Canada, as understood here, is to discourage unsuitable emigration in every possible way, and stimulate emigration of the classes Canada needs. The result is, as Prof. Shaler, of Harvard University, states in the Universal Review, that Canada is now receiving better emigrants than any other country.

Mrs. Gould's Will.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Helen D. Gould's will, which was executed on Nov. 1, 1887, was filed for probate to-day. Jay Gould and Daniel S. Miller, a brother of deceased, are the executors. All of testatrix's wearing apparel, jewelry and silverware are given to the daughters, Helen M. and Anna Gould. A trust fund of $20,000 is established for the benefit of each of her children for life. All of her real and personal property remaining is bequeathed to the children, share and share alike.

A Mad Minister.

PARKSBURG, N. J., Jan. 21.—Rev. Mr. Lockwood, pastor of the Reformed Church at Fairfield, is suffering from acute insanity. Last night his wife and children, owing to his threats to kill them, barricaded themselves in a portion of the house. The maniac man threw trunk from room to room and kindled a fire in each. As floors and furniture blazed up he threatened to brain the members of his family if they attempted to escape. When the fire was almost upon them the neighbors secured the maniac and rescued the family.

An Ominous Beginning.

GRAVESHURST, Jan. 22.—The mayor, reeve and four of the councillors soon after 11 a.m. yesterday took the declaration of office and formed the council. No sooner had the mayor taken his chair than he was served with a notice of application for a mandamus to compel the council to pay over $2000.66 to the Board of School Trustees.

Died from Ill-Treatment.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 21.—Bridget Kelly, a deformed young woman, died in the City Hospital this morning from the effects of ill-treatment at the hands of eight men. She was found in a stable unconscious. It is stated that she went there while under the influence of liquor. Three of the men were arrested and the police are after the others.

The New York Boodle Trial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—In the County trial to-day the work of sifting for jurymen went on till darkness obscured the court-room. When the court then adjourned for the day 33 men had been examined for the jury and found wanting and the box was still empty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Pedro Bellagoli Pedrazzo, aged 77, the well-known fresco painter, committed suicide to-day by hanging. A will left by the deceased shows that he was possessed of $12,000, deposited in various savings banks of this city. He had been troubled with spinal disease for some time.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

Symptoms—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the healthest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Temple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in Gold. Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w4d

SUN
LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.00, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,000 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.00.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in new business.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,492 00	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	33,580 67	195,186 29	1,167,306 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,992,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,977 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 45	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. John McNaughton asked the council to instruct the Fire, Water and Light Committee to make a tour of the streets beyond the present limits of the waterworks to ascertain what new pipes are required, and report to the Waterworks Company so that they can have the pipes here by 1st of May. Mr. McNaughton addressed the council and urged that the ratepayers in the outskirts wanted the waterworks, and as every year there was a delay in getting pipes because the extensions were not ordered early enough, the Waterworks Company could, if notified, have the pipe here in time so as not to delay the extensions. The matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

A communication from Mr. John Corkery, Secretary of the Separate School Board, demanded that the school taxes be collected by municipal officers.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. R. S. Henderson asked a reduction of his shooting gallery license.—Referred to the License Committee.

Messrs. Thomas McKee, W. Aldridge and Cornelius McGrath applied to be appointed assessors.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

THE SCHOOL TRUSTEE QUESTION.

Mr. Davidson's notice of motion re the appointment of Messrs. P. Hamilton and Jas. Kendry school trustees for the year, was again submitted.

Mr. Kelly moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Baptie, that Messrs. A. Rutherford and Jas. Kendry be appointed trustees.

Mr. RUTHERFORD thanked the gentlemen who had been so kind as to move his re-appointment, but after having served on the Board for 15 or 20 years, he did not wish the position unless his appointment was unanimous, as it had been in former years. It had been said that councillors should not appoint themselves on the Board, but it had worked advantageously in the past. If Mr. E. H. D. Hall who made the remark at the morning session, had the moral courage of his stated convictions, he would at once move another amendment appointing two outsiders to the position. Mr. Rutherford said he would sacrifice himself to the wishes of the gentlemen opposing him, and asked the mover of the amendment in his favor, to withdraw and let the appointment be unanimous.

Mr. KELLY did not think it right to place Mr. Rutherford off the Board when there was no objection taken to his past record. He pressed the amendment as being the correct course.

Mr. DAWSON favored the entire separation of the council and school board, because he believed that was the wish of the majority of the ratepayers. But as the mover only took half measures by proposing one new man, motion, instead of two, he could not support the motion.

Mr. CAHILL repeated his statements of the morning, that it was chiefly for the purpose of having the south ward represented on the school board by a man who lived in, and was acquainted with the requirements of the ward, that he had moved Mr. Peter Hamilton's appointment. He also objected to a statement of Mr. Kelly, that Mr. Rutherford could legally vote for himself. He held that Mr Rutherford was debarred from voting on this question.

Mr. E. H. D. HALL in proposing an amendment to the amendment said he had no personal feeling in the matter but agreed with Mr. Dawson that the two boards should be separated. He moved, seconded by Mr. A. Hall, that Messrs P. Hamilton and W. Paterson be appointed trustees.

Both amendments were lost and the original motion was carried.

THE LICENSE DEBATE.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, in presenting a by-law to fix tavern and shop licenses, to be submitted to the ratepayers, said there was a possibility of the Scott Act being repealed next April, and in order to be prepared for any emergency it was better to have the licenses fixed. He said he understood that the hotel-keepers were willing to pay a license of $500, and the by-law if given its two readings to-night could be submitted to the people after a month's notice and if accepted finally passed before the limited time, first of March.

Mr. CAHILL contended that the council had power by statute to fix a higher license without going to the expense of submitting a by-law to the people. They had power to fix a $350 license and that was enough he considered for this town. He moved an amendment that the second reading of the by-law be deferred. He wanted time to enquire into the matter and get the town solicitor's opinion.

Mr. Kelly and Mr. E. H. D. Hall supported Mr. Cahill, but Messrs. Davidson, Langford and Kendry opposed him and urged that the matter be left to the ratepayers, claiming that if the second reading was put off three or four days longer, there would not be time to finish the by-law before 1st of March.

After a good deal of discussion as to what proportion of this would go to the government, Mr. Cahill's amendment was put and lost on the following division :—

YEAS.—Cahill, Winch, Kelly and E. H. D. Hall.

NAYS.—Davidson, A. Hall, Dawson, Baptie, Rutherford, Langford and Kendry.

THE SECOND READING.

The council then went into committee on the second reading, Mr. Langford in the chair.

Mr. DAVIDSON urged that the storekeepers should not be handicapped by a high license like hotels, because their liquor department would have to be separated from their stores and that would be a hardy expense in itself.

Mayor STEVENSON agreed with Mr. Davidson, and said further there should be some idea got of the number of hotels and saloons.

Mr. E. H. D. HALL considered that the saloon licenses should be made larger than the hotels.

Mr. DAVIDSON said he could see no use for saloons at all, because the hotels furnished all necessary accommodation.

After some further discussion Mr. Rutherford moved that hotel licenses be fixed at $500 each and saloons $600.

Mr. CAHILL moved that hotel licenses be $400.

The question was raised if the council had power to license saloons, and Mr. DAVIDSON read the Statutes giving the commissioners power to license "two taverns without the necessary accommodations," or saloons as they are called.

It was finally agreed to license two saloons at a $600 license each.

WHAT THE HOTELS SHALL PAY.

Mr. WINCH thought that if the hotels paid $350 of a license, they were paying sufficient. Toronto only paid $350, and if the hotelkeepers of Peterborough paid as much as Toronto, they would be paying all reasonable should ask them to pay.

Mayor STEVENSON thought Mr. Cahill's suggestion near the mark.

Mr. KENDRY said the hotelkeepers would be satisfied with a $500 license, and besides a high license would improve the standard of the hotels. Mr. Rutherford claimed it was throwing away money in not charging this high license; besides the revenue required it, and the ratepayers were for it, two to one.

Mr. CAHILL made quite a lengthy speech in answer to Mr. Rutherford, claiming that it was bombast to claim that money was being thrown away. Besides it was dishonest to attempt to coerce hotelkeepers in the way proposed. If high license was adopted it would drive them to violation of the law. He enquired also if the $500 proposed included the government fee.

Mr. RUTHERFORD replied that it did.

The question was put and Mr. Cahill's motion, providing for a $400 license, was carried.

Mr. Rutherford then moved that shop licenses be fixed at $500.

Mayor STEVENSON—Oh, pshaw!

Mr. RUTHERFORD claimed that the storekeeper was better able to pay the $500 license than the hotelkeeper, and furthermore he did not favor tolerating wholesale places at all.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. A. Hall, that the amount be $300.

Mr. Rutherford moved another amendment, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the shop license be $400.

The $300 motion was carried.

The date of voting on the by-law was fixed for Wednesday, Feb. 20th, the polling places and officers to be the same as those of the municipal elections, with the exception of the third ward, in which the polling will be held at Metherall's shop.

The second reading was then concluded.

GENEROSITY.

Mr. Kendry moved, seconded by Mr. Langford, that the Collector of taxes be instructed to withhold the sale of the goods of C. B. Smith until after the Court of Revision decides thereon.—Carried.

THE NINE HOUR SYSTEM.

Mr. Cahill presented a communication from the trades and labor organizations of Peterborough, asking that the hours of corporation laborers be fixed at nine hours for a day's work, and moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that the petition be granted.

Messrs. R. McGregor, P. MacNamara and Wm. Anthony, representing the workingmen, gave their views on the subject, which have already been expressed in the reports of recent labor meetings published in the EXAMINER.

The motion was carried.

MOTIONS.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the Charity Committee be requested to take some steps to have the charities better dispensed than that at present in use.—Referred to the Charity Committee.

Moved by A Hall, seconded by E. H. D. Hall, that the clerk advertise for tenders for one hundred and twenty-five (125) cords of dry and green mixed wood—say 50 cords green and 75 cords dry wood; and that the same be addressed to Adam Hall, chairman of the Charity Committee.—Carried.

The council then adjourned.

Resolution of Condolence.

At a special meeting of Foresters held in the hall of Court Peterborough, composed of both local courts, on Friday, the following resolution was unanimously adopted Moved by Bro. John Nugent, Court Peterborough, seconded by Bro. Geo. Rose, C. R., of Court Little John: That the Foresters of Peterborough desire to convey to the family and friends of their late brother, William Stenton, an expression of their deep sympathy and condolence in their affliction, which though a grevious loss to them, is also deeply felt by the Foresters of this town—who by Bro. Stenton's death, lose a faithful and valuable member of Court Peterborough. His genial presence at their meetings and his earnest assistance in promoting the good of the order will be severely felt, and this tribute of respect is paid to the memory of one whom all remember with love and respect."

Church Chimes.

At St. Paul's Church Sunday morning Rev. E. F. Torrance preached a sermon having a direct reference to the late Mrs. Hay. A beautiful text was chosen as the basis of an impressive discourse. The music was also appropriate to the occasion, the Dead March being played at the beginning of the service.

At the Baptist church Sunday night there was a good audience. The pastor, Rev. P. Clifton Parker, commenced a series of Sunday evening lectures for the people. They are intended to be of a popular style and on subjects that will be attractive to non-churchgoers. Last evening's was entitled "The Sweet Psalmist of Israel," and it gave an account of many of the hymn writers of the Christian church. Mr. Parker showed how we had all felt the power of church psalmody. Many of the hymns had been looked up in the memory and had taken us back to the associations of earlier years. We had seen in the hymnals of the churches such names as Watts, Doddridge, Wesley, Toplady, Newton and others, but who they were and why they wrote these "Sweet Songs of Zion" very few can tell. The earliest hymn that had come down to us was by Clement, of Alexandra, whom some believed to be the Clement of whom Paul wrote to the Philippians. The hymn commences "Mouths of babes who cannot speak"; "Dies Irae," by Thomas of Celano, and "Veni Sancti Spiritus" by King Robert of France came in for notice. Bernard of Clairvaux's "Jesus be my thought of Thee"; Bernard of Cluny's "Jerusalem the Golden"; Francis Xavier's "O Deus Ego Amo te," "My God I Love Thee not Because I hope for Heaven Thereby"; Newman's "Lead Kindly Light" and Taber's "Hark, Hark my Soul," received their share of attention. The reverend gentleman then noticed German song. Luther wrote 57; Count Zinsendorf, 2,000; Hans Sach, 6,000. English hymns came in for attention—Watts, Doddridge, Wesley, etc. Then the Baptist contribution to song, such as W. Williams' "Guide me oh Thou Great Jehovah," Robinson's "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," Mealey's "Awake my Soul in Joyful lays," and Beddome, Rylands, Steawell, Steele, Dr. Fawcet who wrote "Blest be the Tie," etc.

Mr. Parker showed how some of the hymns had been written by Kings, Dukes etc and some by cobblers, such as Hans Sach and Olivers who wrote "The God of Abram Praise" and Keonah Pal the Hindoo cobbler, the first convert of Casey who wrote "O thou my soul forget no more, The friend who all thy misery bore." Some had been written by those of tender years. Watts at 17 wrote his first. Milton at 15 wrote "Let us with a gladsome mind." Grigg at 10 years wrote "Ashamed of Jesus." The difference between the old hymn writers and the modern is this, the former put Sermons in their hymns, the latter put Devotion. The audience were urged to seek to be taught the "one new song which no man can learn" but he that is taught of God.

Nine Hours a Day.

Carpenters and Other Capital-Producers to Connect.

A meeting of the carpenters, chiefly, though there were other mechanics present, was held in the Knights of Labor Hall last night.

Mr. R. F. McGregor, President of the Carpenter's Union, stated that the object of the meeting was to discuss the nine-hour movement as to its adoption by the carpenters. He read a resolution reported by a special committee, to be presented to the council for adoption. This is the resolution:

To the Mayor and Council :—

GENTLEMEN,—At a public meeting of the various labour organizations of the town of Peterborough, held on the 15th inst., it was resolved to ask the council to pass a measure making nine hours a day's work on all corporation work. The reasons for the request is that a large number of men are unable to find steady employment. By shortening the hours of labour a greater number will be able to procure employment. Further a large number now so employed and well up in years. They consider that nine hours are as much as they should be asked to work. By granting the above request the council will only be following the example of Toronto, Hamilton, London and other large towns and cities throughout the Dominion.

Signed on behalf of the following organizations.

P. J. MCNAMARA, Bricklayers and Masons.
R. T. MCGREGOR, Carpenters.
W. H. ANTHONY, Shoe-makers.
JOHN O'BRIEN, Knights of Labor.

Mr. WESTLAKE was called to the chair. He wished there were more contractors present as he heard some of them were opposed to this movement.

Mr. Thomas McNamara expressed himself in favour of nine hours. The bricklayers had tried it since last June, and it had worked well.

Mr. R. MCGREGOR thought the nine-hour system was necessary if carpenters expected to make a living. He favoured the Town Council adopting the nine-hour movement, it would be precedent which would benefit the local unions in their efforts.

A resolution was adopted, instructing Messrs. R. F. McGregor, P. McNamara, W. H. Anthony and John O'Brien to present the resolution.

Mr. H. C. STABLES, contractor, expressed himself in favor of the movement, personally. If the bricklayers had nine hours, it was only fair to use carpenters the same way. He advised a conference between carpenters and contractors.

Mr. MCGREGOR stated that another contractor, Mr. A. Rutherford, expressed similar views.

Mr. HENRY SHERWOOD, contractor, was in favour of the nine hour movement, though in some contracts he had taken before the bricklayers adopted the nine-hour movement he had lost money.

Mr. J. FROUDE quoted Mr. D. Gamble, a contractor, as not only in favor of the nine hours but also of higher wages (cheers). He (Mr. F.,) believed carpenters did not get enough wages to pay them for the time spent in learning their trade, considering the loss of time, etc.

Mr. Geo. BALL said the carpenters of Peterborough were not organized in the fullest sense of the word; without that they would not be protected from unskilled labour. He believed in the nine-hour system; shorter hours would give larger employment. The long-hour system was driving the best mechanics out of the country. He advised the carpenters to stand together and they would win the day.

Mr. ELINGER thought carpenters were underpaid, especially competent mechanics, who were often put out of work by "hammer and saw" carpenters.

The Chairman referred to the evil of the 'prentice system, which should be controlled.

Mr. BATES thought there would be difficulty in controlling carpenters not working under contractors, but he was not sanguine of anything beyond that.

Mr. BOGUE favored trades unions, which generally embraced the best mechanics. The lack of organization pressed hardly on the employer and employee. Shorter hours was the remedy for the surplus supply of labour.

Upon the return of the deputation from the council chamber after presenting the above report, the meeting passed a resolution of thanks to the town council for its prompt and generous action in granting the request of the workingmen.

George Street Sunday School.

Annual Meeting of the Teachers and Officers—A Large School and its Management—The Secretary-Treasurer Retires.

The annual meeting of the George street Methodist church Sunday school was held Friday evening. There was a large attendance of teachers and officers. Rev. M. L. Pearson presided.

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer showed the school to be in a progressive state. The total expenditures for the year amounted to $572.65 and the receipts to $533.74, leaving a debit balance of $38.91. This is an improvement on last year, when a deficit of $59.50 was carried over from 1887. The chief items of expenditure were $159.96 on new books for the library, and $110.00 for a half interest in the new piano. The receipts were made up of anniversary collections, $43.08; proceeds of choral festival, $29.17; proceeds of Sunday school picnic, $21.82; received from primary department, $21.36; proceeds of jubilee concert, $31.11; amount received from Sunday school collections, $235 25; besides other small amounts. The amounts collected in aid of the new library fund by Misses Allen, Smith, Green and Sanderson, and Messrs. Griffin and Emmerson, footed up to $50.35. The envelope system of collecting adopted by Mr. A. E. Scott, netted $48.10, while Miss Richardson collected $8.50.

The report also gave some interesting school statistics. There were on the roll 650 pupils, whose average attendance numbered 372. Of the 42 teachers on the roll an average of 38 attended every Sunday. The average attendance of officers was over 6½ out of 7. The pupils recited in all 26,869 verses during the year, an average of 41 each. The average collection per Sunday was $5.07.

During the year three deaths had occurred among the pupils—Elwood Tyrrell, Walter Johnston and Carrie Cobb.

There was no report from the library, as at a meeting some time ago the affairs of the library were straightened up to date. However, the library was stated to be in a satisfactory condition. During the year nearly $200 had been expended on new books (including the sum of $30 voted at this meeting), and besides a quantity of old books had been sent out to district schools in need of them.

The resignation of Mr. J. T. Emmerson, Secretary-Treasurer, was read and accepted, it being understood that he is about to leave for Port Arthur, Ont., to reside permanently.

The resignation was accepted, Rev. M. L. Pearson, Mr. Griffin and others taking the opportunity to express their heartfelt regret that Mr. Emerson was leaving town, and speaking in highly complimentary terms of his past services in connection with the school.

The election of officers then took place, resulting as follows :—

SUPERINTENDENT.—Mr. H. S. Griffin.
SECRETARY-TREASURER.—Mr. A. E. Scott.
SENIOR LIBRARIAN.—Mr. W. A. Mason.
ASS'T LIBRARIAN.—Mr. F. Wesley.
JUNIOR LIBRARIAN—Ed. Mannell.
ASS'T LIBRARIANS.—Walter Wesley and Willie Smart.

The teachers were appointed, some 42 in number, very few changes being made in the names as they appeared on the register.

Miss Grundy, Mrs. Hawkins and Miss Galley were appointed to take charge of the primary department.

Repeal of the Scott Act.

The petition for the repeal of the Scott Act in Peterborough was passed by the Privy Council at Ottawa yesterday, among several other similar petitions from different counties. The petitions will now be referred back to the Secretary of State for fixing dates for polling and appointment of returning officers. Under the act voting for repeal cannot take place until within two weeks of three years from the date the act came into force. This will make the date for the election in Peterborough somewhere between April 15 and May 1. That the repeal of the Act is generally anticipated is shown by the action of the town council last night in fixing licenses.

The Mayor's Annual Treat.

Last night after the council meeting the members of the council, Street Inspector Pope, Market Clerk Doherty, Chief Reesal and the reporters, in all a company of about a dozen and a half, accepted with alacrity the Mayor's invitation to supper at Mr. T. Cavanagh's hotel. Mayor Stevenson presided over the gathering, who were individually and collectively in splendid physical condition for a bout with the slippery oyster after the exhaustive strain of business. Mine host "Ted" served up the luscious bivalves (we believe that's the orthodox term) with all the accessory trimmings in a style that discounted the man who invented oysters himself. After the spread had been done ample justice to (that's orthodox too) Mr. Cahill in a neatly worded address proposed the very good health of the Mayor—and long might he live to be a useful and enterprising citizen. Mr. Stevenson replied at some length, referring specifically to the question that is at present agitating the people's representatives, that is, the necessity of bringing manufactories to town and encouraging them to locate here by holding out substantial inducements. Messrs Rutherford, Kendry, Kelly and Dawson spoke to a similar effect and enlarged upon the bright prospects of the town. Mr. Winch favored the company with a jolly Irish song, and after the host and hostess had been toasted the councillors and others assembled wended their several ways homeward, filled with the delicacies provided and flattering opinions of the hospitable Mayor.

THE COPYRIGHT QUESTION.

OBJECTIONS TO THE BERNE BILL PRESENTED TO COUNCIL.

Mr. Chapleau to Sail for Canada Feb 16.—Mr. Bowell of Halifax Mentioned for the Collectorship of That Port.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—A deputation from the Canadian Copyright Association, consisting of Messrs. J. Ross Robertson, A. S. Irving, A. W. Croil, G. H. Suckling, R. T. Lancefield and D. A. Rose of Toronto, John Macfarlane, J. Lovell and J. Rolland of Montreal, had an interview with the members of the Privy Council this afternoon with reference to the Berne Copyright Bill, which was introduced in the house last session but not passed. In the absence of Sir John, who had gone to Montreal, Hon. Mr. Bowell presided. The deputation presented a draft bill prepared by the Copyright Association, as well as a numerously signed petition against the Berne bill.

In the discussion that followed it was pointed out on behalf of the publishers that the Berne bill would be the ruin of Canadian interests if it were carried into effect, as the printing of a British copyright in Canada would be rendered unnecessary. At present a work of which an exclusive copyright is desired must be printed in Canada, thus giving work to Canadian printers, electrotypers, etc. Stress was laid upon the fact that Canadian publishers would no longer, if the Berne bill were adopted, be able to secure the right to publish cheap editions of British copyright works, and because the importation of reprints of British copyright works from the United States would be absolutely prohibited, practically all cheap literature in Canada would be forbidden because Canadian booksellers would have to purchase British copyrights at the expensive rate they are sold at in England.

A great grievance with the Canadian trade is that under the Copyright Act every work copyrighted in Great Britain is copyrighted in Canada, but the importation of reprints of such works is not prohibited unless the work is actually manufactured in Canada. Many United States authors first publish their works in Great Britain, securing copyright there and thus indirectly securing copyright in Canada, whilst Canadians are denied copyright in the United States.

Hon. Mr. Bowell promised that the matter should be considered by the Government.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau writes a friend here that he is convalescent and will sail for Canada Feb. 16.

Sir A. T. Galt had an interview with the Minister of the Interior to-day with reference to the extension of the railway from Lethbridge to Fort Benton, work on which will be commenced in the spring.

The Lafamme—Mail libel suit will be argued in the Supreme Court to-morrow.

His Excellency left for Montreal this afternoon and will be present at the Board of Trade banquet to-morrow night. Sir John, Sir Hector Langevin and Hon G. E. Foster will also attend.

Hon. William Ross, collector of customs at Halifax, whose resignation was telegraphed to the Minister of Customs yesterday in consequence of the dissatisfaction of the Government with the explanation of his allowing the transhipment of a cargo of fresh fish from an American fishing schooner, held the portfolio of Minister of Militia in 1863 under the Mackenzie Government and resigned a year later to accept the collectorship of Halifax. He is 63 years of age. The salary is $3000 a year, and as Mr. Ross is not wealthy his prospects are not bright. Mr. Dowell, a prominent Halifax merchant, is spoken of as Mr. Ross' successor.

Mr. Ross' action in the matter referred to led the Government of the United States to assume that the Canadian authorities had abandoned their interpretation of some of the provisions of the Convention of 1818. Such a conclusion was entirely unwarranted.

A SMASH-UP ON THE GRAND TRUNK.

An Unknown Lady Instantly Killed—Five Other Passengers Injured.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—An accident occurred on the Grand Trunk line at St. Henri Junction early this evening by which an elderly lady lost her life and five people were injured. The Delaware and Hudson train for New York left the city at 4.30 and on arriving at St. Henri Junction was proceeding to leave the main Grand Trunk track for the track leading to the Victoria Bridge when an empty engine in charge of John Atkinson came along and dashed into the first-class car next to the Pullman, badly smashing it and killing an unknown lady about 50 years of age and injuring the following;

Lawrence Rivard, bookseller of Montreal, generally bruised and shaken up.

Miss Flavie Grouix of Grondines, injuries not serious.

J. S. Hilles, an Englishman, cut on head and internally injured.

N. Beauvais of Montreal, light scalp wound.

W. D. Dumas of Joliette, very severe scalp wounds.

The latter was taken to the hospital but the others were taken to their homes.

Atkinson has been known for past fifteen years as one of the most careful men on the road.

An inquest will be held to-morrow.

The St. Lawrence on a Tear.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—The river rose considerably yesterday afternoon, rising as much as 4½ feet inside of half an hour at one time. The pumps at the pumping stations were set to work, the water being thirteen feet above the ordinary level. It remained stationary until 10.30 last night, when a grand shove took place opposite Jacques Cartier square, and a portion of the temporary dyke promenade was carried away. No further damage was done, however. At noon to-day the river was 36 feet 2 inches, being 16 feet 2 inches above summer level, having risen seven feet since yesterday morning. The public are working at the pumping stations, and there is water in some cellars which are fourteen feet below datum. All danger, however, is now past, as the ice in the river has taken, and the work of making winter roads across it has commenced.

Heiress to a Million.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Jan. 23.—At Era, in this county, Mrs. Winfield and Mrs. Lattimore, daughters of a prominent stockman living near Era, have been found to be heirs to an estate in England worth at least $1,000,000. The estate has been in the English courts for some time awaiting the discovery of heirs. Mrs. Lattimore and Mrs. Winfield inherit through their mother, now deceased.

Lt.-Gov. Schultz Greatly Improved.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22.—Lt.-Gov. Schultz is greatly improved to-day and no serious results are expected from yesterday's accident.

Did the Teacher Cause His Death?

FORT PLAIN, N.Y., Jan. 23.—Charles Van Natta, aged 9 years, of this place, has just died from injuries alleged to have been inflicted by Ephraim Failing, the village school teacher. The boy declared that Failing twisted his ear so brutally that the member was torn loose from the head. The child further claimed that he was thrown against a bench, sustaining injuries to his spine. Failing denies the charge. Just before the little fellow died he was asked if the teacher had treated him as stated. "Yes, mother, he did." Then the mother said to a reporter who was present, "The teacher denies it. Now, will you believe this dying boy or him?"

STABBED BY A SCAVENGER

A MONTREAL FOREMAN KNIFED BY A DISCHARGED EMPLOYE.

Editors to Prepare a Scheme to Utilize the Power of the Lachine Rapids—Kehoe's Lawyers Sue for Their Fees.

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—Harry Dawson was sent to the penitentiary yesterday for seven years for highway robbery and murderous assault on Edmund Gagne some weeks ago. The other scoundrel who assisted him has not yet been captured. Had it not been for the timely arrival of C. M. McCook, Gagne would undoubtedly have been killed.

Thos. O'Brien, a 16-year-old lad, was sent to the penitentiary for three years for burglary and Edmund Briere for two years for theft.

Alfred Comette, foreman for the city scavenger, was stabbed Monday night by H. Ayotte who had worked for him and whom he had to discharge for drunkenness. Ayotte in the evening drove up to Comette's house in Papineau-road and asking for him deliberately pulled out his knife and inflicted a wound on Comette's arm and another under the left eye. Ayotte was sent to jail for three months and fined $20 or three more months. The fine was made light owing to the poverty of Mrs. Ayotte and her two children.

Julien Martineau, butcher of St. Cunegunde, made an assignment yesterday with about $34,000 liabilities. Alfred Benaune, restaurant keeper, has assigned with liabilities of $1400.

A young girl of 13 years, who had been induced to become an inmate of a house of ill-fame, was yesterday sent to the reformatory for three years.

His Grace Archbishop Tache of St. Boniface is at the Grey Nunnery in this city, where he is recuperating his health and taking rest.

Mr. D. Barr, agent in this city for the Edison Electric Light Company has returned from New York, where he laid before Mr. Edison a plan of the Lachine Rapids and the Isle au Heron as purchased by the Electric Light Company of Canada. Edison expressed his surprise that such motor power should exist near such a city as Montreal and have been hitherto made no use of. He saw no difficulty in transmitting any amount of power to the city and promised a plan and scheme for working the same.

Curran and Grenier have instituted an action for $700 against Lawrence Kehoe, father of Jack Kehoe who murdered the late Tom Donnelly. The amount includes professional fees for the trial and fees of the doctors who examined Kehoe and reported on his condition.

A deputation from Halifax are in the city on their way to Ottawa, where they will ask the Government to bring the necessary pressure to bear upon the Canadian Pacific Railway to compel that road to build a short link line from Harvey Station on the New Brunswick and Canadian Railway to Moncton by way of Fredericton.

$1000 FOR MISS M'NINCH.

Balm for a Broken Heart Administered by a Hamilton Jury.

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—The monotony of the winter assizes was somewhat relieved yesterday and to-day by the hearing of a breach of promise of marriage case brought by Miss Jane McNinch against William Merritt, a farm laborer, who lives at Smithville. There was some racy evidence offered. The plaintiff, who lives with her parents at Grimsby village, claimed $2000 damages. She swore that Merritt had gone with her about the end of 1880 and until March, 1881. He promised to marry her in June, 1881. In January, 1882, she had a child, which died in a few days. Merritt again promised to marry her, she swore, in 1884, but had not kept his promise. The jury awarded Miss McNinch $1000.

Edgar Carey, Emmerson Hunt and George Van Norman, three young farmers from West Flamboro, paid $16.10 each at the Police Court this morning for assaulting an old man named James Smith last Saturday, $20 of the total going to Smith in recompense for his injuries.

About 6.45 this morning the dead body of Jessie Brown, a prisoner confined in the county jail, was found in the cell occupied by her. The woman was arrested on Saturday charged with the larceny of a sheet from Edwin Harris' lodging-house in Baystreet, where she had been staying for several days, and also for stealing a shawl and Jersey jacket from Hugh Daley. An inquest was held at the jail, the verdict of the jury being that the deceased came to her death by natural causes, occasioned by the use of laudanum.

About twenty summonses have been issued against persons who neglected to remove the snow from their sidewalks.

A sheet of tea valued at $23 was stolen last night from in front of W. H. Barney's grocery store at the corner of Queen and York-streets.

James Sellar, laborer, 79 James-street south, was run over this afternoon at the corner of Main and James-streets by J. Watts' rig and had his leg injured.

LINDSAY COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

The New $30,000 Building Opened Yesterday With Appropriate Ceremonies.

LINDSAY, Jan. 23.—The new Collegiate Institute building was opened here this afternoon by Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, accompanied by Dr. Gelkie, dean of Trinity Medical School, Toronto. A large number of leading educationists, together with the Victoria County Council, took part in the ceremonies, which were attended by an immense gathering.

The building has just been completed at a cost of $30,000 and is admitted to be one of the finest and most complete in the province. The architect was Mr. Duffus of Lindsay, and the contractors Messrs. McNeely & Walters of the same place.

The institute opens with 200 pupils upon the roll, and large numbers in addition have notified the headmaster of their intention to enter this week.

An immense audience was addressed to-night by the Minister of Education, Adam Hudspeth, M.P., Dr. Gelkie and others.

Smallpox in Michigan.

DETROIT, Jan. 23.—Smallpox is making such ravages at Amlie, Monroe County, that the Health Officer of that place came to Detroit yesterday and asked Health Officer Duffield to supply nurses. High salaries are offered, but none can be found in the interior of the state. Dr. Duffield says the disease is very widespread throughout the state and only wonders it has not made its appearance in Detroit.

Drugged and Robbed.

YPSILANTI, Mich., Jan. 23.—Edward Lumley and Herbert Benedict induced Gen. Thurman, a sprinter, to go into an old store formerly used as a billiard hall and after drugging him robbed him of $600. The men have left for parts unknown.

King Cotton's Largest Crop.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 23.—The News and Courier estimates the cotton crop of 1888 at nearly 7,500,000 bales, the largest crop ever made.

Suicide of a Wealthy Banker.

HOBOKEN, N.J., Jan. 23.—Frank L. Rahenman, a retired banker, jumped up from the breakfast table this morning and going to a cabinet took out a revolver and shot himself before his family could interfere. He died instantly. Mr. Rahenman was one of the prominent citizens of Hoboken and leaves property worth $300,000. He had been ill for some time and was to sail for Bermuda on Tuesday for the benefit of his health.

GRINDING VERY SLOWLY.

EVIDENCE BEFORE THE COMMISSION AIMED AT PARNELL.

Annual Fete of the Berlin Anti-Semitic Association—A One-Sided Battle in West Africa—Worthie King John.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—When the Parnell Commission assembled to-day Sir Charles Russell said that owing to the publication of a later paragraph in The Sheffield Telegraph and to save time he would not press his application for a writ against that paper. Justice Hannen expressed gratification at the action of counsel, and hoped no fresh application of a similar nature would be made, as he had thoroughly defined the principles which should govern newspapers in commenting upon the case.

A man named Farragher deposed that Archbishop Walsh, in Mr. Davitt's presence, had advised him not to pay his rent, and that he (Farragher) was evicted. He was afterwards employed in the offices of the Dublin branch of the League. Witness also testified that he had carried letters, some of which contained cheeks, from Mr. Patrick Egan to Mullet, the Invincible.

Farragher testified that Arthur O'Connor, M.P. for East Donegal, held an important post in the League. Messrs. Davitt, Sexton and Harrington were members of the executive. Witness lodged with Weldon, who had been tried for the murder of young Castlereagh. Weldon afterward went to Manchester, having a check for his expenses drawn on the Hibernian Bank. Nally used to visit the League rooms.

Sir Charles Russell protested against this evidence. He stated that Nally was undergoing a sentence, and he objected to any inquiry being made into the circumstances of Nally's crime in order to damage members of Parliament who it was alleged associated with him.

The court decided that the evidence concerning Nally was admissable.

Sir Charles said that the Nally under discussion was not "Scrab" Nally, but another Nally whom Mr. Parnell had thanked for his services to the League.

Farragher further stated that he had seen Messrs. Parnell and Sexton attend meetings of the League as members of the executive.

Sir Henry James, of counsel for The Times, produced a report of a speech made by Mr. Parnell at the League convention at Castlebar, in which Mr. Parnell strongly commended Nally for rendering important service to the League.

Criticising the Ford Bill.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The proposal on the part of the United States to strengthen their immigration laws by drastic enactments has stirred up a good deal of feeling on the subject here, involving criticism by no means gentle or fair. Not only is the matter watched with keen interest in England, but the question is exciting a similar degree of concern on the Continent. Not, perhaps, as a measure of retaliation, but as a measure of purifying the moral atmosphere, it is suggested that the colonies, Canada in particular, have recourse to similar legislation and thus close the gates against the only classes who are likely to leave the United States and who do leave that country both for the country's good and in order to keep out of jail. The Globe admits that the American bill is a natural one and perhaps inevitable, but thinks it will prove to be exceedingly serious business for Europe and will also increase the probability that the Chinese question will be forced into unexpected developments, rendering the greatest of all social problems still more difficult of solution.

The bracelet is inscribed, "Presented to Mrs. Phelps on her leaving England, as a token of affectionate regard from some of her English friends, Jan. 23, 1889."

The German Jew-haters.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—The annual fete of the students of the anti-Semitic Association was honored with the presence of Count von Moltke, Prof. Bergmann and a number of members of the court circle. Dr. Stocker in a violent discourse declared that the time had come to break the chains of slavery which the Jews imposed upon Christians, and which were sometimes heavier than the chains of slaves in Africa. Count Prenster Rogge delivered a similar address.

The Freisinnige Zeitung laments the presence of aristocrats as a saddening indication of a Jew-hating tendency in the highest quarter.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1888.

MR. WARDEN BROWN.

The EXAMINER extends its warmest congratulations to Mr. John Brown, Reeve of Methuen, on the occasion of his elevation to the Wardenship of Peterborough, the most important trust in the gift of the people or their representatives. Mr. Brown is a native of Athol, Prince Edward county, where he was born in 1837. His father, Ira Brown, a native of the United States of Irish parentage, came to Canada at the age of fourteen years. After residence in Prince Edward and Northumberland counties the family removed to Belmont in 1866. Mr. Brown is a farmer, he being the owner of 220 acres on the east shores of the beautiful Lake Belmont. For several years Mr. Brown has been and is still wood-ranger for the Gilmour Company. He has had ten years of municipal experience, 8 of which have been spent in the County Council. He was first elected reeve in 1861 and, omitting 1862, he has since occupied that position. His knowledge of municipal matters, his solid common sense and good judgement combined with his genial, jovial disposition have made him a favorite among the members of the County Council, and his elevation to the position of Warden is a becoming recognition of the value of his services and his fitness for the position. Mr. Brown will, no doubt, fill the position acceptably in every respect, and will maintain its dignity and discharge its duties in a manner to justify the confidence his colleagues in the County Council have reposed in him.

Letters From Colorado.

The Invigorating Climate.

Number Three.

DEAR EXAMINER,—Several weeks have elapsed since I last wrote you—time which has passed very pleasantly with me, and, I must also say, very quickly. I have still an excellent account to give of Denver and its climate, and it is to this subject I shall apply myself in this letter.

I have now been several weeks in the city, at a season of the year when, in the East, the weather is at its worst, and I can truly say, to me, the sunshine here has been a marvel. I never cease to wonder at its continuance. With the exception of four days—a couple this week and the others in November—the weather has been simply beautiful. We have had two very light snow falls, scarcely enough to cover the ground—one on Christmas morning, which delighted every body, and one in the middle of January. In neither case did the snow remain long; with the bright rays of glorious Sol, that was impossible. The cold, hitherto, has never been intense—indeed, I have worn, as a sufficient wrap, a light summer overcoat, except when driving, ever since my arrival.

The mean annual temperature of the city is 53 7° and it has the reputation of being one of the healthiest cities in America, in spite of the fact that in hundreds of instances, annually, invalids are sent here only to die. The population of Denver is 100,000, and the annual death rate per thousand is just 10 50, considerably lower than that of Peterborough, notwithstanding the improvement for the past few years. The death rate of Baltimore, Detroit, Lowell, Brooklyn and Newark is just about double that of Denver, while in Chicago, Pittsburg, San Francisco and Milwaukee it ranges from about 18 to 19 per thousand. Out of 287 deaths from consumption last year, in 268 of the cases the disease was contracted elsewhere. Typhoid fever was prevalent in 1886, carrying off a total of 134 persons. This has been attributed to the extreme dryness of the summer and the want of a proper system of drainage.

Bulwer Lytton in his "Strange Story" tells of a sorcerer seeking the Elixir of life, but it fled back to the earth from which its material was drawn, to give bloom to the herbs and to attract myriads of happy insects, while the form of the life seeking sorcerer lay rigid and cold and stark.

Many a man has sought and found this elixir in the state of Colorado, and to day lives to enjoy life where he obtained it. It is not due to sorcerers or to witchcraft, it is in the air, blowing directly from the mountain peaks, it is in the golden sunshine, in the absence of moisture, in the extreme rarity of of the atmosphere, in the fact that life in the open air almost the whole year round is a glorious possibility. The temperature is of course variable, but it is a well established fact that in phthisical cases, Colorado's sunshine is of greater benefit than mild and balmy California. There are no miasmatic vapors, no languor, but a bracing, clear, and bright atmosphere, which makes life itself a pleasure.

Physicians who have made this subject a study invariably agree that a cool, dry, climate or a high altitude is much better for consumption than a warm, moist country or tropical lowlands. Dr. Williams says after analysing a total of 500 winters spent by about half as many consumptive patients in foreign climates, that it is conclusively proven that dry climates are the most likely to arrest disease. The addition of warmth in a moist climate only makes the damp tell more unfavorably, though a saline element and invigorating breeze do something to counteract the humid influence. Still even these do not place a moist climate on the same level as a dry one."

A temperature of 58° indoors is generally considered very comfortable in Denver, yet it would be disagreeably cold in Madeira. A gentlemen of my acquaintance tells me he can actually stand the winters, even at their coldest better in Colorado than in Florida.

It cannot of course be positively asserted that high altitudes give complete immunity from consumption. An observer on Pike's Peak in this State, which is over 14,000 feet high and can be seen for several hundred miles, may contract disease of the lungs and die of consumption. Still in high altitudes the disease is known to be rare.

Jourdanet places the line of immunity at 7,000 feet above the sea-level. He has had ten years practice in Mexico, a city of 270,000 inhabitants, and declares he met with remarkably few cases of consumption, and these chiefly among the indigenes. Dr. Davis, one of Denver's physicians, who lived nineteen years in Zacatecas, Mexico, 8,100 feet above the sea, says that in an extensive practice he did not average one case of consumption a year. The altitude of approximate immunity in this State is placed at 6,000 feet.

The effect of sunshine upon the invalid cannot be over-estimated. Now, on the average the sun shines brightly in this State about twenty nine days each month, and for some twelve years was invisible only thirty-six days, an average of three a year. This statement may be considered a simple exaggeration of the Western mind, but judging from my brief experience I am prepared to accept its truth—impossible as it may seem.

There are drawbacks to the city—and some of these I must mention before closing. It is a great mistake, nay, it is cruelty, to send invalids here in the very last stages. By all means permit such as these to remain at home and die in peace, surrounded by friends and familiar faces. Let it be remembered that the sudden change to a high altitude—for Denver is just a mile above the sea level, is exceedingly trying to those who are far gone in consumption. Moreover the dust and alkaline matter blown about the streets and the great smoke of the smelting furnaces, which is over the city sometimes like a large black cloud, make Denver at times by no means a desirable location for the weakly and suffering.

If they have means, let invalids seek health in some of the numerous small towns scattered through the state, and let not the comfortably nervous hope, in peculiar instances, of which the physician can advise them, to expect a radical cure of their complaint in this high altitude. Nothing could be worse for nervous people.

I have witnessed some sad instances of poor fellows sent here—a long weary journey, over 1000 miles from Chicago, nearly 2000 from New York—only to die, a few days or weeks after their arrival. One bright young fellow from Buffalo lived just four weeks and then succumbed, another was buried within a week of his arrival. Neither, of these had a blood relation near them in their last moments. No wonder, knowing what I do, I urge my broadest note of warning and say, what has never said often, "no climate, however excellent, can give hope when it is too late." With best wishes for 1888,

I am yours etc.,
W. C. BRADSHAW.

Literary Notes.

THE PANSY.—The January number of the "Pansy" is more than its name implies—it is a daisy, in full bloom of bright pictures and the most interesting reading for little people. While the reading is attractive and absorbing to the little folks, the moral tone accompanying it makes "Pansy," the Lothrop's delightful publication, a sine qua non in every home, where moral influence is sought to be conjoined with intellectual amusement and development. Boston: D. Lothrop Co.; only $1.00 per year, ten cents per number.

DOMINION ILLUSTRATED.—The current number, Jan. 28th, of this delightful high art publication is, in many respects, the best of an excellent series. It is exceeding rich in illustration, portraits of prominent individuals, pictures of public buildings and splendid scenery. The character of the letter press is in keeping with the high tone of the illustrations.

BEETON'S PUBLICATION.—The latest addition to Beeton's library of new novels is "Commodore Junk," by that charming writer, G. Manville Fenn. Price, 30 cents at the Peterborough Bookstore.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Rashes Like Spots of Measles. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like smallpox out all over my body, but thought no harm of it until at a time later on, when it began to look like sp ots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and established immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and the inflammation went by, and I have been CURED. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was certainly a bad one. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thanks to me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have had children with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Caterer Webb Fined—The Dominion Alliance—Alleged Customs Fraud.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Harry Webb, the caterer who furnished the Big Board of Trade dinner at which Lord Stanley and other notables were entertained, was yesterday fined $50 and costs for supplying wines at the feast. The Board of Trade paid the fine.

The annual convention of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance for the suppression of the liquor traffic was called to order in the Temperance Hall at 10.40 o'clock yesterday morning by President Howland. There were present about 30 members of the Alliance, including a dozen ladies working in the cause of temperance reform. Devotional exercises were led by Rev. Dr. Aylesworth, of St. Thomas. President Howland appointed the following Business Committee: Rev. W. Frindle, James Hughes, Rev. C. R. Morrow, C. W. Chadwick, Mrs. McDonell, F. S. Spence. The report of the Executive Committee for the past year was placed before the convention. The members of the Alliance are urged to use every effort to defeat the attempt of the friends of the liquor traffic to replace the Scott Act in certain counties in the Province. Mr. Baptie of Montreal, spoke briefly at the request of the President concerning the work of the Alliance in Montreal. The President's address was delivered at the afternoon session and a delegation from the W.C.T.U. presented the question of woman's suffrage to the consideration of the convention.

A summons for criminal libel was sworn out yesterday by Adam Armstrong, chairman of the license board, against W. F. Maclean of The World in connection with that paper's disclosures with relation to the license commissioners.

Two boys named Francis Jones and John Harmsley have escaped from the Victoria Industrial School at Minico. The police are looking for them.

The twentieth annual tournament of the Four Brothers' Curling Club for the Malcolm medal was played yesterday on Moss Park Rink. The following rinks of Brothers took part in the contest: Green Brothers, champions of last year, Strickland Brothers of Lansdowne, Gibsons, Rennies, Lambers, Malcolms, jr., and Malcolms, sr. The first draw was won by the Malcolm Bros., sr., Malcolm Bros., jr., Rennie Bros., the Gibson Bros. a bye. The second draw was captured by the Malcolm Bros. sr., and the Rennie Bros., who will play the final game Friday.

Mr. John H. Ramsden, reeve of East Gwillimbury, was elected warden of York yesterday.

Mr. Hugh Sutherland, president of the Hudson Bay Railway, arrived in town from New York yesterday morning and leaves for Winnipeg to-day. Mr. Sutherland has been spending some time in New York and Washington in connection with the Hudson Bay enterprise. He says the company have all the money they require to construct and maintain the road—$15,000,000—and that it is owing to the opposition of the Manitoba Government that its construction and efficient communication has been impeded. Mr. Sutherland has confidence that the H. B. R. will yet prove a success.

Canon Knox Little, the High Church missioner, concluded his series of services yesterday morning at 7.30 at St. Luke's Church. His address was brief and earnest. In it he reviewed the work he had done in Toronto and anticipated lasting and eternal good therefrom.

The case of Rev. C. O. Johnston, the colored minister of Hamilton, against McGaw & Wilcox of the Queen's Hotel for damages for having been refused accommodation at that hostelry was postponed at the civil assizes yesterday till next court. If all costs are not paid into court within one month the action will be dismissed.

That there is serious trouble between the wholesale hardware trade of Toronto and the Customs Department there does not seem to be longer any doubt, but the special officers of the department who are conducting the present proceedings act with so much secrecy that the reporters have been unable to get at the true inwardness of the trouble. The Montreal papers, however, are devoting a great deal of space to the Toronto troubles, and they claim that a city firm, by a series of manipulations of their American invoices, has succeeded in defrauding the customs out of thousands of dollars of revenue and are thus enabled to undersell the honest importer who pays the legitimate duty on everything he imports. Mr. J. F. Wolfe of Montreal is the special officer or "detective" of the department who is overhauling the Toronto house in question.

Mr. Angus Peter Macdonald, who has been before the people of Canada and a portion of the United States for a long series of years as a contractor on an extensive scale, died at 7 o'clock last evening at his home, No. 1 Rosholme-road, in his 76th year. The immediate cause of his death was paralysis of the brain, and the deceased gentleman had only been confined to his house for about a week.

The Criminal Assizes opened yesterday before Justice Rose, who delivered an exhaustive address to the grand jury. The docket, if not lengthy, is important, and includes the Barnett case, the Dr. Valentine criminal malpractice case, the W. F. Maclean criminal libel against H. A. Massey and others.

A Noted Forger Captured.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Captain Lindsay of Pinkerton's Detective Agency with Frederick Jarvis, a detective inspector of Scotland Yard, arrested in this city last night Thomas Barton of Macclesfield, Eng., who forged his stepmother's name to stock certificates of the London and Northwestern Railway amounting to £35,000. Barton was taken before a magistrate to-day. He confessed. He left England in 1880 for Canada, passed into Dakota and went thence to Chicago, thence to New York and finally to Philadelphia, where he was left without a penny. Detective Jarvis stated that he had forty-four warrants against Barton, covering a great series of forgeries. Barton's forgeries began in 1874 and continued until 1885. He forged his stepmother's signature to stock certificates because he had overdrawn his own bank account. He hoped by a lucky stroke to retrieve his fortune and to make good the loss to his step-mother before discovery. Barton was held for extradition.

Kelsey.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Piles! Piles! Blinding Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, worst at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. SWAYNE & Son, Philadelphia. Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Diphtheria

"Last January," says J. N. Temple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in Gold. Tillie White, Meaford, Ont. 2w4d

LIFE ASSURANCE COM'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,126 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,540 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,266 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assur. risks.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,452 99	$1,140,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	26,590 67	195,195 29	1,167,398 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,284 21	3,662,924 99
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 99	475,977 24	4,029,273 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 45	$10,373,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

Council Chamber, Jan. 23, 1889.
The report was adopted.

NON RESIDENT TAXES

Moved by Mr. Moloney seconded by Mr. Sanderson, that this council, having learned that the bill presented at the last session the local Legislature, providing for the transferring of the collection of the non-resident taxes from the county Treasurer, to the treasurers of the several township and village corporations, will be re-introduced at the next session of the local Legislature, and being satisfied that the present system of collecting taxes on non-resident land and conducting the sales for taxes is satisfactory and in the interest of the township and village municipalities, and that a change such as is proposed, would be prejudical to the interests of the local municipalities and would interfere with the ease and convenience with which searches can now be made with reference to one central office, and also probably effect the sales for taxes; be it therefore resolved that a memorial be presented to the Legislative Assembly, praying that no change in the direction indicated be made in existing law, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the different County Councils, asking them to co-operate in opposing the proposed change in the law.—Carried.

The Council adjourned.

At the Four Brothers Curling Club tournament in Toronto yesterday, the Strickland brothers of Lakefield were defeated. At the annual meeting Mr. R. C. Strickland was elected Vice-President of the Club.

The curling rink is the centre of attraction for curlers to-day, and excitement is running high. The championship of group No. 3 is being settled between the half dozen clubs comprising the group. Play has been going on all day. This morning Bobcaygeon beat Millbrook by a majority of 10 shots, and Campbellford man ged to get ahead of Lakefield by 3 points only. This afternoon Keene and Port Perry are tussling for supremacy, and at three o'clock the Port led by about 10 shots. The winners in the primary competition, Campbellford, Bobcaygeon and probably Port Perry, will play off this afternoon and to-night.

An Evening With the Poets.

The programme rendered by the Endeavor Society Monday evening in the lecture room of Charlotte street Methodist church was full of interest. Miss Robinson ably presided at the piano. The hymn "Gospel Bells" was sung by the Society, after which a reading from Shakespeare, entitled "Prince Arthur," was read in good style by Sergt.-Major Rundle. "A Smack in School" was the title of a humorous recitation by Master Willie Tebb. Miss Brundrette and Major Rundle sang "What are the Wild Waves Saying?" and it was so well rendered that it received an encore, entitled, "The Larboard Watch." "An old Hat" was ably read by Mr. Barrie, and President A. Tebb gave an admirable recitation, "A Soldier's Sacrifice," by Malroe. Mrs. Price read "Rosabelle," by Sir Walter Scott, in good style. Mr. Rowse, after making some remarks anent the different posts, concluded the programme by giving Thos. R. Aldrich's beautiful poem, "The Face Against the Pane." Owing to great preparations being put forward to make the Sabbath school anniversary eminently successful, the Society postponed the debate with the Y.P.A. of the George street church until February 18th.

Mr. Long's Reply.

As the EXAMINER published the letter of Mr. G. Mercer Adam anent the statements made by Mr. J. H. Long at the recent Imperial Federation meeting, it is only right that we should give room to the following reply by Mr. Long:—

"Renegade Canadians."

To the Editor of the Mail.

SIR,—In reply to Mr. Mercer Adam's letter, which appeared in the Mail of Monday, and which deals with my speech at the Imperial Federation meeting held last week in Peterborough, I would say:—

1. I did not accuse Mr. Adam of being an annexationist; in no way did I connect his name with annexation. My words were, in this particular, incorrectly reported.

2. I made no reference whatever to Commercial Union or Unrestricted Reciprocity. Mr. Adam's remarks under this head are therefore, so far as they purport to apply to me, entirely irrelevant.

3. I did say that Mr. Adam and others (whom I named) are "renegade Canadians," who bid us give up our allegiance and break away from the British Empire. These charges I repeat, for they are true. Although in his letter he says, "As a British subject I am, however, as much enamoured as is Mr. Long or any member of the League of the sentiment underlying Imperial Federation," yet again and again has Mr. Adam advocated Canadian Independence. And anyone who, knowing the sentiments and the expressed intentions of Americans towards Canada, encourages separation from Britain is, in my humble opinion, not only a disloyal British subject, but also "a renegade Canadian," and this latter for the simple reason that his common sense must teach him that separation means annexation.

The truth is that self-styled men of letters and disappointed writers are, as a general thing, deficient in astuteness, but not at all deficient in vanity. Shrewd Americans amuse themselves, therefore, by playing with their vanity and laughing at their simplicity.

Yours, etc.,
J. H. LONG.

Special meetings are being carried on in the lecture room of the Methodist church, and Mr. Burns and the members of the congregation are using every means to bring the people of Millbrook into the right path.

Mr. Long, whose store was recently destroyed by fire, intends to open out in the premises occupied by F. G. Turner as a drug store. The latter is going to move into the new Mulligan block.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The first meeting of the municipal council of the Township of Ennismore was held in the Town hall on Monday 21st., Jan. 1889. There were present:—Mr. William Crough, Reeve, in the chair; Messrs. John O'Donoghue, Daniel Shanahan, John Young and Michael Perdue, Councillors. All the members took the declaration of office. The minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. A bylaw was passed for appointing the different township officers for the present year, namely, Stephen O'Reilly, township clerk:—John N. Telford, treasurer; Paul Costello, assessor; Thomas O'Connor and Francis Maloney, auditors. The council authorized the clerk to notify certain parties to remove their fence and all obstructions off the communication road between lots 8 and 9, con. 7; also the fence and obstructions on the road between lots 7 and 8 in the 9th concession of said township. The council then adjourned.

Annual Officers' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the officers of the 57th Battalion was held in the orderly room of the drill shed last night. Col. J. Z. Rogers occupied the chair, and there were present Major Bell, Secretary-Treasurer, Captains Langford, Hill, Denniston, Brennan and Millar; Lieutenants Mason and Lee; Quartermaster Peck; Sergt.-Major Rundle. The report of the Secretary-Treasurer showed that the Battalion fund at present amounted to $751. A Regimental committee was appointed, composed of Major Bell and Captains Hill and Denniston. A band committee and a committee to draft rules to regulate meetings of the officers, were also appointed. It was decided by the officers to order three hundred leggings for the battalion. These will not only improve the appearance of the men but will enable them to march out in muddy weather without further inconvenience than soiled boots. It was also decided to hold an officers' garden party some time during the summer to contribute to the fund. The prospects of a new drill shed and armory were discussed, and it was decided to ask the town council to assist in the building if necessary.

A Disappointment.

Rev. Mr. Dewey very ill! The many friends who have been anticipating the pleasure of hearing Mr. Dewey on Thursday (tomorrow) evening, will be grieved to hear that a telegram received last night announces that gentleman very ill with nervous prostration and inflammation. Those who have bought tickets for the address and song service will please hold them until further notice, as it is hoped Mr. Dewey will speedily recover, and meet the engagement at an early date. The W.C.T.U. and "Y" express sincere regret for this disappointment.

CRAZED BY UNREQUITED LOVE.

Beautiful Florence Hoffa's Passion and Its Cowardly, Undeserving Object,

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Florence Hoffa, a finely educated and handsome young woman was yesterday sent to an insane asylum under circumstances that will set the whole state to talking. Six years ago she met and fell in love with the son of Justice of the Supreme Court Williams, who was then a student at the University of Pennsylvania. He went home after he graduated, and she has become virtually deranged over her unrequited love for him. On Thursday and twice on Friday she was arrested, at his complaint, for loitering around his drug store, which, she only lately learned he was keeping in this city. Young Williams has become very much dissipated, and, on Wednesday night before the first arrest, induced the girl to enter his rooms and kept her there all night. Three doctors decided that she was insane and she was committed. Miss Hoffer comes from a distinguished Southern family, and her father was assassinated by the Ku-Klux after the war.

A GLYDESDALE COLONY.

Visit to the "Lowlands" Clydesdale Stock Farm.

A Fine Stud of Fine Animals—High Class Horseflesh—Origin of the Business—Reference to the Stock, Stables, Etc.

Seven miles southwestwards from town, behind a spanking "Lowlands" chestnut brought a representative of the EXAMINER on Tuesday to "Lowlands Stock Farm," the most important Clydesdale stud farm east of Ontario county, the property of Messrs. Dundas & Grandy, Springville. This farm consists of 350 acres of superb grasing land, well watered, a spring creek doubling on itself and flowing through it twice. This stock farm is situated at the village of Springville, Ontario, midway between, as regards distance, and two miles from Fraserville and Cavanville, stations on the G.T.R. and C.P.R. respectively, thus presenting exceptional facilities for shipping stock.

Before going through the stables a word as to the history of this enterprise, which has worked and is working so great and rapid a change in the heavy horse stock of this district. Mr. R. D. Dundas, the younger member of the firm, a young man of 28 years—full of "horse" enthusiasm, with an excellent judgment, with an indomitable spirit of enterprise—something over three years ago was anxious to secure a Clydesdale stud-horse. A Canadian breeder asking him, as he thought, too high a price, he resolved to go to the "native heath" of the Clydesdale, Scotland, and he went and made the first of the three purchases and importations of Clydesdales the firm of Dundas & Grandy has brought to Ontario These three shipments include about thirty thoroughbred sires and fillies, and have of the horse stock of Ontario, not to ape of the far more important feature of the improvement of farm stock in the vicinity, In the single township of Cavan there are owned a dozen of these thoroughbred Clydesdale fillies and mares for breeding purposes, besides the numerous gets of their thoroughbred sires, numerously and widely distributed.

The present stud of Lowlands Stock Farm, consists of six two-year stallions, six yearling fillies and three two-year old fillies. This stud contains the cream of the old country stock farms, where the improvement of the Clydesdale has been an engrossing industry, little short of a mania, for over a century. The aim of Messrs. Dundas & Grandy as modestly stated in the introduction to their catalogue, is "to improve the breed of horses, and in making our selections we buy only those that are sound, active, well descended, healthy and with good constitutions." Any one visiting their stables will see that their aim has been reached—that portion of their claim to having done so, which cannot be seen by inspection, being possible of verification by reference to the stud book. In selecting the present stud, it is plain that great care has been exercised in regard to "quality," a term now severely insisted upon by the best horsemen, as of vastly more importance than mere mass. When one notes the excellence of the legs, pasterns and feet, and the accompanying requisite of good action, the verdict that Dundas & Grundy's stud for building up one of the best studs on this continent, is the only one that can be arrived at.

The animals are kept unhaltered at Lowlands stables in capacious box stalls, 13x17 feet, with clay floors, overlying a stratum of cobble stones. All the stalls are well lighted and ventilated. The first animal led out for inspection was the stallion "Glenorchy" [716] (5820), sire Broadalbane (1978), bay in colour with three white ankles and stripe on face, bred by Wm. Stewart, Third-part Hall, Howwood, Scotland. He is a fine mover with grand style, beautiful legs, feet and pasterns, and flat clean bone. In June 1887, first prize at West Kilbride, Scotland, winner of first at show Canadian Clydesdale Association, Toronto, 1888. "Mariner" [718] (6073), sire Lord Hopetoun (2965), is a light bay, three white feet and stripe on face, bred by Wm. Thompson, North Ballieston, by Glasgow. Mariner is a grand colt with lots of bone, good shape, high quality, fine style and good movement. He was third winner at Clydesdale Association Show, Toronto, 1888. "Kilmaurs" (5912), sire Lord Erskine, (1774) Vol. iv, bay, white face, white hind legs, fore legs partly white, bred by Thos. Cochan Dykehead, Kilmaurs, Ayrshire, Scotland. Kilmaurs is a wonderfully strong colt of unusual quality, good head and neck, deep shoulder and body, majestic appearance, a fine attractive animal altogether. "Macnair" [717], (6062), sire Macgregor, (1487), light brown, white stripe on face, four black legs, bred by John Crawford, Milnetonefoot, West Kilbride, Ayrshire, Scotland. "Macnair" is short in the legs, with good feet, not large but well knit, the right stamp of a good horse. "General Wolfe" [844] (5800), sire "St. Lawrence" (3220), brown with white hind feet, bell on face, bred by Geo. McLaws, Inchney, New Monkland, Lanarkshire, Scotland. "General Wolfe" is a colt of great promise, with size, substance and style, short back, heavy body, grand quarters and fine action. "General Arthur" (Vol. XI.), sire "Doncaster" (238) Vol. I; dark brown, three black legs, one white behind, blaze on face, bred by Thos. Arthur, Carlton Mains, Girvan, Scotland. Good quality, good bone, feet and pasterns. He is own brother to "General Neil" (1145), acknowledged to have few equals in the whole of Scotland as a show and breeding horse.

But it is impossible to enter into details in respect to all the members of the stud; the above refers to the stallions. The fillies, all splendid thoroughbreds of equally fine breeding with the stallions, must be content with mere mention. They comprise six yearlings and three two-year-olds. They are: "Maid of Bardraing" [659], sire, "Sir Hildebrand" (4024); "Hatton Fancy" [658], sire, "Sir Hildebrand" (4024); "Maggie Brown" (Vol. XI., C.S.B.), sire, "Sir Hildebrand" (4024); "Forest Queen" [657], sire, "Sir Hildebrand" (4024); "Lothian Gem" [656], sire, "West Lothian" (4110); "Jeannie Howie," sire, "Lord Hopetoun" (2965); "Jeannie Rae" [654], sire, "Old Times" (578); "Lady Renwick" [655], sire, "Lord Erskine" [1744].

The above bare details give a very inadequate description of these noble beasts. They possess in common a thoroughbred family tree, stretching back for generations, and that now flows or has flowed in the veins of the heavy horse creation. They are all noted prize winners both by themselves and through their ancestors; in fact their first, second and third prize cards would, if put to such use, make a "crazy patchwork" basket for any one of them. Persons interested are referred for fuller particulars to the tasteful "Catalogue of Registered Clydesdale Stallions and Fillies" printed for Messrs Dundas & Grandy by the EXAMINER printing establishment

By importing both stallions and fillies, this firm will establish the breeding of thoroughbred Clydesdales on an extensive scale. For this they are well situated. With 350 acres of first class, well-watered grasing land, and the fine stables they now possess, they can do much, but there is in course of erection, a splendid stock barn 50x100 feet, after the model of that of Mr. Thomas Shaw, editor of the Canadian Live Stock Journal, Hamilton. This, when built, will be the best system of stables, east of Ontario county, in this province, and combined with the present premises will furnish stabling for fifty animals, the average of stock farms being from sixteen to twenty horses. Messrs. Dundas & Grandy

HE OFFERED HER HIS ARM.

A Heinous Misdemeanor Which Outraged the Lowell Beacons.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 23.—The branch Baptist Church has withdrawn fellowship from Oscar R. Barclay, one of the oldest members, on the ground of indiscretion and "improper intimacy" with a young woman member of the church, who formerly occupied a room in his house. Poor Barclay is sorely wounded, and a great deal of his unrest is due to the activity of female tongues. The charges were made about six months ago and have been held in abeyance until last evening. Then Mr. Barclay was asked to make a confession, but declared that he had none to make nor any wrong to acknowledge.

The standing committee, therefore, reported that as no confession had been made by Barclay of the alleged indiscretions, the hand of "Christian fellowship" be withdrawn from him. Friends of Mr. Barclay made earnest remarks in his behalf and the meeting reached an affecting stage, several of the female members of the flock shedding tears.

One of the charges alleged that Mr. Barclay had been guilty of "improper intimacy" with the young woman who roomed at his house in offering her his arm to escort her home from a prayer meeting through a lonely distriot of the suburbs. Another charged was based on an allegation that he had been in the young woman's room at night. He states that he did enter the young woman's room one night, when told by his wife that there were thieves about the house. He entered the room, crossed it and looked out of the window on the opposite side. The young woman was sleeping and knew nothing of the intrusion until told by Mrs. Barclay, who said her husband was there only a minute.

Another charge is that he himself has told of watching female shadows at night on the curtains of a house near his own. Mr. Barclay says he never made such a statement and never performed such an act. When the charges were first brought W. S. McKillop, recently elected deacon, is said to have stated that he considered a married man who gave his arm to another woman when walking home with her, or who walked with a woman not his wife, guilty of adultery. The young woman in the case is quite well known and bears an irreproachable character. She left Barclay's house when the talk was first started, hoping to quiet the wagging tongues of the gossiping females in the church.

MONTREAL'S BIG BANQUET

BRILLIANT INAUGURAL OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Over 300 Guests Present—Speeches by the Governor-General, Sir John. Gen. Middleton and Others.

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—The inaugural dinner of the Montreal Board of Trade was held to-night at the Windsor Hotel and was altogether a most brilliant affair. There were nearly 300 guests present and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. Hon. Senator Drummond, the president, presided, and among the guests were His Excellency the Governor-General, Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Hector Langevin, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. G. E. Foster, Hon. John Costigan and Captain Bagot, A.D.C.

After the loyal toasts were proposed and heartily drunk the toast to the Governor General was proposed, to which he replied. He spoke of the influence Boards of Trade exercised, and especially that of Montreal. Of the future of Canada he would not speak, for it was not his province to enter into politics. For our neighbors to the south he had the highest respect and admiration for their energy and ability and their determination to have their own way, though in some cases such an action was impossible. He paid a high tribute to the unanimity with which Canadians worked for the future and progress of their country.

Sir John Macdonald responded to the toast, "Her Majesty's Ministers," and made a most effective speech. He had been warned against entering into politics, but he would say that after their long term of power it was a gratification to him to receive such a welcome. He would defend the Government from charges of corruption and bribery. They had been accused of bribing the country by building public works; he admitted the fact but denied the inference. He supposed they would be accused of bribing Montreal by assuming the channel debt. Canada was satisfied with her present condition and had no desire to change her political allegiances.

"The Dominion and Provincial Legislatures" were proposed and Lt.-Col. Ouimet Speaker of the House of Commons, and J. J. Curran, M. P. responded. Col. Ouimet thanked the members in his own name and in that of those who spoke his own language and Mr. Curran made a very brilliant hit in a patriotic speech.

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers" was proposed and Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir Fred Middleton replied. Sir Adolphe made a splendid defence of the militia system, which he said showed itself equal to any emergency within the limits which the money granted imposed. It was equal to any force of soldiery and had shown itself something more than a force on paper. They had stood the test and were not found wanting in the hour of the country's need.

General Sir Fred Middleton made a speech characteristic of a soldier. The militia would do its duty and the country could rely on it for defence in time trouble, and for an energetic effort in the country's cause in time of peace. The toast to "Commerce, Agriculture and Manufactures" was responded to by Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance, in a speech bristling with statistics and facts of the utmost importance.

Other toasts were "Ships and Railways," "Sister Boards of Trade," "The Mayor and Corporation," "The Press" and "The Ladies."

MONTREAL MATTERS.

Sentence Asked for Defaulter Parent—Gangs of American Pickpockets.

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—Judge Taillet rendered judgment to-day in the two cases of Henderson Black and John Black against A. Gilbertson & Co. They were actions of damages for $25,000 on account of false arrest on a charge of conspiracy. The Court granted plaintiffs each $150 damages.

Argument was heard to-day before the Court of Appeals in the case of Senator Trudel v. Le Monde for libel. The plaintiff asks for leave to appeal from judgment of Judge Johnston allowing a plea of justification.

A petition asking for leniency has been signed and forwarded to Ottawa by the friends of Parent, ex-cashier of the Hochelaga Bank, who express confidence that his sentence will be commuted as an early date.

But for the temporary dyke St. Gabriel Ward would be flooded, there being six and a half feet of water against the dyke.

His Excellency the Governor-General was to-day presented with the address passed at the last meeting of the Diocesan Synod. His Excellency stated that he could not sufficiently express his feelings at the honor which they did him. He spoke in high terms of the work done in this country by the English Church, which was so differently situated from that in the Mother Country. He then spoke of the hospitality of Canada, which had become proverbial and of which he had already seen so much that he would greatly regret to leave should it be his fate to be recalled to-morrow, finishing by reciprocating their wish that God's blessing might rest upon the work which he had to perform here as representative of Her Majesty the Queen.

The reception in honor of Sir Hector Langevin at the drill shed this afternoon was attended by 200 prominent citizens.

Rev. Canon Belcher, rector of Grace Church, died here this afternoon at the age of 61 years. The deceased clergyman had been rector of Grace Church for 18 years. He was born in London, Eng., and came from the diocese of Huron here.

The police have been warned that two American gangs of pickpockets have arrived to work the Carnival.

A serious fire took place in Messrs. Ray & Beaudin's dry goods store this evening. Before the blaze was put out $5000 damage was done. The fire took from the stove in the office.

Terrible Murder in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Michael McGarrick, driver of a coal wagon, quarreled last evening with the driver of a baker's wagon with which his wheels had locked. Getting the worst of a fistiuff contest he procured a heavy shovel, but his opponent had disappeared in the crowd which had gathered. McGarrick then turned upon an innocent young man, pursued him with threats to kill and knocked him under the wheels of a Chicago and Evanston train which dragged the unfortunate youth several hundred yards, killing and horribly mutilating him. McGarrick was arrested.

The Woman Suffragists.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—In the convention of the Woman Suffragists yesterday Mrs. Eliza Orchard Conner of Washington, predicted that before many years there would be female members of Congress. In the speaker's opinion the one-legged method of running the world must come to an end.

Miss Mary Clay of Kentucky said the condition of woman was no better than slavery.

Fred Douglas said he was convinced of the justness, wisdom and expediency of conferring suffrage upon women. Women were largely instrumental in bringing about the freedom of his race.

Mrs. Rebecca Wright Consal, introduced as the woman who sent Sheridan information on which the battle of Winchester was won, described how she communicated with Sheridan.

Mrs. Helen M. Gougar of Indiana arraigned public men of both parties but as she made no reference to woman suffrage, Miss Anthony interrupted her.

THEY ARE BOTH IN TRADE.

MAYOR ERRATT AND DR. VALADE BLACKBALLED.

A Social Sensation at the Capital—An Old Libel Case Before the Supreme Court—Seeking to Repeal the Scott Act.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—In the Supreme Court to-day the case of The Mail Printing Company v. Lafleamme, the last case on the Quebec list, was taken up and not concluded when the court rose. This is an old case arising out of strictures passed by The Mail on Mr. Lafleamme in connection with the Jacques Cartier election in 1878, when one of the ballot boxes was stuffed. Judgment was given against The Mail for $10,000. Appellants claim a new trial on the grounds of excessive damages and of improper exclusion and rejection of evidence, as well as the absence of an important witness. On this latter point the court intimated that although it might be good ground for postponing the trial, it was not good ground for upsetting the verdict.

Quite a social sensation has been caused by the blackballing yesterday by the newly organized Ottawa Club of Mayor Erratt and his late opponent, Dr. Valade. Two friends, both members of the club, made a bet of a champagne lunch on the late mayoralty election and the loser proposed as a good idea that both the successful and the defeated candidate should be invited to the lunch, which was done. The lunch was at the club and in the course of conversation it was suggested that they should allow themselves to be put up for membership. They consented, were duly nominated and no opposition was anticipated until a day or two ago, when it began to be whispered that some of the high-toned members objected to the two gentlemen proposed because they were both "in trade," Mr. Erratt keeping a furniture store and Dr. Valade being interested in a chemist shop. The rule of the club is that if one-seventh of the ballots cast are adverse the candidate is excluded. The ballot was a joint one, and the box, it is understood, contained about 125 balls, of which nineteen were black, and both candidates were therefore defeated. There is very strong feeling in the club over the matter, it being claimed that the rejection is due to a small clique of civil servants who set up as "exclusives" and hold that no "tradesman" should be admitted to the club. A large number of civil servants are members of the club, but in the present temper of those members who do not belong to the service it is extremely doubtful whether any more civil servants will be admitted.

The Department of Justice is advised that Godin, the halfbreed wanted in Montana for murder, has left Regina for Helena in charge of Sheriff Jefferies. The impression prevails that Godin will escape the gallows, as a new trial has been granted and evidence has been secured showing that the circumstantial evidence upon which he was convicted can be overruled.

The petition for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in the County of Lanark has been received by the Department of State. A largely signed petition in favor of the repeal of the act in Carleton County is now on exhibition in the sheriff's office and will be presented soon, as the time required by law has elapsed. The act is said to have become very unpopular in the county and its repeal is looked on as certain.

The report of the Department of Public Works has been issued. The amount expended in public buildings in the Lower Provinces was over $76,000, Quebec over $200,000, Ontario over $300,000, including expenditure on public buildings at Ottawa.

The revenue from Government telegraph exclusive of lines in the Northwest was $7647, against an expenditure of $19,753.

The number of official letters received by the department last year was 10,493 and letters sent 5343. These figures show a decrease from the previous year owing to the adoption of a new system of filing.

Since Confederation $161,372,678 has been expended on construction and improvements in Canada. The total amount expended for the year ending June 30, 1888, was $3,428,943, the amount devoted to construction being $2,672,298.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—John Curran Grainger, who for twenty years or so has been well known in police circles, but was by no means a vicious criminal, expired at the House of Refuge to-day. He had reached the great age of 95 years.

Ernest Ingersoll, the well-known American litterateur and traveler, is in town.

Fire in Mr. Tomlinson's barn, King-street east, last night kindled a lot of hay and straw, making a big blaze, but the loss was only about $150.

The Samoan Affair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Senator Sherman, this morning, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported an amendment to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill designed to protect the interests of the United States in Samoa; for the execution of the obligations and the protection of the interests of the United States, existing under the treaty between the United States and the Government of the Samoan Islands, $500,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be expended under the direction of the President.

Died in Church.

MITCHELL, Jan. 23.—Mrs. Ruth Woodger, wife of Mr. William Woodger, an aged member of the Main-street Church, died suddenly just before the services commenced last evening. She left her home in good spirits and in her usual health, walked to the church, shook hands with the lady who sat next to her who enquired about her health. Her reply was: "I feel pretty well but a little tired," and within ten minutes after uttering these words her spirit took its flight.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23.—But little interest is taken in the Provencher election and the chances are in favor of Lariviere.

Arch Wilson, a bricklayer employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, is missing.

Gov. Schultz continues to improve.

Friends of Greenway are reported to have been trying to secure an organ, but negotiations with The Sun and The Free Press have fallen through.

The Old Candidates in Haldimand.

CAYUGA, Jan. 23.—Nominations for the vacancy in the Dominion House for Haldimand, caused by the unseating of Dr. Montague, took place here to-day. Dr. Montague will again contest the riding in the Conservative interest and his old opponent, Mr. C. W. Coulter, will carry the Liberal flag.

Lost Control of His Engine.

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—The woman killed at last evening's railway accident has been identified as Henrietta Boissonneau, aged 60 years, of Grand Ligne. The engineer, Atchison, says that he lost control of his engine and could not stop it, owing to the slippery condition of the rails. It is believed that he has cleared out.

Four hundred families will leave Limerick to day for Buenos Ayres. They are going despite repeated warnings from the Bishop of Limerick.

It was reported at Ottawa last night that the collector of customs at Halifax has been dismissed for permitting American vessels to tranship cargo.

The British veterans of the war of 1812 have been rapidly dying off lately. In Ontario and Quebec there are only 105 left, 78 having died within the past decade.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN TALKS.

BIRMINGHAM ACCORDS HIM AN ENTHUSIASTIC HEARING.

The Fishery Question and Irish Affairs Discussed—An Ovation to Editor O'Brien—Moonlighter Tobin Testifies.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Chamberlain addressed a meeting at Birmingham to-night and met with an enthusiastic reception. Mrs. Chamberlain occupied a seat on the platform. Mr. Chamberlain referred to the rejected fishery treaty. The treaty had been rejected by a strict party vote and he was not disposed to over-estimate the importance of that vote. He was convinced that the feeling of cordial friendship between the two peoples was so great and firm that nothing would be permitted long to interfere with it. [Cheers.]

During his absence on his second fortunate visit to the United States—[cries of "hear, hear"]—he had followed closely events in Parliament. What struck him most was the remarkable diminution in prominence of the Irish question. Doubtless the improved condition of Ireland, largely due to the wise and firm administration of Mr. Balfour, had contributed to keep down the clamor of the Parnellites. He believed that henceforth the Gladstonian platform would give prominence to questions upon which the Liberals as formerly might agree.

Moonlighters' Misdeeds.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Before the Parnell Commission to-day Dennis Tobin deposed that he was a member of the Kilconoly band of moonlighters. He said that when the members of the band were sworn the leader told them that by order of the League tenants who paid their rents, were to be herded. The moonlighters were ranged in divisions, each division receiving orders from a captain, who also furnished the men with arms. The arms were hidden when not in use. The moonlighters were paid for committing outrages. Witness' set received £3 for making a raid on the cattle of an obnoxious farmer and at another time they got 7s. 6d. each for slaughtering cattle on Miss Thompson's farm. Tobin recounted a succession of similar misdeeds in which he took part, detailing them without exhibiting the smallest sign of regret. His evidence regarding moonlighters differed from that of other informers, who have generally described the raiders as fortuitous, unrelated groups. Tobin alleges that the Kerry moonlighters were an organized body, working under recognized rules and with a specific constitution.

Cross-examined by Michael Davitt the witness said that the raids were not made for the purpose of getting cheap beef—they were moonlight affairs under orders. He had been in prison for assault, but had never been convicted of theft. He was under police protection, but he denied that his evidence was the result of police suggestion.

Prophet O'Brien Speaks.

DUBLIN, Jan. 23.—Wm. O'Brien, whose trial begins to-morrow, arrived at Clonmel to-night. An enormous crowd gathered and accorded him an ovation. One thousand torchbearers accompanied by six bands paraded in his honor. Mr. O'Brien addressed the crowd. He said that the results of the Govan contest and the county council elections in London showed that at the next special election the evil brood of coercionists would vanish like unclean spirits at the dawn of day.

Late London Gossip.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Mr. Smalley cables from London: Mr. Dadabhai Naoroji, whom Lord Salisbury indiscreetly called a black man, is now being completely whitewashed. A dinner given him at the National Liberal Club brought together a number of persons of distinction. Lord Rapers, who did something (unwittingly) to unsettle the foundations of the British empire in India, presided and spoke. Mr. Naoroji spoke, Frederic Harrison and others spoke, all in one tone. All these gentlemen seem disposed to apply the principles of the English parliamentary system to India with its 200,000,000 of orientals, who differ in race, traditions, sympathies and many other things from each other as much as from the English.

In Edward Pierrepont's interesting account of the North American Review of his interview with Lord Beaconsfield on the Irish question has been reprinted here. Some of Lord Beaconsfield's friends thought at first Mr. Pierrepont must have misunderstood what was said, but it has now been pointed out that these declarations, with all their home rule flavor, are in the same tone with what Mr. Disraeli said in the early part of his career. If he took different views of this question at different times he has had a still more illustrious imitator.

Another memorial to Matthew Arnold is proposed. Friends especially interested in his educational work are raising funds to establish Arnold prizes in literature for distribution to pupils in the schools of Westminster. The subscription in charge of Lord Chief Justice Coleridge finally amounted, I believe, to over $26,000.

The Murder Mania in Jamaica.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Sun says that the crews of the various steamers plying between this city and Kingston, Jamaica, are telling fearful stories of crimes committed in Spanishtown, a village near Kingston. Three negresses of the lowest and most abandoned class have been murdered and mutilated exactly as in the London cases. Pinned to the body of the first victim by the blade of a small penknife was a card with this inscription:

Jack the Ripper. Fourteen more, then I quit.

The first murder took place Nov. 29 last, and the third body was found the Friday before New Year's day.

A Double Tragedy.

QUINCY, Ill., Jan. 23.—Lafayette Frederick shot his wife dead here yesterday and then committed suicide. He traveled for a St. Louis medicine house. His wife came here to visit his sister. Five minutes before the crime the couple were laughing and talking with each other. No cause is known for the murder.

Ashburnham Brevities.

Council Meeting—At Home—Oyster Spread.

At the inaugural meeting of the village council Monday evening all the members took their seats after having taken the required declaration. Mr. John Baraham, Reeve, in the chair. The members are, Messrs. H. Calcutt, J. T. Craig, R. Tivey and H. Marshall.

The following appointments were made:—

AUDITORS.—Messrs. J. J. Rooney and F. Adams, at a remuneration of $3 each.

CHARITY COMMITTEES.—South Ward, Messrs. Calcutt and Craig; North Ward, Messrs. Tivey and Marshall.

ASSESSORS.—Messrs. Jonathan Stephenson and Frederick Dover, at a salary of $40 each.

SANITARY INSPECTOR.—John Craig, salary $25.

COLLECTOR.—Mr. Absalom Ingram, salary $60.

CONSTABLE AND ROAD OVERSEER.—Mr. John Craig, salary $200.

MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER.—Dr. Clarke, salary $50.

The Treasurer's salary was increased $10.

Mrs. Catherine McAuliffe was refunded $10 on her taxes.

The whole council were on motion appointed a street and bridge committee, with Mr. Calcutt chairman.

The taxes of Mr. Wm. Faint were reduced to exempt the buildings and machinery placed upon his property since the fire which destroyed the factory.

The Board of Health will comprise the following:—Mr. Jno. Baraham, Reeve, Mr. John Wood, village clerk, Messrs. Tivey, Hamilton, Marshal and Wright.

The following accounts were paid:—

Clerk, expenses for Municipal Elections	$35 00
Samuel Shannon, charity accounts	5 00
Sundry charity accounts	15 00

The council then adjourned.

An "At Home" was held in the Methodist parsonage on Tuesday night. In point of numbers it was not so successful as previous ones which was owing, no doubt, to the counter attractions in town, but in every other way it was everything that could be desired. A splendid programme was furnished, consisting of readings, recitations, songs and instrumental music. The programme was divided into two parts, and during the intermission a splendid tea was served by the ladies, to which ample justice was done by every one present. The younger portion of the audience remained for some time after the concert was ended, and amused themselves immensely by games and plays of different kinds. The host and hostess, the Rev. A. C. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, did everything to make the evening a pleasant one and their efforts were crowned with success, as every person left well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

A number of persons are beginning to smack their lips over the reported oyster supper spread which the new members of the village council are going to give. Of course there is no prospect of disappointment. If such should happen their names will be handed down to posterity as men who failed to perform what is, in the natural course of events, very hopefully expected of them. If they do it up grand every house in this fair town, from garret to cellar shall forevermore sing their praises. It is also very secretly whispered round that the older fathers are only waiting the breaking of the ice by the younger ones in order to give such a display as was never read or even dreamed of. Don't delay too long for the power of taste will be all expended on mere phantoms.

Mr. W. G. Matthews, of Ashburnham, has been appointed correspondent and secretary in Sawyer's Ottawa Commercial College. Mr. Matthews graduated and took a diploma from the Sawyer Business College, receiving his training from Mr. D. J. Bennell Sawyer, Principal of the Ottawa College.

Mr. R. Wainwright has been at work putting in a supply of ice in his mammoth ice-house adjoining Riverside Park. The ice is not more than eight inches thick, but is of a superior quality. Should the soft weather continue hauling will have to be suspended.

Tea Meeting.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A tea meeting in connection with the Lakevale Presbyterian church was held in the Temperance Hall, 4th line Smith, on Tuesday. There was a very large attendance, the hall having been crushed full,—hell leanto and platform were a perfect jam. The ladies provided very abundantly excellent refreshments, and altogether it was one of the most successful tea meetings held for years. After tea, about 8.30, the programme of the entertainment was entered upon; the choir sang several very fine selections, and Messrs. McLean, Williamson and Graham gave songs in a very acceptable manner. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., occupied the chair and delivered an address on the part to be borne by the young people in promoting church work. Rev. Mr. Coon, of Bridgenorth, addressed the meeting in a fluent and able manner on "All work and no play make Jack a dull boy," showing that a certain amount of amusement and fun were necessary, and defended innocent amusement. Rev. Mr. Hough, gave a racy address of an anecdotal character affording much innocent entertainment. Mr. R. R. Hall spoke on the subject of the "power of kindness," acquitting himself admirably. Rev. Mr. Ewing, pastor of the church, spoke feelingly of the great kindness he had received from the people of the congregation since he had been its pastor. He had been forty years in Canada, and he thought no kinder people than Canadians existed on the face of the globe. The speakers all had a kind word for the chairman, and it was humorously suggested that he be made perpetual chairman, in view of his always responding to all appeals made to his assistance. The receipts amounted to nearly $70. Another entertainment will be held on Thursday evening.

Mr. J. Wood, from Dakota, is here again. Wonder what he's after this time? Probably completing arrangements commenced with the last visit to secure some pretty Canadian.

The excitement connected with the election of township officers is about over. It was unusual this time. This, of course, will tend to stimulate the new officers to good action. As the votes for reeve was well divided it shows that each ran well.

Subject for next debate is, "Resolved, that high license for hotels is better for the state than Scott Act." This will be ably debated as the wranglers are well selected. These meetings are very well attended, which shows that instruction and entertainment attend them. The next evening of meeting is Thursday, 30th.

ABOUT THE QUEEN.

Extraordinary Contents of Her Deserted Rooms. Her Will and Her Clothes.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Queen has intimated her intention of relaxing the strict rules about low-cut dresses of the ladies attending the drawing-rooms, so far as the early spring functions are concerned, so they will not be required to expose themselves when half naked to the bleak air of a February day. Even, however, if a little more clothing is permitted, delicate women run a great risk in attending the early drawing-rooms.

Several erroneous statements have recently appeared in the papers about the Queen's will. The real truth is that Her Majesty's will was made in 1876. It is a document of portentous length, being engrossed on vellum of quarto size, is bound up into a large volume, which is secured by a lock, and at the end are several blank pages for codicils, of which up to the present the Queen has made three—one early in 1879, after the death of Princess Alice, another in the summer of 1884, after the death of the Duke of Albany, and another recently, which deals exclusively with the jubilee gifts.

I gave an account a fortnight ago of the Queen's celebrated Sevres dessert service, which is kept in the green drawing-room at Windsor Castle. Mr. Goode, who is the most eminent expert in such matters, informs me that no fewer than twenty-eight pieces of the service were lost or stolen during the reign of George IV., when it was in daily use at Carlton House for His Majesty's private table. Mr. Goode, during the last fifteen years, has managed to buy back nineteen of these pieces which are identical in every respect with those in the cabinet in the Queen's drawing-room. Mr. Goode values the service (which belongs to the Crown and is not the private property of the Queen) at fully $500,000, and one piece alone—the famous punch bowl—was valued a few years ago by a well-known auctioneer at $60,000, while Mr. Goode himself vainly offered $2500 to the present owner of one of the missing plates. The late Lord Dudley's superb vase, which was bought by Mr. Goode at the sale of his china, originally belonged to this service, and had probably been removed from Windsor Castle at the time of the confusion which prevailed there during the last months of the life of George IV., when, as one of the pages told Charles Greville, loaded wagons were sent away nearly every night. I understood that Mr. Goode offered the pieces which he had recovered to the Queen in order that the Windsor Castle service might be completed, but presumably Her Majesty did not care to expend $60,000 in making a present of china to the Crown. The value of the china at Buckingham Palace and in the private apartments at Windsor must considerably exceed $1,000,000.

The proprietors of the Casino at Monaco must be trembling for their profits. Everything at the tables seems lifeless. Such a thing as the maximum stake has not been seen this season, and no large sums have been lost or won.

No Bill Against Polly Bredin—A Scene in the Bankstein Alliance.

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—The most important work done in the Criminal Assizes yesterday was that of the Grand Jury, which at 4.30 announced that they had found no bill in the case of "Mary F. Watson, otherwise called Mary F. Bredin, otherwise called Polly Bredin, otherwise called Mary Patterson Hill, who was charged with having committed bigamy. No bill was found in the cases of Archibald Doherty, larceny and receiving and John Devens, criminal assault. The case of Roland Gideon Israel Barnett, charged with fraud, was also considered and a true bill found, also against these: Wm. Ross, larceny and shop-lifting; James Simpson, felonious wounding.

James Foley, a vicious looking fellow who lives at 73 Lombard-street, was tried and convicted of having on Dec. 15 last assaulted and beaten his wife. The evidence of the woman proved that at 2 o'clock in the morning Foley went home drunk and dragging her out of bed by the hair, beat and kicked her unmercifully, causing the loss of an eye and injuring her so that she had to be sent to the hospital.

There was commenced and will be continued to-day the case of Frederick, John and Henry Bredin, three young men of the township of King, who are charged with having on Dec. 15 last, committed an aggravated assault upon another young man, Wilbur L. Card.

At yesterday's session of the Dominion Alliance Mr. Lee, President of the Scott Act Association of Brant County, was called to the chair, in the absence of President Howland. A letter was read from Rev. Robert Knox of Orono, giving a statement of the condition of affairs in East Durham and East and West Northumberland, and alleging that the failure of the Scott Act was due to the imperfect enforcement of the law.

The executive of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance was censured for lack of energy on a motion by Rev. B. B. Keefer, who thought that the action of the Montreal convention should have been promptly endorsed.

Secretary Spence interrupted the speaker and accused him of unfairness in censuring the Executive Committee in the absence of President Howland.

Mr. Keefer replied with warmth that of all men Mr. Howland should be present. Delegates who had come from a distance should not be choked off by the absence of local officers of the Alliance. Nearly twelve months have passed, he said, since the Montreal Convention, and nothing has been done by this Alliance in carrying out the program laid down at that Convention.

There followed considerable discussion on the matter and things looked warm.

Mr. Buchanan said: We haven't the forces, we have no organization, we have no system. Before the Alliance can have appreciable force in this province we must have better organization or we mightas well stay at home and save expense.

The committee on political action tendered their report endorsing the action of the Montreal Convention; calling for organization to prevent the election of any member not pledged to vote for prohibition and providing for a central political committee for securing local organization.

These officers were elected:

President—W. H. Howland.
Secretary—F. S. Spence.
Treasurer—E. J. Fleming.
Executive Committee—J. J. Maclaren, H. O'Hara, W. H. Orr, J. W. Manning, Dr. Stowe, Miss J. Tilley, John McMillan, H. M. Graham, Geo. A. Cox, G. M. Rose, Rev. W. A. Hunter, Rev. W. Frizzell, Mrs. McDonnel, J. N. McKendry, C. E. Smith, James Dobson, John T. Moore, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, D. H. Williams, Rev. W. L. Scott, Rev. A. M. Phillips, Rev. Dr. Aylesworth, W. W. Buchanan, Rev. D. C. Sanderson.

The Ontario Legislature will be opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A fire in Queen-street east, which started in Bourdon's hat store at 6 a.m. yesterday, did about $700 worth of damage.

No trace has yet been found of the missing men, Seymour Porter or Gil Fletcher. Yesterday morning it was reported that a young English girl named Laura Gordon is missing from the Barnardo Home.

Col. C. S. Gzowski, Senator John Macdonald and Mr. A. O. Sullivan, M.A., LL.B., have been re-appointed members of the Senate of Toronto University.

The Police Magistrate yesterday sent a brutal fellow named William Minogue to the Central for four months for a savage attack on his mother. Forty days was the sentence on John McGarrie and John Comsaky, convicted of stealing a hand-sleigh from William Gould's store, 640 Queen-street west. For stealing dress-goods Mary Howath received 30 days and Mary Hannon, an old offender, 18 months in the Mercer. The magistrate dismissed the charge of exposing indecent placards, preferred against Manager Shaw of the Toronto Opera House and Bill-poster Jackman by Staff-Inspector Archabold. The charge was in reference to the lithographs of "Masappa."

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, arrived in the city yesterday and left for Peterboro last evening. His visit was in connection with the reconstruction of the internal working of the Custom House which will be completed to-morrow.

Sergeant Detective Roberts received a telephone message from Hamilton last night informing him that two boys entered the store of Jeweler Henry Ings, the victim of the recent burglary, yesterday afternoon and handed him a parcel containing all but two of the 40 watches carried off by the burglars.

H. W. Thorner was arrested in Hamilton last night on a telephone message from Toronto. He is wanted on a charge of defrauding A. Gemmell, shoe dealer, King-street, out of $15 on the bogus check racket. Detective Burrows goes to Hamilton to-day to bring him down.

Henry Wilton was arrested last night on a charge of criminally assaulting a 6-year-old girl named Rhoda Oates, whose parents live in Queen-street east.

Coasting Accidents at St. Kitts.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 23.—Arthur Parkin and Herbie Bate while tobogganing on Merritt's Hill yesterday afternoon were thrown off their toboggan by a prominence in the hill and run over by the one immediately behind them. Parkin was hurt very badly in the leg and Bate received an ugly scalp wound.

This morning a young lad named McFadden was seriously injured by his sled running into a telegraph post at the foot of the Great Western Hill.

Death of an Old Resident of Guelph.

GUELPH, Jan. 23.—Another old settler of this neighborhood in the person of Mrs. Neville passed away yesterday afternoon in her 78th year. She was of U. E. Loyalist family, was brought up in Flamboro West, Piles! Piles! Piles! Nothing Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in Gold. Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w4d

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1882 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are $,999 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1882, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assur ance.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	26,580 67	196,186 29	1,197,326 14
1880 to 1884, four years	126,976 54	363,264 31	2,982,234 00
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,007 24	4,029,373 86
Total in 1887	$425,831 54	$1,750,004 46	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

A barber, John Glaser, who owns a shop at No. 227 Detroit street, has reported to the police that a man named Harry Long who worked for him has skipped out with two razors, slippers, cigars and $13 in money.

The Harry Long referred to is supposed to be the one who lived in Peterborough last summer.

A Notable Contractor Gone.

Mr. A. P. Macdonald, the well known contractor, died from paralysis of the brain at his home, Rusholme road, Toronto, at the ripe old age of 76 years. During his busy and eventful life he was connected with some of the most extensive works in the Dominion. He represented West Middlesex in the House of Commons, and was connected with the late A. F. Manning in the construction of the Trent Valley Canal at Fenelon Falls, and the Tay Canal at Perth. During the construction of the latter, some three years ago, he was thrown from his buggy and sustained injuries from which he never fully recovered. He leaves a wife and two sons and a daughter to mourn their loss.

An Enjoyable Entertainment.

The St. Peter's Literary and Debating Society held a meeting in the Murray street Separate school last night. There was a good attendance and a pleasing programme was presented. Vocal solos were rendered by Misses Jennie Mollmoyle, Annie Dunn and Maggie McFaddes, and Mr. M. Dunn; a duet by the Misses Mahoney; readings by Messrs. P.J. Hurley and Dr. Brennan. Mr. R. M. Roy's stereoscopic views, including a number of a local character, were well given, and altogether it was a most enjoyable entertainment.

At Hymen's Altar.

St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, was last night crowded with an eager throng of people, principally ladies, who had gathered to witness the wedding of Mr. John J. Howden and Miss Georgie Tivey, daughter of Mr. Rowland Tivey, councillor of Ashburnham. The front seats were occupied by the invited guests. At eight o'clock the bridal party entered the church, and in due course the solemn but beautiful ceremony that made them man and wife was performed by Rev. Mr. Warren, curate-in-charge. The bride was assisted by her two sisters, Eva and Florence, and was attired becomingly in a cream colored dress, whilst the bridesmaids wore pink nun's veiling. Needless to say the bride looked charming. The groomsmen were Messrs. A. Mooney and Harry Adams. After the nuptials had been completed the party repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where a splendid dejeuner was prepared, and at 11.30 the newly married couple left on the C.P.R. train for Ottawa where they will spend a brief honeymoon. The bride was the recipient of a beautiful lot of choice gifts indicative of the warm friendship entertained for her by the relatives and acquaintances of both parties. Mr. Howden is known as a reliable and progressive young business man of exemplary habits, while of his young wife it may be said she possesses all the traits of character and physical charms calculated to make their home life a happy one. Mr. and Mrs. Howden will take up residence in Peterborough on their return to town. They have the heartiest wishes of a host of friends for their future welfare.

Another Year of Prosperity.

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Paul's church was held Wednesday evening. As usual there was a large attendance of members and adherents of the church. It is a noticeable characteristic of St. Paul's congregation that the people take a deep interest in the affairs of the church. Tea was served by the ladies at six o'clock, and at eight the meeting began in the school room. Mr. Peter Hamilton took the chair, and after opening exercises called up the order of business. Printed copies of the statement of the Treasurer, Mr. Walter Paterson, were circulated so that all the members could fully understand the financial position of the church. Rev. E. F. Torrance read the sessional report, dealing with the spiritual progress of the church, and the Secretary, Mr. D. B. Gardner, read the report of the Managing Committee, a gratifying document which showed the affairs of the church in general to be altogether satisfactory. There had been raised for all purposes $3,512, and the floating debt had been reduced from $2,042 to $280. Messrs. Richard Hall and H.S. Macdonald were elected representatives on the Nicholl's Hospital Board, and four members of the Managing Committee were appointed, Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, A. Hall, T. A. Hay and D. H. Moore, to replace the retiring officials. Mr. J. W. Bennett read reports of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society and the Mission Band; Mr. Sheriff Hall of the Sunday school, Mr. G. M. Roger of the Ladies' Aid Society and Mr. J. D. Collins of the Missionary Society. All these reports were quite satisfactory. Mr. Walter Paterson brought up an important matter, the granting of authority to the board of managers to assess pew rents upon those members who had been negligent in paying their contributions by the envelope system which the church had adopted. A motion was passed giving the desired authority. A motion of thanks to Mrs. Nicholls for the gift of $3,000 was carried unanimously. The meeting was brought to a close by singing and prayer.

The Custom House.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell Inspects the Site —A Fine Building will Probably be Erected.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, was in town to-day for the purpose of inspecting the site of the proposed new Custom House on the Phelan lot, corner of Charlotte and George streets. At the invitation of Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., Mr. Bowell arrived on last evening's train and stopped at the residence of Mr. Stevenson. This morning he was driven about town, and expressed surprise at seeing in Peterborough such a lively and well built place. He considers Peterborough is ahead of some other places in the Dominion that are styled cities.

As regards the Custom House, Mr. Bowell spoke confidently, that there is every reason to believe that at the next session of parliament an appropriation will be made for this purpose. It is also understood that the new building will be one worthy of Peterborough, a magnificent structure composed largely of cut stone. The coming summer will likely see work begun on the new Custom House.

Hon. Mr. Bowell returned to Ottawa on the 11.30 train to-day.

County Council.

School Deputations Engage the Attention of the Council.

THURSDAY, Jan. 24th

Council met at 10 a.m., the Warden in the chair, all the members present.

The usual routine was dispensed with in order to hear a deputation from Norwood.

Mr. W. E. ROXBURY, chairman of the board, said the deputation had come to ask aid for the Norwood High school. He thought it had strong claims. The High school district is composed of simply the the public school district. The expense was increasing every year. He would ask either a higher grant or the inclusion of such increased district as would be an equivalent as a source of enlarged revenue. Outside of the heavy debenture debt, which Norwood expected itself to pay, the cost of maintaining the school was $2,400, and the total revenue from all sources was $1,100, leaving the Norwood school district $1,300 a year to raise. This constituted a considerable burden, the school rate being 14 mills on the dollar. There were over a hundred pupils at present, the number being more than doubled within six or seven years. Of these, 36 were from Asphodel, 18 from Dummer, 10 from Belmont and 54 from the village. The cost was about $11 per pupil, and what was asked was an equivalent to the cost of educating those outside pupils in the shape of a permanent grant or such an enlargement of the district, including, say, Asphodel, Dummer and Belmont, and he would not say that the district should not go as far west as to include the whole of East Peterborough. The board was adverse to putting on a fee for outsiders. In the enlarged district the levying of 65 cents on the dollar would raise the $1,300 deficit now demanding attention. He urged the claim of Norwood to liberal treatment in the question at issue.

Mr. W. H. STEPHENSON added that Norwood was paying $2,000 a year for its public school, and that the added expense of the High School made their joint support burdensome.

Mr. Kidd moved, seconded by Mr. Crowe, that the matter be referred to the Committee on Schools.

Mr. SANDERSON favored referring it to the Finance Committee.

In reply to Mr. Burnham Mr. ROXBURGH said he thought a fair division of the county into High School districts was to make the western limit of the Norwood district the middle of Otonabee, the rest to constitute the Peterborough High school district.

Mr. KIDD favored the strengthening of the financial status of the high schools, but there was a strong popular sentiment against being forced into a High school district. He thought the council should hasten slowly, in order to get an expression of popular opinion by way of petition.

Mr. FINLAY said a petition could be got for almost anything. Many outsiders who had had their children educated free at Norwood would sign a petition to be withdrawn from the district.

The motion was agreed to and the council adjourned till 10 o'clock Friday.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE DEPUTATION.

At a meeting of the School Committee, Mr. Finlay in the chair, a deputation consisting of Messrs. Dumble, Stratton, McWilliams and Hill, was heard re the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

MR. DUMBLE said that the whole county was covered by public school districts; the Council provided in all sections for common school education. It could not be that the farmers took the position in reference to higher education, that they were not able to devote their means to the education of their children. The best men in all pursuits of life were the men who came from the rural districts. The teachers were, as a rule, country boys and girls educated in the high schools of the county. In view of that would any one say that the whole county was not interested in higher education? By no means. He asked if the people had not in this county advantage of these chances of higher education without contributing a share of the expense. The fees paid did not in any sense represent a fair or even approximate share of the expense. The time had come that the school would have to be enlarged in facilities, staff and buildings to meet the demands of the attendance. The Peterborough high school could not be called the school of the town, for the large proportion of its pupils were from the county and it was to all intents and purposes a county school. If the country people took advantage of the High School they were in honour bound to contribute to its support. They, the Peterborough board did not wish to exclude county pupils, nor charge prohibitive fees. The cry that the rich should educate their own pupils as there own expense received its quietus at the recent local election. The sense of the community was in favor of the public supporting a High School. The proposition of the deputation, was not to treat the Peterborough and Norwood High Schools as town and village institutions, but as county schools, and that the county should pay for High School advantages on an equitable basis, say in proportion to the attendance of pupils. If one-third of the pupils came from the county, then the county pay one-third of the ratable expense. The basis could be fixed every three years according to the average of attendance for that length of time, on the same principle that the proportion of payment, for the administration of justice between town and county was adjusted. As matters now stood, townships near or adjoining to town had advantages over the rural districts, but by the proposed arrangement those living in more remote townships, would be admitted to equal advantages. The principle would be the same as that applied to maintenance of roads and bridges. He read from the Statutes to show that the law favoured, and indeed, contemplated, a proposition like that submitted, and the council had power to take action. The county would have an equal voice in high school matters, though they might be called on to pay only one-third of the cost. The proposition was fair and just, and the proportion of expense distributed over the county would hardly be felt. Let the council pass this proposition, and there would be no sectional divisions. If the council declined to entertain this or a similar proposal then the town would be forced to take the position that it could not afford to teach county pupils at less than cost.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS agreed with Mr. Dumble's remarks and suggested the appointment of a committee to confer with the joint deputation from Peterborough and Norwood.

Mr. W. H. HILL said if the fees in the High School were made higher, it would cost more to educate teachers, and county sections would therefore have to pay higher salaries. Unless something were done the fees would have to be raised.

Mr. STRATTON said he had spoken to most of the members of the council and his views on the subject were well known to them. While he spoke as a representative of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, he wished the Norwood High School success. Their interests were common.

Mr. BURNHAM said the grant system was temporary and unsatisfactory. He advocated a permanent division of the county into High School districts.

After an arrangement for the joint deputation to meet the School Committee at two o'clock, the committee rose.

Railway Notes.

An understanding appears to have at last been arrived at between the great rival railways, the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific. The latter has ordered that all their freight from Toronto to the Northwest and Manitoba shall go via the Northern, connecting with the Canadian Pacific at North Bay and recently acquired by the Grand Trunk.

An announcement made in an Ottawa despatch which refers to the probable extension by the Grand Trunk Railway Co. of their Midland division, from Peterborough, or some point in this neighborhood, eastward to Ottawa, giving them a connection which they have long desired and must ultimately have between the west and the capital. The announcement is made in connection with a statement that the same company is about to lay the track and operate a road from Ottawa through the counties of Russell and Prescott to Vaudreuil, where it will join their main line and give them a route to Montreal eight miles shorter than by any existing railway. How far the report is correct cannot be said, but the Brockville Reporter gives it considerable credence, and urges the completion of the proposed air line from that town to Ottawa in order to secure the transit of the western traffic via Brockville, and thus forestall the extension of the Midland system.

The promoters of the proposed railway line to run from Cobourg to Havelock and the northern townships are working steadily for the accomplishment of their task. The villages and townships interested are moving in the matter and most of them will offer substantial inducements.

Among the applications to Parliament for railway powers, which has been filed, is the following; "To incorporate a company for the construction of a railway from Cobourg to some point on the River Trent, and thence to the Canadian Pacific railway; thence to some point in the mining region in the township of Belmont, Marmora and Madoc."

UNFORTUNATE MISS KNOX.

Newa Self-Styled Nobleman Deceived and Abandoned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The Herald has the following cablegram from Paris: Herald readers will remember the fashionable marriage of Miss Knox, of Pittsburg, with the soi-disant Count di Montecole early in October last. It was the social sensation of Western Pennsylvania, especially after The Herald announced a few weeks later that the count had beaten his bride during the honeymoon in the Hotel Bellevue, Paris. I received yesterday from one of the most prominent Americans now sojourning in Italy an account of the utter misery and degradation to which this young bride was subjected by the unnatural beast she married while blinded by the glamor of his supposed nobility.

The story seems hardly credible, but my informant's integrity is unimpeachable. It will be remembered that after the Parisian episode the couple started for the scenes of the Adriatic, where the Italian claimed that his mother owned a castle.

Their real destination was the little town of Fossaceca, where the fellow has an ordinary dwelling house. En route they stopped at the Hotel Vittoria, Ancona, where the husband so abused his young wife that she was compelled to seek the protection and guardianship of the American consul resident there. Despite his renewed cruelty the girl accompanied her husband to Fossaceca, where he proceeded to render her illusion regarding his genuine character still more complete. At the time an Italian officer, Signor Ferrari, and his American wife were stopping in the town, and they interested themselves in the unfortunate girl, whose miserable plight had quickly become the common talk of the neighborhood. They called upon her and learned a history of depravity which it would be useless to attempt to narrate.

Mme. Ferrari was compelled to leave Fossaceca for a while, and upon her return found the alleged count had had his suspicions aroused and had forbidden his wife being seen by her—in fact, rudely ordered her to leave his place.

She at once applied to the American consul at Ancona, and in company with him and a cousin of Miss Knox's, sent from Berlin by her aunt, proceeded to Lanciano, the nearest town within legal jurisdiction to Fossaceca. There, with the help of the authorities, after many vicissitudes, they succeeded in rescuing the unfortunate girl from the man whose bride she had become but three months before.

The meeting between the girl and her benefactors was affecting in the extreme. Her gratitude taught her to love and appreciate their disinterested kindness, her own sweet face and gentle manners having taught them to love and care for her. The law now protects the girl completely, and she will soon apply for a legal separation in Italy as a precursor, I am informed, to her securing an absolute divorce in Pennsylvania.

The alleged count had deceived Miss Knox in every way. He was not a bachelor, as he represented himself; but a widower, whose wife had died but five months before. She had been the Contessa di Montercole in her own right, and he had usurped her name and title.

Cobourg and Havelock Railway Project

WARKWORTH, Jan. 22.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the ratepayers of the Township of Percy and North of Cramahe and Brighton was convened here last evening to appoint delegates and discuss the proposed Cobourg and Havelock Railway project. The reeve of the township of Percy, L. S. Carlaw, was called to the chair and Mr. A. B. German, chosen Secretary. C. A. Mallory, ex-reeve and warden of the counties; G. B. Boyce, ex-deputy reeve; Drs. Mallory, McCrea and Richards, D. Carlaw, J. B. Ewin, John Douglas, sr., Israel Humphries, Alex. Hamilton and other prominent ratepayers spoke strongly in favor of granting a liberal bonus for bringing the railroad through Warkworth. The watchword is apparently "Now or never." Delegates were appointed to confer with the promoters of the scheme in Cobourg on Thursday next. The meeting was unanimous in favor of the railroad and a bonus.

ONTARIO'S LAWMAKERS.

THE HOUSE OPENED WITHOUT CANNON OR CAVALRY.

Text of the Speech from the Throne—Historical Resources of the Province—Measures to be Submitted.

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—Quietly, sensibly, without any of the noisy splendor of former years, the Local Legislature entered yesterday upon its session of deliberation and lawmaking. Last year Sir Alexander Campbell dispensed with the artillery. The thundering of cannon will no more disturb the quiet by roaring out their announcement that the Assembly has met to enact our laws. This year he proceeded from Government House to the Parliament Building unattended by cavalry. An escort from "C" Company attended him to the opening. At 3 o'clock the Lieutenant-Governor and his escort passed through the main entrance. His Honor proceeded to the dais and read the following:

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I have much pleasure in again welcoming you to your annual duties as representatives of the Province in Parliament assembled.

I congratulate you on the recent decision of the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council confirming the right of the Province to the Crown Lands, including timber and minerals, situate within the Provincial boundaries as declared in 1884 by the decision of their Lordships and the Order of Her Majesty in Council.

I have the pleasure of informing you that there is a fair prospect of our Northerly Boundary as well as our Westerly Boundary, being satisfactorily settled by Imperial Statute at the next Session of Parliament.

I am glad to know that the agricultural industries of the country have been fairly prosperous during the past year; that, though the early part of the season was unfavorable, and in some localities crops and pastures were badly affected by drouth, yet that, over the greater portion of the province, cereals, roots and fruits have been abundant and of superior quality. Increased efficiency has been given by the legislation of last session to the department of agriculture throughout all its varied services; and experience is already justifying the policy of assigning to the department a minister free to devote to it his whole energies.

THE PROVINCE'S VALUABLE MINES.

Acting upon a recommendation of the House, I appointed a commission last year to inquire into the mineral resources of the province and the best means for their development. Much valuable information was gathered by this commission and I have reason to believe that already its labors have resulted in drawing a large measure of attention to our mineral wealth. I also deemed it expedient to have the province represented at the Centennial Exposition of the Ohio Valley and Central States, held at Cincinnati last summer; and, having in view the special importance of attracting foreign enterprise and capital to our mining industry, it was determined to confine the exhibit to minerals. It is expected that the official reports on both subjects will be completed and ready before the close of the session to be laid before you.

With the growth of the Province, and the increasing competition in every department of industry, the increased necessity for skilled labor is constantly becoming more urgent. The School of Practical Science, owing to its limited equipment and staff, has so far met the demand inadequately, although the school has been efficient within the field which it has occupied. Measures will be submitted to you for enlarging the staff, increasing the usefulness of the school in reference to mining matters, and extending the curriculum so as to include the study of applied mechanics, applied chemistry and of architecture, according to the methods adopted by the best schools of a similar kind in Great Britain and the United States.

THE CITY AND THE UNIVERSITY.

An agreement of the City of Toronto to permanently endow two additional chairs in the Provincial University in settlement of certain litigated questions between the city and the University will be submitted for your approval and legislative sanction.

Amongst the other measures to be submitted for your consideration are: A new Voters' List Act, embodying with the present law so far as it is applicable the provisions needed for carrying into full effect the legislation of last session in reference to Manhood Suffrage; and bills for increasing the efficiency of the Factory Act and the Workmen's Compensation for Injuries Act; and for further improving the laws respecting Land Titles and the Registration of Deeds.

PROVINCIAL AND FEDERAL MATTERS.

I regret to say that the accounts between the Dominion and Province are still unsettled. Since the last session of the Legislature a conference in connection with the accounts took place between the Finance Minister and the Treasurers of Quebec and Ontario; the conference lasted several days; and considerable progress had been made, when the work of the conference was interrupted by the representatives of the Dominion Government taking an entirely new and unexpected position with respect to the interest on the balances at the credit of the provinces, the new contention involving a difference to this province of a large sum. Representations have since been made to the Dominion Government by the treasurers of the two provinces which, I hope, may induce reconsideration of the matter and the acquiescence of the Dominion Government in the just demands of the provinces.

I regret also to say that the questions between this province and the province of Quebec are likewise unsettled; the intended arbitration provided for in both provinces by statute not having been proceeded with, in consequence of a difference as to the matters to be referred; my Government desired that all unsettled matters in dispute should be submitted; and Quebec was not prepared to include the question of the Land Improvement Fund, or any matters except such as relate to the school lands. I hope that some satisfactory way of removing the difficulties in the way of a complete settlement may soon be found.

The public accounts of the Province, showing the receipts and expenditures for the past year, will promptly be laid before you. I am glad to say that the revenue has exceeded the amount anticipated and that the aggregate expenditure has been kept within the estimates.

TWO CENT POSTAGE.

Proposed Government Measure to Reduce the Letter Rate.

TORONTO, Jany. 25.—The World says: The World is able to announce this morning that Hon. John Haggart, Postmaster-General, has recommended to his colleagues the adoption of a two cent letter postage, and that this recommendation is to be embodied in a government measure to be brought down early in the session. Mr. Haggart will also signalize his advent to office by other postal reforms of a desirable character.

Excitement on the Paris Bourse.

Rio Tintos, which were heavily sold, closed at a decline of 4f. 37c. Panama Canal shares dropped 2½f.

PROSPECTS OF INCREASED IMMIGRATION THIS YEAR.

No More Fishing Licenses to be Issued Under the Modus Vivendi at Present—The Short Line Deputation.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—The case of The Mail v. Lafleamme was continued to-day in the Supreme Court and was not concluded when the court rose.

The deputation from Moncton and Fredericton, to act with the Halifax deputation in the matter of the Short Line Railway, arrived to-day. The whole deputation will have an interview with the Government to-morrow.

The Department of Agriculture has received a letter from Mr. Ohlan, who was sent home by the Scandinavian Society of Manitoba last fall, in which he says that he will return in the spring accompanied by a large party of superior settlers.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney, Minister of the Interior, is confined to his residence by an attack of bronchitis.

Instructions have been sent to Collectors of Customs not to issue any more licenses to American fish ingressin under the modus vivendi. Some of the licenses expired on Dec. 31 and have not been renewed. The remainder, which were issued for one year from date, will expire during the early summer.

Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, left for the Maritime Provinces last night to make arrangements for the reception of immigrants next season. The present indications are that the volume of immigration this year will be much greater than last.

The Ministers who attended the Montreal Board of Trade banquet returned to the city to-day.

The postmaster of Toronto has been here for the past two days settling with Mr. Haggart the details of a new system of letter collection in Toronto and other matters connected with the department.

A VILLAINOUS DRIVER.

Judson Morton's Flight After Committing Many Crimes.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—People living down town are excited over the misconduct of a man named Judson Morton. His depravity is said to have surpassed that of Bradley, who was sentenced yesterday to 29 years' imprisonment for assaulting young girls. The drivers and conductors of the Traction's depot at Twentieth and Wharton-streets, among whom Morton worked, have been talking of nothing else for the past day or two. Morton will be roughly handled if he has the hardihood to reappear among those with whom he worked.

Morton until last week drove a bob-tail car on the Christian-street branch of the Traction line. Early last week he obtained a leave of absence on account of sickness. The story of his misdeeds then leaked out. Morton received warning from one of his friends among the drivers. He escaped from the city before a warrant which had been issued for his arrest could be served.

The Traction employes say that for some time past Morton made a practice of enticing young girls whom he encountered in his neighborhood. He lived at the northeast corner of Nineteenth and Wilder-streets. On Nineteenth-street, below Wilder, is a vacant house, to which Morton possessed a key. His method was to entice girls into the house by giving them candy and money. His victims ranged in age from 9 to 14 years. Among them were the two little daughters of H. Howard, a business man, and an engineer named Preston, who lived in adjoining houses on Nineteenth-street, above Dickinson. It was through these victims that Morton's conduct was brought to light.

As soon as Mr. Howard was told of the matter he rushed to the man's house. Morton was not in. The father excitedly told Morton's aged parents that he would give him twelve hours to leave the city. They responded by declaring that their son was incapable of the crime charged against him. They said the accusation was a blackmailing scheme. Then Howard hastened to the Traction depot. He was frenzied. He wanted to kill Morton. Unable to find him he hurried to the District Attorney's office. There he was told to place his case in the hands of the detectives. He spent some time in consulting a lawyer. After a while he was persuaded to swear out a warrant. When the detectives were put in possession of the case it was too late. Morton could not be found.

The brother of a woman who had overheard the story of the man's victims told it to a driver on a Traction car. The driver went to Morton's house. He asked him if the story was true. Morton said it was the first time he had heard of it. Morton was preparing to return to work. Shortly before Mr. Howard's visit to the house Morton left it. The last time he was seen in the city was on the following day. Then he rode up town with a Traction driver.

The men at the Traction depot say that Morton went either to Harrisburg, where he has relatives, or to Kentucky, his native place. Morton is about 45 years old. He is said to have served in the rebel army during the war. He was nicknamed "Kentuck" by his companions.

Two Bottles Killed Him.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 25.—Two bottles of champagne caused the death of Max Shillak, a young man who lived at No. 304 Wyckoff-street. He died in John Wanadein's saloon, No. 12 Hoyt-street. The case only came to the notice of Coroner Rooney yesterday. He is to investigate it. Dr. T. W. Topham, of No. 144 Schermerhorn-street, was called to the assistance of the dying man and gave a certificate stating that death was caused by alcoholic poisoning. He did not think it necessary to inform the Coroner. Shillak was at the races on Saturday and made some money. In the evening he went to the saloon with a party of friends where he drank two bottles of champagne, one after the other. It was in a spirit of bravado that he did this. He had eaten nothing all day, and his system would not stand so much carbonic acid. It poisoned his blood and he became asphyxiated.

Chicago's Protest.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The Board of Directors of the Board of Trade to-day passed resolutions protesting against the introduction in the Legislatures of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kansas and Colorado of bills excluding dressed beef, pork and mutton from sale in those states. The resolutions declare that these meats are healthful and that the legislative action will injure the reputation of American meats at home and abroad, and will damage the cattle raising industry of the country.

Compromised.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 24.—The suit of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad against Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to recover 4500 shares of Dayton and Michigan stock, alleged to have been illegally pledged with defendants by Henry S. Ives during his control of the C. H. & D. road, has been compromised. The plaintiff once more gets control of the stocks long tied up.

Carolina Moonshiners.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 24.—Illicit distilling in Northwestern Carolina is increasing rapidly. The moonshiners who for years submitted to arrest now make fierce resistance. On Tuesday five revenue officers in the mountains were fired on by 20 men but nobody was hurt. About daylight yesterday the same officers were ambuscaded. They returned the fire and charged the moonshiners. Deputy Marshal Hightower was wounded and one moonshiner captured.

SUDDEN DISAPPEARANCE OF THE IRISH EDITOR.

The Court Orders the Crowd Out of the Galleries and the Defendant Makes Break for Liberty.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—The trial of Mr. O'Brien on the charge of conspiracy began to-day at Carrick-on-Suir, County Tipperary. The Government had issued a proclamation forbidding any demonstration welcoming Mr. O'Brien, but 20,000 persons gathered around the court house. Six hundred policemen charged the crowd, using their batons freely, but were unable to disperse the gathering. The excitement in the town was feverish. As Mr. O'Brien entered the court house he was greeted with vociferous cheers. His defence will be conducted by Timothy Healy. While Mr. O'Brien was striving to pass through the crowd to enter the court house he was seized by a police inspector and dragged for 20 yards. The people were maddened by this treatment of Mr. O'Brien and pressed forward to rescue him from the hands of the inspector. The police, however, repulsed the crowd. Timothy Healy, who had stepped forward to aid Mr. O'Brien, was met by a bayonet levelled at his breast, but he was not injured. A number of reporters were maltreated. Mr. O'Brien complained to the magistrate that the police were attempting to incite a bloody riot.

A dozen persons were injured by the charge of the police.

When the case for the Crown had been presented Mr. Healy, for defendant, applied for subpœnas for Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour, both of whom he asserted had made speeches similar to those of Mr. O'Brien. The court refused to issue the subpœnas. The spectators received this decision with murmurs and the magistrates ordered the galleries cleared. While this was being done Mr. O'Brien exclaimed, "I'll clear out also," and started for the door. The magistrates shouted "Stop him" and a constable grabbed Mr. O'Brien. After a sharp struggle Mr. O'Brien, with the aid of some of the spectators, reached the street with no worse damage than a torn coat. An immense crowd escorted Mr. O'Brien through the town. The police used their batons without mercy upon the people, who responded with stones and sticks.

During the melee Mr. O'Brien was struck violently in the breast with a rifle stock. Scores of persons were injured. The court issued a warrant for the arrest of Mr. O'Brien and then adjourned.

Police with fixed bayonets are patrolling the streets of the town.

Twenty persons received bayonet thrusts and some of them were dangerously wounded. At least 40 others were more or less seriously injured by the batons of the police.

Mr. O'Brien's location is not known. It is thought that he will not appear in court to-morrow.

Injured by Batons and Bayonets.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—Father McCarthy, charged with inciting boycotting, was arraigned for trial to-day at Clonakilty. The hearing was adjourned. A large crowd about the court house was charged by 200 policemen and many persons were injured by batons and bayonets.

The crowd used stones and bottles against the police, thirteen of whom were injured. One of the wounded policemen will probably die and three others are in a dangerous condition.

Hudson Bay Company Changes.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Sir Eden Colville has retired from the governorship of the Hudsons' Bay Company on account of ill-health, and Sir Donald Smith was elected to succeed him, with Lord Ancon-Browning as deputy-governor. Sir Donald is recognized here as the most progressive member of the board, and Lord Ancon has shown himself also keenly alive to the present needs of the company.

German Ministers Resign.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Gen. von Schellendorf, Prussian Minister of War, and Dr. von Schelling, Imperial Minister of Justice, have resigned.

They Have Not Been Annexed.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Lord Lytton, the British Ambassador, has informed M. Goblet, the French Foreign Minister, that Great Britain has not annexed two of the Tonga-way Islands.

The Electoral Commission.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—At the session of the Parnell Commission to-day Inspector Rogers deposed that he searched the house of Mary O'Connor, secretary of the Ladies' Land League at Athlone, and found letters from Anna Parnell regarding the formation of a ladies' branch for the relief of evicted tenants. Miss O'Connor's accounts disclosed expenditures for the defence of prisoners charged with outrages.

Sir Henry James announced that he intended to read extracts from speeches.

Sir Charles Russell wanted all of Mr. Parnell's speeches read, not extracts.

Justice Hannen, seeing that Sir Henry had a pile of speeches a foot high, entreated counsel to consider how to shorten the reading.

Sir Henry read extracts from a speech by Mr. Biggar in October, 1880. Mr. Biggar said he would not have extracts. He was anxious to hear the whole speech which was well worth hearing. [Laughter.]

Sir Charles emphasized Mr. Biggar's desire and Sir Henry acceded. After reading a while his voice failed and he was relieved by Mr. Lockwood, one of the Parnellite counsel.

The Indianapolis Correspondent of the Conn. Mutual Life a Defaulter.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 24.—Col. Jacob L. Greene, President of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, announced this evening that Joseph A. Moore, the financial correspondent of the company at Indianapolis, after 16 years of service, during which he has had the unlimited confidence of the directors and officers and of their predecessors, is a defaulter. The extreme amount involved is about $500,000. Moore has restored to the company property which may reduce the actual loss to $400,000. The loss will not affect the company's solvency nor interfere with its dividend.

HAMILTON, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Isabella Enright, a widow who came here from St. John, N.B., a month ago, was found dead in bed this morning. The deceased was about 57 years old, active for her age, and the cause of death is unknown.

Collegiate Institute Conference

A Basis for Negotiation Agreed Upon.

A joint deputation of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Norwood High School, held a conference with the committee on Schools, of the Peterborough County Council, Thursday afternoon. After considerable discussion the decision arrived at was, that the reeves of the municipalities should constitute a committee to meet and confer with the Peterborough Board of Education and town council and Norwood School Board or its representatives, with a view of devising an equitable basis of division of the county into High School districts. It was understood that the town newspapers lay the scheme decided upon before the people for their information, and that at the same time the reeves should take the best available means of informing themselves of the sentiments of their constituents upon the subject and come to the June session prepared to take definite action.

Letters From Colorado.

The Industries of the State.

Number Four.

DEAR EXAMINER,—By many who cross the dry, arid plains which lead to the Rockies, especially if the journey is made late in the fall, it is imagined that the soil is far from rich or fertile and that all attempts at farming must prove comparatively a failure. Everything looks parched and barren, there is absolutely nothing to rest the eye or give pleasure to the senses. Trees are almost unknown, rivers and lakes are uncommonly few in number and of small dimensions; far as the eye can reach nothing is seen but the stunted desert, the scrubby sage brush, an occasional plot of standing corn, some hungry looking cattle and the lowly homes of settlers. Occasionally a so-called town is reached, but there is nothing attractive in a few scattered wooden houses, the inevitable hotel with its big sounding euphonious name and a low railway station, with a couple of mules perhaps standing thereat, ready to carry the mails, or it may be an occasional passenger to his out-of-the-way destination. In writing thus, I am describing precisely my own feelings as the iron horse carried me along the Burlington road, through Nebraska and Colorado. And yet by means of irrigation this self same country produces marvellous returns for the labors of the husbandman, and in certain counties there is abundant proof that by faithful exertion, crops are excellent in every particular. The ground brings forth some sixty, some one hundred fold, the desert blooms and blossoms even as the rose. But to descend to particulars.

Nothing can show better the progress of the state than the increase in the assessed acreage. Within the past two years this has actually doubled. The state auditor in his report for 1888 gives the total acreage as 9,343,539 acres, the assessed value reaching $41,058,398. In 1886, the number of acres scheduled as assessable was 4,534,938, and the valuation was then placed at $24,211,001, a substantial and gratifying increase. In fact it may be said that the system of irrigation has quite revolutionized the agricultural industry. Thousands of acres which were once used as stock ranges have been reclaimed, and the erection of large reservoirs to catch the spring rains, and numerous ditches to carry the water hither and thither as required, has aided in making gardens and fruitful deserts where once were arid plains. Mining is, of course, the principal industry of the States and will probably continue to be so, until the government expend a portion of the surplus in the construction of irrigating drains and trenches. But private enterprise has done not a little to make the land more productive, and the planting of trees has also assisted the farmer in condensing the moisture and nourishing the crops.

The altitude of farming lands in the State ranges from 3,500 to 8,000 feet, and here the application of water to growing crops produces wonderful results. I have never tasted finer celery or seen better potatoes than can be raised here. The soil of course varies, it is gravelly, sandy, loamy, calcareous, peaty and adobe, according to the district, but is well adapted to the production of small grains and vegetables. In growing wheat and barley, the soil and dry climate has a tendency to make the grain whiter and the absence of rain aids in the same direction.

Corn in past years was affected by the cool nights and high altitudes but some varieties have been so acclimated that now it is grown so successfully as to produce in some instances from thirty to sixty bushels to the acre.

Alfalfa—called by many the king of clovers—is a great producer. When once fairly started its growth here, whether irrigated or not, is enormously rapid, so that three crops in the year is by no means unusual, and it is said, though I advise the remark to be taken cum grano salis, that in certain districts it is cut every month from June to October. Attempts have been made to grow sorghum, and the hope is held out that in future sugar may readily be produced in the State, through its cultivation. Hops are very plentiful along the mountain streams, so much so that little attention has been paid to the cultivation of the tame article. Flax is also grown in several localities and efforts have been successfully made to cultivate tobacco. All this has been accomplished in about 20 years, for at that period very few believed this state could, by any possibility, be made in any sense agricultural. The enormous quantities of farm produce once imported to the state are now supplanted by the productions of the soil itself. Only 3,500 square miles of land east of the mountains are, however, as yet under cultivation; there are still 45,000 square miles uncultivated, but rapidly filling up.

Apples and small fruits are grown extensively. I had the pleasure of attending the exhibit made by the State Horticultural Society a few days ago and was astonished at the size and variety of the fruits, especially apples. There were several hundred varieties —all in good order. And yet I question if they are in any way equal to the eastern article. At least, I have not, as yet, come across any apple equal to what I could find in any fruit store in your city. They lack the juicy flavor and pleasantness of the Canadian apple.

The business of cattle-raising in Colorado is one of the most important and valuable industries. Its interests are estimated at thirty five millions of dollars. The character and breed of the animals are decidedly improving. Blooded stock is found in every herd, on every ranch, in every stable. The Texan steer, the broncho, and the Mexican sheep are things of the past. In one county —Los Animas—the value of the cattle is said to be over a million dollars. Close to the town of Greeley there is a ranch operating 6,400 acres, and the company, not satisfied with this huge district, leased 5,000 acres more. Over these immense ranges roam about 5,000 Percheron-Norman horses, the aggregate value of which it is hard to compute. Another ranch, east of the same town, and once operated by an English nobleman—Lord Ogilvie—has just been purchased by this company.

Experts say that the wild grasses—such as the buffalo, the gramma and the blue-stem—excel in nutritive value all tame grasses and clovers. The buffalo is a pasture grass, the others can be made into hay. These three prominent wild grasses constitute from 70 to 80 per cent. of the grass product of the plains and are excellent for stock. They all lose much of their nutritive value by cultivation.

Hoping this letter may interest your agricultural readers, and at the same time help to make them more contented with their better farming privileges, I am,

Yours truly,
W. C. BRADSHAW.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Two Brothers and One Successful Attempt to Escape from the Central.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—Two convicts from the Central Prison, J. H. Henderson, alias Graham, and Frank Smith, were charged by Warden Massie before the Police Magistrate yesterday with attempting to escape by cutting the bars of the cell in which they were confined. Three bars had been cut with a file and saw and one fell out, which led to an investigation. On searching the cells several dummies in the shape of short wooden dowels, blackened so as to represent iron bars, were found concealed in the cell. These the men undoubtedly intended to substitute in the apertures after removing the bars; a screw-bar was also unearthed concealed in the mattress. The Warden described Henderson and Smith as desperate men, who would not stop at murder to accomplish their designs. There had been three such attempts made in 22 months. The accused were very abusive in court. They were committed for trial.

Joseph Bourgarnon, a French convict who was employed as a cook at the Central Prison, was more lucky than Graham and Smith, and escaped yesterday by scaling the prison wall.

At the assizes yesterday John, Frederick and Henry Bredin of King, charged with unlawfully wounding Wilbert S. Card, were convicted of common assault. Their recognizances in $2000 each were accepted to appear for sentence if called on within five years. Roland Gideon Israel Barnett pleaded not guilty to a charge of having on Nov. 6, 1885, at the City of Toronto, then being a trustee of two negotiable securities of $6250 each, appropriated them to his own use, these securities being the property of the Central Bank. An indictment was also returned against Barnett for appropriating a promissory note for $285 made by Charles F. Bunbury. A true bill was brought in against W. F. Maclean, editor of The World, charged with criminally libelling H. A. Massey.

The funeral of the late A. P. Macdonald took place yesterday and was largely attended.

President W. D. Matthews and Vice-President D. R. Wilkie were nominated for the presidency of the Board of Trade yesterday.

The Police Magistrate yesterday sent Frank Kelly to the Central Prison for a year for theft of tobacco from the McAlpine works. Henry Wilton was remanded till to-day charged with an outrage on a 5 year old child. George Phillips was fined $21 or 30 days for assault on George Teagle. Timothy Cassidy, who had only on the previous day been released from the Central Prison, was sent back again for four months for theft.

THE SAMOAN BRAWL.

Bismarck's Newspaper Organ Creates Excitement in the United States.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—The North German Gazette (Prince Bismarck's organ) denies the existence of any treaty precluding any European power from acquiring or seeking to acquire ascendancy in Samoa. The Gazette also denies that England and the United States are agreed, that the proceedings of the German agent in Samoa are contrary to the stipulations of the treaties concerning Samoa and are opposed to diplomatic etiquette and that those Powers have officially notified the German Government accordingly. The treaties between Samoa, Germany, England and the United States, The Gazette further says, provide that Samoa shall concede to each treaty Power equal rights with any other Power, but no treaty regarding the neutrality or independence of Samoa exists between Germany and the United States.

Washington Opinions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The despatches from Berlin and London regarding the attitude of Germany on the Samoan question were the subject of general discussion here this evening. Secretary Bayard this evening said it would not be proper for him to discuss the subject of the despatches at this time. He did not know who wrote the article in The North German Gazette, consequently he could not assume the statements to be official, and they might prove to be mere newspaper gossip. He said that although Germany may have larger interests in Samoa than the United States it had no better or later information from that country than the United States.

Regarding the statement that Germany would violate no treaty in acquiring ascendancy in Samoa Mr. Bayard called attention to the declaration concerning the boundaries of the German and English dominions in the West Pacific Ocean, signed at Berlin, April 6, 1886. Mr. Bayard thought this agreement precluded German acquisitions in Samoa. This declaration defines the boundaries of the possessions of the two countries and provides that neither power will make acquisitions of other territory nor establish protectorates over any other territory in the West Pacific. The declaration provides that the Navigators, Samoa Islands, with which Germany, Great Britain and the United States have concluded treaties, and the Friendly, Tonga Islands and the Nini (Savage) Islands shall form a neutral territory.

Assistant Secretary Rives read the despatches and remarked with a smile, "They seem to be hurling defiance in our teeth, don't they?" He intimated that there were important differences in the statements made by The North German Gazette and the President's message to Congress regarding the treaty rights of Germany, Great Britain and the United States in the Samoa matter.

Secretary Whitney declined to be interviewed regarding the publication in The North German Gazette. No new orders, the Secretary said, had been issued by his department regarding Samoan affairs.

Senator Edmunds said: "Bismarck's repression of opinion will not deter the American people from carrying out any policy they may adopt as desirable or necessary. The Samoan Islands are of great importance with relation to the development of trade via the projected canals across the Isthmus of Panama and across Nicaragua to a power whose ships are sent on long cruises. The establishment of coaling stations is a necessity, and the location of one on the central island of the Samoan group is looked upon as of great importance to us."

Members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs seen to-night were averse to discussing our relations with Samoa, as they are expected to communicate their views to the House in a report.

Representative Russell of Massachusetts to-day designated as a member the subcommittee having the matter in charge, remarked: "If matters should reach an extreme point I don't believe that we are going to be eaten up by any European power."

COMBATTED THE RABBI'S THEORY.

Russian Jews Refuse to Believe that Simon Peter was Crucified.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 25.—M. Horwich, K. Horwich, and four other Russian Jews are under arrest for an assault on Rabbi Golstein in their synagogue. The rabbi, Alexander Golstein, recently advanced the theory that it was Simon Peter and not Jesus that was crucified on Calvary. A number of the congregation rushed towards the pulpit and he was obliged to run through the back door to save himself. Golstein preached the theory again at a regular meeting in the synagogue, when he was overwhelmed with such a volley of imprecations and church furniture as convinced him that he was still in the minority. He escaped from his assailants, however, and now six of the leaders are behind the bars.

THE RAWSON CASE.

Mrs. Rawson Makes Advances to a Man to a Man to Kill Her Husband.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Another sensation was developed in the Rawson case yesterday. Mrs. Rawson was the wife of Banker Stephen G. Rawson, who began an action for divorce from her. During its pendency Mrs. Rawson's son by a former husband, Ralph Lee, shot and dangerously wounded the banker while sitting in his pew at church, and Mrs. Rawson shot and wounded Lawyer Whitney, attorney for Mr. Rawson, in open court, from the effects of which Mr. Whitney is in an insane asylum and for which Mrs. Rawson is now on trial in the Criminal Court.

According to the evidence given before the grand jury by L. H. Bisbee, a prominent lawyer, and which was read in court, Mrs. Rawson wanted a man named Hogan to put her husband out of the way. She tried to hire him to put poison in his gin bottle, which he kept in his bedroom and from which he occasionally drank during the night. There was some poison in the house which had been there ever since the first Mrs Rawson died in 1881, and a little of it mixed with the gin, she said, would do the business for him.

Hogan's testimony was also read and it gave in more detail Mrs. Rawson's alleged attempt to get him to murder the banker. The proposition to commit murder, he said, was made to him by her at the Leland Hotel while he was acting as detective for her. He left her at once and went over to Mr. Bisbee's employ. Hogan said Mrs. Rawson told him that if he would not kill Rawson she would send for another man and he would do it.

An Old Man Murdered.

Washington Opinions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The despatches from Berlin and London regarding the attitude of Germany on the Samoan question were the subject of general discussion here this evening. Secretary Bayard this evening said it would not be proper for him to discuss the subject of the despatches at this time. He did not know who wrote the article in The North German Gazette, consequently he could not assume the statements to be official, and they might prove to be mere newspaper gossip. He said that although Germany may have larger interests in Samoa than the United States it had no better or later information from that country than the United States.

Regarding the statement that Germany would violate no treaty in acquiring ascendancy in Samoa Mr. Bayard called attention to the declaration concerning the boundaries of the German and English dominions in the West Pacific Ocean, signed at Berlin, April 6, 1886. Mr. Bayard thought this agreement precluded German acquisitions in Samoa. This declaration defines the boundaries of the possessions of the two countries and provides that neither power will make acquisitions of other territory nor establish protectorates over any other territory in the West Pacific. The declaration provides that the Navigators, Samoa Islands, with which Germany, Great Britain and the United States have concluded treaties, and the Friendly, Tonga Islands and the Niui (Savage) Islands shall form a neutral territory.

Assistant Secretary Rives read the despatches and remarked with a smile, "They seem to be hurling defiance in our teeth, don't they?" He intimated that there were important differences in the statements made by The North German Gazette and the President's message to Congress regarding the treaty rights of Germany, Great Britain and the United States in the Samoa matter.

Secretary Whitney declined to be interviewed regarding the publication in The North German Gazette. No new orders, the Secretary said, had been issued by his department regarding Samoan affairs.

Senator Edmunds said: "Bismarck's expression of opinion will not deter the American people from carrying out any policy they may adopt as desirable or necessary. The establishment of coaling stations is a necessity, and the location of one on the central island of the Samoan group is looked upon as of great importance to us."

Members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs seen to-night were averse to discussing our relations with Samoa, as they are expected to communicate their views to the House in a report.

COMBATTED THE RABBI'S THEORY.

Russian Jews Refuse to Believe that Simon Peter was Crucified.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 25.—M. Horwich, K. Horwich, and four other Russian Jews are under arrest for an assault on Rabbi Golstein in their synagogue. The rabbi, Alexander Golstein, recently advanced the theory that it was Simon Peter and not Jesus that was crucified on Calvary. A number of the congregation rushed towards the pulpit and he was obliged to run through the back door to save himself. Golstein preached the theory again at a regular meeting in the synagogue, when he was overwhelmed with such a volley of imprecations and church furniture as convinced him that he was still in the minority. He escaped from his assailants, however, and now six of the leaders are behind the bars.

THE RAWSON CASE.

Mrs. Rawson Makes Advances to a Man to Kill Her Husband.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Another sensation was developed in the Rawson case yesterday. Mrs. Rawson was the wife of Banker Stephen G. Rawson, who began an action for divorce from her. During its pendancy Mrs. Rawson's son by a former husband, Ralph Lee, shot and dangerously wounded the banker while sitting in his pew at church, and Mrs. Rawson shot and wounded Lawyer Whitney, attorney for Mr. Rawson, in open court, from the effects of which Mr. Whitney is in an insane asylum and for which Mrs. Rawson is now on trial in the Criminal Court.

According to the evidence given before the grand jury by L. H. Bisbee, a prominent lawyer, and which was read in court, Mrs. Rawson wanted a man named Hogan to put her husband out of the way. She tried to hire him to put poison in his gin bottle, which he kept in his bedroom and from which he occasionally drank during the night. There was some poison in the house which had been there ever since the first Mrs. Rawson died in 1881, and a little of it mixed with the gin, she said, would do the business for him.

Hogan's testimony was also read and it gave in more detail Mrs. Rawson's alleged attempt to get him to murder the banker. The proposition to commit murder, he said, was made to him by her at the Leland Hotel while he was acting as detective for her. He left her at once and went over to Mr. Bisbee's employ. Hogan said Mrs. Rawson told him that if he would not kill Rawson she would send for another man and he would do it.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The speech from the throne, printed in another column, put into the mouth of his Honor, the Lieut. Governor, by his advisers, is pleasant reading to the people of Ontario, and perhaps the most pleasant paragraph is placed at the last, that which declares that the revenue receipts for the current year have been in excess of the expenditure. This taken in connection with the fact of an accumulated surplus of between six and seven millions of dollars is the best kind of evidence of the honest and economical administration of our affairs during the past seventeen years, during which the Mowat administration have guarded the interests of this province. Of course the speech makes reference to the appointment of a Minister of Agriculture, as a proper concession to the demands of the farming interests of Ontario for a department devoted exclusively to the oversight of those interests. Both the establishment of this department and the appointment of its head give almost universal satisfaction, the Empire being the chief of the sore head objectors. While it is unable to deny that the farming interests are worthy of government recognition, it says a new department is unnecessary—the agricultural interests could as well served by being tacked on as a minor appendage of some other department. The speech outlines that important legislation will receive due attention, especially that intended to give practical effect to the legislation adopted last session in reference to manhood suffrage. The Factory Act will be made more effective, and also the Act respecting the compensation of workmen for injuries. The development of our mining industries will receive special attention, the victory achieved by Hon. Mr. Mowat in securing Imperial confirmation of his claims on behalf of Ontario, to the possession of the timber and minerals of our Northwest Territories, making advances in this direction possible, the obstructive interference of the Dominion Government being set aside by the decision of the Privy Council. The session does not promise to be lengthy or exciting, yet there is scope for, and promise of, a large amount of useful and practical legislation being done.

County Council.

Address and Presentation to John Burnham, Esq.—General Business.

FRIDAY, January 25th.

The council went into session at 10.30.

The Warden upon taking his place said: Before proceeding to the general business of the day, I have a pleasing duty to perform. There is a gentleman amongst us who has spent some of the best years of his life in our deliberations, both as Warden and Councillor, and indeed I may say as a general adviser in all cases of doubt and difficulty, but in addition a friend to almost all of us. At all times he has been most accessible, and through his advice we have individually and collectively, personally and as councillors, been relieved from many an embarrassing position—the only remuneration received by him being that of thanks. Gentlemen I need scarcely say that I speak of Mr. John Burnham. With a view to mark their appreciation of that gentleman's services as thrice warden and for fifteen year's a representative in this council, you with the county officials decided to present him with an address and accompanying memento of his life amongst us. I have therefore much pleasure in asking Mr. Michael Sanderson, as the oldest councillor, to read the address and present the souvenir.

Mr. Sanderson then rose and read the address, accompanying it with the present of a handsome gold watch. The following is the ADDRESS.

To John Burnham, Esq., Barrister-at-Law and Member of the County Council of Peterborough:—

We the members and officers of the County Council of the County of Peterborough have for a long time appreciated the many kindnesses which we received at your hands. In reviewing the great advantages which we have on very many occasions derived from your advice in the many years during which you have been County Councillor and Warden of Peterborough, we are very deeply impressed with the debt of gratitude which we owe to your sound judgment and admistrative skill.

In the last fifteen years difficulties have arisen which would tax the energy and acumen of the most expert municipal officer, yet you have not hesitated to yield your mature experience, and much more than your share of time to the service and very great advantage of this county. And sir, we give you but the due measure of acknowledgement when we say that your counsel and suggestions have at all times been most eagerly sought for, and most deeply prized. Such services sir, the natural fruit of your ability and unselfishness, are too important for your colleagues in the Council to allow to pass unmarked by some tangible evidence of our appreciation. We have asked the Warden to allow Mr. Sanderson, the senior member of this Council, to present to you this watch as some slight token of our regard, and we assure you that it is the sincere hope of us all that when you are surrounded by your grandchildren, and when they are impatiently curious to see the "wheels go round," that you may then feel in the midst of what we wish may be a long continuance of your prosperity and happiness, that you did good service to your county, to which we now so heartily testify.

Mr. BURNHAM stated that this was a very great surprise, and he disclaimed his worthiness of the eulogistic remarks contained in the address. He could not say that he had during his course in the council done more than his duty. The address reminded him that he had been a long time in the council—only two members, Messrs. Sanderson and Moloney, were present who were here when he first entered the council. He trusted he would be favored with an opportunity of recognizing the kindness of which he had this morning been a recipient. Such a mark of appreciation as he had just received was often a tangible sign that a man's "usefulness" was gone, but he trusted that was not the aim of his colleagues on this occasion, for he hoped that he would have a chance of devoting many years yet to the service of the county. After again thanking the councillors for their handsome recognition of his service Mr. Burnham resumed his seat amidst hearty applause.

After the reading of the minutes, the council entered upon business.

A communication was received from Mr. J. H. Roper, President of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, asking a grant of $350 from the county council, to assist in relieving the debt of the Society. —Referred to the Finance Committee.

A telegram was also read from the county council of Northumberland and Durham, to the effect that a committee of five had been appointed to act with a similar committee of this council with reference to the Hastings bridge. As this council had already dealt with the matter no action was taken.

Mr. Moloney, seconded by Mr. Moore, introduced a motion to change the date of the June session of the council from the third Tuesday to the second Tuesday. It was pointed out that that was the statutory date of the county court, and after a little discussion the matter was dropped.

The council adjourned.

A Flourishing Company.

Brilliant Prospects of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company.

(From Toronto Mail, January 24th).

A report of the proceedings of the second annual meeting of this company is extensively given in another column.

The directors' report starts out with the frank statement that the shareholders' capital has been impaired by the operations of the year. This fact might be viewed with anxiety by those who are unacquainted with the intricacies of life insurance, but there is nothing unusual in such a state of affairs, as will be seen by a reference to the statements of all companies in their first years. It is doubtless a wise course to courageously enter the field, and resolve to do as large a business as can be obtained, as even if the cost of obtaining such business is above the average, the large income which will be derived from it in future years, having only a small collection charge against it by way of expense, will compensate for its initial cost. But from a comparison of the cost of the business taken by this company with cost of business taken by 28 of the chief American companies, as published in the Spectator for September, 1888, a high authority on the subject, we find the average to be $37.71 paid for every $1,000 of insurance, while the $4,801,000 taken by the Manufacturers' Life is only $16 on each $1,000, even taking all the expenses of the year as applying to new business. It is to be seen that the death rate has been low, $16,000 falling in as claims, which is the best evidence of the care exercised in the selection of risks, as the expectation on the amount of the total insurances of the year is much larger by the tables.

All the directors have been re elected, and Sir John Macdonald again testifies his intention to stay by the company, and see that it is second to none in the Dominion. Mr. Geo. Gooderham and Mr. Wm. Bell, two gentlemen well known throughout Canada as successful financiers, are re-elected to be first and second vice-presidents.

A prosperous and successful future is doubtless in store for this company.

A report of the annual meeting will appear in to-morrow's daily EXAMINER.

The Pauper Imposition.

Mr. Adam Hall, chairman of the charity committee, has received a letter from the clerk of Harvey, stating that the Mrs. Morrison who was committed to gaol here as a vagrant last week, did not belong to Harvey as she stated, but had lived in Smith till married, and after marriage lived in Verulam, just on the boundary line between Harvey and Verulam. Harvey township cannot therefore be held responsible for the support of the woman, who is a helpless paralytic. Steps will be taken to compel the right municipality to support her, as soon as her term of imprisonment expires.

Fitted for the Work.

Rev. Messrs. Crossley and Hunter, the evangelists, are expected in Peterborough in the course of two or three weeks, and the following from the Detroit News concerning their work in that city will be of interest:—Revs. Crossley and Hunter are meeting with wonderful success in their revival work at the central Methodist church. Nightly the building has been crowded, and the work gone on in a manner satisfactory to all. These two men are business-like and manly in their work, and have obtained a strong hold upon the people of every denomination who flock in to hear them. Mr. Hunter's preaching is plain and pungent, mixed with plenty of pathos and strong sentiment. Mr. Crossley's singing is the best of the kind. He throws his whole soul into the different parts of the work, and accomplishes wonderful results. As many as 50 people have professed conversion as the result of a single meeting.

A New District.

Since the beginning of the new year, the Singer Sewing Machine Company have made a radical change in their system of management. Formerly there were in Ontario 35 head offices, but these have been grouped and formed into 9 separate districts, each with a manager. Peterborough has been made the headquarters of a division, comprising the counties of Victoria, Haliburton, Northumberland, Durham and Peterborough, with Mr. F. W. Irwin, manager. Mr. Irwin has had a large experience in this line, having been at different times manager of the Company's business in the Northwest and the Maritime provinces. This new system will make Peterborough the centre of a large trade, and the staff at the office here will have to be largely increased to meet the demands of the five counties. Mr. Stainton still remains in charge of the local agency.

Trotting on the Ice.

The Trenton ice races were held Wednesday and Thursday, and Peterborough was represented by four horses, three of which figure in the list of winners. These are Wm. Clancy's "Royal Jim," Jno. Newhall's "Gladstone" and Dwyer's "Contest." Following are the result of the principal races:—

THREE-MINUTE CLASS—Royal Jim (Peterborough) won, Minnie Moore (Whitby) 2nd, Prince Edward Boy (Picton) 3rd.

To Alexander Trotter.

SIR—Will you be good enough to give space for the following lines of thanks to Alexander Trotter, Bobcaygeon, for the deep interest he manifested in me while I visited that village. Also his willingness in the selling of my book of poems.

Sir, do you think I have forgot you?
No, my kind friend, I never will,
While the name of Trotter does remain you,
And my own name, poetic Bill,
Mine is no heart, mean, cold and dwindled,
But warm, all sensitive and true,
Proved by the interest you have taken
In me—and selling of my book.
We never saw each other's face,
Until I met you in your store.
Love kindled there, still bears its trace
Impressed upon your true heart's core.
Philanthropy your soul inspiring,
Kind sympathy so full and free,
Prompting your actions, your soul firing,
To please, to aid, and favour me.
Wild flow'rs oft bloom in barren places,
And springs gush out in deserts dry,
So I oft meet with genial faces,
And you sir—did no pass me by.
Love was the power, the cord that bound thee
To me—to act a friendly part,
I sought you out, but still I found thee
A friend with warm and generous heart,
While life's blood courses through my veins,
Long as my feeble limbs can thee.
Fresh on my memory shall remain
The name of Alexander Trotter.

Another New Railway.

The road will start from Presque Isle harbor, via Brighton, Warkworth and Hastings to Norwood; then to connect with the Ontario & Quebec railroad, thence northerly to the main line of the C. P.R., terminal point at or near North Bay. Mr. Thos. Webb, of Brighton, the managing director, reports favorable correspondence from all quarters. By this proposed C.P.R. connection with Presque Isle, the harbor terminus of the Murray Canal, now about completed across the Isthmus of Prince Edward County, there will be opened up direct lake communications with Trenton, Belleville, Picton and the whole of the Bay of Quinte.

FAST OCEAN MAILS.

Renewed Attention to the Project—The Allans Likely to Get the Contract.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—Renewed attention is directed to the project of a fast Atlantic service and it seems likely that after all the Allan Company will most probably get the contract. It is understood that the requirements of the Government are such that no company will undertake to fulfil them for an annual subsidy of half a million dollars, which is the utmost the Government has yet spoken of granting. The Anderson Company is being promoted by Mr. C. H. Mackintosh, ex-M.P. of Ottawa. It is reported that since the death of Sir Wm. Pierce of Glasgow there will be some difficulty in the Andersons getting the necessary capital subscribed. This will practically leave the Allans in the field, and instead of an expensive service of 20 knots it is likely that the more sensible plan of having vessels half-way between that speed and the present speed of the Parisian will be adopted. The merchants here favor the allotment of the contract to the Allans, who would be sure to bring the vessels up to Montreal, whereas a foreign company might stop them at Quebec without any restraints on the part of the Government.

Pig Iron Production in the States.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—The American Iron and Steel Association's statement shows that the total production of pig iron in the United States in 1888 was 6,490,739 gross tons, against 6,417,148 gross tons in 1887. The production in 1888 was the largest in our history. The extraordinary activity of the furnaces in the last few months of the year brought the total production far above the figures indicated by the statistical results of the first half of the year. The production in the first half of 1888 was 3,020,092 gross tons, second half 3,470,647. The increased production of pig iron in the Southern States in 1888 over 1887 was over 203,000 net tons. As late as 1865 the whole country made less pig iron than the south made in 1888. Pennsylvania made less pig iron in 1888 than in 1887. So did New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Wisconsin and Missouri. Ohio jumped from 975,539 net tons in 1887 to 1,103,818 in 1888. The stock of pig iron unsold, in the hands of manufacturers or their agents at the close of 1888 and not intended for the consumption of manufacturers, amounted to 336,161 net tons against 401,286 net tons June 30.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.60, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600.00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.60.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,000 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assur'ce risks.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$160,482 60	$1,140,743 60
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	196,188 29	1,167,300 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	353,264 31	2,962,924 80
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,807 24	4,029,372 66
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 45	$10,873,777 60

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

CANADA'S BIG RAILWAYS

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM PRESIDENT VANHORNE.

The First, Present and Future Policy of the Canadian Pacific Railway—Hostility to the Grand Trunk Denied.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The following letter appears in to-day's papers:

MONTREAL, Jan. 14, 1889.

SIR: In accordance with the wishes of the directors of this company at their meeting to-day I beg leave to make the following reply to your favor of Dec. 19, covering a memorial signed by a large number of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, drawing attention to the hostility apparently existing between these companies, and urging the importance of more harmonious working.

At the outset the directors desire to disclaim any feeling of hostility on their own part, or on the part of the officers of the company, towards the Grand Trunk Railway. They fully concur in all that is set forth in the memorial of the shareholders as to the desirability and importance of the most harmonious relations, and it has been their wish all along to cultivate such relations.

The policy of the Canadian Pacific Company as regards the extension of its lines to various parts of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec has been made use of to create the impression that a feeling of hostility exists. There can be nothing else to indicate anything of the kind, because the Canadian Pacific Company has carefully refrained from any opposition to any of the projects of the Grand Trunk Company or interference with its legislation or its financial operations, and it cannot be charged that it has, where competing with the Grand Trunk for traffic, acted in any but the most neighborly and honorable manner, or that it has not at all times shown a strong desire to co-operate in the maintenance of proper rates, and to guard against the abuses which have elsewhere resulted from competition. Indeed, since the beginning of the competition between the two companies, disturbances in their rates other than those resulting from outside causes, beyond their control, have been exceedingly rare. The wholesale cutting of rates and the other evils growing out of fierce competition, which have brought many of the neighboring American lines to the verge of bankruptcy, have been almost unknown between these two companies, and it is safe to say that nowhere else in America are rates more uniformly maintained and nowhere is the public better satisfied.

It can only be, therefore, the territorial policy of the Canadian Pacific Company that can be pointed to as indicating a feeling of hostility on its part, and in order that its policy in that respect may be better understood, I am desired by the directors to say that from the inception of their enterprise it was apparent that the main line of their railway must depend largely upon the traffic between the great Province of Ontario and the Canadian Northwest and the Pacific coast for its support, Ontario being, in point of traffic, equal to all the rest of the Dominion; that in fact this traffic was absolutely necessary to the success of the enterprise; that the Grand Trunk Railway could not be depended upon to bring this traffic to the Canadian Pacific, because its interests would bear heavily in the direction of its much longer haul to Chicago; that nothing short of an exclusive arrangement with the Grand Trunk covering this traffic would be of any practical use; that even if the Grand Trunk were to ignore its many important connections at Chicago, and enter into an exclusive arrangement with the Canadian Pacific, the power of these connections to divert from the Grand Trunk a vastly greater traffic would not admit of the hope of the long continuance of such an arrangement; that at best, as experience everywhere has proved, mutual interest only could be depended upon for the satisfactory working and permanency of such traffic arrangements, and the mutual interest did not and could not exist in this case; that even with the strongest agreement that could be made, the vast capital to be invested in the main line of the Canadian Pacific must remain at the mercy of the Grand Trunk Company, for without the Ontario traffic, the Canadian Pacific could not have existed during its earlier years; that the most carefully drawn agreement could not afford adequate protection, because in case of the wilful diversion of this traffic from the Canadian Pacific, it might be seriously crippled before it could secure its rights through the slow processes of law.

It would have been unwise in the extreme to have left the enormous interest of its shareholders in such a perilous position, and therefore, impelled by the force of circumstances and not in the slightest degree by hostility towards the Grand Trunk Company, the Canadian Pacific turned its attention to the provision of such lines and connections in Ontario as would effectually make these interests secure by the time the main transcontinental line should be completed.

The unfriendly and even hostile spirit displayed by the Grand Trunk Company from the beginning gave additional force to the reasons which actuated the Canadian Pacific Company in deciding upon this course.

A connexion with the Great Western Railway of Canada, whose lines reached nearly every important place in the Ontario peninsula, naturally became the first object of the Company, but the first step in that direction was met by the absorption of the Great Western by the Grand Trunk. The Midland system and other independent railways were absorbed as quickly as possible. Whether any of these lines were absorbed for the profit of the Grand Trunk or only for the purpose of heading off the Canadian Pacific at any cost may possibly be determined by an examination of the subsequent results of their working, and the result of such examination will probably be found to apply equally well to the more recent absorption of the Northern and Northwestern Railway.

One step on the part of the Canadian Pacific towards independence involved another, until, in 1882, its present Ontario system was planned. It may easily be seen that in planning such a system it was most important, while keeping the main object in view, to so arrange the lines that they might draw to their support the traffic from as many sources as possible, because as feeders only of the main line they could not in themselves be profitable.

The local lines west of Toronto, in order to be worked with advantage and profit, had to be connected with Montreal; and with the additional object of bringing an important district within reach of the Canadian Pacific, the line from Toronto to Smith's Falls was made, and subsequently the rapid growth of traffic made necessary the extension of this line directly to Montreal to avoid the great loss in distance in the detour by the way of Ottawa. The Canadian Pacific, quite early in its history, and in order to ensure its connections with the Atlantic seaboard, had acquired the control of certain lines south of the St. Lawrence River and east of Montreal. This involved the construction of a bridge across the St. Lawrence—the Grand Trunk bridge being difficult of access and insufficient for the additional traffic. In establishing its connections with the seaboard, connections were incidentally made with the great manufacturing cities of northern and central New England.

Recently, but pursuant to a long matured plan, the Canadian Pacific has been extended across the State of Maine to a connection with the railway system of the Maritime Provinces of Canada—an extension demanded in the public interest as well as in the interest of this company. There is a large traffic between these provinces and Western Ontario, making local connections in Ontario doubly important.

The traffic between the New England States and Chicago and farther west is very large and profitable, but while reaching it most advantageously at the east the Canadian Pacific has been unable to carry it for want of independent connections at the west. The only break in connections is between London, Ontario, and the Detroit River—110 miles—and on the closing of this gap the full use of no less than 1800 miles of the company's lines east of it depends. Whether or not the comparatively short line necessary to the closing of this gap must be made in the vicinity of two existing lines the gap must be closed. Its importance can hardly be over estimated. It will enable the Canadian Pacific at once to share in a traffic almost as important as any in America and from which it is now effectually debarred.

In the hope of avoiding the construction of a new line, attempts were made to secure rights of user or equivalent rights over that of the Grand Trunk; but these efforts were unsuccessful, conditions in nowise relating to the question having been named by the Grand Trunk at a time when the Canadian Pacific had already delayed its work to the utmost limit of prudence and could delay it no longer without the loss of another season. It is difficult, if not impossible, for anyone at a distance and not familiar with all the conditions surrounding such a complicated question as that of the joint use of a section of 110 miles of railway, by two companies in active competition for the same traffic, to judge of the reasonableness or unreasonableness of either party, but the directors of this company are convinced that every reasonable effort was made on its part; and, in their opinion, a careful reading of the recently published correspondence between the officers of the two companies, clearly proves that only the question of rental stood in the way of an agreement up to the time the negotiations were brought to an end by the introduction of the foreign conditions before mentioned.

One of these conditions was that the Canadian Pacific should discontinue the carriage by its own line of its through freight traffic between Toronto and other Western Ontario points and all the territory reached by its main line west of North Bay, and yield all of this traffic to the Grand Trunk for carriage over its shorter line between Toronto and North Bay, on terms to be settled by arbitration. The Canadian Pacific had offered independently of any other question and in a neighborly spirit, to permit the Grand Trunk to carry this traffic over its short line at the estimated cost of its carriage over its own longer line. Whether or not this offer was based on a correct estimate of the cost it should be remembered that the Grand Trunk has no claim whatever upon the traffic and that the Canadian Pacific was satisfied to continue its carriage at the rates proposed.

A proposal to submit a question to arbitration usually carries with it an impression of fairness; but there are questions which are not proper questions for arbitration. One party in the legitimate enjoyment of a business cannot reasonably be asked to submit to arbitration the terms upon which it shall be surrendered to a competitor.

This company has not been unwilling at any time to arrange this traffic matter with the Grand Trunk, independently of other questions—indeed, it has been so arranged quite recently.

The other condition was that the Grand Trunk should have the right of user over the Sault Ste Marie branch of the Canadian Pacific; but while without a knowledge of all the circumstances, a proposal to exchange rights of user seems fair and proper, there is a wide difference between the question of the joint use of the Grand Trunk line between London and Detroit and the Canadian Pacific line between Sudbury and Sault Ste Marie. In the one case the line has a double track, in greater part, and its use to the owner is certain to be largely diminished upon the completion of the Sarnia tunnel. In the other, the line is a new one, with but a single track, and promises to have almost immediately all the traffic it can conveniently carry.

The Canadian Pacific was in a position to make immediate use of the Grand Trunk line and to commence at once the payment of the rental and its proportion of the cost of maintenance and of the other expenses to be borne jointly. The Grand Trunk, on the other hand, was 100 miles away from the nearest point of connection with the Sault Ste Marie line, had taken no steps towards covering the intervening space, would have to go hundreds of miles beyond Sault Ste. Marie to find a railway free to interchange traffic with it, and wanted practically an option as to the right of user to be exercised or not as it might see fit in the indefinite future.

The action of the Canadian Pacific Company in extending its line to Detroit has been pointed to as indicating a hostile and aggressive policy; but it should not be overlooked that the extension of the Canadian Pacific to the Detroit River is a direct consequence of the absorption so industriously pursued by the Grand Trunk for the past seven years; to refer to the purchase by that company of the North Shore Railway between Montreal and Quebec for no other possible purpose than to keep the Canadian Pacific out of Quebec, the Grand Trunk Company having already a line of its own between the two cities,—a purchase which was only relinquished after provision had been made by the Government upon the demand of the public for the construction of a third line.

Whether or not the recent absorption of the Northern and Northwestern railway, by the Grand Trunk will involve the construction by the Canadian Pacific of a line of its own between Toronto and Sudbury will depend entirely upon the policy of the Grand Trunk in regard to Ontario traffic to and from the Canadian Northwest. The Canadian Pacific Company has no desire to make this line and will not do so unless it should become absolutely necessary to the protection of its interests.

The directors of this company feel that the results have fully justified the policy they have pursued in reference to auxiliary lines, and they believe that without these lines the Canadian Pacific could not possibly have reached its present strong position. They believe, too, that in but one case, where the company has already acquired lines or undertaken the construction of lines of its own, could the lines of the Grand Trunk Company have been made use of without great disadvantage. The only case in which the joint use of a section of the Grand Trunk Railway seemed either expedient or practicable was that of the line between London and Detroit.

The company has in no important particular deviated from the policy and plans decided upon in 1882. These plans lack but little of completion. How soon they shall be completed and whether they shall be completed in full must depend upon circumstances; but in carrying them out the directors will be happy, as they would have been in the past, to utilize as far as possible the lines or other facilities of existing railways, if that can be done without the sacrifice of efficiency or independence. They have no desire to injure the property of their neighbors or to incur any avoidable capital expenditure.

The directors beg leave to point out that so much as may have been unsatisfactory in the experience of the Grand Trunk Company in the past three or four years must be attributed to other causes than Canadian Pacific competition; for they have reason to believe that at nearly all competing points the earnings of the Grand Trunk have been larger than before this competition began, excluding, of course, the accident of bad crops. The impetus given to trade and manufactures by the advent of the Canadian Pacific has resulted in a profitable traffic for itself and an increased traffic for its neighbor.

The directors wish further to say that next to the prosperity of their own railway, there is nothing that intelligent self-interest would lead them so earnestly to desire as the prosperity of the Grand Trunk.

I have the honor to be, etc.

Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM C. VAN HORNE,
President.

Alex. L. Scrutton, Esq.,
Acting Secretary for shareholders, London.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A True Bill for Murder Returned Against Brougham Wood.

Mr. Justice Rose and Mr. Justice MacMahon sat in the assizes all day yesterday, but very little criminal business was disposed of. Before the first named Roland Gideon Isreal Barnett was arraigned on the charge of appropriating to his own use a promissory note for $285 made by C. F. Bunbury. He pleaded not guilty. His trial in the Central Bank case will be commenced this morning and his counsel will seek to have the Bunbury case postponed because of the absence of a material witness in New York.

The counsel for Mr. W. F. Maclean of The World asked for a postponement till next court of the trial of the Massey libel suit and for further time to plead, as in case he decided to plead justification he would require to bring witnesses from Cleveland, St. Thomas, Peterboro and Cobourg. His Lordship gave till to-day to plead, after which he will consider the application for postponement.

The Grand Jury delivered themselves upon several indictments laid before them. The most important of all was their finding no bill in the cases of Dr. Valentine and Alley Wilkinson, charged with complicity in the murder of Lily Charlton, and the returning of a true bill against the absent druggist, J. O. Wood, connected in the same case. True bills were found against David Logan, George McCoppin and Robert Reddin, gambling in stocks; Chas. Nelson, forgery; Chas. R. Wright and Ed. Driscoll, gaming; Geo. Egan, larceny, and Florence Maynard, obtaining goods under false pretences.

George Morrison, a printer, living at 267 Yonge-street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on four distinct charges of forgery, the complaints being made by Mr. John Holderness, James Beaty, and W. A. Sheppard.

Convocation Hall of Trinity College was filled yesterday afternoon with an audience which testified by repeated applause their delight with the patriotic sentiments of J. B. Bourinot, LL.D. Clerk of the Canadian House of Commons, who for an hour and a quarter lectured on "The National Development of Canada." There was no uncertain sound in the Doctor's utterances. He has unbounded faith in the resources and great destiny of Canada.

An Incendiary Blaze at Listowel.

LISTOWEL, Jan. 25.—About 12 o'clock last night fire broke out in the large frame stable belonging to the Imperial Hotel, owned and occupied by F. A. Kraus, which was totally destroyed, also a horse, cow and some new farm implements stored there from last season. The building was insured in the Waterloo Mutual for $600. This makes nine supposed incendiary fires here since Sept. 16. The council have offered a reward of $500 for the conviction of the incendiary.

Fire at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 25.—Between 8 and 9 o'clock last evening the alarm bells were sounded, when it was found that the dwelling in Hope-street owned by Mr. Wm. Stevenson was on fire. The Chemical did good work and succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but not before the entire upper part of the building was destroyed. The house had been unoccupied for a few days. The loss is partially covered by insurance in the Scottish Union.

Fiendish Attempt at Train Wrecking.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 25.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the Colorado, Utah and Pacific passenger train near Wilcox, Kan. Heavy timber and boards were piled upon the track, a part of which was knocked aside by the engine and the remainder run over by the train. The track there runs on a high embankment and had the train left the rails there would have been a fearful loss of life. The object of the wreckers was probably robbery.

Attempted Bank Robbery.

CHARLESTOWN, N. H., Jan. 25.—A bold attempt was made last night to rob the Connecticut River National Bank. Two brick walls surrounding the vaults were torn away by an explosion, but the granite vaults proved impenetrable. An attempt to drill the locks also failed. The burglars then left the bank and robbed the postoffice and a store.

A FLOURISHING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The report of the proceedings of the second annual meeting of the shareholders of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, printed below, is attractive to persons interested in safe and economical life insurance, and in this age of advanced intelligence this class is a numerous one. Though the operations of the year have caused considerable of a drought upon the capital of the shareholders, yet this is a state of things to be expected in the inception and establishment of an insurance corporation. At the worst such effects are only temporary and clear the ground for the reaping of a profitable harvest in the future. The business of the company is managed with great prudence and regard to economy. While the cost per $1,000 of business is, to the American companies, the large sum of $27.71, per $1,000, the Manufacturers' Life has been able to effect risks to the amount of $4,801,000, even including all the expenses of the year as applying to new business, at the low rate of $18 per $1,000. Besides, the death rate is low, a fact showing the care with which risks are selected. Altogether the past record of the Manufacturers' Life, brief though it is, indicates that its claims to the public confidence rest upon an assured basis. We understand some important changes in the management have taken place, which will tend to increase its efficiency. Messrs. Wilson & Morrison, Hunter street, are the local representatives of the company and manager for Eastern Ontario.

Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company.

The second annual meeting of the above Company took place at the Board of Trade Council Rooms on Tuesday, the 15th January, 1889, the President, Sir John A. Macdonald, being in the chair.

The following report was presented to the meeting:—

In presenting this report, we think it desirable that we should offer some remarks having special reference to the figures contained therein.

It will be seen that there appears in our report a slight impairment of capital, which might be viewed with concern by some who are unacquainted with the relation which in a case such as ours, the capital bears to the general reserves.

In a Life Insurance Company, capital is, as it were, the anchor by which the Company is held in place during the earlier years, when unusual expenditure is necessary in order that afterwards the reserves may be increased through the agency of the premium income secured while the lives insured are fresh from the hands of the medical examiners, and before adverse selection, caused by the withdrawal of good lives, begins to tell on our mortality.

The executive officers of this Company have realized that the policy of getting a large amount of paying business on the books was of vital importance, and that it was worth an effort and liberal expenditure of means to accomplish this object.

The result has been that at no time in the history of Life Insurance in this country have such results been attained as we were able to exhibit here to-day.

The Company has received during the year applications for insurance amounting to $6,000,000. There were 2,772 for $4,801,000 accepted and policies issued. Others amounting to $545,300 upon 287 lives have been declined, not coming up to the standard required by the Company, and applications for $653,200 were approved or incomplete, or otherwise deferred at the date of the report.

We have now on our books at the end of sixteen months' actual work a larger premium income, representing a larger amount of business, than some of the most successful companies have been able to secure after many years of arduous labor, as will be seen from the Government Blue Book.

Although it is an unusual course for new companies to pursue, we decided to submit our policies for valuation to the Insurance Department at Ottawa, and the report is before you to-day in the Company's General Report.

The growth of the Company has been rapid, and the volume of business proportionately large, necessitating in the opinion of the Executive the appointment of a Secretary-Treasurer, and for this responsible position Mr. J. L. Kerr has been selected.

Mr. Kerr has ably filled a similar position for many years, and brings with him a large experience. Those interested in the Company are to be congratulated on this appointment.

The following is a statement of the financial position of the company:—

Total cash income for the year	$125,577 66
Disbursements	97,899 37
Leaving to add to the investment of the year	27,713 41
Total assets	223,771 37
Liabilities to policyholders as per Government certificate	110,478 20
Surplus on policyholders account	113,293 17
To which add uncalled capital stock	493,680 00
Total surplus on policyholders account	606,973 17
Which is equal to $5.60 of assets for each $1.00 of liability to policyholders.

The Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald spoke as follows:—

It becomes my pleasing duty, and I think it is a pleasing one, to move the adoption of the report which you have just heard read.

The past year has been remarkable for several circumstances, and especially remarkable when you consider that most people have been complaining of the dulness of the trade, which, however, does not appear to have affected our business at any rate. Judging from the experience of several of the older companies, it is evident that we have been making great progress, and the rate of that progress I am told is unprecedented in the history of Life Insurance.

It is difficult for me to determine how far my own connection has benefited the Company, but one thing is certain, that having put my hands to the Life Insurance plough I mean to keep them there so long as I can be of service to the Company—(applause)—whose future I believe is bright, and many of those here present may live to see the day when the Manufacturers' Life will become one of the recognized institutions of this fair Dominion in which many of us take pardonable pride—(applause).

I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report.

Geo. Gooderham, Esq., seconded the adoption.

ADOPTING THE ADDRESS.

An Afternoon of Speech-Making in the Ontario Legislature.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Before the House proceeded to the orders of the day yesterday Mr. Mowat referred in moving terms to the illness of his former colleague, Mr. Pardee. Before another session that able Minister and loved friend would have passed away. His death might occur even in a few days. Mr. Mowat was confident that he voiced the opinion of the members in an expression of the deepest and most respectful regret for the illness which was so soon to end in the death of their former esteemed colleague. As to the three appointments which had been made since the last session of the House, Mr. Mowat said that men might have been found who could fill the positions as well, but none who could fill them better.

Mr. Meredith said a few graceful words of regret for the illness of Mr. Pardee. He hoped never to see the day when party feeling in Ontario should run so high that politicians would not pay tribute to the high qualities of such men as the former Minister of Crown Lands.

Mr. G. B. Smith (East York), in rising to open the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, referred first to that portion of it touching upon the development of the agricultural industry. That, he said, was the subject given the greatest length in the speech. "I believe it has always been the policy of the Government to give that important industry the prominence it is entitled to." He spoke of the affiliation of the Agricultural College and the Provincial University and the degree of "Bachelor of Agriculture" which had been created and which would encourage the young Canadian to follow the farming profession. The value of the farmers' institute could hardly be over estimated.

Mr. E. J. Davis (North York) in rising to second the address made a long speech on the resources of Canada, in connection with which he gave some statistics of Canadian minerals. He referred to the Mining Commission and the newspaper reports of its labors, and also to the project of providing better means for a practical, scientific education for mechanics and others. He spoke in eulogistic terms of the Agricultural College and also of the rich agricultural resources of Ontario, proving that young Canadians need not go to the States to pursue with profit the farming industry.

The leader of the Opposition spoke at length. He referred to the question of annexation and said he hoped that the members on the other side would be found as patriotic and as fond of their country as are the gentlemen on his side of the House. He made a humorous allusion to the inter-provincial conference. Mr. Meredith charged that the Government made use of the Crooks Act for partisan purposes and said that it was not desirable that this state of things should continue.

Mr. Mowat in reply after referring to the interprovincial conference and the appointment of a new minister, said with regard to the licensing system that it is infinitely superior in the public interest, to any other enforced in this or any other country. It is far superior to any project that has been proposed. If there are defects in it I am not surprised that there are so many, but that there are so few. The Premier denied that the government derived any political advantage from the system.

The address in reply was passed before the House rose. Several stereotyped notices of motion were sent up to the clerk's table, among them being Mr. Waters' bill for woman suffrage. The House will sit again Monday afternoon at 3.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Sores like Spots of Mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change yo r Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pim ples coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until so e time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spattered on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed, mean while, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, got without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggists, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and I have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was serious and painful. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have be en with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

HE LIVED TOO HIGH.

A Hamilton Bookkeeper Who Got His Accounts Mixed Up.

HAMILTON, Jan. 25.—Eddie Orr, formerly a bookkeeper for Frank Squibb, plumber, is in Chicago, whither he went to get out of solving a financial problem. Orr was in receipt of a small salary, yet he lived well, dressed stylishly, sported a gold watch and diamond ring, and spent money freely. Many of his friends wondered how he could afford to go the clip he did, unless he received money beyond his salary. Several months ago his employer remarked to him that he was living beyond his means, and Orr explained that he got money from other sources. Mr. Squibb did not suspect that he was paying for his bookkeeper's extravagance until about Christmas, when he accidentally discovered that there was a deficit of $149 in his cash book. Orr promised to make good the shortage, and tried to explain how it occurred, but his explanations were not satisfactory to Mr. Squibb, who discharged him at the first of the year. Orr did not pay the shortage, but he made good promises, and Mr. Squibb did not prosecute him.

Last Saturday Orr departed very suddenly for Chicago. He coolly wrote a letter from there to his former employer, asking him to send a recommendation to assist him in getting a situation. Since his departure it has been discovered that he falsified the books, collected accounts and never turned over the money. The amount of his defalcation is not known, as Mr. Squibbs hears of something new every day; but it will exceed $200. It is impossible to state the exact amount at present. Orr kept his books very skilfully, and covered up his tracks very well. In one instance an apprentice was to get a raise last March. The increase was granted, but the boy did not reap the benefit, as the book-keeper pocketed the amount every week. Orr is also heavily involved around town, tailors being his victims.

The Verdict.

MONTREAL, Jan 25.—The city is filling up with strangers from all parts of the world. The ice castle has risen to a towering height. The mouse have arrived for the fancy drive and preparations on a gigantic scale are about completed for all events. One of the greatest events of the carnival is the coming number of The Montreal Star. A private view of it was given to a few to-day and the verdict pronounces it the very biggest hit ever made in carnival papers either on this continent or in Europe. A cash offer by one party was immediately made for 100,000 copies, but the publishers of The Star refused to take any other course than to sell to dealers as the orders are filed.

Manitoba Matters.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 25.—The vote in Provencher, with five polls to hear from, is:

Larivière	509
Richard	404
Clarke	387

The Liberals held a banquet at Stenbore to-night.

To-day's races were postponed on account of the weather.

The Oshawa Mayoralty.

OSHAWA, Jan. 25.—On account of no Mayor being elected for 1889 (the gentleman who were nominated for the position having resigned), Ex-Mayor McGee has issued a proclamation instructing the town clerk to call a meeting of the ratepayers to nominate candidates for the office.

The Hoosier Defaulter.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—Joseph A. Moore, the defaulting insurance agent, has not yet been arrested.

Personal Into the Women.

George Meredith's new novel is nearly ready.

The author of "As Common Mortals" has written a new story.

The craze for gold and silver handles for canes and umbrellas is beginning to lessen.

A permanent library composed solely of books written by women is to be established in Paris.

Mrs. Frances Cresswell, daughter of Elizabeth Fry and herself an indefatigable philanthropist, is dead.

At an English church wedding the other day the bridesmaids marched in with their bouquets tied to the ends of walking sticks.

A little girl of Fenlon, Ga., raised enough peanuts and sugar cane to pay for 51½ acres of land, and she had enough money left to fence it with.

Gossip has it that fashionable New York milliners and dressmakers keep a stock of gloss on hand to "relieve the fatigue" of their customers.

Mr. Bennet made a funny mistake in his last novel, "For Faith and Freedom." He described one of his characters as going "on board a steamer bound for New England" in 1697.

A Maine historian says that in old times the fine ladies of Eastport—then a very gay, flourishing town—used to acquire beautiful complexions by sleeping with their heads out of the windows in foggy weather.

Mrs. Sherwood writes:

"Jane" asks: When shall I use the word "woman" and when the word "lady?"

Use the word "woman" whenever you can. She is a fine "woman," a cultivated "woman" or a clever "woman" is better than the other. Still, it is proper to say "lady" sometimes, as she is a "lady" in every relation of life.

Paris harbored during the last week the Comtesse de Pierrefonds, who is no other than the Empress Eugenie. She has walked alone and unobserved in the garden of the Tuileries, where formerly she reigned supreme, and she quietly attended mass in the Cathedral of Notre Dame, where, as Mlle. de Montijo, she was married to the Emperor of the French. Sad, with sunken cheeks, lustreless eyes and vacillating step, such are the changes which have come over the once beautiful woman who, at the last court ball, before the unhappy "march to Berlin" was inaugurated, "erled in exultant tones to the Princess de Metternich: 'Remember, this is my war—not the Emperor's.'"

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Greatly Benefited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It to used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Diphtheria

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Health of the Dominion.

The statistics for December last have arrived, giving the mortuary returns of all the [illegible]e towns and cities in the Dominion, showing the deaths during the month in Peterborough to have been 8. This is considerably better than December of 1887, when 23 deaths were recorded. Last month Montreal had 439 deaths, Toronto 211, Quebec 119, Hamilton 72, Halifax 102, Ottawa 81, London 23, Winnipeg 31, Kingston 19, Brantford 10, Victoria, B.C. 21, St. Thomas 9, Belleville 10, Galt 7. In ratio of deaths per 1,000 of population, Woodstock comes lowest with .53, then Guelph .78, Brantford .79, Charlottetown (P.E.I.) .80, St. Thomas .87, Peterborough .94, Belleville .96 Halifax is highest with 55, then St. Hyacinthe (Que.) with 2.54, Hull 2.36, Ottawa 2.15, Montreal 2.15, St. John N.B., 2.06. This would seem to indicate that the lower provinces, on the whole, are not as healthy as Ontario and the west. Toronto's rate was 1.67 and Hamilton's the same. Kingston 1.20, London 1.06, and so on down the scale.

Next Week's Bonspiel—A Match at Millbrook.

Tuesday and Wednesday next, if the probe. are propitious, the rinks composing group No. 2, in the Ontario tankard competition, namely, Bowmanville, Orillia, Peterborough, Whitby and Lindsay clubs, will play off on the Charlotte street rink here. Mr. J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay, is umpire, and he will to-night receive the latest weather predictions from the Toronto Observatory. If they are decidedly unfavorable, the bonspiel will be postponed, but if as assuring as the probabilities to-day, which bespeak colder weather, he will issue final instructions to have the match played or the date mentioned. Peterborough will be represented by two rinks skipped by Messrs. W. G. Ferguson and T. Rutherford.

Yesterday a couple of rinks of the Peterborough Curling Club went down to Millbrook to play a friendly game. The match resulted as follows:—

Peterborough.		Millbrook.
R. Fair,		D. Hampton,
D. Bellegham,		T. B. Collins,

Sam. Ray, skip	20	J. S cole, skip	9

Majority for Peterborough, 23 shots.

The Peterborough curlers speak highly of the entertainment they received at the hands of the Millbrook men, who took their defeat with good grace, and made things pleasant for the visitors. The Millbrook curlers are made of the right sort, and have material to become in time a good club. As beginners they are doing famously.

On motion for the adoption of the report, Mr. Finlay moved an amendment, that the report be referred back to the committee, with instructions to substitute the name of Dr. Ford for that of Mr. Kidd, as trustee of the Norwood High School.

Mr. MOLONEY pointed out that the county had the right to appoint the trustees. If Norwood wanted Dr. Ford appointed, they should do so, and leave the county free to appoint whom it pleased.

Mr. KIDD explained that he was willing to forego the position in favor of Dr. Ford, though he would, if appointed, discharge the duties faithfully.

The amendment was lost and the report adopted.

St. Paul's Sunday School.

Friday evening the schoolroom of St. Paul's church was crowded with the pupils of the Sunday school and their friends. The occasion was the annual entertainment of the school. Mr. Hall, superintendent, presided, and introduced the varied and meritorious programme which was rendered by the pupils, who acquitted themselves creditably indeed. Following is the programme—

PART I.

Chorus—Hymn 464	Sunday School
Duett, Piano	Misses H. and L. Taylor
Recitation	Miss L. White
Vocal Duett	Misses Courtney
Mouth Organ	Master E. R. per
Recitation	Master R. Thompson
Kindergarden	Primary Class
Reading	Mr F. R. Hall
Chorus—My Bonnie	Sunday school

PART II.

Chorus—"A Motto for Every Man"	Sunday school
Song	Miss Lexa Taylor
Piano Solo	Miss E. Hall
Recitation	Master Percy Wright
Vocal Duet	Miss Carey and Master Lee
Recitation	Master Kirkpatrick
Kindergarten—Collection of Nursery Rhymes
Chorus—Hymn 494	Sunday School

During the intermission Rev. E. F. Torrance addressed the children, in a happy manner impressing upon them the Bible truths which they studied in Sunday school. After the concert each pupil of the school was presented with a little token of their teacher's regard in the shape of a bag of sweetmeats The whole entertainment was a decided success, the credit for which is largely due to Miss Roper, Miss Sophie Cameron and Miss Maggie Dixon. Miss Roper trained the school in singing and Miss Sophie Cameron taught the primary class their kindergarten songs. Miss Dixon also lent valuable assistance. As a result of the entertainment the proceeds netted a nice little sum.

The Lakefield Entertainment.

Last night the Collegiate Institute pupils under the direction of Sergt.-Major Rundle gave an entertainment in the P.C.A. hall, Lakefield. They were assisted by the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra, and a couple of 'buloads of other young people drove out partly to witness the entertainment and partly to have an oyster supper and spend a pleasant evening afterwards. Altogether quite a crowd of Peterborough people invaded the village. On the way out several of the 'busses upset, one of which contained the musicians and their instruments. This was but a precusor of the poor luck that was in store for them. At Lakefield there was a very slim audience and the platform was so small that the pupils could not show off their drill to advantage. However, the Daughters of the Regiment in uniform, and a couple of forms of boys, went through calisthenic, dumb-bell, Indian club, rifle and sword exercise, and the orchestra, who were unfortunately able to muster only six pieces, rendered several selections. The audience was neither large nor appreciative, and it is said some of the Lakefield people conducted themselves most unbecomingly, the chairman, Mr. J. H. Long, finding it at times impossible to maintain order. The proceeds will about cover the expenses.

Robbie Burns' Birthday.

A Tribute to Robbie Burns on His One Hundred and Thirtieth Birthday.

Friday, 25th instant, was the 130th birthday of Scotland's great poet, and the following tribute is paid him by "A ploughman":

Over one hundred years have fled
Since light he dawning became first shed,
When life and muse were truly wed,
On the first of Robbie's birthdays.

When drifting snows, like spray-dashed wave,
While wind and storm held wild carnival,
A hand supreme to Scotia gave
Her dear immortal Robbie.

A child of nature reared with love,
Her true born bard—to sing her praise,
To sketch her barns and paint her brass;
Poet-artist grand, was Robbie.

A gem of wit, a world-wide ray,
A soul of genius cased in clay,
A star to shine, then pass away—
Short was the life of Robbie.

Though short his life, with trials severe,
Each day his fame shone forth more clear,
Till prince and peasant did revere
The works and name of Robbie.

His love for Scotia and fellow men
Inspired his heart grand themes to pen—
The field, the flower, the grove, the glen—
True nature's self was Robbie.

His pen gave love a sweeter power,
And cheered the poor man's darkest hour,
On cruel oppressors burst the lour
Of sympathetic Robbie.

Honest sons of toil seemed in his mind,
Above crowned heads or lords refined;
Vain hypocrites were well defined
By the sharp lash of our Robbie.

A lyric bond of love he wove,
No time nor distance can remove,
His strains still fire each poet to love
Scotia and her dear Robbie.

The Scotch fireside, the palace gay;
His grief for loved ones passed away,
No bard before, none since his day,
Raise touching strains like Robbie.

In life he wrote beneath a cloud,
Admirers few, his foes a crowd,
But when he lay wrapped in his shroud,
All owned the worth of Robbie.

Before the green sward decked his grave,
His fame swelled like a tidal wave,
Deep sighs they heaved, high praise they gave,
Mourning and praising Robbie.

The grave his mortal part could hold,
But not the thoughts he did unfold;
Death raised his brilliancy tenfold,
And stamped him darling Robbie.

Time spread fresh lustre o'er his name,
Each passing year increased his fame,
Till Scots in every land proclaim,
The king of poets was Robbie.

Though in the grave his body lies,
The name of Burns' Scots idolize,
His brief life did immortalize
His name, as Scotland's Robbie.

THE IMPORTATION OF ACTORS.

Fanny Davenport Talks — American Stage Owes Much to Great English Actors.

BOSTON, Dec. 25.—Fanny Davenport, who is now playing an engagement at the Boston Theatre, contributes to The Boston Post her views on the proposition to place foreign actors under the operations of the contract labor law. She says:

"I cannot but believe the American stage is large enough for both. To object and prevent the English actor coming is to object and prevent those greater lights from shining upon us, who, by their coming, I hold, have taught us so much, Irving, Coquelin, Salvini, Barnay, Bernhardt and many others. Surely no one can gainsay the fact that Mr. Lester Wallack did much for the stage in his theatre, dignifying and elevating it, and he was born and bred an Englishman. He it was who gave us John Gilbert, Harry Becket, Madeleine Henriques, Osmond Tearle, Montague, Annie Robe, and surely the public are more grateful to have known these artists than not to have known them because they were English. What is responsible for the large outcome of the English actor to our country? The English plays, say I. No one can blame a manager for desiring to give his patrons a perfect performance. To do this the English actor became a necessity. Besides, I cannot but believe their coming in years past was a benefit to our actors. May I say why? In the first place, the English actor has many advantages over his American brother. He has the entree to all the finest clubs. At these he meets lords, titled men 'par excellence' in manner, the top of London nobility. He hears the best English spoken, and if the actor is not a gentleman born and bred, he soon appears as such by his observation and association. It was this very gentility the Englishman brought among us, and in doing so put our actors upon their mettle and made them strive to round off any rough edges, and polish up the dead gold they possessed. Surely no one can look back to the time of the dawning of the society drama and not realize how unfitted the American actor was then for drawing-room acting. Our actors had supported Forrest, Cushman, etc., everything was legitimate acting then, and its manners large, its action exaggerated and out of drawing for pantaloons and parlors.

"Another advantage is this: the English actor comes, is liked and his family follow. He brings up his children in America, and the money he earns he spends in the land he makes it in. I have had a company of my own for some ten years now, and have had both English and American actors under my direction. I have ever found the Englishman conscientious and giving me the full worth of his salary. Nor can I say less of the American. I believe it is not right to say 'the English actor must go or must not come.' It is putting our profession upon the basis of a commercial business and making actors night laborers. Art should be free. 'Tis my firm belief that should the matter be looked into, there are not to-day two dozen good actors and deserving ones out of an engagement in America, and could we trace this much-discussed question to its source, we should find it started among those of our profession whose opinions deserve little or no consideration. If, again, it is for the money being carried out of the country the objection is advanced, then we must not object to the stock actor, who spends his money here, but to the meteors of the English stage, who sweep our country and take all home with them, to live on American dollars like kings and queens.

THE MAN ON HORSEBACK.

BOULANGER ELECTED FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF THE SEINE.

The General Has a Plurality of 21,000 Over Jacques—The Cabinet Summoned to a Special Meeting To-day.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Boulanger is elected by a plurality of 21,560. The complete returns are:

Boulanger	244,070
Jacques	222,510
Boulé	16,703
Other candidates	16,153
Boulanger's plurality	21,560
Boulanger's majority	44,433

The polls closed at 6 p.m. The attendance of voters was unprecedentedly large. Perfect quiet prevails. Few police are seen on the streets, nearly all being held in reserve. The Cabinet is summoned to meet at the Ministry of the Interior to-morrow.

Every quarter of Paris was enlivened last evening by frequent street brawls between supporters and opponents of General Boulanger. The most violent encounter took place in Montmartre, where a number of persons were wounded. The police interfered and arrested several of the ringleaders. Another serious collision occurred in the Faubourg du Temple, where several persons were injured.

At several electoral meetings there were scenes of great disorder. Bands of men and lads singing the Marseillaise and Boulangist songs paraded the boulevards until a late hour. In the Place de la Republique and the Place de l'Opera open-air meetings were held. Great masses of people were present, but the proceedings were on the whole fairly orderly, although a few individual brawls occurred and a number of persons were arrested.

To-day opened fine, and at an early hour the streets began to fill with people, the general stir and bustle increasing as the morning wore on. At noon the electors were thronging toward the 266 balloting stations. The vote was the heaviest ever polled in the district. The Boulangists were everywhere first at the voting places and displayed the greatest confidence in their success. The voters of the Faubourg St. Germain and Champs Elysees districts were nearly all Boulangist, but the issue really depended upon the vote in the workmen's quarters, especially in the Belleville, Chaironne, St. Denis and Courbevoie districts.

One morning paper engaged 250 special reporters, each of whom was provided with a cab, and 30 bicyclists, to bring the results in each section with the greatest possible speed.

The Boulangists counted upon a majority of 30,000 for their candidate. Among other things the Boulangists predict the immediate fall of the Floquet ministry, the dissolution of Parliament and a general election in March. They also forecast a rupture in the Radical party and express belief that forty Radical members will join the Boulangist ranks and thus give the General a following of sixty men here in the present chambers.

The Prefect of Police to-day enlisted the services of a large number of householders to aid the police in maintaining order. Troops were held in readiness at various points and cavalry were ordered to patrol the streets and disperse all gatherings. Municipal guards lined the boulevard.

General Boulanger this afternoon said he felt sure then that his majority would be 60,000. The General's electoral organization was perfect. His followers everywhere were instructed to maintain order. The excitement grew at 5 o'clock when the return showed Boulanger's majority to be 5000 in the St. Denis district and that he polled three times more votes than his opponent in the 8th arrondissement.

The members of the Government are astounded at the result. Bets were freely offered that the ministry would resign to-morrow. Boulanger will resign the Seine seat, retaining that for the Nord. It is rumored that Maquin, the governor of the bank, will be asked to form a cabinet.

THERE MAY BE TROUBLE.

Apprehension Caused by Last Week's Wild Scenes in Ireland.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The wild scenes witnessed on Thursday at Carrick-on-Suir and Skibbereen have caused apprehension as possibly putting an end to the long period of comparative tranquility in Ireland. Any repetition of these scenes may bring grievous trouble. The Chief Secretary is a resolute man, and his famous order to shoot if necessary, which was repeated during the Falsburgh evictions recently with even more emphasis, will surely be put into execution if he finds the attentions of the people too embarrassing, and especially if the police are recklessly dealt with. To touch his executive officers is to touch Mr. Balfour himself, and bloody work may be witnessed if the scenes of Thursday bring others in their train. Authority will be supported at all costs. The belief in Government circles is that the Carrick incident and the dramatic withdrawal of Mr. Healy and Mr. O'Brien were all prearranged.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech at Birmingham on Wednesday continues to be discussed. He publicly abandoned his friendship for Mr. Morley, which was patched up after a long coolness some little time back, and everybody is asking, "What are the obligations which he throws in the teeth of the member for Newcastle?"

The remarks of Chamberlain on the Fisheries question are generally praised, and the hope is wide that General Harrison will see his way to a prompt resumption of negotiations on this matter.

African Society of the Red Cross.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 27.—King Leopold has created an African Society of the Red Cross. Its objects are to succor the victims of war and epidemics and to aid African explorers. The King will make the society a present of a vast sanitarium for this purpose. The scheme is considered as important as the Congo enterprise.

A New Guinea Labor Agent Tomahawked.

BRISBANE, Jan. 27.—Mr. Armstrong, the Government labor agent in New Guinea, was inveigled ashore by natives on the Island of Manoba and put to death, his head being split open with a tomahawk. The head was then sent to the chiefs on the mainland.

Coal Operatives Out of Work.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Jan. 27.—Nearly 2000 men were thrown out of work in this part of the coal regions by the suspension of all the Lehigh Coal Company and individual collieries. The "strippings" at this place and Mahanoy City also suspended, adding several hundred men for whom there is no work to the list. Crowds of idle men stand about the street corners discussing the situation. All the Philadelphia and Reading collieries are in operation.

Bob Ingersoll Blackballed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Col. R. G. Ingersoll has been blackballed by the newly established Players' Club founded by Edwin Booth. It is said that the reason of the Colonel's rejection was entirely on account of his anti-religious views. The Colonel says he was proposed for membership without his knowledge.

The Deadly Smoked Sausage.

LACROSSE, Wis., Jan. 27.—Yesterday morning Robert Schen, a shoemaker, bought some smoked sausage and the whole family, consisting of himself, wife and five children, ate heartily of it. They soon became deathly sick. Physicians were called and by hard work the older members of the family were got out of danger. It is doubtful if the younger ones will recover. Schen had been in jail for abusing his wife and the family were half-starved. The matter will be investigated.

A NEW MOVE BY THE C.P.R.

THE MANITOBA CROSSING TO BE FOUGHT IN THE COURTS.

Solicitor Clark Says a Bill Will be Filed at Once to Stop all Proceedings by the Red River Valley Railway.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—There was a meeting of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council yesterday, Hon. J. H. Pope, Sir John Thompson, Sir Hector Langevin and Hon. John Carling being present. In the cause of crossing the Canadian Pacific Railway in Manitoba the Portage la Prairie crossing was postponed and the crossing of the C. P. R. at Morris by the Northern Pacific and Manitoba settled so far as the committee is concerned.

In the course of argument Mr. G. M. Clark, solicitor for the Canadian Pacific, announced that the Canadian Pacific was not satisfied with the decision of the committee allowing the Red River Valley Railway to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway, and that the whole matter would be fought out in the courts. In conversation after the adjournment of the committee Mr. Clark said:

"We are about to file a bill stopping the whole of the proceedings and works by the Red River Valley Railway on the ground that their charter was only granted by the Provincial Legislature and does not give them authority to cross our lines. If the courts decide in our favor the result will be that the Red River road will have to come to the Dominion Parliament for a charter."

Mr. Gormully, when asked for an explanation of the Canadian Pacific Railway's move, said: "They have been over-ruled by the Railway Committee and now intend to apply to the courts. It won't deter us from going on with our road however. We have got the committee's sanction and the road's action cannot have any effect upon us."

The Short Line deputation had an interview with the Privy Council yesterday, and urged that the Atlantic and Northwestern, which is virtually the Canadian Pacific Railway, should be made to carry out the agreement under which the subsidy to build the road was granted in 1885, namely, that it should connect with St. John, St. Andrew and Halifax. They pointed out that although the time for completing the road would expire on July 1, no commencement had yet been made on the branch from Harvey to Moncton, which was necessary to give Halifax the desired connection, and that it appeared as if the Canadian Pacific intended to content itself with reaching St. John.

Sir John said that the intention undoubtedly was that Halifax should reap the advantage of the short line as well as St. John, and he had no doubt that the Canadian Pacific Railway would endeavor to carry out its agreement, but it would no doubt take a little more time than had been expected to do so. He promised that the representations of deputation should receive consideration.

Sir William Richards, ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, died at his residence here yesterday morning. He had been failing for a year past and had been confined to his bed for the last few weeks. The remains will be taken to Brockville, his birthplace, for interment.

The rumor that Mr. W. D. Harrington would be appointed collector of customs at Halifax in the place of Hon Wm. Ross is confirmed. The appointment, it is understood, was made yesterday. Mr. Harrington, who was one of the Short Line deputation, is a member of the extensive wholesale grocery firm of Lawson & Harrington and represented the city of Halifax for several years in the Local Legislature.

The Labor Commission has very nearly completed its report, which will be ready for presentation to the House early in the session.

MURDER IN MANITOULIN.

A Squaw Killed and Horribly Mutilated by Drunken Companions.

LITTLE CURRENT, Jan. 23.—A terrible murderwas committed here last night. Two squaws named Christina Peshagonaqua and Shebotta Beerfoot left for the Sucker Creek Reserve about 10 o'clock, accompanied by four Indians named Brandy Mukadavin, Moses Esquimagh, Bob Black and Jack Douglass, in a sleigh. About 11 another Indian awoke the chief, George Obotosoway, saying that he had found Christina Peshagonaqua dead on the road. The chief hurried to the spot and found the unfortunate creature quite dead and completely disemboweled.

After removing the body to the house of his sister, he promptly set to work and arrested the above men and handed them over to Constable Mackenzie. The constable brought them before Reeve Gibbon of Howland, who remanded them to the lock-up to await the result of an inquest. District Coroner Tucker of Manitowaning will hold the inquest to-morrow morning.

The body presented a shocking sight, and pieces of the intestines were strewed along the road on the snow. When last seen previous to the murder, the party were all under the influence of liquor.

An Allenford Hostler Shot.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 26.—This afternoon a serious shooting affair took place in Allenford in the County of Bruce, which in all probability will prove fatal. Three Indians of the Saugeen Reserve came to Allenford from Wiarton under the influence of liquor and stopped at Warrilow's Hotel, where they were refused liquor. One of the number, Moses Moon, followed the hostler, Joseph Harkness, to the stable and without any provocation drew a revolver and fired. The ball entered Harkness' breast, piercing the right lung, and lodged in the back. The Indian made his escape, but was finally captured and put under arrest this morning. Harkness is very low, inflammation having set in.

The U. S. Senate Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The tariff bill has been received by the House Ways and Means Committee and a meeting has been called for Tuesday to begin its consideration. It is the intention to discuss the Senate amendments thoroughly in committee, and estimates will be prepared showing the probable effect of them on the revenue, from the standpoint of the Ways and Means Committee. This will take some time and an early report upon the bill does not appear to be probable.

GREENWAY CALLS NAMES.

Manitoba's Premier Denies the Newspaper Charges against His Government.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—Premier Greenway at the Liberal banquet at Glenboro Friday gave a positive denial to the newspaper charges made against the Government and intimated that an enquiry would be instituted at which if any corruption were proven the Government would resign. He called Luxton a miserable, funking creature and self-condemned boodler.

The Northern Pacific and Manitoba road will extend its line to Brandon and Rapid City in the spring.

New York's New Market Place.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The new West Washington Market at Gansevoot-square was formally opened yesterday. The structure is the most costly and possesses more facilities for the business to which it is devoted than any other market of its kind in the world. A procession of 1600 marketman, a squad of policemen and long lines of market wagons and vans and other conveyances formed at the old market and proceeded to the more substantial quarters, displaying flags and banners.

GERMANY AND ENGLAND.

THE REICHSTAG DEBATE ON THE EAST AFRICA BILL.

Prince Bismarck Declares that England and Germany are in Perfect Accord on All Points.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—The East African Bill came up in the Reichstag to-day. The Chamber was crowded. At 11 o'clock Count Herbert Bismarck arose and explained the reasons which had prompted the Government to introduce the measure. He said the East African ferment had increased and the situation demanded heavy sacrifices. He reviewed the position of affairs at each German station and emphasized the danger in which they were placed. The navy, he said, had done its duty beyond all expectations, but without aid it could not accomplish much. A police force was necessary. The demands of the bill were reasonable. The efforts of the Commercial Company alone could not suffice to protect the interests of Germany in East Africa. Hence the Empire was compelled to intervene. The Government had selected Captain Wissmann as the man best fitted to carry out its purposes owing to his knowledge and experience.

Capt. Wissmann, Imperial Commissioner for East Africa, followed and urged that the Reichstag accept the bill. He asked the members to rely upon his experience, gained by eight years' wanderings in Africa. He said the object of the expedition was to recover lost territory. The Sultan of Zanzibar was unable to uphold his authority or to protect his territory. The force asked for would be employed as long as was absolutely necessary.

Herr Bamberger followed Captain Wissman, strongly opposing the measure.

Prince Bismarck asserted that the best relations existed between Germany and England and Germany and Zanzibar. "If," he said, "Germany wants tropical countries she must keep East Africa. I was not originally a colonial man, but now I follow the will of the majority of the German nation."

After the discussion the bill was referred to a committee of twenty-one members, under urgency. The measure will be reported and read a second time on Tuesday.

The interest in the debate centered in the speech of Prince Bismarck, which was delivered with unusual animation, an easy flow of words, fewer pauses than usual and unmistakeable earnestness.

In his speech Herr Bamberger said the German colonial policy had failed. He condemned the ill-advised proceedings of the East Africa Company and alluded to their ill-treatment of the natives. The reasons given by the Government for the introduction of the bill were inadequate. He referred to the French complications in Tonquin and the Italian complications at Massowah and declared that he feared complications as the result of their colonial policy.

Prince Bismarck opened with a reference to the allusions of Herr Bamberger and Dr. Windthorst making him responsible for everything happening in East Africa. He said he could not undertake to be responsible for everything and that something must be left to the officials sent there to settle affairs. He then continued:

I will tell the Reichstag how far I intend to go and I will not go a hair's breadth further. What I propose applies only to the immediate and most pressing requirements. The first speaker touched on the question of the position we take up towards foreign powers—on that point I can only say that we have proceeded, and shall ever proceed, solely in agreement with England, the greatest colonial power of the world. I deny, therefore, emphatically the suggestion that we have any intention to proceed against the Sultan of Zanzibar in opposition to the wishes of England in Zanzibar. Also in Samoa we are in the fullest accord with England and advance hand in hand with her. [Cheers.] We are absolutely resolved to be one with the English Government and to uphold the unity we have shared with the English in Africa. [Cheers.] The only unpleasantness that has arisen has been with subordinate officials for whom the Government neither cares nor will be responsible. We cannot discuss the question whether Englishmen do exactly the same in their division of Africa as we do in ours. It has never occurred to us that we should ask England for assistance in our own sphere of power. Such a thing is beyond the range of possibility.

I cannot recognize the necessity for the discussion of this bill in committee. I could just as well say to the full House what I might have to say to such a committee. Time pointed on this question is not only money, but blood gained. Besides, we have no information that could be given to the committee about the details of our plans—the force to be enrolled, their arms and ammunition—for fear of making our foes acquainted with them.

The measures taken hitherto have so thoroughly stood the test as to justify us in the future in building on them. The blockade has less of military than of political significance. The chief thing was to prove to the natives the unity existing between Germany and England, and also to show European powers that the concert was complete. If rivalry exists neither of the two powers will have a special halo of prestige. We have concluded no treaties with England, but can regard her as an old historic ally with whom we have been in touch for 100 years, even on colonial questions.

The Chancellor next adverted to the criticisms of Herr Bamberger, taunting him with his change of colonial policy. He read passages from speeches made in 1885 and admitted he had departed from the opinions therein expressed, but his present action was dictated solely by immediate circumstances.

For the sake of two million marks I cannot throw myself against the great impulse of the nation or offer opposition to the will of the whole country. To this day I am not a colonial man. I entertain the gravest apprehensions of the subject, but have been compelled to yield to the general demand of the nation. I would venture to advise Herr Bamberger to follow my example. I ask the assent of the assembly of the empire to my action. If the assembly repudiates that action I can only admit that I have been mistaken. I shall then give up altogether my plans. At all events the coast territory acquired by the German Company is very important and must be retained. I must burden myself with the reproach of posterity that I failed to protect Germans and German possessions. We cannot look for results in three months, nor in three years. Perhaps 20 years hence the people may bitterly rue to-day's neglect of duty. If the locomotive of empire has struck out a track for itself I will not be the one to throw stones in its way.

The Chancellor resumed his seat amid loud cheers and soon afterwards left the chamber.

There's Some Mistake About This.

LAGRANGE, Ky., Jan. 27.—E. C. Haley who is in jail here for robbing a house, claimed when arrested to be the son of the Mayor of St. Catharines, Ont. Letters have been received confirming his claim and stating that his father had just died leaving a fortune of $60,000.

[There is evident error in this dispatch. The last Mayor of St. Catharines was J. E. Cuff and the present Mayor is J. S. McIntyre. A recently deceased alderman of St. Catharines was named E. H. Haley.—ED.]

White Cap Outrages in Ohio.

MANSFIELD, O., Jan. 27.—The White Caps paid a visit to Jeromeville and the homes of John and Adam Chrown in the southern part of Ashland County last night. There were forty horsemen in the party and about thirty men on foot. They visited the homes of three people who sympathized with the Chrowns and tore down their houses. After doing this they visited John and Adam Chrown's residences, but the occupants had left. Five of the Chrowns were tried for the murder of Constables Kelly and Neilly a year ago.

Mackay's Flouring Mills at Bowmanville Completely Consumed.

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 26.—Another large fire occurred here this morning about 3 o'clock. The large flouring mills of John Mackay were totally destroyed with a large quantity of peas, oats, barley, wheat and feed. The origin is thought to be the heating of some machinery in the top story. Mr. Mackay's loss will be about $50000

Wholesale Peculation at the Central Prison —Shot in the Head

TORONTO, Jan. 23.—Guard John Spence of the Central Prison and Edward R. Cates, foreman in the Brandon factory, were arrested on Saturday charged with wholesale peculation from the Central Prison. Stolen property was found in the house of both and also in that of John R. Hunking, also a foreman for the Brandon Company. A recently discharged convict gave the snap away The scheme, according to him, was a very simple one. The convicts would steal the goods, tools, etc., and pass them to the accused, who, having the right of ingress and egress without being searched, could easily carry off the booty. Outside it would be disposed of for the mutual benefit of the convict and his accomplice. The former received as his share a supply of tobacco, while the accomplice kept the balance of the profits. It is estimated that the peculation which has just been discovered has been going on for years, and that thousands of dollars have been lost either to the Government or the Brandon Company.

The heel is a strange place to get shot in, but that is what happened to Charles Welch of 23 Scott-street in the Model Lodging House at midnight Saturday. He and a companion were participants in one of the orgies which nightly disgrace this place, when someone pulled a revolver and shot him in the heel, so far as known without provocation. William Morrison, a border at the Model, is held on suspicion of being the man who used the pistol. Welch was sent to the Hospital after Dr. Sweetman had extracted the bullet.

On Saturday the tenders for the construction of the C. P. R. extension from London to Detroit were opened. Forty-one tenders were received. The majority of these were for the five mile sections, but many were for the whole work. It is believed that if the tenders of the contractors who bid for the whole work are reasonable and the contractors are reliable the work will be given to one party. But the best contractors for the whole work are said to be very high.

Mary Ann Albert, a domestic in the employ of J. V. Adams, 84 Degrassi-street, met with a peculiar death on Saturday morning. She attended to the morning duties of the household, but was not seen around the house after 8 o'clock. As soon as she was missed Mr. and Mrs. Adams searched for her, with the result that the body of the unfortunate girl was found in the feeding box in the stable. It is thought that Miss Albert had gone into the hayloft to feed the pony, as she sometimes did in the absence of Mr. Adams, and while in the act of forcing the hay down the feeding-box had fallen over and had suffocated before assistance came. Coroner Johnson, as soon as informed of her death issued a warrant for an inquest to be held to-day, but withdrew it later in the day. Miss Albert was the daughter of the unfortunate County Constable Albert, who was sent exced to life in Kingston Penitentiary for shooting a lad named Young at Grenadier Pond.

MUNCASTER'S

A LIMIT TO COMPLACENCY.

German Sulking in Zanzibar and Samaraland—Bismarck to the Queen.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The Tribune's London special says: English relations with Germany are much like those of the United States. The English have not yet talked of voting money [illegible] in Africa or elsewhere, but have allowed it to be known that there is, as The Standard puts it, a limit to complacency, and this is drawn at any overt or covert attack upon the independence of the Sultan of Zanzibar. Public feeling here is calm, but none the less very strong and deep on this point, and it is clearly time for the Government to speak even more plainly. The Arabs are beating the Germans at all points, and unless Prince Bismarck is ready to allow his navy to cut a very ridiculous figure, some strong measures must soon be taken to give check to the Arabs. This cannot, however, be effective, unless it involves landing a party and something more—a force which is prepared to march into the country and bring the enemy to a battle which shall be decisive. This issue has been foreseen from the first, and has caused contagious uneasiness about British co-operation in the so-called blockade. The question now is, how far can the Germans act without involving England?

So far, Lord Salisbury has faithfully observed his promise not to go an inch beyond a naval promenade in company with Germany. Prince Bismarck's persuasions have been of no avail, and public opinion will prevent them succeeding now, the more that the English are already suffering prejudice from the German attack upon the Arabs. The murder of an English missionary on the coast and the seizure of the stores of the Universities Missions by Bushiri, look as if discrimination between Englishmen and Germans were at an end. If it should so turn out, the lives of many missionaries and traders would be endangered; and the first step taken by the Germans ashore will produce an outcry which must have effects highly displeasing to Prince Bismarck.

Altogether the situation is critical in more ways than one. If Prince Bismarck is content to mark time pending the arrangement of the Wissmann expedition, the cloud may blow over; if not, not. The German Chancellor ventures far. Zanzibar and Samoa on his hands, he is now for courting England out of Damaraland. Whether his concession be good or bad, the British Foreign Office is by no means ready to agree to a description of Mr. Lewis as a brigand and an invader, and the Chancellor will probably be put to the trouble of proof. This will not add to his good humor, but is inevitable. The English Court may accordingly look out for fresh squalls.

It is understood that the persecution of Sir Robt. Morier has been kept up very largely to annoy and irritate the Queen and Empress Frederick, but especially the former, who is very sensitive as to any attack upon her Ambassadors. The fact is, Her Majesty has taken up the affronts put upon her daughter in Berlin as a personal matter, and has spoken her mind with a freedom which is peculiarly her own. The Prince of Wales has perhaps gone further. He has broken altogether with his nephew, Emperor William, and if he remains in his present mind it will be long before he again appears at Berlin or puts himself within reach of the Emperor. Meantime Sir Robert Morier's friends are trying to obtain permission for him to fire another shot into the German works, being convinced that he will again hit home. Lord Salisbury, however, desires to bring the whole matter to an end in the interests of business. He has a sufficiently difficult task in hand with the Chancellor in Africa, east and south, and does not want the great man goaded into fury.

DESTITUTION IN KANSAS.

Many Without Clothing and on the Verge of Starvation.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 27.—Many people in Seward County, Kan., are reported to be on the verge of starvation. Appeals have been sent to various places and yesterday a letter was received by the postmaster here from Mrs. James K. Richardson, who lives 11 miles from West Plains, in which she says:

"Many of us have not sufficient food and only a few have enough clothes to hide our nakedness. There is no opportunity for the people to earn anything by labor, as there is nothing to do and no money to recompense them if such were the case. Children are without proper nourishment and the mild winter alone has been their salvation."

The writer makes a plaintive appeal to the people of Kansas City. Seward County is in that part of Kansas that has suffered from crop failures and many of those who went there with little money lost their all, and are now forced to appeal to the charitable for help.

The Maritime Conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Secretary of State has received from the United States minister to Great Britain a telegram stating that the British Government has notified him of the acceptance of the invitation to the International Maritime Conference to be held in Washington this autumn, subject to certain reservations (as to the nature of the particular questions to be submitted and to the necessity of ratification by the powers represented.

Baseball at Colombo.

COLOMBO, Jan. 26.—The Ontario and All-America baseball teams arrived here last evening and played a match this afternoon. A large crowd of spectators was present. The game was watched with intense interest and the tremendous play of the teams was enthusiastically applauded. Owing to want of time the game was called at the end of the fifth inning, the score then standing a tie, each team having made three runs. The players are on their homeward journey to-night.

Won in Fast Time.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 28.—In a 125-yard foot-race here this afternoon Dave Harris of Springfield, Mass., defeated Dan. Scully of Brooklyn, N. Y. Time, 13 seconds. The race was for $250 a side and gate money.

Panic in a St. Louis Theatre.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—A scene of wild excitement occurred at the Olympic Theatre yesterday afternoon. Near the end of the first act of Erminie a small fire was noticed and the great audience became panic stricken. Then someone shouted "Fire!" For a time it looked as though there must be loss of life, as the audience was composed principally of women and children. Some women fainted, others went into hysterics and it was with great difficulty that the few men present restored order. No casualities are reported.

At a meeting of 2800 shareholders of the Panama Canal Company at Paris yesterday, a vote of confidence asked by Charles De Lesseps was unanimously accorded.

American Pilgrims to Rome.

The first American pilgrimage to Rome and to the Holy Land will soon take place. Four years ago Pope Leo XIII decided, in order to create an interest in the minds of the faithful for the holy places made sacred by the presence on earth of the lords and sufferings of the Redeemer, to organize what is known as a commissary, for each of the countries of the Old World as well as for America and Canada, whose duty it could be to organize periodical pilgrimages to those places in conformity with this plan. The Very Rev. Charles A. Vincent Van Paris was appointed by His Holiness to develop the plan in this country. Father Vincent has an office at No. 209 West Fifty-second-street. It is intended that these shall be a pilgrimage each year, the first to set out this year on Feb. 21 in the Hamburg American steamer Wieland. Thomas Cook & Son will provide their escort and excursion system to transport the people to all the places of interest in Europe which they desire to see.

George Eads, the manager of the system, who is in daily receipt of the names of Catholic dignitaries and Catholic laymen who are to go upon the journey, told a reporter of The Tribune that arrangements for the trip had been begun as far back as March last, since which time steady progress had been made. "It will cost $600 a head," said he, "and up to the present we have the names of seventy-five persons enrolled."

"Have any of the Catholic prelates sanctioned the enterprise?" he was asked.

"So far mentioned to," replied Mr. Eads, "that of those already decided upon going and whose names we have there are two Catholic Bishops and twenty-nine priests. The others are lay people. They are from all over the United States, but a majority, of course, are from New York, Brooklyn, Jersey and the South. There are some from San Jose, Cal. From here we shall go direct to Paris. From there we shall visit Nice, Genoa, Florence, Pisa, and other places before proceeding to Rome, where an audience will be arranged with His Holiness. On the way to Naples visits will be made to Pompeii and Vesuvius. The start for Egypt will be made at Naples. Alexandria, Cairo, the Pyramids, an excursion down the Nile and a visit to the historic battlefield of Tel el-Kebir will form some interesting features of the journey. March 7 will see the party in Jaffa, where will be the first place touched in Palestine. After a visit to the Franciscan cemetery, they will bend their steps to Ramleh. Jerusalem will be reached by means of carriages. Bethlehem, the Dead Sea and the River Jordan are certain to call up the beloved of memories. In the journey through Galilee the pilgrims will camp out and will be supplied with every convenience from Cook's well supplied storehouse in Jerusalem."

Mr. Eads said further that the party would number 150, as it is thought a larger party would be unwieldy and that the tourists themselves would cause home less attended. The entire journey will be under the direction of Father Vincent.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Diphtheria

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Very Valuable

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in Gold. Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w4d

MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 1888.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

There is no reason why Peterborough, which in every other respect occupies a leading position amongst the towns and minor cities, should be behindhand in the matter of lighting her streets and thoroughfares, especially at night. It is true that for the first half of the night our town is reasonably well lighted, but at the stroke of midnight out go the lights, leaving the town in darkness, the more dense in contrast with its former brightness. We have the best and cheapest system of electric lighting in Canada and there is no reason why we should not reap the full advantage of such a possession. The system of electric lights has been pretty well extended, and the advantages are so obvious as to enforce not only a plea for a wider extension of the circuit of lamps, but a longer period of illumination at night. It might do very well in a country village, where the people retire at primitively early hours, but in a town of the extent and size of Peterborough, it is not right that our streets should not be lighted the whole night. There are numerous persons among our citizens whose business requires them to be abroad after twelve o'clock, and, of course, under the present arrangement, they have to make their way home in unlighted streets, exposed to all the inconveniences and dangers of such a condition. Our physicians are liable to be called upon at any hour of the night, and as a matter of fact are so called upon every night, and in cases when every moment of delay may imperil life. It is to the advantage of everybody that they should have every facility possible to reach their destination. At the stroke of twelve our whole town is plunged into darkness, and is left, in this respect, to the mercy of theives and prowlers, who have the conditions which best suit them for the prosecution of their nefarious operations. And the police force is handicapped by working in darkness, and it must be admitted that the guardians of the peace, who are interested in protecting the persons and property of the citizens, are placed at a decided disadvantage. In case of fire in some distant quarter it will be seen that, with the streets in darkness, the firemen and citizens who are ready and willing to render service on such an occasion, are prevented from reaching the scene as readily as if the streets were lighted, thus wasting valuable time, which is a matter of the utmost moment, a few minutes, sooner or latter, making in such a case, all the difference between the saving and destruction of valuable property. The lighting of the streets the after part of the night is a matter which concerns every citizen. All would be benefitted thereby, in a proportion largely in excess of the extra cost, which, for the advantages gained, would be inconsiderable. The people are willing to be taxed for necessary improvements, and the lighting of our streets after twelve o'clock cannot but be regarded as a necessity, and one which, when thoughtfully considered, would meet with general approval. The EXAMINER has had its attention called to this matter frequently, and as we have reason to know it is regarded with favour, so also have we reason to know that there are some who do not regard the proposal with favour, therefore our columns are open on this, as on every other subject, touching the people's interests, to brief and pithy expressions of opinion. We are a progressive town, and must maintain our position in every respect, and if we are behind the times in the matter of street lighting, we should hasten to take our place in the ranks of progress.

Sunday Doings in all the Churches—Anniversary Sermons.

The snowstorm had an adverse effect upon the attendance at all the churches Sunday evening.

Mr. F. A. Pearson B.A., supplied the Methodist pulpit at Kinmount on Sunday.

Rev. M. L. Pearson preached the anniversary sermons of the Holloway street Methodist church, Belleville, on Sunday.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Church will be held on Thursday, Feb. 7th.

An adjourned meeting of Peterborough Presbytery will be held in St. Andrew's Church to-morrow at 2.30 p.m.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Bible Society will be held in the Charlotte street church Thursday night next. Rev. Messrs. Pearson and Bell will address the meeting and a collection will be taken up in aid of the Society's fund.

Rev. Caleb Parker, of Kinmount, preached the anniversary sermons of the George street Methodist church Sunday. In the morning he spoke from the text in the third chapter of Phillippians:—"Our conversation is in heaven," translated in the marginal references "our citizenship is in heaven," pointing out the sublime grandeur of the heavenly residence that will be the home of the Christian.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Parker chose for his text, I. Timothy, iii., 19:—

God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

Of all the passages in the new Scriptures, Rev. Mr. Parker said, this had been, perhaps, the most severely criticised, but he did not intend to enter into an argument or exegesis on the subject. He took the passage as it came from the Apostle Paul, the giant among the disciples of Jesus on earth. He could not see how any person who sought a saving grace and a regeneration of soul could entertain a religion that did not teach the essential divinity of Christ. This passage was one of the strongest utterances in the New Testament, and proclaimed the divinity of Christ beyond a doubt. The appearance of the child Christ was heralded by the angels with loud hosannahs, and the shepherds and wise men came and did homage to the child that was born in the manger. "God was manifest in the flesh," and the silent star in the east pointed to the babe of the carpenter's wife as the solution of the world's great problem; the mystery of the incarnation, when the divine and the human were joined in one. "Justified in spirit." All down the ages the indications pointed to the coming of a Messiah, but when the babe of Bethlehem was born the Jew rejected him and he became a man of sorrow and acquainted with grief. Then the Holy Spirit came to him and carried him to a triumphant end of his earthly career. This same vindication of the Holy Spirit was necessary to humanity; only the regenerating power of the spirit could save man. Then Christ was "seen of angels." Down to the time of Christ's coming the angels had watched the progress of the scheme for man's emancipation, and they welcomed the advent of the proclaimed Messiah. The angels were interested in his life and followed his course on earth with a joyful recognition of the vindication of the Holy Spirit that showed itself in his career. "Christ preached to the Gentiles," teaching a doctrine of love, of liberty, of emancipation for all mankind, and like their master, the disciples preached the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ to all the Gentiles. Thank God for this stream of mercy running down through the ages for the benefit of the poor and the rich, the great and small alike. Christ was "believed on in the world," and this Gospel, devised by God himself, was the same to-day as when it first shed its light abroad in the world, and the reverend gentleman said we should never rest until the world's commercial, political and domestic, as well as religious life was permeated with the doctrines of the dispised Nazarene. It should be preached abroad and at home, in the pulpit and at the hearthstone, to the young and the old. Thank God, there were evidences to-day of the efficacy of the doctrine, among the Indians, the Orientals, the heathens and the steady progress of Christianity the world over. Some people were crying out that the funeral procession of Christianity would soon be along, and all sorts of things were said about the religion of Christ. But it didn't look as if this were so when an average of ten Christian churches were being put up a day. Let the gospel be preached in its purity and entirety, and the day would come when all mankind would rejoice in a loving Saviour. As the rays of the setting sun shed a flood of glorious light upon the calm bosom of a lake, and afterwards bathed the clouds in roseate hues, so the last chapters of Christ's life, when he was "received up into glory," reflected the glory of his immaculate conception and divine character. We have to-day, the minister said, a risen and exalted Saviour at God's right hand, to intercede for us with the great Judge of mankind. In conclusion the preacher urged his hearers to accept the gospel doctrines, and believe in the divinity of Christ and His saving power.

Group Number Two.

The Curling Clubs in this District Playing for the Championship.

A Horse Killed.

Saturday night Mr. "Bob." Redmond, of Lewis & Redmond, liverymen, was driving a team and buggy down from Lakefield, and when turning the corner at Nassau met a farmer's rig coming from town. The latter was on the wrong side of the road, and on meeting both drivers pulled out to the right. Redmond's buggy slewed around into the farmer's wagon, breaking the neck yoke and letting the pole drop. This frightened the team and they began running. "Bob" pulled the horses into the fence in order to stop them, and one of the animals collided with a telegraph pole, receiving frightful injuries on the shoulder. However, it was driven the remainder of the distance to town, but shortly after arriving at the stables it died.

Abducted Her Child.

A Father's Plea to Restrain an Erring Daughter.

At the police court this morning an elderly and evidently respectable man from a neighboring town appeared to answer to a charge of "unlawfully taking a child away from its rightful guardian." The defendant admitted that he took the baby, but it was that he might get its mother, his own daughter, to return to her home. He had been advised by friends to take this course, believing that if he got possession of the child her maternal instincts would prompt the young mother to follow it and return to her anxious parents. The magistrate replied that he had no doubt that the defendant's intentions were praiseworthy enough, but he had gone a wrong way about it, and the court had no option but to find him guilty of the offence charged. However, no fine was inflicted, and the usual costs of the court were withheld, the defendant being mulcted simply in the actual expenses, $15.50.

This morning's police court episode was but the sequel of a repitition of the old, old story, of a young girl's departure from the home of her childhood with all its tender and protecting influences, her waywardness when thrown upon the world and her subsequent downfall. Leaving her home in some three years ago, when only sixteen years of age, the girl in question (whose name is withheld) first went to Port Hope, where she hired out as a domestic. Afterwards she came to Peterborough, and while here made the acquaintance of a seductive scoundrel who wrought her ruin. The girl was employed in one of the hotels in town, and it is said the author of her troubles is a young man who has figured in police court annals before. About a year ago a baby was born, and since that time the girl has steadily refused to go home to her parents. Her father made several tripe to Peterborough for the purpose of getting the child, believing that this would influence the girl to return, but each time the little one was hidden away and could not be found by the old man. Latterly the baby has been in the hands of a woman in the south end of the town for weaning, and learning of this the old man came once more to Peterborough and succeeded in getting possession of it. His ruse has been happily successful, for the girl-mother, who is not yet twenty years old, went back to her old home to-day. The abduction was no doubt an illegal act, but the court was inclined to view the offence with a merciful eye in face of the circumstances, hence the light punishment. As the magistrate remarked, it will be better for both the girl and her baby to be with "the old folks at home."

Personal.

Miss Hill, of London, is visiting her brother, Mr. F. S. Hill.

Mr. H. Grassett, of Lindsay, is now teller in the Ontario Bank here. Mr. Ridout leaves for another post shortly.

It is with regret that we inform the many warm friends of Mr. Wm. Telford, of Smith, that he is again compelled to go to Toronto to consult Dr. Geo. H. Burnham, of that city, regarding his eye. He is not sure whether he will have to undergo another operation until he has the Doctor's decision, but expects that another operation will be necessary. Mr. Telford has stood in our sanctum every week since he published his book of poems, and met with his friends on the street, but none of us ever thought or knew what pain he was suffering or how his sight was failing, nor the deep thoughts of this own condition passing through his mind. He seems to be a gentleman who bears his own griefs and hides his own sorrows, at least from the eyes of his fellow men. He says, "Why make all our sorrows known to men? They are powerless to assist us." We will know in a few days whether another operation is required or not. Mr. Telford has gone through two operations upon his right eye, which has been removed, and three upon his left eye. Should he have to submit to another the operations will total six. Severe pain and heavy expenses have been his lot in the last few years. Still he is cheerful in his conversation, contented in his mind and ever ready with his pen.

CABLE NOTES.

The Samoan Affair—The Parnell Commission—Australia's Wheat Crop.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—The National Zeitung, referring to the action of the senatorial committee at Washington on the Samoa affair, says measures for the protection of the autonomy of the Samoa Islands are superfluous because it is not threatened by anyone. The sole interest of America consists in not allowing good relations with Germany to be jeopardised by a few intriguing adventurers.

The Vossische Zeitung holds that it would be a mistake to attach no importance to measures taken by President Cleveland merely because he is shortly to be succeeded by Mr. Harrison. It shows that authority for dealing with foreign affairs rests with the senate committee and warns the semi-official press that it would be unwise to try to appease the German public with "fallacious illusions."

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Parnell Commission resumed work this morning. Frozen Wheat for Seed.

The question how far it is safe to use frozen wheat for seeding purposes is soon to be answered scientifically at Ottawa. It appears that arrangements have been completed at the Central Experimental Farm at that place for testing the vitality of samples of frozen wheat, as well as cereals and agricultural seeds of every sort. In a communication to the public Mr. William Saunders, director of the Central Experimental Farm, states that the results of a few tests made with frozen wheat received last year showed a variable degree of vitality, ranging from 95 to 51 per cent., these grading lowest in vitality being also weak in growth. The question of vigor, as well as vitality, has a most important bearing on the fertility of grain, and every Canadian farmer who has doubts as to the quality of his seed is urged to avail himself of the opportunity thus offered of determining its true value for this purpose. However numerous the samples sent may be, every effort, the director says, will be made to have the returns promptly forwarded to the individuals sending them. The Government allows such samples to be sent free through the mails. Two or three ounces are considered sufficient for the purpose. The tests are made and the returns forwarded free of charge. The matter is one of great importance in Canada. Considerable quantities of wheat have been frozen during the last season in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, and it is feared that in many localities the farmers will use wheat as seed which is entirely unfit for such purposes. In this emergency the opportunities offered of determining to what extent the vitality of a certain sample has been impaired and how far it can be safely utilized for seeding purposes will no doubt be promptly improved by the farmers.—Indianapolis Journal.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

THE UNITED STATES DUTY ON CANADIAN CARS.

A Six Hours' Session of the Cabinet to Consider Bills to be Submitted at the Coming Session.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Hon. Mackenzie Bowell has received further information concerning the alleged duty on Canadian cars, confirming the impression he first held about the matter, viz.: That Canadian cars were made to pay duty because it was thought they were entered for local use and not for through traffic. The American law in regard to the importation of railway cars and other vehicles is identical with our own.

Council sat from 11 until 5 to-day and is understood to have been engaged in preparing the bills to be submitted to the House.

Dr. Robertson, the Liberal member for King's, P. E. I., called on the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to-day and expressed great satisfaction at the manner in which the new Government steamer Stanley performed its service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland. He thinks the Stanley can keep up communication with the island for at least eleven months in the year. On the trip made by him she went through a field of ice varying from nine to fifteen inches in thickness.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

Dissent in the Church of England—Snowballers Fined—Domestic Infelicity.

HAMILTON, Jan. 28.—A number of the laity of the Diocese of Niagara are dissatisfied with the alleged ritualistic tendencies of Bishop Hamilton, and some of them have formed themselves into a society called "The Church of England Defence Association of the Diocese of Niagara." The use of lighted candles about the coffin of the late Mr. Francis Booth, in St. Matthew's Church, on Wednesday last, from 10 to 3 o'clock, has increased the feeling on the part of a number of the members of the association. Several persons at the meeting at Christ Church Cathedral schoolhouse on Thursday last objected to the Bishop's proposed new churches if they were to be ritualistic, but the Bishop ruled all reference to that subject out of order. It is said that the members, however, propose to object in another manner which they believe will be more effectual.

The grocery store of Mr. J. B. Rousseaux, King-street east, was broken into last night, and a quantity of tobacco and $2 in cash were stolen. Entrance was effected by means of a cellar window.

William Ruddy, formerly a hackman, was charged at the Police Court to-day with threatening to blow his wife's brains out. The parties have only been married five months. Ruddy was bound over to keep the peace in $100 and two sureties in $50 each. The parties both wanted to get a separation, which will probably be arranged between them.

Abraham Hill was arrested this morning by Detective Reid, charged with obtaining $7 from George Searles under false pretenses. It is alleged that Hill got the money to pay a bill and used it to purchase beverages of a stimulating nature.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Peculations at the Central Prison—Steamboat Captains Fined.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—The Police Magistrate yesterday remanded Henry Keys and John Keenan till Friday on a charge of burglarizing the dry goods store of J. Colling & Co. at West Toronto Junction. Michael Spellman, charged with firing at George S. Nelson, was remanded till Feb. 4. A similar charge against William Morrison, a newsboy, was remanded till Monday. Edward R. Cates, foreman at the Central Prison, and John Spence, guard, charged with peculations at the prison, were remanded for a week, bail being refused in the case of Cates.

Judge Morgan yesterday fined the captains of the Chicora and the Hastings $50 each for carrying more than the authorized number of passengers, the offences having been committed during last August.

The Massey v. Maclean libel case was up in the assizes yesterday. The defendant sets up a lot of circumstances which, if proved, he says, will go to establish that the articles complained of, and which were published in his paper, The World, were true in substance, and that it was done in the public interest. Mr. Justice McMahon reserved his decision on the points raised.

KICKED OVER A LAMP.

Disastrous Fire in a Port Hope Farmer's Barn and Outbuildings.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 28.—Henry Bruce, living on lot 22, 1st Con. Hope, took a lamp to his barn last night about 8 o'clock. Two calves upset the lamp, and two barns, the stable and driving house were burnt. Loss about $2000. The buildings belonged to T. M. Welch and were insured for $400 in the Royal of England.

A Slight Blaze at Belleville.

A Rich Find in New Brunswick.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 28.—Mr. James Rourke is in the city, on his way home from Boston, where he has been having an analysis made of some gold and silver quartz, recently discovered on the property of Wm. Balcom, at Westport, St. John county. The result of the examination proved that both gold and silver exist in paying quantities in the mine. In a ton of the silver quartz 22½ ounces, valued at $22.50, while in a ton of the other sample, one ounce of gold, valued at $20.67, was found. Mr. Rourke will proceed at once to form a company for the development of the mine. Some city gentlemen have already asked for stock in the proposed company.

200 Acres for the Twelfth Child.

QUEBEC, Jan. 28.—It is stated that Father Labelle has suggested to Col. Rhodes, Minister of Agriculture, that a lot of land of 200 acres shall be granted to the twelfth child of any family in the Province of Quebec. Apropos of this, it is said that the twelfth child of Mr. Lemieux, M.P.P., was christened at Levis a few days since with some eclat.

BOULANGER'S BIG BOOM.

GLOOMY VIEWS OF THE ELECTION TAKEN BY THE PRESS.

The General's Victory Thought to Portend War, the Doom of the Republic and Other Ills.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—The Temps does not attempt to ignore the importance of Boulanger's triumph, but it regrets the idea of the adoption of exceptional measures by the Government or of rebelling against the popular verdict. Boulanger, it says, will not try to conspire against the Republic simply because he has no need to do so. The electors, it believes, voted chiefly not against the Republic but against an inacceptable and impotent Chamber of Deputies. It says that the system of election known as scrutin d'arrondissement ought to be re-established, the budget for 1889 adopted and Parliament adjourn until October, when a general election will be held. In the meantime, it says, the country should occupy itself solely in endeavors to promote the success of the exhibition.

Various questions which it was proposed to ask the Government in the Chamber of Deputies to-day concerning the political situation have been postponed until Thursday. Boulanger did not appear in the chamber. The crowd outside increased as the afternoon wore on, and became somewhat excited. A large number of policemen are in readiness to suppress any disorder that may arise. M. Floquet, the Prime Minister, was in the chamber. His appearance was cheerworn. Boulanger has announced his intention to attend the session of the Chamber of Deputies Thursday.

The groups of the right and the Boulangists have decided to take no initiative but to await the action of the majority. Premier Floquet proposes to introduce in Parliament on Thursday an anti-plebiscite measure and a bill to re-establish the scrutin d'arrondissement system. The Bureaux of the Left desire the introduction of both measures to-morrow in order to block Jeurencal's proposed interpellation.

In ministerial circles it is considered that the election of Boulanger menaces the republic, 90,000 Conservatives and 150,000 Republicans having voted for him. One minister in speaking of the situation quoted the words of Thiers: "We should take everything seriously, nothing tragically."

The Journal des Debats says that at a meeting in the rue Lincoln last night, several Radical deputies urged the formation on the spot of a ministry of action which should present itself in the Chamber of Deputies immediately and demand authority to prosecute Boulanger for treason. Many of those present opposed the suggestion, and the meeting dispersed at 4 o'clock this morning without coming to a decision.

What the Berlin Papers Say.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—The newspapers here of all shades of political opinion regard the success of Boulanger as an evil augury for the French republic. The North German Gazette says: "It is the most important event of recent times in the domain of foreign politics. The defeat of the Government will probably lead to all sorts of surprises."

The Post sees in the result proof that France is heartily sick of the republic. It says: "A Government that has received such a blow can no longer be regarded as a serious Government."

The Volks Zeitung says: "The blinded people of Paris have with pessimistic impatience opened the doors for the action of an imperialist reaction."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "The French mean once more to be a 'grand nation,' that is the significance of Boulanger's success for Germany. Owing to the personal inadequacy of Boulanger it is doubtful whether the decisive blow is close at hand, but in any case the republic is ripe for the sickle."

Vienna Views.

VIENNA, Jan. 28.—The Political Correspondence referring to Boulanger's victory says: "In diplomatic circles here the election is regarded as a sure symptom of a coming change of system in the government of France."

The Neue Freie Presse says: "President Carnot must, while bravely attacking Boulanger, firmly suppress rivalries in his own camp. Not the Republic alone but the existence of France is at stake."

The Weiner Tagblatt says: "The moderate elements will soon disappear from the scene and wild revolutionaries hold the field. The danger of a war between France and Germany has now become real."

The Deutsche Zeitung predicts stormy times in France. It doubts whether the Republicans have sufficient strength to successfully resist Boulangism.

Italy Thinks the Situation Grave.

ROME, Jan. 28.—All the Italian papers recognize the gravity of the situation in France.

Another [illegible] About Emin.

SUAKIM, Jan. 28.—A merchant who has arrived here from Khartoum asserts that the dervishes captured Emin Pasha, who, however, escaped.

A Sensation in the Riviera.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—A London doctor eloped Friday from Nice with the 17-year-old daughter of an official of New York State. The young lady is a blonde and very pretty. She had been staying at a pension, but last week went with her mother to a hotel in Mentone. The doctor was stopping at the same hotel. The couple took a train at Vintimiglia and were arrested in Paris Saturday. The affair has created a sensation in the Riviera.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—There was absolutely nothing doing on the St. Lawrence Market yesterday. Nothing was offered except a small quantity of second and third class beef, for which was asked $2.50 to $3.30 for forequarters and $5 to $6 for hindquarters.

No hay or straw was offered.

Eggs are quoted at 22c., butter at 22c. for rolls and 20c. in tubs, lard 13c., turkeys 11c. per lb., ducks 70c. and chickens 50c. per pair.

Yesterday was an off day in local grain circles. Owing to the snow, not a bushel of grain was offered on the street. On call $1.06 was bid for No. 2 fall on track, $1.08 for No. 2 spring on track; $1.08 for No. 1 red and $1.08½ for No. 2 red. One car of oats was offered at 35 cents on track with no bids. His Would-be Murderer Again Remanded—The St. Henri Inquest—A Youthful Lawbreaker Punished.

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.—There were 82 deaths in the city last week, diphtheria causing five deaths.

Leaflets were distributed in the Catholic churches on Sunday, calling upon the faithful to recite special prayers and to abstain as much as possible from the public rejoicings during carnival week as an atonement for the numerous sins which will be committed during that period.

The inquest into the cause of the accident at St. Henri last week was continued yesterday and adjourned till to-day.

Chandler has again been remanded for eight days on the charge of attempted murder. Mr. Sheffield's condition is about the same.

Four women, when on the Grand Trunk track beyond St. Henri yesterday, were almost run down by the west-bound train. One of them, Mrs. Simpson, was actually knocked down by the engine, but was not seriously hurt.

The Exchange Bank creditors met yesterday and determined on a dividend of 4 cents on the dollar or about $70,000, making 64 cents on the dollar paid in all. They also decided to appeal from Judge Jette's judgment in the Gilman $9000 case.

Wm. Dieterle, proprietor of the Montreal black goods store, Notre Dame-street, assigned yesterday at the instance of Stewart & McDonald of Glasgow, with liabilities aggregating $54,000. The assets are about $38,000.

A 10-year-old lad named Douglas Kilgour, who was before the magistrate yesterday for theft, was sent to the Reformatory for four years.

At the meeting of the Protestant Ministerial Association to-day, a resolution was passed asking the Legislature to give power to the City Council of Montreal to limit the number of liquor licenses. Resolutions were also adopted in opposition to the grant to the Jesuit Fathers made by the Quebec Legislature at its last session.

A young Parisian named Raoul Dalmas, employed in the audit office of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has mysteriously disappeared. Over a week ago he left his rooms, 9 Beaver Hall-square, for a walk, since which time he has not been heard of. He left all his effects behind him, not even taking a change of clothing. Dalmas came here in June last from San Francisco where he held a position in the Southern Pacific Railway. His object in coming to this city was to look after a law suit in which he was interested and in the meantime he accepted a situation in the audit office of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The missing gentleman is between 35 and 40 years of age and has a scar on the right cheek. He was of a most affable and kindly disposition, and was a general favorite. The police have no clue of his whereabouts.

THE RESULT OF A DEBAUCH.

A Tragedy at St. Pierre-Miquelon Recalling the London Crimes.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Jan. 28.—The particulars of a revolting murder committed in St. Pierre have come to hand. A French fisherman named Francois Coupard lived in a hut on Dog Island, near St. Pierre. He had as a dory-mate Ollivier, and between them there were frequent quarrels. During the night of Dec. 20, the neighborhood heard frightful noises which kept them awake all night. In the morning they made a declaration to the police, who went to Coupard's hut and found the windows broken and the hut empty, but saw nothing suspicious. At a later hour two friends of Coupard went to his hut about some boats, of which he had charge, and on lifting a sail spread in the corner they found the body of the poor fisherman entirely naked. The body was stowed between two trunks and doubled up, the head resting on the chest.

When removed a ghastly sight presented itself. The body had been horribly mangled. Three deep incisions were made below each breast, about an inch long, and a fearful gash from the throat downward penetrated the heart. These mutilations had been made after the murder. The heavy cuts in the abdomen showed that an attempt had been made to sever the body in two pieces. The stomach was perforated, exposing the intestines, and an attempt had been made to cut the legs from the body, but either from fear or want of time, the horrible butchery was not completed. The body had been thrown into a corner and covered with a sail, and everything of value removed.

Suspicion at once rested upon Ollivier. He had been seen in company with a man called Neal, on the morning after the murder, and both were drinking freely. They had gone off in a dory, probably hoping to escape to the Newfoundland coast, but the weather drove them back and both were captured. On being confronted with the corpse of their victim they made a full confession. Neal struck the first blow and called on Ollivier to assist him. On the judge asking why they had mutilated the corpse, they replied, "To find out if he was fat." The only account they could give in explanation of the deed was that they were crazy with drink. Other evidence showed that when the murder was committed they were under the influence of liquor, and that Neal, in particular, had been living a vicious life. Both men are now in prison in St. Pierre awaiting their trial.

A NEW WINTER PORT.

Proposition to Navigate the St. Lawrence from Tadousac.

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.—A company is to be formed at Gaspe with a capital of $300,000 to develop the fishing trade of the Labrador coast. They intend to construct special steam vessels for the work. Mr. Tetu, a civil engineer, thinks that with a subsidy of $50,000 from the Dominion Government he would be able to navigate the St. Lawrence the year round from Tadousac to Liverpool via Cape Ray and Newfoundland, which would reduce the distance by thirty six hours as from Halifax to-day. His idea is to form a company and build a vessel for the enterprise. Several well known city capitalists are at the head of the scheme.

Faith Cure Apostles Ordered to Move On.

PIERRE, Minn., Jan. 28.—An infant son of W. G. Nixon died yesterday, having had no attention other than that of Mr. A. Elliott and Mrs. M. A. Campbell, faith cure apostles. For two days they have been attempting the child's resurrection. To-day an indignation meeting was held and the apostles were notified that they must leave town. Mr. Nixon is a prominent banker here and his wife is a daughter of Bishop Andrews of Washington.

The Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Chairman Mills is of the opinion that the House Ways and Means Committee will be able to report the tariff bill and amendments back to the House in season for action this Congress.

Scarlatina Air.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28.—T. S. Tinsley, a prominent architect and inventor here, is reported to have discovered a method of producing sterilized air. All surgical operations can be performed by its use without danger of subsequent inflammation. Tinsley holds that inflammation is produced by microbes in the air and if they are eliminated wounds will heal rapidly.

WORKING IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

The latest number of "Night and Day," a publication edited and issued by Dr. Barnardo, of London, in the interests of his "Homes," has an article particularly referring to the work in Canada. The article is illustrated with pictures of faces and scenes familiar to Peterborough people—the portraits of Captain Annesley, R.N., and Mrs. Annesley, superintendents of the Peterborough (girls) branch of the Homes, of Mr. Owen, superintendent of the Toronto Home (boys), and a fine picture of Hazel Brae. The Homes have sent out to Canada, since 1882, and placed from the Hazel Brae branch, over 3,700 girls and boys. Hazel Bnae is now, however, devoted exclusively to girls, the Toronto branch being exclusively for boys. There is a feeling abroad in Canada in opposition to the importation of the pauper population of any kind. Whatever objection there may be felt, and to whatever extent it may be justified, there is certainly one branch of the Homes work in Canada which must meet with the full sympathy and approval of Canadians. Reference is made to the placing of the boys in an industrial farm in Manitoba—boys previously trained with such an end in view. In the Shell River district in Manitoba is the Manitoba Industrial Farm, consisting of fourteen square miles, or 9,000 acres. This is being developed as an agricultural training school. The aim is to make the experience here gained of a practical character, so that young men may graduate, so to speak, from the Farm, fitted in every way to enter upon a life of independence and to become valuable citizens, by assuming farms of their own. A large number of the lads have been sent out from the industrial farm to situations with farmers. Here they will gain fuller experience and means sufficient to make them, as has been the experience of thousands of farmers in Ontario, possessors of farms of their own. This is the beginning of an important work and is deserving of the encouragement of all who regard the greatness of Canada from the standpoint of the fullest settlement of her almost illimitable territory as the basis of the fullest development of her unparalleled resources. With an extensive agricultural population of the extent which the fulfilment of the recited conditions implies, all other development would follow. Commerce would not only follow the flag, but the plow, and in the teeming millions of the Northwest and elsewhere, our manufacturers would find that market which our present rulers are endeavouring to find by building tariff walls. A wise policy and a national policy of settlement of our millions of unoccupied acres by our Dominion government authorities, would be as in the agricultural policy of the Barnardo Homes, a work in the right direction. The workingmen of Canada, and with reason, object to the importation of pauper labor to compete against themselves, but they will welcome the advent of millions of bonafide settlers, who will create a market for the products which, in each case, Canadian working men would be called upon to create.

More Light Wanted.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I was pleased to see in your issue of yesterday a well put plea for more light. I regarded it as very timely coming from a newspaper, the source whence the world looks for enlightment, figurative as well as literal, and more so because the question it raises is one which demands the attention of our town fathers. I consider it a false economy—if so be that that is the cause of the town being plunged in darkness after twelve o'clock—to sacrifice so much of comfort, convenience and civilized method for the comparatively trifling additional cost the keeping of the electric lamps lighted all the night would entail. It is a matter effecting all classes and especially the profession to which I belong—the medical profession. It has been my experience several times to be hurriedly summoned to the home of a new patient, and only those who have experienced the unpleasant sensation of traversing alone the dark, dismal, unlighted streets at the uncanny and ghostly hours "ayont the twal," can understand the situation; and not only that but one runs the risk of falls and broken limbs or bruises. The claims of the afflicted should certainly not be ignored and on their behalf I insist on the reasonableness of having our streets lighted the latter part of the night as well as before. I could add more in this connection, but bearing in mind your hint about brief letters, I subscribe myself as one decidedly in favour of

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A Brief Session — Petitions and Bill Introduced — Reports Tabled.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—The Local Legislature resumed yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock, and held a session of about five minutes' duration. During the forenoon a number of the members occupied their benches and were busily engaged preparing matter and dispatching correspondence. At the conclusion of prayers but an average representation was in attendance, the vacant seats on the Government side of the House having a majority over those occupied. Both Hon. Oliver Mowat and the leader of the Opposition, Mr. W. R. Meredith, were in their accustomed places.

The usual consignment of petitions seeking the introduction of various measures were presented and tabled.

High Prices Obtained in New York for Rare and Aged Tokens.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A collection of Canadian coins and tokens was sold here the other day. Many of them were of base metal, but valuable for their rarity and historical associations, and several brought high prices. A lot of Hudson's Bay Company tokens sold for $37. One of them, a brass token, had the arms of the company surmounted by a sable and supported by stags, with the words "Pro Pelle Cutem" on the label beneath.

A bank token of the Bank of Montreal, 1820, showing a side view of the bank building, and on the reverse the oval shield of the city, and the words "Bank token, One penny," which was obtained from an English collection, and originally cost $76, was sold for $51. A half-penny type of the same kind of token went for $20. A side view penny of the Bank of Montreal brought $55. A steamboat fourpence of lead sold for $20.75.

A half-penny token of Upper Canada went for $50. It represented Britannia presenting two children to America. It is said to be a very rare coin.

A lot of communion tokens issued by the Presbyterian Churches of Canada, and also of the United States, were sold on an average of $4 each. They are of tin, pewter and lead, and are said to have been issued to permit Presbyterians who were in good standing to partake of the communion. One of these, of the date of 1794, that had on the reverse a burning bush, was said to have been issued by the Presbyterian Church, Halifax, founded in 1750 by Rev. Aaron Cleveland, an ancestor of President Cleveland.

The American Peace Society.

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—The American Peace Society to-day adopted resolutions congratulating this country, Canada and Great Britain on the recent absence of causes of irritation as to the fisheries and increase of friendliness shown in projects for commercial and political union, expressing sympathy with France's efforts to maintain peace, declaring that the Samoan troubles should be settled by negotiation or arbitration, deprecating the further ravages of civil war in Hayti, and sharply criticizing the recent suggestions of the United States engineers that the country should spend $5,000,000,000 in fortifications and have a standing army of 150,000 and a proportionate navy.

MONEY Probably not one business man in a thousand who has made a close study of newspaper advertising could be found who would say that there is no money in it. If it is beneficial in business to have a large circle of acquaintances, in the same proportion is it beneficial to reach the masses of the people. There are hundreds of merchants and dealers who are interested in reaching town and county readers and if they knew that they could do so at a small cost through a newspaper with a large legitimate circulation. To such THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER comes as welcome visitors. They are papers of the Mid-land District for the reliable patronage into every corner of the town and county. Advertising rates are such as will ensure the continuance of business relations with any advertiser after once started. We shall be pleased to give figures for advertising space in THE DAILY AND WEEKLY EXAMINER, and send sample copy on application. All letters of inquiry promptly attended to. Address J. R. MUNCASTER'S

A Number One.

On a weather-beaten board, supported by a creaking iron rod, hung the sign, "Solus Navel Here," which Brecktaridge thought so exceedingly funny that it never ceased to attract custom and comment. It had been there ten years, since Jonathan Mender came into the little town in the Rockies and bought out the shoe-repairing business of Caleb Binn.

Mender on this June afternoon sat in the door of his shop, repairing a small and extremely shabby shoe. He was a short, stubby man, with twinkling eyes behind spectacles, and a shock of gray hair standing straight up from his forehead.

Down the trail from Red Mountain, as the afternoon shadows grew long, and night came creeping under the evergreens, galloped a lean broncho at a heedless gait. His rider, a big-bearded miner, glanced around under his bushy eye-brows, and now and then gave a grunt of satisfaction.

"The old place don't see you no more, Bill," he muttered, as the broncho panted up a short incline, "fur you've struck it rich, as a certified check fur 'way up in the thousands kin testify."

He galloped into Brecktaridge, left his broncho at the hotel, and went along to the shoe shop.

"Same old sign, I'll be derned," he smiled. "Ev'nin', stranger."

"Hullo, Bill; thought you was dead. Ain't seen you these three years. Same butes, too, I made. Wal, I allus done good work."

"You did; but jist slap a patch on this one whilst I wait, fur I ain't a-goin' to torture myself if I hev struck it rich. My feet is liable to swell in the keers. I'll leave ye an order, too, Mender, fur buties is good enuff with me. No lace shoes like a jude."

"Who you roped in on the mine, Bill?"

"No one; they'll double what they give me—three hundred thousand—but I ain't no hog; I know when I've got enuff."

"Few does," muttered Mender, waxing his thread.

The miner looked around the shop; then his eye fell on that shabby little shoe.

"Beats all what sewed off feet wimmen has, though I ain't a mentioning Norwegians."

"The Lord made 'em so."

"Prob'ly. An' this, now," (turning the shoe over in his big hand) "is a gal's, not a growed womans?"

"All of twenty-eight; quite a yarn about that, too. Three years ago I was a settin' here betweenat, day an' dark, when my door busts open an' in runs what I took to be a gal, but afterward see was a little mite of a growed woman, with bright, bird-like eyes and curly hair. 'Them miners is a follerin' me,' she cries, drops inter that cheer, an' faints dead away."

"Gosh, this very cheer!" echoed Bill, in an awe-stricken tone.

"Same, set right there. I opens the door, 'Bys,' I says, 'I've got the drop on ye, an' it's a durn shame to act like thet, an'—git,' which they done, an' I went back an' give her whisky, an' she come to an' jest kitched my han' up an' kissed it."

"Lord!" cried the miner.

"An' it wasn't over-clean, fur meadin' ain't over-pertikler wurk. Wal, she hadn't no frens, an' was come here to settle, an' bein' weak an' hystericky, I took her home to sister Jane. "Fears to me,' she says to Jane, 'all the troubles of my life is bin caused by men.'"

"They be cunnery," said the miner sympathetically.

"We kep' her a week, and then she went to wurk sewin', an' insisted on payin' her board, an' made Jane the trimmest gowns an' caps, and me a dressin'-gown like I was a female. I wears it to please her, but I allus feels I looks like one of them old patriarks in't. We never asked her hist'ry, but Jane sed she was bruised from blows, an' I see she trained her pretty curls over a scarce healed scar on her forehead. I calc'lated she was one of them thoroughbreds what will stan' eany amount of drivin', but it's a smash an' a runaway if you hit 'em."

"There's some men as ought to be shot on sight," muttered the miner. "An thet shoe was hern?"

"Yeah, an' I've got to keer fur her so much that I've allus been glad I was here 'stid er Caleb; he wan't never neighberly. When I come here I says, 'I'll give ye fifteen dollars fur the place.' Says he, take it for fourteen an' a harf. 'Why?' says I. 'Did you,' says he, 'ever know a man wot become a sewer fur gab? Wal, look at me. Ev'ry crank as has breath er snuff ter git up the bank comes in an' talks to me; ev'ry bummer who kin walk staggers in an' vents his rum-soaked remarks on me, an' ev'ry sun-bunnited or shawl-headed female woman comes to tell me her troubles with the old man or the neighbors.' 'Wal,' I says, 'it's comp'ny?' 'Yah, I hate 'em,' growls he. 'Know where I'm going, not you. You're the kind as tells about a gal you loved named Seiry, wot died fifty yiar ago. Wal, I'm goin' to be a sheep-herder, where I wunt see one of human kind for months on a stretch, an' where I kin go bare footed the year 'round. So he goes an' I stays.'"

"When I was in Arizony," said the miner, laying the shoe down, with a sigh, "I hearded on to the house of a little woman as could a-wore them shoes. The vittles was awful, some of the biscuits would a took a blast to open 'em, an' the pie might a soled them boties, but she wa'n't bnt a young thing, an' her husband was the onneriest."

"They allus has that name in them cases," suggested Mender, slyly.

"This wa'n't no case. He never heared, only that the wurk were done, but I did,"—the miner's face saddened—"an' I sold out as good a teaming business as you ever see."

"Count o' popler cent'ment, I s'pose?"

"Naw, there's queer things in a man's life; an' of I'd stayed I'd a killed her husband, an' that would a bin no way to get her affection, an' wouldn't a looked a fair. Them's my morals. She was his wife an' a good woman. I sold out the business at a dead loss" (with a sigh) "an' I just wisht her time o' day an' run off like a coward. I starved up here fur ten years, an' I wa'n't pleased with myself nowises when a feller from Fairplay told me he'd hearud he an' him was awful poor, an' she was the wust abused woman he ever see."

It was quite dark in the little shop now, and Mender lit his lamp, leaning low to his bench to see in the light. A lean cat came purring out of a corner, and the miner lifted back his chair.

"An' me, with all my money, can't make that poor little soul comfortable," he sighed.

There was a sound of quick footsteps outside, something like the clatter of slippers down at the heel, then the latch clicked.

"Ain't done, Nelly," cried the old man. "I'll wait an' finish 'em; they're party fur gone."

There was no answer, only a sort of gasp and a smothered exclamation from the miner, who brought his chair down with a jerk. The old man looked at them.

"I calc'late you two is 'quainted," he grinned.

Bill had forgotten his one stocking foot, even his stern manliby, and she, that little, thin creature, with her white, worn face, her sad, tearless eyes, was looking at him so wistfully, so yearningly, that he must have known she had not needed his telling her that he cared for her before he rode away. A quick suspicion flashed through his mind. She loved him, and had come to Colorado to find him three years back. Still his lips had to utter the maad in his heart so long.

"Nelly!" he cried, with a sob; and she—she put out her hands like a sleep-walking thing, with a low cry, she ran to him and hid her face on his breast. Still he did not touch her as she clung to him, weeping passionately.

"It aren't right," he muttered, hoarsely. "I ned never should you be as you is now, till it were. You an' me has been cowpt, an' knowes what wrong love is."

She only clung closer, such a child-like thing, in her shabby black gown, with her short little curls, and her tiny hand clutching his arm.

"I tell you," he cried, passionately, "once my arms meet around you, I shall never let you go."

"Wal, you needn't," said Mender, dryly; but there were tears in his old eyes. "You needn't, Bill—she's a widder."

"It's only since this mornin'," he continued, as the big arms inclosed the tiny figure, "but, it's proper, I calc'late. She'd run away from him, but he tracked her; six weeks ago he come in when we was eating supper, an' Jane hove the teapot at him. Vi'lence we'n't no use; he took Nelly an' her savin's, an' was jist a-goin' to leave town artes hearin' all she had, an' draggin' her along, when the altitude kitched him. I cal'clate this place is too nigh heaven fur a creepin' coon like that to crawl. I was a mendin' that shoe fur his widder to wear to the funeral."

"I knowed no woman but her could wear 'em," cried Bill, holding the shoe reverently, "an' it shall be set in gold outen my mine."

"It's a mile too big," she said, very blushing and shy, "an' is as horrid."

"Never heered a woman but sed them very words," grinned Mender, beaming on them. "Now, Bill, yourn's done, an' lemme stick a patch on that one, Nelly, fur you don't wanter be a creekin' round in new ones to the funeral, like you was too glad to get him pinsated."

The next afternoon, when the twilight shadows were falling, Jonathan Mender stood in his shop door and watched the train creep miles above on the mountain on its way to Denver.

"Purty rapid this western country," he soliloquised, jingling the coins in his pocket. "We never miss no time; but there ain't many small wimmen like Nelly as kin bury one husband in the forenoon, an' git merried to the second in the arternoon, an' I guess Bill don't know the mate to that little shoe he got stowed away is over on my shelf as a mementomory that little number one—the smallest fur wimmen-kind as ever I see."

A Heavy Draw.

Yesterday the chestnut draught horse of the William Hamilton Company made itself, in the power of drawing, a worthy competitor of a locomotive. The animal drew on a sleigh a load of 10,276 lbs. of boiler plate, including sleigh (700 lbs.) and the sleighing none of the best. The load was not drawn a long distance but once started it could have been drawn any reasonable length. A horse like this is a beam in himself, and a worthy type of the weight and solidity of the establishment he represents. As a hippohigh draw-ific phenomenon he "takes the —cake crop."

Our village neighbors are to be congratulated on the spirit of enterprise, which in this as in every other branch of sports and athletics is evident. Those of her detractors who assert that she is "in the woods," will find that she is not "of the woods" if they will take the trouble to investigate, and discover in what full respects she keeps touch with all the progress of the age.

The Voice of Women.

The Christian Endeavor of the Baptist church had a large attendance last night. The subject under discussion was, "Is it right for women to speak in the church"? Mr. M. R. Kidd opened the discussion on the negative side. He appealed to the teachings of the Apostle Paul and showed that the weight of theologic opinion was on his side. Messrs. B. R. Matthews, Wm. Turnbull, H. Grandy, A. Gillespie, Bell Billings and Miss M. McDonald, spoke favorably to them doing so. It was shown how in Old Testament days, begining with Miriam, there were mentioned the names of five women who were prophetesses. The first meeting after the ascension of Christ the women were together praying with the men. Peter included "sons and daughters as prophesying." There were the Priscilla and the four daughters of Philip prophetesses, and in Corinth the women prayed and prophesied. The meeting decided favorably.

WORKINGMEN'S OPINIONS.

Of the Movement for Shorter Hours of Labor.

Another Public Meeting of the Working men — District Master Elliott and Secretary Hogan, of the Knights of Labor, give Their Views—The Meetings to be Continued.

Another public meeting of workingmen under the auspices of the Carpenter's Union, and in the interests of the nine-hour movement, was held in the Knights of Labor hall Monday evening. There was a fair attendance.

Mr. Robt. McGregor, President of the Union, occupied the chair, and called upon the speakers to give their views. All the addresses were strongly in favor of the shorter hours of employment, and the following resume includes merely a few of the principal points made by the speakers.

Mr. Geo. Ross believed in the principle of the nine-hour movement as the only means of reducing the present surplus of labor, and felt certain that it would soon be adopted by the different trades in Peterborough.

Mr. Wm. ROBINSON said there was a feeling among the tradesmen of the town in favor of shorter hours of labor.

Mr. TYRRELL and Mr. WESTLAKE, members of the Carpenters Union, were both in sympathy with the movement, the latter expressing his determination to stick to the Union.

Mr. Wm. BALL favored the short hour system, because it would give labor to so many extra men, and those now out of employment would be able to find work.

Mr. BATES, millwright, pointed out how labor-saving inventions in the hands of boys or ordinary laborers cut skilled mechanics out of employment. Shorter hours of labor would remedy the difficulty.

The CHAIRMAN drew attention to the struggle the workingmen of Boston had a few years ago in order to secure a reduction of their 12 or 14 hours a day to 10 hours, and said he believed the workingmen of to-day would have less difficulty in obtaining even eight hours. The carpenters of Peterborough wanted next summer, and from present building prospects there was no doubt that with the shortened hours they could easily do all the work required of them. He believed they could get it for the asking, as some of the boss carpenters had already expressed their willingness to grant it. This short-hour movement was progressing all over the country, and his opinion was that in a few years six hours a day would be recognized as a sufficient modicum of labor for workingmen.

Mr. R. R. ELLIOTT, District Master of Knights of Labor Assembly No. 236, who had arrived in town to be present at the opening of the convention next morning, was called upon. He said he regarded this short-hour movement as the only thing that could solve the great problem of the day, how to find work for the unemployed; and as the agitation progressed the workingmen would realize more and more that perfect organization was necessary in order to carry it out successfully. This was the fundamental principle of the Knights of Labor. They realized the necessity of organization among workingmen to resist the encroachments of their enemies, the capitalists. While in the United States he was pleased to notice the progress in the way of organization made among the workingmen there, and though ahead of Canada in this respect, he was proud to know that the Canadian workingmen were realizing that they had rights to defend. The trouble among these organizations were that they were worked too much on the line of politics. Their first object should be to secure shorter hours of labor, and next to use their influence with political organizations for their own benefit. They should be above political parties, but compel them to recognize their rights as workingmen. The workingmen should educate and fit themselves for the positions it was their right to fill. It should be the aim of every man to elevate himself in order to better understand the affairs of his country and force his enemies to and abilities. Speaking with reference to the aims of the Knights of Labor, he said he was going to Ottawa Wednesday night in order to watch the interests of the Society there. The Knights of Labor endeavored to secure better legislation in the interests of the workingmen. Mr. Elliott said he had an interview with the Premier the other day and from him secured the most promising assurances any one had ever received—and why? Not because of himself, for he had no personal influence, but because of the powerful organization at his back. (Applause.) The speaker referred to several amendments to the statutes they proposed introducing at the next session in the interests of the workingman and for his protection. These reforms would be accomplished simply because the workingmen of Canada were organized and had an influence as a body; and if more perfect organization were brought about the more favorable legislation could be secured. But he was sorry to say all the workingmen did not enter into the spirit of organization as they should. He urged the workingmen of Peterborough to perfect their organizations and get to work, because there was a mighty work to perform. Let the workingmen remember that united they cannot but stand, and divided they cannot but fall.

The Chairman added a few words in behalf of the Knights of Labor, whom he regarded as a necessity. The Knights were growing steadily and be believed in spite of their reverses and rival organizations they were stronger to day than ever before. The Knights of Labor were perhaps not perfect in all things, but that was no reason why they should not be supported. Their objects were good—their platform was and many reforms had been accomplished through their influence. He hoped the Knights of Labor would continue to prosper, and he wished for them increased membership in Peterborough. He pointed out the success of the Carpenters' Brotherhood, as the result of organization, and hoped there would soon be a strong branch established here.

Mr. MURTY, speaking for the typographical union, said they had adopted the nine-hour system in some of the larger cities

Mr. W. ANTHONY said that most of the shoe makers here worked by piece-work and of course the nine hour movement would not affect them; but he considered nine hours enough for any man to work, and he believed the great majority of the people were in favor of it. Some of the carpenters he had spoken to had said they did not wish to join the union because they wanted to see it further advanced before venturing in. That principle, he thought was poor encouragement for any organization.

Mr. RINGER urged that more carpenters should come out to the front in this agitation.

Mr. GEO. ROSS urged the workingmen present to act as agents among their fellow laborers and get them interested in this movement.

The Recording Secretary of the K. of L. District Assembly, who had just entered, being called upon, said any agitation to shorten the hours of labor had his hearty support. The general adoption of this system could only be accomplished by complete organization among the workingmen. Referring to the "cutting down" system, he characterized the man who would cut down wages as a thief. He pointed out that there was a feeling among some mechanics that they were a little bit better than the ordinary laborer. This feeling should be thrown away and a spirit of hearty unanimity prevail among all classes of workingmen. In addition, each member of every labor organization should constitute himself a canvassing agent and endeavor to bring in others of his trade. Separate trade organizations should flourish in a town like Peterborough. He related to [illegible] labor organizations, which had been always unsatisfactory.

Mr. GEO. BALL said there was an idea abroad that the shortening of the hours of labor would of the workingmen, but that was an entirely false notion. Speaking of organization and the necessity for it, he pointed out that there should be a feeling of confidence and fellowship between workingmen. He advocated holding these meetings regularly, and urged the members of unions to stand by their organization first and above all other things.

Mr. ELLIOTT, speaking to those tradesmen who had no central organization of which to form a branch, recommended them to come into the mixed assemblies of the Knights of Labor.

Mr. MCGREGOR said he expected to soon have an organizer in town for the Carpenters' Union, and he hoped to have a strong branch here. He enumerated some of the benefits accruing to members of the Carpenters Union. The standard of labor among carpenters was low at present, he supposed because by reason of labor saving machinery, carpenters were not required to be so skilled as formerly; and he urged co operation, as the only means to over-ride the difficulty and give employment to all.

The Secretary, while not detracting from the nine-hour movement, said there were other things that were of far greater import to the workingmen, namely, the reforming of the monetary system of the country. The rich monopolists held the strings of the country's money-bags and were able to make good times or hard times as they chose. The workingmen should rise to the situation and not consider merely how to increase their wages but discuss this great and important question.

Mr. JAMES BOGUE moved a vote of thanks to the visiting speakers, which was seconded by Mr. Wm. Robinson and carried unanimously.

The meeting then adjourned till Monday night next.

Knights of Labor.

Meeting of the District Assembly—List of Delegates—Report of Proceedings.

District Assembly No. 236, K. of L., met in the Labor Hall, Water street, on 9 30 this morning, District Master Workman Elliott presiding. The delegates present were R.R. Elliott and W. Hogan, Uxbridge; J.O'Reilly and G. A. Metherell, Lindsay; W. H. Clark and G. J. Morrish, Port Perry; J. P. Johnson, Midland; W. Sloan and S. Barrand, Gravenhurst; Jos. Brookman and D.O Leary, Oshawa; John O'Brien, John Irwin, George Ball and W. J. Landy, Peterborough; Jas. Pickering and Chas. Morley, Huntsville.

The D.M.W. presented a lengthened report of the work of his office during the past six months, the whole of which was of a private character, and was not given out for publication.

The secretary and treasurer presented reports which showed a very encouraging condition of affairs, both in relation to increase of membership and financial matters.

The District Organizer reported having instituted two new local assemblies, and having resuscitated two others. When this report had been read, Delegate Johnson, of Midland, asked that the organizer be sent to Victoria Harbor and Waubaushene, where a large number of men are ready to organize.

The report of the Executive Board gave a statement of the business transacted during interim succeeding the last session.

The remainder of the morning was devoted to the presentation of resolutions and communications from the various locals.

The assembly adjourned from 11.30 to 2 o'clock in order to allow the committees to consider the matters referred to them.

This evening a meeting of the members of the two local assemblies of the Knights of Labor, Patience and Silver Fleece, will be addressed by the D. M. W. A full attendance is requested.

The new firm will take possession about Feb. 10th, and are purchasing an entirely new stock of books, stationery, wall paper, etc. They propose keeping in stock all the latest periodicals and everything usually found in first class stationery store. Mr. Lee is well up in the business, as is also Mr. Thompson, who has represented a leading Montreal stationery house for a number of years. They should make a strong and successful business firm, and no doubt they will receive a fair share of public patronage. We wish the new firm every success.

A Dyeing Business.

Mr. Alfred Parker Engaged in a Dyeing Business that is, Nevertheless, Far From Moribund.

Four years ago Mr. Alfred Parker began business in Peterborough on a small scale. He saw the need Peterborough had for a dye-works, and he decided to supply the long-felt want. He began on almost nothing, as he says himself, but from that apparently insignificant commencement has sprung up a large and thriving business that is a credit to the town and a source of profit to its manager. A little old building below the market square was first secured and with the most primitive machinery a start was made, an office being opened out on Water street. This summer a new workshop has been erected to meet the demands of an increasing business, and the EXAMINER called around this morning to note the progress that had been made. The new building is in rear of the offices on Water street, is of frame, sheeted with corrugated iron, 24x42 feet in dimensions, and two stories in height. The first floor is the dyeing room. Here is a 15-horse power engine that drives all the machinery in the place. It moves the drying machine, or steam extractor, in which clothing is placed, and in four minutes they are taken out ready for sponging and pressing. The extractor makes about 1500 revolutions a minute, and the current of air passing through its perforated sides quickly dries the clothing. On one side of the building are the copper and wooden vats, the former for dyeing colors, and the latter for blacks and browns and preparations. On the opposite side the cleaning is done by steam. Under the stairway is a drug room, and there is another small outhouse adjacent to the main building, also used for holding dyes and drugs.

Upstairs is the finishing room, where are two large revolving copper cylinders for finishing dresses. By this means silks and other fine goods are given a natural lustre after passing through the other processes. In the hop-press, shawls, laces and other fabrics are pressed between heated papers and given a new and finished appearance.

The whole building is fitted with all modern conveniences that enable the present staff of seven hands to do all the work required. Mr. Parker expects to still further increase his accomodation as business demands. Next spring he intends having a nobby delivery wagon for the town, and will in other ways show patrons that though he is always dyeing, he is about as live a man as there is in town. He has agents in the different towns and villages throughout the district, who send him large orders.

Mr. Parker is a son of the proprietor of the largest dye works in Canada, at Ottawa, and thoroughly understands his business. He wishes it known that his Peterborough business has no connection whatever with any outside concern; it is run on its own merits entirely by Mr. Parker.

Emsimore Accidents.

On Saturday afternoon while Mr. Robert Telford was chopping in the woods he was struck and knocked down by a falling tree, injuring his back and breaking and cutting his nose. He was immediately conveyed to Peterborough and Dr. Halliday attended to his wounds, from which, it is hoped, he will soon recover. However, he may feel thankful that his injuries were no worse as he had a narrow escape from death.

As Mr. James Gifford was passing through a wood, returning from the house of Mr. John Linctiete, on the 25th inst., a pole suddenly fell between the horse and buggy, breaking off the shafts. The horse ran for about half a mile, when he was caught by Mr. Wm. Perdue. Mr. Gifford received no injury.

The Songs of Zion.

On Sunday evening the Rev. P. C. Parker gave another of his popular Sunday evening addresses, in the Baptist church. The "Songs of Zion" followed in the track of the "Sweet Psalmists of Israel." The value of hymns consist in the fact that they are the highest expression of religious experience. They are the truths of Christ expressed by the emotions. They clear away all dimensions and the wars of debate, and whilst the ages all the way down are littered with dead controversies, the hymns live with us and are a great spiritual force to day. Hymns do not quarrel. Chas. Wesley and Robert Robinson, were one a Methodist and the other a Baptist. But Robinson would often sing, "Jesus Lover of my Soul," composed by Wesley, and Wesley would often sing, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," composed by Robinson. Olivers and Toplady would not have spoken had they met, as one was a rector in days when a rector was like a prince, and the other a cobbler, but the cobbler would sing the rector's hymn "Rock of Ages," and the rector would have no objection to the cobbler's "The God of Abraham Praise." Watts and Faber belonged to different churches, the Romanist and Congregational, but while the Romanists would sing "Before Jehovah's Awful Throne," the Congregationalists would surely not object to "There is a wideness in God's Mercy." Mr. Parker noticed the influence of hymns on character, showing how the Scotch people were the most hardy and religious race, and no doubt due to the fact that they had been brought up on oatmeal porridge and the psalms of David. The circumstances in which many of the hymns were composed were interesting. After showing the influence of the great plague of the sixteenth century on the composition of hymns, he noticed in order the story of its composing of "Commit thou all thy griefs and cares into His Hands" by Gerdhardt, of Dr. Fawcett's "Thus far my God has led me on" and "Blest be the tie that Binds"; of Watt's "There is a Land of pure delight"; of Wesley's "Lo! On a narrow neck of Land" and "Jesus lover of my Soul," etc. The Rev. gentlemen closed his address by showing the power of song, and urging upon all to let their lingering memories of early days, when with loved ones they sang these "Songs of Zion," influence their wayward feet to the path of the just.

THE BROOKLYN TIE-UP.

Mounted Police Charge a Mob of Strikers and Their Sympathizers.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 28.—The air was full of forebodings of riot in Brooklyn to-day and the streets were full of strikers and their sympathizers. Late this afternoon the State Board of Arbitration sent a note to President Richardson requesting a conference. He said he would send a communication to the board. The Brooklyn aldermen unanimously adopted a resolution notifying the Atlantic-avenue line that unless its cars are put in motion forthwith and run on schedule time steps will be taken to have its charter declared null and void. A letter was received by Mayor Grant to-day from President White of the Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery surface railroad stating that a strike of the employes of that road was imminent and desiring protection. The Mayor is notified that the company will hold the city responsible for any damages done its property by mob violence. The letter was referred to the Police Commissioners.

At 4.30 this afternoon two wagons came out of the Atlantic-avenue railway stables in Atlantic-avenue near Third-avenue. In each were thirteen policemen and eight employes of the company. Twenty mounted policemen escorted the wagons. A large crowd had gathered and when the wagons started toward the Fifth-avenue and 24th-street stables the crowd howled, swore and threw stones at the policemen and they charged. The wagons and horsemen pressed briskly on, the mob following and gaining in numbers and fury every minute until the procession was halted in 23rd-street, near the stables. Several thousand angry men blocked the way. From the streets, windows and house tops stones, clubs and brickbats showered upon the policemen and trembling employes.

Sergeants Johnson and Cole ordered the mounted officers to charge and the squads advanced on the gallop. The officers used their clubs effectively and at 5 o'clock the employes were safely lodged in the stables. They were wanted to take care of horses which had been suffering from neglect. Many rioters were struck by clubs and the flying missiles and several policemen were hurt, but nobody so far as known was severely injured. Strong details of police guard the stables and patrol the line of the road. No arrests were made. There is a general expectation in Brooklyn of a riot to-morrow morning when the company will attempt to start cars.

Wm. J. Richardson, secretary of the Atlantic-avenue Railway, and Gen. B. F. Tracy called on the State Board of Arbitration this evening and said they would receive a committee of the former employes, but would not confer with the Executive Committee of D. A. 75.

A Strike Imminent in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A tie-up on all the surface street railroads here is imminent in the next 24 hours. Meetings were held all over the city to-night to consider grievances and the delegates elected at these meetings of the local assemblies will meet in the morning about 4 o'clock to consider what action to take.

The various surface car lines of this city will be tied up at 4 o'clock this morning. This course was decided upon to aid the strikers in Brooklyn.

AMBASSADORS OR MINISTERS?

The Washington Senate Puzzled by a Momentous Problem.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Senator Gibson, when the diplomatic bill was before the Senate to-day, moved to amend it by creating the ministers to France, Germany, Great Britain and Russia, ambassadors. The amendment provoked a hot debate. Senator Plumb was opposed to it and several other senators joined issue for and against.

Senator Hoar raised a laugh when he stated that he did not believe in the notion of the senator from Kansas (Plumb), that the United States was to go about the world with pantaloons stuffed in boots, with waistcoat off and with ragged trousers held up by one suspender.

Mr. Plumb retorted that that kind of costume would be a decoration to the senator from Massachusetts, but such an extreme is to be avoided as much as the other.

Mr. Stewart opposed Mr. Gibson's amendment. He did not believe in giving national encouragement to the breeding of dudes, who, when abroad, lost command of the English language, grunted, became unintelligible and were a disgrace to the country.

Mr. Hale repeated a statement made by an American minister abroad as to the difficulties encountered in obtaining audience with foreign ministers, on account of the precedence given to ambassadors.

Mr. Morgan said the United States was entitled to be represented abroad in the most dignified and thorough manner.

Mr. Call also sustained the amendment. The scream of the American eagle in mid air in defiance of all was not the language of dignity or wisdom nor any kind of useful assertion of the people's power.

Mr. Blair opposed the amendment seeing in it "a little anti-republican catering to the sentiment of aristocratic domination, grandeur and power." He spoke of ambassadors as a new order of diplomatic nobility.

Without voting on Mr. Gibson's amendment the Senate adjourned.

The Railroad Presidents.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—The railroad presidents will finally consider the new agreement to-morrow. The Chicago, Burlington and Northern road was not represented at to-day's conference. In order to meet that road's objection to the agreement the conference adopted a resolution which permits a road to meet the rates of outside lines without delay and to explain afterwards. Chairman Cooley and Commissioner Morrison of the Inter-State Commerce Commission arrived here to-day. They are quietly investigating railroad matters here. Judge Cooly said the situation regarding passenger affairs was considerably improved, but the abuses were not all wiped out.

DINNER

is always a subject for sighs with a housekeeper and she often wishes that the law settled the question of "What shall we have for dinner," and prescribed certain dishes for certain days. Such a law would certainly save a great deal of worry and questioning to many tired women. But it is not such a difficult problem to solve after all especially in Peterborough, where we have such a good market, besides at China Hall you can secure full Dinner Sets that will grace any table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay.

But we don't like to keep Stock. We keep old friends by keeping a New Stock, and the Old Goods must go.

THE NEW YEAR MEANS NEW GOODS.

and in order to properly take care of these, we must make room for them. We don't expect you to buy the Goods as a matter of accommodation to us—just to help us out. We know it is worth something to be accommodated and are willing to pay.

THIS MEANS BARGAINS

We are are going to make it worth your while to Buy. The Goods we must want to get rid of are Goods that would have to be packed and stored for another season. These will be our main feature. But to make Variety we shall add from every Line we carry, whatever surplus there may be, and thus make a Complete Assortment for our Sale.

POINTERS ABOUT POLITICS

EVERYTHING READY FOR THE OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

No Large Amount of Government Business Expected—Some of the Private Bills—Election Trials in Cardwell and Halton.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—Everything is pretty well ready for the opening of the House. Members are beginning to drop in and a large number are expected to-day.

Council sat for four hours yesterday afternoon. It is understood that the Speech from the Throne was under consideration.

The impression remains very general that the Government will not propose any large amount of new measures and that the session will be a short one, prorogation taking place before Easter.

So far notice has been given of ninety private bills including three divorce cases:

G. M. Bagnell of Hamilton from his wife, adultery.

George C. King of Calvary from his wife, the usual charges.

Wm. Lowry of Huntley, Carleton County, from his wife Florence Lowry of Moorehead, adultery.

W. H. Middleton of Ottawa from his wife, adultery.

Eliza Jane Nicol of Toronto from her husband, the usual charges.

Robert Oliver of Elzisboro, N. W. T., from his wife, adultery and desertion.

Bennett Rosamond of Aimonte, from his wife, adultery and desertion.

Arthur Wood of Montreal, from Jennie Darrach, adultery, desertion, and attempt to poison the applicant.

It is understood that the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne will be moved by Mr. R. S. White (Cardwell) and seconded by Mr. A. R. Dickey (Cumberland).

The Cardwell Case.

ORANGEVILLE, Jan. 30.—His Lordship Mr. Justice Street presided at the court house here yesterday for the purpose of hearing the petition filed against the return of Mr. R. S. White as member for Cardwell in the Dominion House. Mr. Elgin Myers appeared for the petitioner and Mr. W. L. Walsh for the respondent. Upon the opening of the court Mr. Myers stated that he had no evidence to offer in support of the petition, that he had gone carefully over the evidence submitted to him and had come to the conclusion that it was not sufficient to warrant him in proceeding further with the petition and that therefore so far as he was concerned the matter would go no further.

Mr. Walsh then asked that the petition should be dismissed.

Mr. Aylesworth of Toronto, however, asked for leave to substitute Samuel Stubbs, a brother of the defeated candidate, as petitioner in the place of the present petitioner, and applied for an order allowing the present security to stand for the substituted petitioner's security. He based his application upon two affidavits, one made by Samuel Stubbs and the other by Wm. Stubbs, setting out that they thought there was good reason for further prosecuting the petition and that they would be able to adduce evidence to show that bribery and other corrupt practices were resorted to by Mr. White and his agents at the recent election, and that they believed that the petitioner had been induced to withdraw from the further prosecution of the petition under some corrupt agreement arrived at between him and the respondent.

Mr. Walsh strongly objected to this application on the ground that His Lordship had no power to entertain it and upon the ground that it was unfair to his client to be harrassed by a practically new petition at this stage of the proceedings.

His Lordship reserved his decision until Saturday at noon, when it will be given at Osgoode Hall. He intimated that if he decided to allow the new petitioner to intervene that he would not hear the petition during the session of the House, so that, in any event, it will be some considerable time before the trial.

The Halton Trial.

MILTON, Jan. 30.—The trial of the Halton election petition commenced here yesterday morning at 10 o'clock before Hon. Chief Justice Armour. There are 74 charges of bribery and corrupt practices. There is great interest taken in the trial, the court room being crowded with spectators all through the trial until 6.30, when court was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning. G. T. Blackstock of Toronto and D. McGibbon of Milton appeared for the petitioner, and J. K. Kerr, Q.C., and Wm. Macdonald of Toronto for John Waldie, M. P., the respondent.

Dual Representation.

QUEBEC, Jan. 30.—Premier Mercier's measure to abolish dual representation was introduced in the Upper House yesterday afternoon. It provides that no member of the Senate of Canada can sit as a member of the Legislative Council or vote as such under a penalty of $1000 a day. Any member of the Council who is already a member of the Senate, must resign either one or the other seat within 30 days or the seat in the Council will be declared vacant. Messrs. Ross and de Boucherville are the only members of the Council who are also Senators. "It is thought they will prefer to resign their seats in the Council.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE.

Another Brief Session—Only Routine Business Transacted.

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—The Local House again resumed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Upon the reporters being admitted to their galleries at the conclusion of prayers, the vacant seats were still a conspicuous feature. Both Hon. Oliver Mowat and W. R. Meredith were absent at the opening.

The usual batch of petitions from various municipalities was presented and tabled.

The following bills were introduced and read a first time:

By J. Waters—To amend the Ditches and Watercourses Act.

By W. D. Balfour—To amend the Homestead Exemption Act.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Fraser, it was ordered that a special committee of twelve members be appointed to prepare and report, with all convenient speed, lists of members to compose the select standing committees, to be composed as follows: Messrs. Awrey, Clarke (Wellington), H. E. Clarke (Toronto), Creighton, Dryden, Fraser, Gibson (Huron), Hardy, Meredith, Monk, Ross (Huron), and Wood (Hastings).

Also a select committee to act, with Mr. Speaker in the chair, in the control and management of the library, composed of the Attorney-General and Messrs. Clancy, Clarke (Wellington), French, Gibson (Huron), Harcourt, Meredith, O'Connor, Ross (Middlesex), and Wood (Hastings).

Estimates transmitted by the Lieutenant-Governor for the service of the Province until the estimates for 1889 are finally passed, amounting to $300,000, were tabled and passed through the Committee of Supply and Ways and Means.

The Hon. Mr. Hardy presented the report of the Commissioner of Public Works for the year 1888. The expenditure on public works was $440,824 against $436,766 in 1887.

A Blaze at Our Lady of Angels.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The seminary of Our Lady of Angels between here and Lewiston was badly damaged by fire this morning. The fire departments of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Niagara Falls, Ont., and this place responded to an alarm, but the fire was extinguished by the students carrying water in pots, pans, pails, etc. The loss is about $1500.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A POLICEMAN'S SAD END.

SUICIDE OF A MEMBER OF THE TORONTO FORCE.

A Woman in the Case—The Chair of English in the University Filled—A Brute's Severe Sentence.

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—Police Officer Michael Larkins (No. 123), attached to Headquarters, committed suicide at 6.50 yesterday morning on George-street, near the Newsboys' Home, by shooting himself through the head with his own revolver. There was one eye witness of the deed, a man named George McCracken, who was standing outside the gate of the Home when Larkins pulled the trigger of his pistol. The bullet entered the right side of the skull and went clean through the brain. Larkins fell like a log and was just breathing when McCracken rushed to his assistance. He died within three minutes of the firing of the shot.

Larkins joined the force in 1883 and was a native of Ireland. He was 28 years old and reckoned one of the best officers on the force. Before coming to Toronto he worked as a farm laborer in the township of Adjala, Ont., in the county of Cardwell.

The peculiar feature of the case is the fact that up to within ten minutes of the shooting Larkins was spoken to by quite a number of people and appeared in the best of spirits. In the guardroom, on the previous night, he was one of the merriest in the crowd, cracking jokes and playing dominoes with as much zest as the rest. Patrol Sergeant Bowers saw him at 6.32. At that time he appeared to be all right, and answered the customary questions in his usual manner. Policeman William J. Patterson saw him at 6.45 at King and George-streets, but did not speak to him. The death of Larkins has created a profound sensation in police circles.

There have been many speculations as to the cause of the deed. The coroner's jury said it was melancholia. Though this was true to a certain extent, it was a woman which changed the happy-spirited, free-hearted Larkins from one of the most contented men in the force to one whose disgust of life ended in death by his own hand. Larkins boarded at 33 Wilton-avenue. Six weeks ago he reported off duty on account of rheumatism, and it was not until two weeks ago that he returned to his duty. For the past three years Larkins had been engaged to a girl of a very respectable family in Adjala. While he was lying ill in his boarding-house the girl visited him. They had a long conversation, in the course of which she informed him that the engagement was off. Larkins was heard to remark to her: "If this is the way you are going to treat me, I wish I was dead." He afterwards took Policeman Paterson, who boards with him, into his confidence, and told him all his troubles, but did not even hint that he contemplated any desperate act.

At a meeting of the cabinet yesterday Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, submitted to his colleagues the name of William John Alexander to fill the new chair of English in the University of Toronto. The council ratified the minister's recommendation, and Mr. Alexander stands as the lucky man. He will not assume the chair, however, until next fall at the opening of the new term. Mr. Alexander is a young man of 34, a native of Hamilton, and at present Munro Professor of the English Language and Literature in Dalhousie College, Nova Scotia. In 1873 Mr. Alexander matriculated at Toronto University, winning a double scholarship. In the following summer he won the Canadian Gilchrist scholarship, standing fourth in the order of merit out of 652 candidates at the matriculation examination of the University of London in that year. He spent three years in London and graduated a B. A. at the University of London in the highest division with first-class honors in English. In 1883 he took the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in John Hopkin's University.

At the Assizes yesterday Henry Wilton, a bad looking young man, was tried and convicted on the charge of having on Dec. 31 committed an indecent assault on a child named Rhoda Gadd. Mr. Justice Rose spoke to him very severely and passed the heaviest sentence he could, two years in the Central Prison less a day with 25 lashes on entering and 25 more shortly before he leaves.

James C. Carberry, superintendent of St. Nicholas' Home, on Saturday night chastised James Convey with a rawhide for contravening the rules of the Home by taking a bottle of whisky thereto. The magistrate thought the chastisement deserved and dismissed the charge of assault.

The Duty on Woolen Cloths—P. M. Gen. Haggart and the Green Goods Men.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—A deputation of woolen manufacturers consisting of A. Paton and C. H. Hall of Sherbrooke, and W. Rosamond of Cobourg, accompanied by Fred. Nicholls, editor of The Canadian Manufacturer, waited on the Minister of Customs yesterday and urged that the duty on woolen cloths be increased, as the trade was suffering from foreign competition. Mr. Bowell promised to take the matter into consideration.

The funeral of the late Chief Justice Richards took place yesterday morning. The pall bearers were the five Puisne Judges of the Supreme Court and Judge Burbridge of the Exchequer Court. There was a large attendance of members of the bar and prominent citizens. After the service the remains were taken to Brockville for burial.

Hon. John Haggart, Postmaster-General, received a confidential circular yesterday from a New York sharper offering to sell him counterfeit Canadian bills at low rates. Mr. Haggart handed the letter to Commander Sherwood of the Dominion Police.

"VIVE LA REPUBLIQUE!"

BOULANGER'S LETTER TO THE ELECTORS OF THE SEINE.

He Predicts the Inevitable Dissolution of the Chamber—O'Brien Arrested at Manchester.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—General Boulanger in a letter thanks the electors of the Department of the Seine. He says: "I am still under the deep emotion caused by the marvellous demonstration of Sunday. I do not wish to postpone the expression of my gratitude to the admirable populace on which marched so bravely in serried ranks against a parliamentary coalition composed of those who appeal so audaciously to the republic, which their faults, their impotence and their intrigues have so gravely compromised. Never under any regime was an official campaign of infamous attacks, premeditated calumnies and odious menaces more scandalously conducted against a candidate. Ballot in hand you brushed away at one sweep slanderers and slanders alike. The national Republican party, based upon the probity of its officers, sincerity and universal suffrage, is henceforward to be the foundation of the Chamber, which has fought against it with unprecedented fury. The Chamber has now nothing before it but dissolution, from which it will not escape. It is to you, electors, to your energy and good sense, that our great country will owe deliverance from the parasites which devour while they dishonor her. The republic is now free to all Frenchmen of good will. May they enter it and others leave it. Vive la France! Vive la République!"

Moderates doubt Premier Floquet's ability to pull through the crisis. Monarchist papers insist upon the necessity of his immediately announcing a policy.

O'Brien Arrested.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Wm. O'Brien was arrested at Manchester yesterday while addressing a meeting. A rumor had been circulated that O'Brien would baik his parnesrn and appear at the meeting. This report brought out a large audience. John Dillon was also expected, but he did not appear. The chairman was addressing the meeting when a commotion arose and O'Brien appeared at the entrance to the platform and stepped to the front. The people rose en masse and cheered until they were compelled through exhaustion to desist. Such a scene was never witnessed in Manchester before.

O'Brien was pale but he retained his composure and when he began to speak his voice was firm. He gave in detail the story of his conviction. The audience following him with breathless attention. Since his fight he said he had raved through four counties of Ireland. When he had concluded his friends rushed on the platform to shake him by the hand. So eager was the crowd that O'Brien was rudely hustled about and almost fainted.

A large force of police arrived and O'Brien was arrested in the auto-room while the audience was leaving the hall. A torchlight parade was afterwards held in honor of O'Brien. His arrest caused intense excitement. It appears that O'Brien reached Wexford Friday afternoon after a drive of 60 miles in an open trap and was then smuggled on board a collier and landed at Port Heawl, Wales. He stayed a day at Bridgend and then came to London, getting thence to Manchester.

Charged With High Treason.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—Proceedings have been instituted against The Kreus Zeitung for high treason in printing an article describing as damaging to the monarchical feeling of the old Prussian patriots the publication of the indictment against Prof. Gottschalk, with the object of appealing to the public feeling. Parliamentary circles are much excited over this action of the Government.

A Bet of Years' Gossip.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Emperor of Germany is determined to be "plus allemand que les allemands," says Mr. Yates, and has dismissed his French cook. Ever since the time of Frederick the Great, who had too great a regard for the constitution to allow it to be severed by German cookery, there has been a succession of French cooks at Potsdam. Emperor William's cook, M. Urbain Dubois, was first-rate. When the war of 1870 broke out Urbain resigned his post, but the Emperor would not permit him to do so, and marked his sense of his devotion by exempting the cook's native village from the payment of indemnity. Emperor Frederick liked English cookery, but one of the earliest offences of the Empress Frederick was an open dislike of the German cuisine and her annoyance at the want of comfort and cleanliness in all matters pertaining to the dinner table. Most of the royal forks had steel prongs, and the supply of table linen was always inadequate and often dirty, so that her inauguration of English ways into the house, and especially as regarded the cookery, serving and arranging the dinner table, was one of the most unpopular of her many unpopular acts.

He had already received applications from a very large number of players and also says that a good team could be secured at much lower salaries than those paid last year. It was decided after much discussion to form a new association, and the following directors were elected: W. R. Davis, James Dixon, John Patterson, R. G. Moore, R. Mosley, R. B. Gibson and Wm. Dr. Clarke's Report.

Respecting His Investigation of the Bridgenorth Epidemic — Domestic Carelessness and Want of Cleanliness a Chief Cause—Polluted Well Water a Prominent Factor—Peterer's Well the Purest in the Village.

The following is the report of Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, to the council of Smith township, respecting his investigation of the outbreak of typhoid fever in Bridgenorth last fall:

REPORT.

To the Reeve and Councillors of the Township of Smith:—

GENTLEMEN,—On the 12th of September last, in accordance with the request of your worthy Reeve, I proceeded to Bridgenorth to investigate the causes and nature of the alarming outbreak of typhoid fever in that village. Twenty cases had been reported, many of them of the most dangerous kind. Exaggerated rumours had spread abroad regarding the epidemic, and it seemed probable that the Provincial Board of Health would claim its right to send experts to investigate. Hence prompt action was necessary.

I remained there all day and in company with the Reeve and attending physician went about from house to house, inspected the yards, sheds and water closets, procured samples of water from the wells of all the infected houses and also from several others, notified parties as to the removal of nuisances where it was necessary, and gave directions as to isolation, disinfection, and such other measures in accordance with the requirements of the Provincial Statute relating to such cases. I brought back ten specimens of drinking water and two others were sent down after. Having completed the analysis of these a week or two after, I mailed the results to each of the parties, giving instructions, where necessary, as to the cleaning out of wells or filtering of water. During this time I held frequent consultations with the medical men in attendance as to the condition of things, new cases, disinfection and such other matters as seemed necessary to check the disease. I will now give, as briefly as possible, the result of my investigations into the outbreak.

It is not advisable to particularize in matters of this sort, but I may say that in my tour of inspection, although many houses and premises were found in as good order as could be wished, there were too many others lacking in the first principles of sanitary science. Slops were thrown carelessly on the streets; scraps of kitchen refuse, such as potato parings, fag-ends of vegetables and meat, were allowed to fester in the sun; wells had been sunk too near water-closets and had not been cleaned out for years; many privies had never been cleaned out at all; one or two pig-pens were close to the street and in a very filthy condition; manure heaps had been allowed to grow too large, and had consequently become too strong, and in one case a pig having died under a building the carcase had been allowed to rot away. There were rumours of numerous dead animals lying along the lake shore, but a careful examination up and down for about a mile failed to detect any. There were also rumours as to the impurity of the milk supply. It was said that a cow which had supplied several families with milk had taken sick and soon after some of those who had used the milk had been laid up with fever. On close inquiry I found that the evidence as to the cow's sickness did not amount to much, and, moreover, that some persons were affected who never drank milk at all, so that, although impure milk is well known to be a powerful means of disseminating the disease, in these cases it was not an important factor.

After a thorough consideration of the subject, I am of opinion that the grand primary cause of the epidemic lay in the miasmatic exhalations from the shores of the lake. The water was particularly low, lower than it had been for years, and, as it receded there was exposed along the shore a layer of scum or fermentable organic matter, which, being now near the water to dry up, and exposed to the heat of the sun, threw off poisonous exhalations.

On account of the winds prevailing from the lake in the direction of Bridgenorth these emanations were carried directly into the village, where, owing to sanitary neglect, they developed into disease. To make it clearer; just as seed scattered over land will not grow unless the soil be in a certain state of preparation, so with the seeds of disease. If a place is in perfect sanitary condition there is no danger, but if there be one plague spot it may infect a whole village. In the present instance, the place was not in good sanitary condition; in other words the ground was ploughed and harrowed and the seed grew and multiplied with sad effect.

A high medical authority says that wherever a case of typhoid fever occurs, someone ought to be hanged. It is a distinctly preventable disease. In some places there may be sanitary neglect without bad consequences, but in the case of Bridgenorth, situated beside a large body of fluctuating water with marshy shores, while the winds prevail from these directions, it is imperative that the most scrupulous care should be taken in keeping houses, premises, and water supply in the best condition if an epidemic is to be avoided. Regarding the condition of the well water, the result of which I communicated to the parties interested, I found most of the samples very impure, and notified the owners accordingly. In addition to cleaning the wells, I recommended boiling or filtering the water, as under the microscope most of it absolutely swarmed with low organisms. Peterer's well was found to contain the purest water of any I examined in the village. I mention this because as it had been largely used, several complaints had been made, indeed, some parties in Peterborough who had supposed they contracted the disease in Bridgenorth, attributed it to Peterer's well. The water was excellent, the well being 180 or 190 feet from any source of danger, and in contrast to

As far as I can ascertain, the total number of cases was 27; fortunately no deaths occured, though there were several narrow escapes. The number of deaths, however, is no index of the ravages of typhoid fever, as, to say nothing of the long and prostrating illness, it frequently brings on serious consequences, such as lung disease, rheumatism, and general weakness. Many cases of consumption date commencement from an attack of typhoid fever.

I may say that the villagers were prompt in following out the recommendations given. It is only to be regretted that the opportunity was not given at the first appearance of the disease, when much suffering might have been saved. Still it is hard to say, sometimes, when diseases are going to spread; and when caution was taken it was attended with gratifying results.

It will be necessary to keep a sharp lookout next spring and fall that the village is kept clean and the supply of water pure. Diphtheria often follows closely on the heels of typhoid fever, as it did in Peterborough in 1887, with disastrous effect. Hence any indication of its appearance should be met promptly.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar.

Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cures CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed small red purple like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until one night later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been PERFECTLY cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was one and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have had children with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

THE NEW YORKERS MUST WALK.

Almost Settled Street Car Men—Distress Seems in Gotham.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The threatened tie-up on the New York street car lines went into effect shortly after 5 o'clock this morning. No cars went out after 2 a.m. The strikers comprise 4000 men.

Peter M. Lorney, an Italian, was on his way late night to the Eighth-avenue stables to look for work, when he was set upon, kicked and beaten brutally and stabbed in the face. His assailants escaped. The man may die.

A lively row occurred at Grand-street this morning, when a crowd of strikers tried to overturn a car which the company had started.

A collision between the strikers and the police took place at 11.30. When a car reached 42d-street it was attacked by 200 strikers, who did all in their power to stop it. A platoon of 75 police, headed by Capt. Welsh, charged on the strikers. A scuffle ensued and two or three of the strikers were roughly handled.

On Grand-street line three Union conductors returned to work. The strikers were all paid off by the road.

At 23rd-street and 10th-avenue to-day two cross-town cars came along almost together. The strikers stopped them, hustled the passengers out and overturned one car. A policeman arrested a man who beat the driver. Police dispersed the crowd and righted the car.

About the 4th-avenue stables 600 strikers gathered in an ugly mood. A car that started ran into a pile of ashes dumped on the track. Peter Clark shouted to the mob to follow him in an attack, but he was arrested by Captain Ryan. The mob tried to rescue Clark, but the Captain threatened to shoot and the rescue was abandoned. The crowd smashed the car windows with stones. A lady passenger was slightly injured. The car then flew through the crowd on a dead run and was not stopped again. It went down town unmolested, but on the way up a 23rd-street car was found in the middle of the 4th-avenue track. The conductor had been put off, the horses unhitched and the car turned over. The 4th-avenue car driver pulled around it and continued up town. The enraged strikers chased it until they got tired.

A second car, started out after the first returned, met with no obstructions. The 23d-street car that was turned over was damaged $300. Sightseers lined the avenue and greatly interfered with the police. Many of the strikers were intoxicated. Much trouble is expected on this line to-morrow.

This afternoon the car companies on the east side determined to run no more cars and all but a few policemen were withdrawn. The crowds dispersed. The 42nd-street cross town line started a car manned by 21 policemen. At 7th-avenue the strikers had placed two transfer huts across the tracks. The police removed them and the strikers threw stones. Officers Mallory and Scanlen were badly cut about the face. The car continued the trip without further molestation.

RAHWAY'S FIREBUG.

He Sets Fire in Order that He Might Have a Good Racket.

RAHWAY, Jan 30.—Charles Martin, a hanger-on around the engine houses of Rahway, was noticed acting queerly on Friday night. He had been suspected of being a firebug and Chief Tooker followed him down Hamilton-street to Farmer Saffenberg's barn. Martin crept around the end of the barn and a moment later the haystack adjoining it was ablaze. The firebug was pounced upon by the chief before he had time to retreat.

A short but fierce struggle ended in favor of the Chief. The fire was subdued by the department before much damage was done. Yesterday Martin confessed not only that he fired the haystack, but also that he was the person who had started all the incendiary fires at Rahway for 18 months. These incediary fires have been numerous, and the town has been in a state of alarm.

He set fire to and destroyed the coal yard of his employer, Capt. Hiarson. He also tried, he said, to burn the public school in Franklyn-street. He said the only reason that prompted him to set the fires was that he might have a good racket. It is customary with the firemen to put up a couple of kegs of beer at the engine house after every fire. The prisoner belongs to a respectable family.

Facial Paralysis from Chewing Gum.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 30.—The most remarkable case that has come under the observation of the medical fraternity in this city for a long time is that of Mary Younts, aged 13 years, who is suffering from facial paralysis. This affliction is due to chewing gum, she having employed the use of her jaws so constantly during the last three months that the muscles of her face are powerless and her nerves are in a dilapidated condition. When she laughs her face presents an amusing sight. There is much sympathy felt for the little miss here, as her condition is regarded as serious one by the physicians who have been called upon to treat her. In whatever position she is able to twist her mouth, the muscles remain and the face is thus in a contorted shape until one of the members of her family assist her to place it in proper condition. Her chin drops and it frequently becomes necessary to tie a bandage over her head to keep the lower jaw in its proper place. Mary is now under the care of Dr. Hiten, who is applying plasters to her face, and under this treatment she seems to be improving, though very slowly. This is the first case of the kind that has been heard of by a of the prominent physicians in this and their treatment is much on a experiment.

Smallpox in York State.

ALBANY, Jan. 29.—The State Board of Health sent out to health boards in all parts of the state to-day the fact that smallpox in the Onondaga County poor-house has assumed a threatening aspect; also at the penitentiary at Syracuse and at Lyons, Wayne County, and other parts of Central New York. A general vaccination of all people is urged and a special look-out for all tramps is directed.

Another Needle Colonist.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Ignatz Reinitz, the tobacco merchant who left town Friday in debt, is supposed to have gone to Canada. His liabilities are said to be $50,000. He left very small assets. Before leaving he sold a large quantity of tobacco below cost.

The Copper Syndicate in Trouble.

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—A cablegram states that the great European Copper Syndicate has refused to buy any more copper and that the market is quite demoralized. This is interpreted as practically the breaking up of the syndicate.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE SAMOAN AFFAIR.

Considered Yesterday With Open Doors by the U. S. Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—In secret session of the Senate to-day a motion by Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) to consider the Samoan amendment with open doors was supported by Messrs. Sherman, Evarts (Rep., N. Y.) and Voorhees (Dem., Ind.), and opposed by Messrs. Edmunds (Rep., Vt.) and Morgan (Dem., Ala.). The vote upon the motion was: Yeas 28, nays 24. The discussion was outside of party lines.

When the doors were re-opened Mr. Sherman made a long speech reviewing the various treaties between Great Britain, Germany, the United States and the Islands, the civil wars which are fraudulently carried on in Samoa and the recent disturbances. Summing up his points the Senator from Ohio said the first thing to be done was for the United States to assert its power in the occupancy and possession of the bay of Pago-Pago.

Mr. George: "The amendments do not menace war, do they?"

Mr. Sherman: "I do not think it necessary to menace any one. It would be a shame and disgrace to our civilization and Christianity if we could not agree upon some mode of government for these islands. There is nothing in the situation that would justify on the part of either nation a breach of the peace until every effort is exhausted to bring about a peaceful and quiet settlement of the controversy. After maintaining our right to a station at Pago-Pago we ought to employ our good offices to settle the difficulties of this people. I am willing to vote any sum to enable the President to conduct negotiations, to make surveys of harbors and to get better information relative to those islands. I have no doubt that the power given to send agents and ships there will bring about a prompt solution of this small controversy."

Mr. Dolph obtained the floor and the Senate adjourned.

A Resolution in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Representative Morrow to-day introduced for reference the following joint resolution:

Resolved, That the present condition of affairs at Samoa requires that this Government should aid the people of those islands in securing an independent native government free from the claims of territorial jurisdiction of any European power and to the end that this purpose may be speedily and effectually accomplished, the President of the United States is requested to insist on the restoration of affairs on said islands as the same existed at the time of the convention between the representatives of the Governments of Germany, Great Britain and the United States, held in Washington in June and July, 1887.

That he further aid in securing a settlement of the pending difficulties at Samoa on a satisfactory and solid foundation and in the restoration of peace and good order under a responsible native independent government with a court of competent jurisdiction to determine land titles and such other claims and controversies of foreign residents as may be properly cognizable by such a court, and that he take such further steps as may be necessary to protect the rights of this Government and its citizens in said islands.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

APPOINTING ASSESSORS.

Mr. KELLY, of the Committee on Appointments, in the absence of Chairman Kendry, stated that he believed it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that the assessors of last year should be re-appointed.

A by-law to appoint assessors was then brought up, and the council went into committee of the whole. The by-law was finally passed appointing Messrs. Cornelius McGrath and Wm. Aldridge assessors for 1889.

A MOVE TOWARD ANNEXATION.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, in introducing the following motion, said he had been speaking with the Reeve of Ashburnham and understood that there was a sentiment in favor of annexation prevailing among the villagers, and if that were so the union of Peterborough and Ashburnham should be accomplished.

Mr. CAHILL added that he himself believed there was such a feeling existing in the village.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Baptie, that a special committee consisting of Messrs. Davidson, Cahill, E. H. D. Hall, and the Mayor, mover and seconder, wait upon the Ashburnham council at their next meeting for the purpose of bringing about the union of the two municipalities.—Carried.

WHEN TO MEET.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Baptie, that when this council adjourns it shall stand so adjourned until two weeks from next Monday night; and all subsequent regular meetings shall be held on the first Monday of each month thereafter for the rest of the year, except special meetings that may be called by the Mayor.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said he presented this motion because some of the ratepayers who would like to attend the council meetings grumbled that the meetings were called so irregularly that they never know there were to be meetings until they were over. If a regular meeting night were fixed they could always be on hand. The motion was carried.

NEW GUARDIANS.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that it is desirable to appoint a special committee to watch the interests of the town with a view of encouraging manufacturers to locate here, to whom may be referred negotiations and correspondence in that behalf; and that such committee consist of Messrs. Davidson, Kelly, A. Hall, E. H. D. Hall, Baptie, Langford and Kendry,—Carried.

TO ABOLISH EXEMPTION.

Mr. Davidson moved, seconded by Mr. A. Hall, that this council memorialize the Ontario Legislature, that in their opinion all exemptions of taxes should be abolished except churches and the ground they occupy, or in cases of manufacturing industries.

There was some discussion on this motion, and it was finally left over as a notice of motion, after which the council adjourned till two weeks from Monday night next.

Knights of Labor.

Close of the Session—The Officers Elect.

The District Assembly, Knights of Labor, resumed at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, and settled down to business in earnest, and succeeded in transacting a large amount of important work during the afternoon.

The Finance Committee reported that they had examined the books of the Secretary and Treasurer and found them correct.

It was moved by Mr. Hogan, seconded by Mr. O'Reilly, that this District Assembly has learned with much gratification of the appointment of our District Master Workman, Bro. Elliott, and of Bro. W. R. James, of St. Catherines, and O. D. Benoit, of Montreal, as a Legislative Committee, to go to Ottawa and watch legislation in the interests of the working men, and we heartily endorse the action of General Master Workman Powderly, in selecting them for this work.

The motion was carried unanimously.

The Committee on the state of the Order presented a report in which was contained much encouragement to those engaged in organizing labor. The Order was reported to be in a good condition, and the prospects bright for the future. There are four places in the northern lumber districts ready for organization and two in the south, as well as two rural localities, the intention being to extend the organization among farmers. The report was received and adopted.

A general discussion took place as to the best means to be taken for the propagation of the principles of the Order, and it was finally decided to request the District Master Workman to secure the services of prominent lecturers for this purpose.

A considerable amount of other business of a private nature was transacted, which of course cannot be published.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

DISTRICT MASTER WORKMAN—R. R. Elliot, Uxbridge.

DISTRICT WORTHY FOREMAN—Jos. Brookman, Oshawa.

DISTRICT SECRETARY—Wm. Hogan, Uxbridge.

DISTRICT TREASURER—John O'Reilly, Lindsay.

DISTRICT STATISTICIAN—Geo. A. Metheral, Lindsay.

DISTRICT WORTHY INSPECTOR—J. P. Johnson, Midland.

DISTRICT INNER ESQUIRE—D. O'Leary, Oshawa.

OUTSIDE ESQUIRE—Jno. O'Brien, Peterborough.

On motion of Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. O'Reilly, it was decided to hold the next meeting at Midland on the last Thursday in July.

The District Assembly was then closed in due form.

Idylwyde Waltz.

The EXAMINER has received from the composer a copy of the Idylwylde waltz, composed for pianoforte by Mr. J. B. Hutchins, so well known in town as a tenor of more than ordinary ability. It is a waltz song, the words furnished by Miss Mattie Diamond, of Belleville. The music has a beautiful dreamy rythm, and has every element of the wide popularity it is meeting. The waltz is published in a very bright, tasteful form by Edwin Ashdown, Toronto. Mr. Hutchins is to be congratulated both upon his skill as a popular composer, and upon the pecuniary advantages which in contrast to most musical composers for a first effort he is reaping. Idylwylde waltz should command a large sale in Peterborough. Price 50 cents.—At the Peterborough book store, (late A. L. Davis & Co).

A Great Success.

The Bachelors of the George Street Church Entertain the People.

The bachelors' entertainment in the George street Methodist church last evening was an unqualified success. The young men had been expecting great things, and their expectations were every whit realized. The handsome lecture room of the church was nicely decorated. The first object that attracted one's attention was a large red and white motto at the east end of the room, bearing the inscription "Welcome." On turning around another similar motto was noticed over the chairman's head, in letters of red white and blue. Bunting and Union Jacks were not wanting in the slightest to give the room a gala and inviting appearance. Here and there were scattered snowshoes, lanterns, fencing foils, etc., adding much to the general effect of the decorations.

Thirty young bachelors, while not engaged in their culinary work, occupied the northeastern angle of the room, neatly attired in bakers' caps, white ties and aprons. They looked happy, and though not yet enjoying the sweets of matrimony, contentment beaked on their placid countenances. It is understood the young ladies of the church purpose at an early date to attempt the more than herculean task of giving an entertainment superior to that of the bachelors. When these two entertainments have been held the Rev. Mr. Pearson will reap a matrimonial harvest, unless the EXAMINER is greatly mistaken.

The programme was one of the most attractive we have enjoyed for some time. Every item was well rendered and in some cases encores were demanded.

Mr. Fred Winch "filled" the chair in a very happy manner. None looked more contented than he, and none so captivated the young ladies fancies as the robust chairman with his smiling face and attractive manner. Mr. Dozzee one of the most enthusiastic workers, opened with prayer.

The first item on the programme was an orchestral selection which was well rendered. Then came a piano duet by Messrs. Dingle and Schneider, an effort which was well worthy of two such accomplished pianists. Next in order was a song by Mr. Frank Annesley entitled "Our Jack's come home to-day." Mr Annesley has a rich and cultivated voice, and is fast becoming a favorite in musical circles. Mr. J. R. Cobb then gave a recitation. Mr. Cobb has the first requisite for a successful reciter, namely, a good voice, and he combines with this deep earnestness and feeling. Next came an instrumental trio by Messrs. Thomas, Annesley and Miller, with harp, accarino and cornet respectively. This was most heartily encored and in response they gave "'Dem Golden Slippers."

At this juncture Rev. Mr. Pearson stepped forward and asked Mr. Emerson, the late Secretary-Treasurer of the Sunday school, to take a seat on the platform. Mr. A. E. Scott then presented Mr. Emmerson with the following address and a handsome black marble clock:

To Jas. T. Emerson, Sec.-Treasurer of the George street Methodist Sunday school:

DEAR SIR,—We learn with regret of your intended departure from Peterborough. As your associates in the Sunday school work during the past seven years, we have enjoyed your co-operation and valued assistance. While we regret your removal from our midst, we refer with pleasure to your ever faithful and prompt discharge of the duties undertaken as Assistant Secretary, and later as Secretary of the Sunday school.

The success and efficiency of a school is as much dependent on the energy and forethought of its officers who direct the work and carry out details as to the self-sacrificing exertions of the teachers who sustain that important work.

As a "hewer of wood and drawer of water," so to speak, you have ably done your part. The school bears testimony to your zeal and usefulness. The records are witnesses of your care and attention; and the completeness of the school statistics do you much credit.

Remembering you as a brother in the work, your absence will be a constant reminder that time relentlessly works its changes. In a social sense you withdraw from a circle of friends who will greatly regret your removal. Your cheerful and happy disposition, your unfailing courtesy, have gained our esteem and respect.

We are confident the same qualities will win you hosts of friends in your new home.

We trust that happiness and much prosperity will attend you and your wife, the sharer of both your labors and your joys.

As a slight token of our esteem and appreciation, we your fellow-workers in the George street Sunday School, ask you to accept this clock. As it "beats out the lives of men," we know that your life will say that in your thought:

We live in deeds, not years;
In thoughts, not breathe;
In feelings, not in figures on a dial.
We should count time by heart-throbs.
He most lives who thinks most,
Tells the noblest, acts the best.

Signed on behalf of the school,

H. S. GRIFFIN.
A. E. SCOTT.
F. J. WESLEY.

Mr. Emmerson made a touching reply, and teachers and officers seemed to feel greatly the loss they are sustaining.

After this refreshments were next in order, and it was indeed a treat to see the bachelors looking after the appetites of the large crowd. The young ladies declared that some women must be concealed somewhere. But this was not the case, all the eatables and drinkables were prepared by the young men.

Part two opened with a well-rendered glee by Messrs. Annesley, Miller, Shelton and Bowman, followed by a recitation entitled "The Irish Philosopher," by Mr. E. A. Pearson. Mr. Pearson's recitation took the audience by storm, and he was obliged to give, by way of encore, a Hindoo Legend on Matrimony. Next on the list was an instrumental duet by Messrs. Miller and Green, which was very good indeed.

The chief feature of the evening now took place, in the shape of eight impromptu speeches, by Messrs. Scott, W. A. Dixon, E. A. Pearson, Smith, Wesley, Schofield, Doxee and Clegg. The subjects for the two-minute addresses were "Flirting," "Is Marriage a Failure?" "Are Breach of Promise Cases Justifiable?" "Courtship," "The Idiosyncracies of Cats," "Should a Baby Carriage or a Foot Passenger have the Right of Way?" and "Tell all you know about the Weather." These speeches formed a most amusing part of the programme and a very fit termination to an evening's enjoyment.

Among the bachelors who took a prominent part in the entertainment were noticed Messrs. Scott, W. A. Dixon, A. E. Dixon, Mason, Pearson, Wesley, Schofield, Clegg, Doxee, Armstrong, Rubidge, Allen, Tebb, Annesley, Miller, Cobb, Fife and others.

Farmers' Institute.

The Opening Session—Address by the Chairman.

A public meeting under the auspices of the West Peterborough Farmer's Institute opened in the Court House to-day (Wednesday), Mr. Dawson Kennedy, President, in the chair. The meeting was fairly well attended.

The CHAIRMAN stated that he regretted the meeting would have to dispense with the presence of the Minister of Agriculture, Prof. Shaw, and other professors of the Agricultural College—they all having had engagements that precluded the possibility of their attendance. But he hoped that home talent would receive as much benefit from the experience of practical farmers, as they would from the addresses of professors.

Then the various subjects to be dealt with were taken up, Mr. Peters, of Hope township, leading with an address upon the necessity of maintaining the fertility of the soil.

The report of proceedings will be continued to-morrow.

News Nuggets.

—A new 7,000 pound safe has been placed in the Bank of Commerce.

—To-morrow morning a farmer's wife will appear at the police court to answer to a charge of having sold bad eggs on the market.

—The assessors of last year, Messrs. Aldridge and McGrath, have been re-appointed for 1889. They will begin their labors in a few days.

—The postoffice department will issue shortly a new postal card which will have the great advantage of privacy. The card will be similar to the one now in vogue, except that it will have folds of paper on the back which can be lapped over to cover the writing. The card weighs less than half an ounce.

Address and Presentation.

The following address, presented to Mr. Alexander Watts, bears testimony to the high esteem in which he is held by the religious community, and to the high appreciation of his energetic and faithful labors in the cause of the Master. For over twenty years, as the address states, Mr. Watt has been engaged in religious work in Dummer, and his many friends, both personal and those attracted to him by good report, will not only rejoice that his faithful labors have been appreciated in a tangible manner, but cheerfully admit that he is worthy of the kindly appreciation of which he has been the recipient. He has not wrought with any hope of gain or reward in this world, but that does not make such tangible marks of recognition of faithful services any less gratifying or any less cheering in his work. It is understood that the sum of money accompanying the address was something substantial. Mr. Watts wishes to publicly express his thankfulness for the kindness shown him, and to say how greatly the appreciation of his unworthy services has cheered and comforted him. The following is the address:

To Mr. Alexander Watts:—

We, the members and friends of Warminster Sunday School, conscious of our great obligation to you as a teacher, and also of the zeal manifested by you during the last twenty years as a local preacher, are desirous of expressing our high appreciation of your labors amongst us. Although coming into our neighborhood a stranger from a far-off land, we remember the willingness shown from the first to buckle on the whole armour and enter the work, ever ready to communicate the Word of Life, and thus it has been one continuous line of action up to the present.

The Word teaches us, "The laborer is worthy of his hire," yet you, to our knowledge, have never received a tangible recognition for your services, still we find you on the line of duty as anxious as ever to further the Master's kingdom in the hearts of men both by precept and example.

We take this opportunity of thanking you, and as a slight token of our esteem and sincere regard we beg you to accept the enclosed sum of money. Hoping that Mrs. Watts and yourself may be blessed with health and prosperity for many years to come, that God may bless your labor of love among us, and that you may live to see the seed which has been sown ripen into a bountiful harvest, that they who sow and they who reap may rejoice together.

Signed on behalf of school,

SAMUEL EDWARDS, E. HAWTHORNE,
Superintendent. Secretary.

The "Star" Carnival Number.

We hear there is great excitement in Montreal over the publication of the carnival number of the Montreal Star, one firm alone offering to buy and pay cash for one hundred thousand copies. The Carnival Star this year is said to be of surpassing grandeur. The public were prepared for something good, but did not dream of such a galaxy of beautiful and thrilling things. The Star number is retailed at thirty five cents. If people don't know how it can be produced for the money they must find out for themselves. We can't solve it.

The annual meeting of the Bible society will be held in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Thursday evening, 31st, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by the Rev. Alex. Bell and Rev. Mr Pearson. A collection will be taken up in aid of the society. All are invited. 2d

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

A Crusade Against Sunday Blasphemy—Fine-jointed Stamping and Tin Works.

HAMILTON, Jan. 29.—Chief McKinnon has started a crusade against all storekeepers who do business on Sundays. At the police court this morning charges against five candy storekeepers for keeping their stores open on Sunday were investigated, the defendants being fined $1 each.

Hamilton is likely to have a healthy competition for the incandescents lighting of the streets, business places and residences of the city. The Edison electric light company, whose manufacturing establishment has been in operation here for some time past, has decided to commence more extensive operations in this city, and will endeavor to secure a share of the business of lighting the burg at night.

After a long and painful illness, Miss M. A. Buchanan died this morning. Miss Buchanan was sister of J. G. Buchanan and C. H. Buchanan of The Hamilton Evening Times, and of Mrs. Bell, wife of Rev. J. C. Bell, of Bethany, Ont.

At a meeting held here to-day it was decided to start a large stamping and tin works provided the City Council will give exemption from taxation.

A man was struck on the head by a falling icicle in Macnab-street, near King, this afternoon and knocked senseless.

$1000 FOR A MARINE HOSPITAL.

Movement to Establish an Institution at Owen Sound.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 29.—A deputation of medical men waited upon the County Council in session here and urged the advisability of establishing here a marine and general hospital. The council generously responded by voting a grant of $1000. The deputation also waited on the Town Council last night and requested a grant from that body. The matter was referred to a special committee and it is generally believed that the town will readily grant an additional $1000 together with a suitable site.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

YOU HAVE CATARRH

If you are suffering from any of the following symptoms:

Do you experience ringing or buzzing noises in your ears?

Is your breath frequently offensive from some unaccountable cause?

Have you a dull, oppressive headache, generally located over the eyes?

Do you have to hawk and cough frequently in the effort to clear your throat?

Are you losing your senses of smell and is your sense of taste becoming dull?

Does your nose always feel stopped up, forcing you to breathe through your mouth?

Do you feel as though you must suffocate when lying down?

Are you troubled with a hacking cough and general debility?

Does your voice have a husky, thick sound and nasal sort of twang?

Do you notice a wheezing or croaking sound in your chest when breathing?

Are you generally short of breath, and do you breathe with labor and difficulty?

Do you frequently feel dizzy, particularly when stooping to pick anything off the floor?

Does every little draught of air and every slight change of temperature give you a cold?

Are you annoyed by a constant desire to hawk and spit out an endless quantity of phlegm?

Is there dull pain in your chest between the breast bones, or under your shoulder blade?

Are you always tired and indisposed to exertion, whether of business, work or amusement?

Is great effort required to keep your thoughts fixed upon matters that formerly were easily performed?

Do you rise from bed as tired and weak as you were the night before and feel as though you wanted to lie there forever?

Do you find the attempt to dislodge the accumulation result in coughing, hawking and spitting, followed by nausea, and often vomiting, especially in the morning?

Are you troubled with a discharge from the head into the throat, sometimes watery and excoriating, sometimes mucous, thick, sticking to whatever it touches, sometimes bloody, and nearly always putrid and offensive?

The above are some of the many symptoms by which Catarrh may be known.

Probably not one case in a hundred will have them all, but every case will show more or less of the symptoms. The more of them you have the more serious your trouble, and the more urgent the necessity for a speedy treatment with NASAL BALM and a constant use of it until a complete cure is effected.

CAUTION. The reputation achieved by NASAL BALM from its wonderful curative properties has induced certain unscrupulous parties to pass imitations on sale closely resembling the style of our packages, and with names similar in sound. Beware of all preparations styled NASAL CREAM, NASAL BALSAM, etc. Ask for NASAL BALM and see that you get it.

If you cannot obtain NASAL BALM from your dealer it will be sent post paid on receipt of price—50 cents and $1 by addressing.

Send for our pamphlet "GEMS OF WISDOM."

A TEN YEAR CASE. O. L. Potter, manufacturer of woollen yarns, Montreal, says:—NASAL BALM completely cured me of a case of catarrh from which I had suffered for over ten years. It cannot be too highly recommended, and should be used by everyone troubled with catarrh. It is one of the wonders of science.

UNPLEASANT ODORS. E. A. Cardinal, of Montreal, says:—After ineffectually trying many of the so-called remedies for catarrh, I made a trial of NASAL BALM, which gave me instant relief, and since commencing to use it daily note the beneficial changes it is producing after a few applications. It changes the unpleasant odor of the virus in the air and the poisonous secretions over which every breath must pass. To any thus troubled it is a priceless medicine.

SUFFERED SEVERELY. Mr. Thos. Roche, Rockport, Ontario, says:—I have suffered severely from catarrh, and never got any relief until I used NASAL BALM. I never thought I could find so sure a cure. It is a joy all added to with catarrh do not know of and use this wonderful medicine.

STOPPED MY COUGH. Mr. Radley Down, Bracebridge, Ont., says:—Your NASAL BALM has done me more good than all other remedies I ever tried. My cough is one of the worst kind but BALM has helped me from the start. It has stopped my cough entirely, relieved me of all the unpleasant effects of long standing catarrh, and I know a number of others in this section who have all been cured of catarrh by NASAL BALM.

CATARRHAL HEADACHE. WM. H. Sharp, Trehorne, Man., says:—I am delighted to be in a position to say that NASAL BALM is helping me wonderfully, although I have been using it but a very short time. I generally observed on the head and stopped the disagreeable drooping a little to the east. For some time I have suffered severely from catarrh. I bear also NASAL BALM has removed every trace of it. I have every confidence in its completely curing me. It is conscious of all you claim for it. A Positive Cure for Catarrh. Easy and Pleasant to use." I hope it will soon be for sale in every town and village in Manitoba.

BREATHE EASIER, SLEEP BETTER. Mary J. Little, of Mscotah, Kansas, says:—I am pleased to say your NASAL BALM has wonderfully helped me, although I have not yet used one bottle. The annoying droppings from the head into the throat have ceased, breathe easier, sleep better, and altogether feel a new person. I am glad to offer my testimony for the benefit of others afflicted with catarrh.

EFFECT ON BREATH WONDERFUL. Miss Addie Howison, of Brockville, Ont., says:—I had catarrh for years, my head was stopped up, I could not breathe through my nostrils. My breath was very impure and continually so. Neither I could get gave me any relief until I tried NASAL BALM. From the very first it gave me relief, and in a very short time had removed the accumulations so that I could breathe freely through the nostrils. The effect on my breath was truly wonderful, purifying and removing every vestige of the unpleasant odor, which has never returned.

A CURE IN THE WORST CASE. Alex. Burns, Sudbury, Ont., says:—I may state that I have been afflicted with catarrh for seven or eight years, and it was aggravated by consequent symptoms such as foul breath, constant dropping into the throat, hawking and spitting, partial deafness, ringing in the ears, and sickening pains in the head directly over either eye. I have used powders and douches, but all to no effect, the only result arising from the use of such was temporary relief followed by the usual symptoms in a more aggravated form. The results arising from the use of NASAL BALM are: Sweet breath, at once of the dropping into the throat (consequently less hawking and spitting), clearness of hearing, and not once since I began its use have I had pain in the head. In fact it is my opinion that a careful and persistent use of the BALM will effect a cure in the worst case of catarrh.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

FULL TEXT OF THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

The Fisheries Question, Fast Ocean Service, Trade With Other Colonies and Countries—Proposed Government Measures.

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—To-day at 3 o'clock His Excellency the Governor-General proceeded in state to the Parliament House, and the members of the House of Commons having been summoned to the chamber of the Senate, His Excellency was pleased to open the third session of the Sixth Parliament of the Dominion of Canada with the following speech:

Honourable Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In addressing the Parliament of Canada for the first time, in fulfilment of the important trust which has been committed to me as Her Majesty's representative, I desire to express the satisfaction with which I resort to your advice and assistance. I am conscious of the honor which attends my association with your labors for the welfare of the Dominion, and it will be my earnest endeavor to co-operate with you to the utmost of my power in all that may promote the prosperity of the people of this country, the development of her material resources and the maintenance of the constitutional ties which unite her provinces.

It is to be regretted that the treaty concluded between Her Majesty and the President of the United States for the adjustment of the questions which have arisen with reference to has not been sanctioned by the United States Senate, in whom the power of ratification is vested, and that our legislation of last year on the subject is therefore in a great measure inoperative. It now only remains for Canada to continue to maintain her rights as prescribed by the Convention of 1818, until some satisfactory readjustment is arranged by treaty between the two nations.

A measure will again be submitted to you to amend the acts respecting for the purpose of simplifying the law and lessening the cost of its operation.

It is expedient in the interests of commerce to assimilate, and in some particulars to amend, the laws which now obtain in the several provinces of the Dominion relating to bills of exchange, cheeks and promissory notes, and a bill with this object will be laid before you. A bill will also be provided for making uniform throughout the Dominion the laws relating to bills of lading.

During the recess my Government has carefully considered the subject of

and you will be asked to provide subsidies for the improvement of the Atlantic mail service and for the establishment in connect with Her Majesty's Government of a line of fast steamers between British Columbia and China and Japan.

Your attention will also be invited to the best mode of developing our trade and securing direct communication by steam with Australasia, the West Indies and South America.

A bill will be submitted for your consideration for the prevention of certain offences in connection with municipal councils and to give greater facilities for making enquiries as to such matters.

Several measures will also be presented to you for improving the law of

PROCEDURE IN CRIMINAL CASES.

Among these will be a bill to permit the release on probation of persons convicted of first offences, a bill authorizing regulations to be made for the practice in cases partaking of the nature of criminal proceedings and a bill to make the Speedy Trials Act applicable throughout Canada.

Bills relating to the inspection of timber and lumber, for the

and for increasing the efficiency of the North-west Mounted Police will also be submitted for your consideration.

The Royal Commission on Labor having concluded their enquiries, I hope to be able to lay before you at an early day their report, with the important evidence collected by them in various parts of Canada.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The accounts for the past and the estimates for the ensuing year will be laid before you. These estimates have been prepared with due regard to economy and the efficiency of the public service.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate:
Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I now commend these several subjects and the others which may be brought before you to your earnest consideration, and I trust that the result of your deliberations may under the Divine blessing tend to promote the well-being and prosperity of Canada.

LIVE CAPITAL TOPICS.

The McGreevy Case—Proposed Enlargement of the Commons Chamber.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—It is understood that the Government intends to appeal to the Supreme Court against the recent decision of Judge Fournier in the Exchequer Court case of McGreevy v the Queen, arising out of an Intercolonial Railway case, in which nearly $700,000 was claimed and about $120,000 allowed. The judge found that Mr. McGreevy's claim was in accordance with the certificate of Mr. Shanly, who took the place of Mr. Sandford Fleming as chief engineer. The Government counsel hold that Mr. Shanly only held the position temporarily and was not the engineer-in-chief as recognized by the statute. They refuse, therefore, to recognize his certificate as a legal one.

The stage running between Fort McLeod and Calgary has been confiscated for carrying contraband whisky.

The Journal to-night says: It is understood that the Commons chamber will in all likelihood be enlarged and otherwise improved after the session. Sir Hector Langevin has been devoting considerable attention to the subject. The proposal is to remove the western corridor and extend the building further westward. The enlarged chamber will be built after the design of an amphitheatre, increasing the accommodation to 300 seats. Of course such an addition would involve heavy expenditure and Parliament would have to make a pretty liberal vote.

It is reported here to-day that Mr. John Small, M.P., is certain to receive the Toronto customs collectorship.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 30.—Louis Slaght, a brakeman on the Northern and Northwestern division, G.T.R., met with a serious accident last night. At about 10.30 o'clock he left the yards on a special freight, bound north. Of course, his duty took him on top of the box cars, and he was on one of these as the train passed under the Barton-street bridge. He either did not know he was so near the bridge or else had forgotten about it; at any rate he was struck and fell. The train was not going rapidly enough to throw him very violently, or the chances are that he would have been knocked to the ground and killed. As it was, he received a severe cut upon the head, a scalp wound being the result, and a broken nose. His face was also cut.

A middle-aged man named John Shea arrived at the Stuart-street station, G.T.R., last night with both feet frozen. He said that he had walked from near Montreal to look for work in Hamilton, having heard that there was work for any number of men on the sewers or at the quarries. He got his feet frozen at Port Credit and a sympathetic person paid his fare from there to this city.

For a Great Purpose.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The Senate, on motion of Mr. Riddleberger, who said he wished an executive session "for a great purpose," proceeded to executive business. It was understood that the Senate in secret session discussed the British extradition treaty but no conclusion was reached. When the doors were re-opened the Senate adjourned.

The Deadly Smoked Sausage.

LACROSSE, Wis., Jan. 27.—Yesterday morning Robert Schen, a shoemaker, bought some smoked sausage and the whole family, consisting of himself, wife and five children, ate heartily of it. They soon became deathly sick. Physicians were called and by hard work the older members of the family were got out of danger. It is doubtful if the younger ones will recover.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

Little Business Transacted Yesterday—Petitions and Notices of Motion.

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—The legislature had a brief session yesterday. Apparently the members do not intend to settle down to business for another week. The indications are that the amount of business to be transacted, though generally unimportant, will be great. A large number of small bills are coming in, but the only measure introduced yesterday was Mr. Lees' (Lanark) to amend the Assessment Road Companies Act. These petitions were presented:

From the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church asking for an act to sell certain lands at Bowmanville.

From the township of Seymour asking that the bridge over the River Trent known as Narrows Bridge be made a county boundary bridge between Northumberland and Peterboro.

From the Knights of Labor of St. Catharines, praying for free school books and other amendments of the school law; a petition for certain amendments of the Factory Act; a petition for compulsory publication of assessment rolls, and a petition for an act respecting stationary engines and boilers.

These notices of motion were given:

Mr. Morin, Friday next, order of the House showing the number of persons who have visited the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park during the year 1888, also showing the number who have paid for admission to the Islands in the said park, giving the amount of revenue derived from that source. Also showing the amount of revenue derived from all other sources during the year. Also showing the amount paid as expenses for the management of said park, giving the names of the officers and the amount paid to each. Also giving a statement of the money still on hand derived from the sale of lands. Also the amount of interest paid and from what source.

Mr. Murray, Friday next, Bill to amend the Municipal Act.

Mr. Waters, Monday next, Bill to amend the Chattel Mortgage Act as to farm stock, etc.

Mr. Waters, Monday next, Bill to amend the Municipal Act respecting bridges, etc.

Mr. Waters, Monday next, Bill to amend the Ditches and Water Courses Act.

Mr. Graham, Friday next, Bill to amend the Municipal Act relating to House of Refuge and Industry.

Mr. Balfour, Friday next, Bill to amend the Municipal Act. Also Bill to amend the Election Act.

THE HALDIMAND ELECTION.

Mr. Colter Defeats Dr. Montague by a Majority of 39.

CAYUGA, Jan. 31.—Complete returns from every polling place in the county give Mr. J. W. Colter (Lib.) a majority of 39 over Dr. W. H. Montague (Con.). This is the fourth election for the Dominion House held in this constituency within the past 28 months and was made necessary by the unseating of Dr. Montague, who had a majority of 17 in the election of Nov., 1886. In each Mr. Colter, the member elect, has carried the Reform banner and Dr. Montague has been his opponent in the last three contests. The details of yesterday's polling are as follows:

	Colter.	Montague.
Cayuga	31	..

North Cayuga	99	..
Onondaga	..	56
Rainham	113	..

The Halton Trial.

MILTON, Jan. 31.—The trial of the Halton Dominion election petion was resumed at 9 a.m. yesterday and continued until about 12.30, when petitioner's counsel asked for an adjournment on the ground that Mr. and Mrs. Edgar, two material witnesses who had been subpœnaed, had not appeared. The adjournment was granted and the case put over until July 3.

THE NEW YORK TIE-UP.

A Few Cars Run Yesterday Under Police Protection—Sixteen Strikers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—On the Second-avenue line no attempt was made to run cars to-day. Soon after 1 o'clock 400 strikers assembled on Broadway between 44th and 45th-street and after upsetting several wagons on the tracks, one of which was loaded with lard, they tore up the switch plates and made off. In the upper part of Sixth-avenue they tore up flagstones and laid them on the tracks. The State Railroad Commissioners were in session to-day hearing the grievances of the striking employes.

The Grand-street line ran several cars. They were greeted with hoots and yells and sometimes with showers of stones. Two patrol wagons filled with police were kept going up and down the route so as to keep an open passage. Many of the strikers were under the influence of liquor. Several of the strikers this morning told the paymaster of the Dry Dock line that the Grand-street cars must stop running even if some of the unionists lost their lives in attempting to make them.

The Forty-second and Grand-street ferry line ran two cars until 1 p.m. The first was under police protection but was badly used up, every window being broken. It was said this afternoon that the horse shoers of the Sixth-avenue line had been ordered out. The Fourth-avenue road was running 17 cars this afternoon.

The Flour Outlook.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 30.—The Northwestern Miller says: The week's production of flour was 84,100 barrels against 82,000 barrels the previous week and 101,500 barrels for the corresponding time in 1888. A single firm ground over half of the amount. There were ten mills in operation this afternoon. These are probably grinding at the rate of 14,000 barrels daily.

There is no perceptible improvement in the flour market, the majority of our millers reporting very little call for flour from any source. One or two firms claim to have received quite a fair number of orders during a few days past. The unsettled condition of the wheat market has a bad influence on the trade.

The direct exports for the week were 12,000 barrels against 14,400 the preceding week.

The Bank's Assets Were 60 Cents.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 28.—J. R. Tolleson, president, and James M. Richards, cashier of the Mercantile Banking Company, were jailed to-day for contempt of court. Saturday the company was put in the hands of a receiver, and to-day the receiver reported the cash assets were 60 cents, while he was informed that the company had collected $15,000 within the past few days. Upon this showing judge sent the president and cashier to jail, saying the theft was too patent. This concern advertised extensively that it would make collections for practically nothing and this caught banks in different parts of the country.

BUDGET FROM TORONTO.

YORK COUNTY COUNCIL FOR IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

A Big Haul of Burglars by the Detectives—Serious Case of Assault—A Mysterious Arrest.

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—The York County Council yesterday carried a resolution embodying the opinion that Imperial Federation would be for the future greatness of Canada.

An officer of the Brantford police arrived in the city yesterday with a magistrate's warrant for the arrest of a man named Morris Bloom. Detective Davis was detailed to hunt up Bloom and shortly afterwards arrested him at No. 13 Victoria-street, where he carries on a small tailoring business. The warrant charges Bloom with having, on Jan. 7, feloniously received certain goods with intent to defraud the creditors of the estate of Isaac Simon, of which E. F. Myers of Hamilton is trustee. Mr. Simon failed some time ago and compromised with his creditors at 40 cents on the dollar. His liabilities were $16,000 and his assets $9,600. Simon caused the warrant to be issued. Col. Denison endorsed the warrant and Bloom left with the officer on the noon train.

A blacksmith's helper named Albert Plews was seriously assaulted by a former employer named Joseph H. Robinson on Dovercourt Tuesday night. It appears that a few days ago Robinson discharged Plews. Tuesday evening he called at Robinson's house and refused to leave when requested. A scuffle ensued, in the course of which Robinson hit his adversary over the head with an iron bar, inflicting a serious wound, which Robinson pleaded yesterday was done in self-defence and was remanded. Meantime Plews lies unconscious at the hospital.

In the hospital yesterday the city clubs defeated All Ontario by five shots.

The detectives made a great haul yesterday of suspected burglars. About 3 o'clock yesterday morning Policeman Muirhead, while on beat on Queen-street west, gave chase to three men whom he saw going up Soho-street carrying parcels. They dived into a lane and succeeded in getting away after throwing down their burdens, which the officer picked up and brought to St. Andrew's Market Station. Late in the day A. A. McKay & Co., Queen-street west, reported to Inspector Stark that their premises had been entered on the previous night and several hundred dollars worth of goods carried away. On being shown the contents of the parcels Mr. McKay identified them as the articles carried off from his store. The case was given into the hands of Detective Davis and acting Detective Varney. In less than two hours they had behind the bars at Headquarters six men whom they believed had a hand in the raid. They gave their names as John Downs, 50 Camden-street; William Barton, 357 Adelaide-street west; Joseph Murphy, 331 Adelaide-street west; S. Nagle, 91 Bulwer-street; Michael Connors, 99 Bathurst-street, and George McCarthy, 433 Adelaide-street west. There is a second charge of burglary against Nagle. On Tuesday night Smellie & Co.'s store, Queen-street west, was robbed of four pairs of pants and he was found to be wearing one of them.

It is not likely that Roland Gideon Israel Barnett will be tried at the present assizes. By agreement of counsel the trial of the Bunbury case has been postponed till next court, and Crown Counsel Lount asked for a similar postponement in the Central Bank case. Mr. Justice Rose will consent to the asked for postponement if it is found that Barnett's counsel, Mr. G. T. Blackstock, who is out of town, concurs, which it is quite likely.

Edward Fletcher, alias Penworth, arrived here from the west last night, and entered the Queen's Hotel, presumably to register and remain. Sheriff's officer McCormack and Caretaker Hull of the Court House looked suspiciously at him and he eloped. They followed him to the Rossin House, where after they had remained a short time, Fletcher made his appearance and was arrested by McCormack and taken to the jail where he now awaits further proceedings. The prisoner registered at the Rossin House as "E. Fletcher, Kankakee, Ill." It is supposed he is a boodler but the officials are reticent.

In the Massey-Maclean libel case yesterday Judge McMahon admitted the plea of the defendant and said that he had made up his mind to traverse the whole matter until next assizes.

BOUND TO SECURE THEIR RIGHTS.

Methodist Laymen Take a Firm Stand Against Clerical Dominance.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 30.—The Central Committee composed of representatives from the several executive committees of the laymen's convention of the Guelph, London and Niagara conferences of the Methodist Church, assembled here to-day in the Workman's Hall. The business of the meeting was to organize the plan of campaign in order to carry into effect the decisions of the laymen's convention held in Hamilton last August. W. Bowman, London, was chosen chairman and A. J. Donly, Simcoe, secretary. The other members of the committee present were: Thomas Hilliard, Waterloo; John George, Port Elgin; W. G. Smith, Guelph; Isaac Hord, Mitchell; C. A. Birge, Thos. Morris and James Matthews, Hamilton; A. B. Powell, W. H. McCutcheon and I. M. Mayell, London; W. Coyne, Glencoe; Andrew Vezina, Belmont; Joshua Austin, Simcoe; Jonathan Ellis, Port Dover; Capt. Sullivan, Windsor; Messrs. Large and Seaman, Listowel; James Land and others, Woodstock.

This platform was unanimously adopted:

1. That the stationing committees be composed of ministers and laymen in equal numbers.

2. That all conference committees and church courts, including the conference special committee, be composed of ministers and laymen in equal numbers.

3. That the right of quarterly boards to invite, and of ministers to accept provisionally such invitations, be fully recognized, subject in all cases to the final decision of the stationing committee and the conference.

4. That ministers and accredited representatives of quarterly boards shall have the right to a personal hearing before the stationing committee in reference to their own cases.

5. That appointment or election to office in all our church courts, boards and committees shall be by ballot without nominations.

The platform was ordered to be wired to the associated press and published in The Christian Guardian; also that steps be taken to bring the matter before the ministers and quarterly boards throughout the several conferences.

A convention of the laymen of the said conferences was ordered to be held in London on June 10 with a view to the promotion of the platform and also other matters affecting laymen's rights and privileges in the church.

The G. T. R. to Try Electric Car Heating.

PORT HURON, Mich., Jan. 29.—The Grand Trunk Railway is preparing to make a practical experiment with the electric car heating apparatus invented by Mr. Rae Fuller, an employe in the Grand Trunk shops at Portland, Me. It consists of a dynamo placed in the baggage car, power being taken from the moving axles. A metal bar is placed in a tank of water in each car. Pipes from the tank extend all around the car. The metal bar is to be heated by an electric current, [illegible]

Smith Election.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I see by the last issue of the EXAMINER that Ratepayer is almost paralyzed by a statement in a former issue that I did not canvass for the Deputy-reeveship until Mr. Fitzgerald had announced his intention to not be a candidate for election. He says I signified my intention to be a candidate before the last of January, 1888. This I acknowledge, for some of the electors wanted to nominate me on the last Monday of December, '87, but I refused on the ground that the electors did not expect an election, but if they thought I could serve them, to let me know at an early date and I would give them an answer, which they did. From that time I held myself at their service, but there was nothing done till about two weeks before Mr. Fitzgerald announced his intention to retire, when a paper was handed to me in town with a number of names to it, asking me to be a candidate. While I was thinking about it I saw Mr. Fitzgerald's resignation, and as there were a number of Mr. Middleton's neighbor's names to it, I waited till I saw them personally and told them that Mr. Middleton was likely to come out. Some of them wished their names to remain and some did not, but said they would support me They know whether they did or not. Now, Mr. Editor, this is the paper "Ratepayer" makes such a fuss about. I did not intend troubling you in answer to anything with a fictitious name to it, but as "Ratepayer" seems penitent for what he has done and wishes the public enlightened, I thought I would answer his last, but unless he comes out over his signature, I don't intend to trouble you on this matter again. I asked one request in my last—that he would give his name, which he declined. He now asks me who presented the electors with the requisition, who waited on me with it, and if say signed his own name to it. These are questions for me to know and ratepayer to find out. I only my positively the paper was handed to me with two names on it, and as far as I know the writers signed their own names, or told others to do it for them, as no doubt they were not in a position at the time.

Some of Mr. Middleton's neighbors withdrew their names, and I personally asked others in their stead. Among them was Mr. D. W. Dumble, and after his name was on it, signed by himself. Mr. Middleton had the cheek after the nomination to ask him for his vote and influence, which he did not get. Now, Mr. Editor, in all my frantic efforts that "Ratepayer" speaks of, in all my canvass I never did that. As soon as an elector told me that he had promised Mr. Middleton, I never asked him a second time, but in two instances, when the party regretted they had promised. "Ratepayer" asks who defeated me? When I was nominated before, that was perhaps before he was born, as it is over thirty years ago. And the cases are parallel. There were five of the old council nominated and I was the sixth. I got the fewest votes. Now in answer to "Ratepayer," to let the public know how the old council and officials brought about my defeat, I will give them a few facts. Mr. Middleton was nominated by the retiring deputy-reeve and seconded by the assessor and collector—two offices in my opinion which ought not to be held by the same individual. Out of five deputy-returning officers, four of them were supporters of Mr. Middleton and when one of them came to hold the election a young man not having a vote at all was allowed to vote on the name of another person. After a while voter No. 2 came along. As soon as the official saw him he said, Mr. ——— you have not a vote, although No. 2 is a wealthy landholder and has voted in Smith for twenty-five years or more. No. 2 understood it and walked off. These are a few facts and a good many more could be produced. I omit names as the thing is past and gone. I do not blame Mr. Middleton in his canvass, only for one thing, that is for introducing politics into a township election, when they ought to having nothing to do with it, for I believe politics have ruined our country. I claim to be a thorough independent. There were only two in my canvass that asked me what my politics were, the one a Conservative the other a Reformer. I gave them both the same answer, that it was not politics that I would look after if returned but the welfare of the municipality. This did not satisfy them, so I told them the truth, that at the last nine elections I voted three times one way and four the other and at two I did not vote at all, and they could call me what they liked. Now, Mr. Editor, I have written a good deal more than I expected, I therefore thank you kindly for the space in your valuable paper, and hoping I shall not have to trouble you again for some time to come,

I remain yours respectfully,
THOS. E. BELL.

For Rich and Poor.

A few days ago an outsider arrived in town intending to become a purchaser. Not being blessed with a super-abundance of means, he and his wife went forth to secure the most reasonable housekeeping outfit obtainable. They were recommended of course to Bellegheim's. When they arrived Mr. Bellegheim was engaged with a customer, and meanwhile the man and his wife took a look around. Presently they started out, and Mr. Bellegheim noticing their departure, asked them why they were going. "O," said the man, "you have things to fine for me here, I haven't much money and your things are too expensive here for my purse," and with a comprehensive wave of his hand he indicated the splendid display of fine furniture with which the first floor is stocked. "You never made a greater mistake in your life," said the Furniture King, "just wait a moment and I'll show you what I can do for you." The man waited and Bellegheim showed him through his warerooms and found for him just what he wanted—the right kind of goods at the right prices. The consequence was, he sold the man the furniture required for a modest home, and has every week been calling him something to complete his household equipment. People make a mistake in assuming that Bellegheim keeps only expensive furniture. He has a stock in all departments—a complete variety to suit the wants of every station in life. He can furnish the most luxurious home equal to any city establishment and can supply suitable furniture for the most modest dwelling, and all at reasonable prices. He is the people's furniture king, he can meet the wants of all classes, that of the slenderest purse or the fullest bank account. High or low, rich or poor, can find just the furniture they need at Bellegheim's furniture warerooms, the furniture shop the furthest west on Hunter street. When you want first class furniture of any description don't neglect to go to Bellegheim's.

Hastings Division Court.

The Hastings Star says that Mr. J. W. Bennet, barrister, of Peterborough, who opened a law office at that place some time ago, is endeavoring to have sittings of the Division Court held here, and has a partial promise that occasional sittings will be given. This will be quite a convenience, and the thanks of the community are due to Mr. Bennet for his efforts in this direction.

In Peterborough in March.

The Rev. J. E. Hunter, of Messrs. Crossley and Hunter, writes to a friend in Belleville, the Intelligencer says, that so great is the interest taken in their work in Detroit, that they do not expect to close the meetings there until the end of February, and that they hope to reach Peterborough by the 1st of March.

MUNCASTER'S

AUSTRO-HUNGARY WEEPS

OVER THE UNTIMELY DEATH OF THE CROWN PRINCE RUDOLF.

The Crisis in France—Floquet to Demand a Vote of Confidence—O'Brien Lodged in Jail.

VIENNA, Jan. 30.—The Official Gazette says: Fate has inflicted a crushing blow upon the Imperial House and the people of Austria-Hungary. Our universally esteemed Crown Prince is dead. The deeply loved son of the Emperor and Empress, the life's happiness of his affectionate spouse, the dearly loved and honored brother of the Princesses Gisela and Valerie, the pride of the entire Imperial house and the hope of his faithful people, in the flower of his youth and the fulness of his strength, sinks into an early grave. With deepest mourning, with hearts brimming with sorrow, the peoples of the Empire turn their sorrowful glances toward the throne in hereditary love and fidelity and join in an earnest prayer that God will grant the imperial family a consolation that mere human words, even when sounding from a million tongues, can scarcely bring."

The Gazette then narrates that the Crown Prince on Monday went on a shooting excursion to Meyerling, accompanied by several guests, including Prince Philip of Coburg, and Count Hoyos. He felt somewhat indisposed yesterday and therefore excused himself from attending the family dinner party at the Hofburg. When the shooting guests assembled this morning the Crown Prince did not appear. Immediate enquiries were made and the guests were overcome by the news that the Crown Prince was dead from a stroke of apoplexy. The shock of the calamity struck the Hofburg like lightning.

The official announcement that apoplexy was the cause of death modified the alarm of the public arising from press rumors that the Prince had been killed while shooting. Large crowds traversed the main streets and assembled in groups discussing the event. When the Bourse learned the news a paralysis of business ensued. Members rushed to the street and besieged the telegraph offices. The Bourse was immediately closed and the committee decided to keep it closed until Friday. The Reichsrath also adjourned amid great excitement. The Court theatres and all the private theatres and places of amusement gave no performance to-night.

The News in London.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Austrian embassy here has received only the bare announcement of the death of Crown Prince Rudolf. The Queen and the Prince of Wales have sent telegrams of condolence. The Prince of Wales and probably the Duke of Edinburgh will attend the funeral.

The Queen Wept.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 30.—The Queen wept on hearing the news of the death of Prince Rudolf and sent a telegram of condolence to her daughter. The court festivities have been postponed.

Emperor William Agitated.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—Emperor William was agitated by the news of the death of the Austrian Crown Prince. He drove to the residence of the Austrian ambassador and remained there half an hour. He then telegraphed to Prince Henry at Kiel as follows: "Crown Prince Rudolf died of apoplexy of the head."

Floquet Will Not Resign.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—M. Floquet, in receiving the bureau of the extreme left, said he had considered the advisability of resigning but had abandoned the idea, deciding to face the intrigues and attacks of his opponents. He said he would ask the Chamber for a vote of confidence. He was prepared to act energetically and would introduce immediately a bill increasing the stringency of the code relating to attacks upon the constitution and the public laws; also a measure affecting the press law. He would not propose to dissolve the league of patriots. Such a step would be useless, as it would not prevent the members from forming a fresh league. He said the bill re-establishing the scrutin d'arrondissement system of election would be announced immediately upon the opening of the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow.

The partisans of Prime Minister Floquet express confidence that he will have a majority of 300 in the voting in the Chamber to-morrow. They assert that he will remain in power and that the Chamber will not be dissolved.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—At the session of the Parnell Commission to-day Mr. O'Keefe, cashier of the Castle Island branch of the National Bank, deposed that Timothy Horan, treasurer of the League at Castle Island, had an account with the bank and passed checks there drawn by Mr. Kenny, M.P. The object of this evidence was to connect the Parnellites with outrages incited by members of the League in Castle Island.

Mr. Haley, agent of an estate in Thurles, declared that many farmers were forced to join the League, the terrorism of which injured trade everywhere.

O'Brien in Cloumel Prison.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—Mr. O'Brien arrived at Kingstown this afternoon. The Lord Mayor and other Parnellites awaited his arrival, but the police changed the route and conveyed O'Brien to the Cloumel prison.

She Got Revenge With Two Horsewhips.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 31.—Some time ago Detective A. J. Burgess charged Mrs. Charles Lattin, wife of a contractor living in Shelton, with the theft of flowers from the graves in the cemetery. Mrs. Lattin vowed she would horsewhip Burgess at the first opportunity. Yesterday afternoon Peterson & Hendee were delivering feed in the direction of the home of Mrs. Lattin, and Burgess, meeting the team, took a ride with the driver. To his dismay, the team drove into the yard of Mrs. Lattin. She saw him, and without saying a word got a horsewhip and walked over to Burgess, who sat on the seat as if paralyzed with fear. She laid on with a will, Burgess meanwhile shouting for help, but none came. He finally succeeded in getting the whip away from her, but she quickly procured another and resumed operations more fiercely. Finally the husband of the lady appeared and got the unfortunate detective off the premises. He was badly used up and has kept himself very much secluded since the affair.

THE SAMOA TROUBLE.

President Cleveland Transmits Additional Correspondence—A Message to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The President to-day sent to Congress additional correspondence relative to Samoan affairs, accompanied by the following message:

To the Congress:

I had the honor on Jan. 14 to communicate to your honorable body copies of correspondence [illegible] Samoan affairs, and having given to the further consideration [illegible] and the consular of the United States naval vessels [illegible] to Samoa in laying [illegible] transmit herewith the full text of correspondence from Prince von Bismarck to the German minister at this capital, with [illegible] on the afternoon of Jan. 29, [illegible] appear to be an amplification of [illegible] graphic instructions on the same subject communicated through the Samoa channels and which being set forth in the note of the Secretary of State to Count von Arco Valley, the German minister, of Jan. 12, was duly laid before Congress with my last message in relation to Samoan affairs. It is also proper to inform you that on Monday, Jan. 28, the occasion of the communication of the note of the Prince Chancellor, the Secretary of State was given to understand by the German minister that a proposition from his Government to that of the United States, for a conference on the Samoan subject was on the way by mail, having left Berlin on Jan. 26, so that its arrival here in due course of mail can be looked for in a very few days. In reply to an inquiry from the Secretary of State whether the proposition referred to was for a renewal of the joint conference between the United States, Germany and Great Britain, which was suspended in July, 1887, or for the consideration of Samoan affairs ab novo, the German minister stated his inability to answer until the proposition, which left Berlin on Jan. 26, should have been received. I shall hereafter communicate to the Congress all information before me in relation to the Samoan states. GROVER CLEVELAND.

The correspondence accompanying the message contains an amplified account of the recent events in Samoa, an outline of which has already been published.

Dressed Beef Rates.

The Moon's Influence

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putman's Painless Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling around a man's foot, but goes to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putman's," and no other. 6w5d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

It Doesn't Pay.

Last night an Easternore man got drunk and while laboring under the hallucination that he was a full-fledged cyclone from Kansas began raising a serious disturbance. He evaded the police, but this forenoon they succeeded in surrolling their game and a visit to the police magistrate resulted in the town's finances being increased by $2, the amount of his fine.

The Nicholls Hospital.

The members of the Nicholls Hospital Board met at the new building yesterday for the purpose of considering the tenders for heating and plumbing, but no contracts were let. The board decided, as the whole building would not be required to be used at first, to close up, for the present, the whole third flat and part of the north wing on the second flat in order to curtail the outlay for fitting up. These closed rooms will be opened out as required.

Four different routes for the proposed new Cobourg, Blairton and Marmora railway line are proposed, and in three of them Campbellford is given the "go-by." The Herald, of that town, in view of the possible adoption of one of the three objectionable routes, launches out this mild threat:—"Campbellford should be kept in view by the projectors of this road, because if better communication than that we now possess of reaching the county town is not afforded the people of this growing city and vicinity, a move will be made at no distant day to separate ourselves from the county and unite either with Peterborough or Hastings county."

The new firm will make a strong team and will, no doubt, secured a liberal share of the public patronage. Read their advertisement in this issue.

Settled Out of Court.

A case of considerable local interest, Clarke vs. Clarke, was settled in Toronto on Monday before going to trial. The suit was brought by Fred. G. Clarke and Chas. E. Clarke, of the firm of Clarke Bros, leather manufacturers, to declare their equal partnership in the business with their brother, Alfred R. Clarke. The parties to the suit formerly lived in Peterborough and were engaged in the leather business. Leaving here about six years ago, they went to Toronto and met with phenomenal success for men so young. Becoming possessed of valuable trade secrets, they worked up a big business which at the present time is estimated to be worth $20,000 a year Difficulties finally arose. The elder brother wished to assume entire control, and managed to exclude the other two from all business dealings. Then the younger brothers brought this action to declare their equal rights with the elder brother, in whose name the business had formerly been mostly managed. Before trial it was settled that the business should be continued jointly as at present for five years longer, the brothers to share up in the following proportions:—A. R. Clarke, 43 per cent; Fred G. Clark, 32 per cent; C. E. Clarke, 25 per cent. A number of Peterborough people were subpœnaed on this case and it created much local interest, the parties being so well known here.

Better Than Ever.

It did seem as though the seedsmen outdid themselves last year in the line of elaborate catalogues, but here comes Vick's Floral Guide for 1889, from Rochester, N. Y., better than all previous issues. "Better" hardly expresses it—rather, we would say, far superior. It has been changed in every respect; new cuts, new type, enlarged in size (opening like an old-fashioned singing-book); contains three elegant lithographs (8x10½ inches) of Roses, Geraniums and Melon and Tomato; besides a very fine plate of the late James Vick and his three sons who now own and manage this large business. These features must make the Floral Guide valuable to their many thousands of customers in this country.

We also notice that Vick returns to the plan started by the founder of the business years ago, of offering cash prizes at the State Fair. One would think they were a little out of their heads to offer to the public such a work as the Guide free, for that is what it amounts to, when they say it will be sent on receipt of fifteen cents, and that a certificate good for fifteen cents worth of seed will be returned with the Guide.

AGRICULTURAL AFFAIRS.

Discussed at the West Riding Farmers' Institute.

Opening of the Session—All Home Talent This Time—The Necessity of Fertilizing—Shall We Abolish Township Shows?—Other Matters of Interest to Farmers.

The first address was given by Mr. N. PETERS, of Hope township, on the importance of maintaining the fertility of the soil. He stated that while we could not increase the price of produce, yet we might increase the produce and thus increase the profit of farming. There were four ways of increasing the fertility of the soil:—1st, stirring the soil and cultivating it thoroughly; fallowing was insisted on as an important way of doing this; hoed crops were next to fallowing. 2nd, ploughing under green crops was pointed out, and the value of growing clover, as a means of fertilizing the soil, was emphasized. The third plan to restore fertility was by applying manure. Barnyard manure should be spread on the surface. Leached ashes was another good fertiliser. For releasing the latent chemical elements try the application of land plaster and salt. To make fallows, frequently raise hoed crops, grow clover and keep stock to make manure and apply it liberally, and sow land plaster and salt. Farmers should make their soil rich and it would make them rich.

Mr. PETERS, in reply to the president, said he had good success in ploughing under clover, and buckwheat on light soil was said to be excellent. There was something wrong in the soil that will not grow clover—a lack of element necessary to grow general crops. Make the grass grow clover, and a catch might be got by spreading long manure and then sow seed on it. In answer to Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Peters said he had got benefit from sowing salt especially on barley.

Mr. HUGH DAVIDSON said that he had a good catch of clover on unmanured soil alongside of well manured soil. He thought manure made the soil too open for clover in a dry season, and Mr. Fitzgerald was in favor of applying long manure on the top of soil.

Mr. JAS. BROOK, of Millbrook, gave an instance where ploughing under clover had injured the soil—made it too open. He thought the roots of clover were of more benefit in the soil.

Mr. FITZGERALD said he had never failed of a catch of clover sown early in spring or fall wheat.

The PRESIDENT had always had a good result from the application of plaster to clover.

Mr. TAYLOR said all the money he had made out of farming was by growing clover, 14 to 16 pounds to the acre.

Mr. SANDERSON had had good results from sowing plaster and salt on clover and other grain after sowing.

Mr. BOWMAN sowed clover in the spring as soon as one could get on the ground, six pounds to the acre.

Mr. R. E. BIRDSALL had found benefit from applying and ploughing under sawdust on heavy clay soil.

Mr. T. STOTHART said sawdust was the best summer bedding obtainable, it absorbs liquids well and benefits the soil.

Mr. STEPHEN PAYNE had proved the great benefit of coal ashes on grass crops.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

Mr. J. COYLE BROWN gave an address upon the subject of Agricultural Education. No class of the community required a better education than the tillers of the soil; all prosperity was dependent upon the prosperity of the farmers. The more brain power a farmer uses the greater his success. Farmers should be educated so that they could resist the exactions of the designing, and that they should exercise their due influence upon the general policy of the government of the country. The tendency of education was to educate the head alone at the expense of the hand. In the present condition of our schools industrial education was impracticable. In France manual training was the basis of school education. A boy put through the public and high school in the usual way was unfitted for any manual occupation. Every child of twelve or thirteen should receive a manual training. He advocated the devoting of the morning to intellectual training, and the afternoon to manual training. He suggested to farmers that all rural schools should from April to October open at eight and close at eleven. Let the teacher devote the morning to advanced pupils, and the afternoon to the younger ones. This plan would be better for the teachers and reduce the trouble of government to a minimum. A boy who works the afternoon, will do as much manual labor as should be required of a boy. Long hours were the means of driving many a boy from the farm. As to subjects of study, drawing was as important one to the farmer, it would help him to build economically. Agriculture should be made a compulsory subject in rural schools, and a text book was being prepared by the Educational Department. He trusted the farmers would give the half day system a trial.

Mr. DAVIDSON's objection to the half day system was the lack of work a boy could be put to on the farm in the afternoon.

Mr. PETERS thought the proposal was in the right direction, and he was strongly in favor of it if it could be practically applied.

Mr. BIRDSALL said it was not education, but unattractive home surroundings that disgusted boys with farming.

The CHAIRMAN said a course of study should be introduced in the public schools that would teach farmers children what could be applied to practical farm work.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Stothart, Galvin, Graham, Davidson, Collins, Brock, Bowman and others.

Mr. THOMAS E. BELL, of Smith was called upon to read a paper on County Council Reform but having left some important figures, the subject was postponed till morning session.

TOWNSHIP SHOWS.

FRED DAVIDSON read a paper of his father, Mr Hugh Davidson, on the subject "Shall we Abolish Township Shows?" The evil attendant upon them was lack of funds, and the difficulty of securing impartial and competent judges. A better purpose would be served by concentrating funds and efforts upon a central exhibition. Better prizes could be offered and a larger attendance would augment the funds and place central societies on a solid basis.

In support of his paper Mr. DAVIDSON pointed out in addition to his paper that a large number of fairs taking place at one time was too much of a draft on a farmer's time.

Mr. DUNCAN and Mr. JAS. MOORE, reeve of Asphodel, contested Mr. Davidson's assertion in reference to the partiality of judges.

Mr. WM. COLLINS was in favor of the abolition of township shows, except in back townships.

Mr. J. G. GALVIN did not agree with either Mr. Davidson or Mr. Collins. The township shows were the people's shows, and it would be a mistake to abolish township shows. The exhibition at Lakefield was, in many respects, equal to the Central.

Mr. DAVIDSON pointed out that the township shows did not have an educating effect, for prizes were given for inferior animals, and there was not an inducement to breed better stock so long as inferior animals are awarded prizes.

Mr. GALVIN referred to the quality of the stock shown at Lakefield as of superior quality.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Sandy Manchett, Otonabee; Bowman, Plainville; and Thos. E. Bell, Smith.

A motion in favor of the adoption of the principle of the abolition of township shows, was lost.

Fresh Shell Oysters received daily at R. H. Hamilton's C.P.R. Restaurant, d

Opening of Parliament.

To-day at three o'clock the third session of the sixth parliament of the Dominion of Canada was formally opened by the Governor-General. The full text of the Speech from the Throne is published on the first page.

The Omemee Races.

Conclusion of the Annual Winter Trot—Peterborough Horses Sweep the Field.

The annual ice races at Omemee took place Tuesday and Wednesday, and were a great success. The weather was fine, the track in excellent condition, and the attendance in numbers excelled that of any previous year. There were people present from Toronto, Peterborough, Lindsay, Cannington, Beaverton, Millbrook and Whitby.

As will be seen, the Peterborough horses came out ahead in all the races in which they were entered. Clancy's "Costume" took the three-minute trot, Elliott's "Lady B" the named race, and Morgan's "Mayflower" the open trot, with Wilson's "Sleepy Dan" and Daly's "Willie W" in second and third places.

Following is the result of the races:

FIRST TROT, TOWNSHIP PURSE—Jonathan F. won, Paddy B. second, Fearless Dick third.

THREE MINUTE TROT—Clifford first, Dolly Wilson second, Lapidist Chief third.

NAMED RACE—Lady B. first, Hambletonian George second, Jerry third. Time—2.45, 2.40, 2.38.

OPEN TROT—Mayflower first, Sleepy Dan second, Willie W. third. Time—2.35, 2.37, 2.36.

ORILLIA RACES.

All the Peterborough horses that trotted at Omemee have come back to town, none going on to the Orillia races yesterday and to-day as was expected.

Their Last Meeting.

The Division Grange is Dissolved—A Final Meeting.

A meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough, Durham and Northumberland Division Grange was held at the Snowden House last night. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Hugh Davidson, Master, and there were present Mr. Jas. Brock, Millbrook, Secretary, and the following delegates: Thos. McCamus, Millbrook; Jas. Moore, Hastings; Wm. Bowman, Plainville, and H. C. Garbutt, Smith.

A most satisfactory report of the finances was presented by the auditors, showing a good balance on hand.

Some business of a private nature was transacted, and on motion it was decided to abolish this Division Grange, the several granges comprising it to report direct to the Dominion Grange in future.

The Executive Committee then dissolved.

News Nuggets.

—The Literary and Musical Association meets this evening.

—The annual ice crop is being harvested now.

—The regular shoot of the gun club takes place to-morrow afternoon.

—Work has been begun on the opening out of Townsend street across Spalding's Bay. A pier is being built for the bridge.

—A number of "sports" intend taking in the Montreal carnival. They will engage a sleeper and go in for a jolly and comfortable holiday.

—According to the town solicitor, only freeholders and leaseholders for one year are eligible to vote on the Licens by-law, on February 20th.

—General Middleton has asked the deputy adjutants general of the various military districts to send in a list of the battalions in which unserviceable weapons are being used in order that new Snider rifles may be issued from store. Those that can be repaired will be patched up as well as possible. The distribution of new weapons will take place as soon as possible.

—We have now an annexation question of our own, and it is hoped the Annexation Committee appointed by the town council will deal wisely with their trust. At the present outlook it seems that the annexation of Peterborough to Ashburnham would be of mutual benefit. If the villagers will take us, the united corporations would form the material for a city, if not at once, within a few years, at most.

Personal.

Mr. Chas. Hunter, of Toronto, Superintendent of agencies of the Standard Life Insurance Company, is in town.

Mr. Robert Campbell, Tara, county Bruce, formerly of North Monaghan, was in town to-day and gave us a call. Mr. Campbell left North Monaghan about three years ago and has been devoting himself to farming and shipping cattle.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Jan. 31.

Messrs. T. Cavanagh and E. Brown were fined $50 and costs each for violations of the Scott Act.

The "bad egg" case came up for trial, but Mrs. McFee, the complainant, when she saw the defendant said the wrong party had been subpœnaed, as this was not the woman from whom she had bought the eggs. The defendant was therefore dismissed.

Endeavor Society.

The regular meeting of the Endeavor Society took place on Monday evening last, President A. Tebb in the chair. Considerable business was transacted, the principle of which was the completing of arrangements for the Sunday school services on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday next. The entertainment committee have been working zealously in the selling of tickets for Mr. Clark's famous lecture on "Gough," and reported remarkable progress. The price of tickets for boys and girls under fifteen was fixed at 15c or two for 25c. Miss Hattie Richardson recited in very good style "Our Anniversary." A debate was arranged to be held on the evening of February 12th. Subject, Resolved that there is more happiness in the world than misery. Miss Sawyer and Miss Graham were appointed leaders. The meeting then adjourned.

Also in Need of Pets.

There is a woman living in the west end of the town who is supported by charity but nevertheless finds means to keep a family of eight or ten dogs about her on which she pays no taxes. The canine colony have become a nuisance in the neighborhood and this morning the police were instructed to put the dogs out of the way, either by shooting or giving them in charge of responsible persons.

BURDOCK'S PILLS cure bilious and nervous ills

HUNG AND SHOT HIMSELF.

A Prosperous Bridegroom Ends His Life on the Eve of Wedding.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Philip Hoffman, employed by Otto Mueller, a Meer Brightwell, butcher, committed suicide yesterday by hanging and shooting himself in the head. No motive for the act is known and the mystery is deepened by the fact that Hoffman, who was but 24 years old, was engaged to be married to a young lady to whom he seemed to be much devoted.

The young man seemed unravelled when during the morning he made the rounds of his employer's customers. After returning to the shop he was reprimanded by the butcher for some breach of duty. Mr. Mueller noticed that when Hoffman started to the stable to put up the horse he seemed gloomy. As the young man did not come to dinner, Butcher Mueller sent Patrick Cook, one of his workmen, to the stable to see what delayed him. Cook found Hoffman suspended by the neck from a beam and blood flowing from a wound in his right temple. A large revolver lay on the floor where the suicide had dropped it. He had made a noose of a bridle rein and fastened one end to the beam. Then standing on a chair he had fired a bullet into his head and toppled off. He was breathing when found, but died shortly after being cut down. His mouth was muffled in a handkerchief, which he had tied closely about his face presumably for the purpose of preventing any groan or pain from betraying his attempt and defeating it.

Hoffman's fiance was Miss Maggie Dolan, a young cousin of County Clerk Cornelius Hart, of Staten Island. The ceremony was to have been performed last Sunday, but as Miss Dolan is a Catholic the priest refused to marry her to Hoffman, who is a Protestant, without a dispensation. This they agreed to procure, and to-day was fixed as the day for the wedding. Hoffman seemed much disappointed with the postponement and proceeded with the preparations eagerly. The pair intended going to housekeeping immediately and had purchased the furniture and articles necessary, visiting the city together several times for that purpose. Some persons darkly suggest that there is another woman in the case.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For circular and full particulars, address GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio. eodw is always a subject for sighs with a housekeeper and she often wishes that the law settled the question of "What shall we have for dinner," and prescribed certain dishes for certain days. Such a law would certainly save a great deal of worry and questioning to many tired women. But it is not such a difficult problem to solve after all especially in Peterborough, where we have such a good market, besides at China Hall you can secure full Dinner Sets that will grace any table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay.

of OVERCOATS, SUITS, CLOTHS and GENTS' FUSHISHINGS will positively end on Thursday, January 31st. This will be the Last Chance to buy Reliable Clothing at so Great a Reduction on Regular Selling Prices.
On account of the Change in the firm on the First of February, it is imperative that our Stock should be Cleared Out or Depleted to the Lowest extent. Our Customers of years' standing and the general public have a tolerable idea of the size, variety and quality of the Stock we keep in our big establishment. We would like to clear the shelves and counters by the 1st of February, and the Low Prices we are offering the Goods at should entice buyers to visit us and take away some of the Extraordinary Bargains.
The Sale is strictly Bona Fide. Let our Business Record Attest our Sincerity. During the past fifteen years the City Clothing Store has won the Confidence of the public and it will strive to do so in future.

SUN
LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.
Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.
The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.
The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$160,492 60	$1,140,743 60
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,186 29	1,167,396 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,892,934 60
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	476,607 24	4,039,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 45	$10,272,777 60

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

WITH POMP AND SPLENDOR

LORD STANLEY INAUGURATES HIS FIRST PARLIAMENT.

The Pageant Attracts an Unprecedentedly Large and Brilliant Throng—Opening Day.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—The first Parliament of Canada opened by Lord Stanley of Preston was indeed attended with gracious surroundings. This was the third session of the sixth Parliament that His Excellency inaugurated with considerable pomp and not a little splendor both without and within the gorgeous Red Chamber inhabited by the Senate. It was a typical Canadian winter day at the Capital. The weather was cold and bracing, the only inconvenience to the thousands of visitors to Parliament-square and the legislative halls being, as "Old Probs" would remark, "occasional flurries of snow."

While the opening ceremonies were conventional and of the regulation pattern, yet the fact that Lord Stanley would "sit on the Throne" for the first time to declare Parliament in session was quite enough to draw together the largest number of people ever seen around the great square. In the Senate chamber not one-half of those who wanted to get inside were able to do so and invitation cards were at a heavy discount. Although it was 3 o'clock before the Vice-Regal sleighs containing His Excellency and party arrived at the main entrance from Rideau Hall, yet as early as noon people began to assemble in the different approaches and the big outside lobby of the main building.

The party from Government House was composed of Lord Stanley, Lady Stanley, Miss Lister, Mrs. Colville, Mrs. Bagot, Captain Colville, Captain Bagot and Lieut.-nant McMahon, A.D.C. His Excellency's sleigh was surrounded by a detachment of twenty-five troopers from the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards under command of Captain Gourdeau. In the square was a strong guard of honor from the Governor-General's Foot Guards under Captain W. H. Bowie, and from Nepean Point, across the "raging canawl," could be heard the boom of cannon firing the usual salute. The party received an enthusiastic welcome as they passed within the portal leading to the Senate wing.

His Excellency wore a magnificent uniform profusely decorated with gold lace, and the red sash of the Grand Cross contrasted brightly with the well-fitting regalia.

On the floor of the Senate chamber were assembled over 500 ladies in elegant evening attire, and the galleries were densely crowded with the great public, who did not seem to care so much about their own toilets as they did for watching the many fair faces and handsome forms below. It was generally admitted that this was the largest and best looking collection of ladies ever seen in the Senate chamber.

Many of the dresses were rich and rare, the colors running principally into the darker shades. Lady Stanley's dress was black lace, Mrs. Bagot wore cream satin, Miss Lister ivory silk, Hon. Mrs. Colville pink satin.

The ladies from Government House occupied seats to the right of the Throne. On the opposite side, in the seats of honor, were Lady Macdonald, Lady Caron and Mrs. Carling. Behind these sat other ladies of the Cabinet; Lady Thompson, Mrs. C. H. Tupper, Mrs. Dewdney. Next to these were Lady Ritchie and Mrs. Allan.

Lady Macdonald wore black satin, Lady Caron white brocade, Mrs. Carling ruby brocade, Mrs. Tupper crushed strawberry.

At 3.15 Black Rod was despatched to the House of Commons chamber and five minutes later he returned followed by Speaker Onimet and the Faithful Commoners. About 150 members joined in the hurly-burly scramble to the Senate chamber and wedged themselves into the space outside the bar.

His Excellency then read the Speech from the Throne, first in English and then in French.

Then the faithful followers beat a hasty retreat to their own chamber and transacted the usual routine business of an opening day, the most important being the introduction of the new members and Cabinet Ministers who had gone back for re-election.

Hon. Edward Blake was in his place beside Mr. Laurier, but took no part in the proceedings. He merely sat very still, and what he did say was whispered in the ear of his French colleague.

The faces of Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. John Charlton were missed from the front row of the Opposition benches. The only Cabinet Minister absent was Hon. J. A. Chapleau.

It remained for a gentleman named Johnnie Baptiste Mills, said to be from Montreal, to distinguish himself as a visitor in a manner that has never before been witnessed in the House of Commons. This personage, when the House had reassembled after its visit to the Senate, coolly walked into the chamber and sank into the seat of Mr. Alfred Putnam of Hants, which is situated on the extreme southeast corner. How he got past the doorkeepers remains a deep and terrible mystery. The Sergeant-at-Arms did not notice the intruder until the House was about to adjourn and then he thought it was too late to make a kick or have him locked up for a gross violation of the independence of Parliament. Mr. Baptiste, however, held his ground until the last bell was sounded, but it is not known that up to a late hour to-night he had put in a claim for mileage or a portion of his sessional allowances. Adam Brown of Hamilton, Franklyn Carpenter of Wentworth, Mr. Daly of Brandon, Mr. McCulla, Mr. Small and other members who sit near Mr. Putnam looked upon the coolness of the intruder with amazement, but never made a suggestion of crying "Stranger on the floor." However, the constitution of the Dominion will in all probability survive this unusual incident.

The introductions took place as follows:

Hon. C. H. Tupper, by Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson.

Hon. John G. Haggart, by Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Mackenzie Bowell.

Fabien Boisvert (Nicolet), by Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. Taschereau.

Hon. Edgar Dewdney, by Sir John Macdonald and Hon. G. E. Foster.

Sir Adams G. Archibald (Colchester), by Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson.

Mr. A. T. Lepine (Montreal East), by Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. Curran.

Mr. R. S. White (Cardwell), by Sir John Macdonald and Clarke Wallace.

Mr. A. R. Dickey (Cumberland), by Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson.

Mr. H. Neveu (Joliette), by Hon. W. Laurier and Mr. Beaucelil.

When the new members had been introduced a few minutes was spent in passing routine resolutions. The speech will be considered to-day. Mr. White will move the reply and Mr. Lepine will second it.

The Carmen's Strike.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The strikers this afternoon obstructed the belt line tracks on Tenth-avenue between 58th and 59th-streets with stones and rubbish. The police clubbed the strikers to the detriment of half-a-dozen heads and were soon masters of the situation. An immense crowd gathered at the avenue and the excitement was at its height when a "hoak" was jumped upon by strikers at 52nd-street. He was beaten and kicked terribly before the police could interfere. When the police were carrying him off, the strikers followed, howling. Inspector Steers soon arrived with his reserves and the crowd dispersed.

At 2 p.m. the Belt Line abandoned the running of cars. At 3.30 p.m. several strikers congregated in the "Belt Line Restaurant" opposite the 10th-avenue stables. The police believed the strikers meant mischief and cleared the place. The crowd congregated in another restaurant and the bins soon cleared that out also.

At 3 o'clock, Officer Patrick Lynch arrested a car driver for helping to overturn a wagon on the 7th-avenue track. The officer was set on by a mob of 200. He fired several shots in the air. Half a dozen other officers charged the crowd.

Mr. Sherwood's Cabinet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—An Indianapolis despatch says Gen. Harrison has received from Mr. Blaine his acceptance of the Secretaryship of State. He does not expect any letter from Senator Allison or Mr. Wanamaker, as the offers to them were made face to face in his library and accepted there and then.

DOINGS IN THE DOMINION.

WHY FLETCHER WAS ARRESTED AT TORONTO.

The Woman in the Case—The Wandering Jew—Jottings from the Ambitious City—No Creaks Wanted.

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—The man Edward Fletcher arrested by Sheriff's officer McCormack on Wednesday night, proves to be the secretary and treasurer of the Indianapolis, Illinois and Iowa Railway. Fletcher had evidently visited Toronto several times, and for no other purpose than just to see a lady, a Mrs. Rice. Her husband, however, got hold of a clue and watched proceedings. He found that when he left town Fletcher came 1300 miles and kept his wife company at the principal hotels. Mr. Rice gathered unbounded evidence of this and sues Fletcher for alienating his wife's affections, claiming $20,000 damages. At the assizes yesterday, Judge MacMahon heard the case and held Fletcher at $10,000 bail.

At the annual election of officers of the Board of Trade yesterday W. D. Matthews was re-elected president, receiving 345 votes to Mr. D. R. Wilkie's 292; John I. Davidson was elected first vice-president by acclamation and H. N. Baird was chosen second vice-president.

Chief Gramett yesterday received an enquiry from Renfrew for information as to the Toronto Grain and Seed Co., No. 4 King-street east, representatives of which were traveling through the country selling wheat to farmers at $15 per bushel, taking their note for it and promising to buy back a big lot of the crop in the spring. He telegraphed a reply to the effect that no such firm existed in Toronto, and warned the enquirer that the canvassers belonged to the Hayfork gang.

The Police Magistrate yesterday remanded till Feb. 4 John Down, Wm. Barton, Joseph Murphy, Stephen Nagle, Geo. McArthur, and Michael Connors charged with breaking into the premises of Wm. McKay & Co. and stealing a quantity of woolen goods, silk handkerchiefs, etc. Stephen Nagle, Geo. McArthur and Michael Connors were further charged with breaking into the premises of John Smiley, 536 Queen-street west, and stealing goods therefrom. They all pleaded not guilty on the first charge, and on the second charge McArthur pleaded not guilty and Connors guilty. Morris Bloom charged with fraud on J. Meyer, was sent back to the County of Brant for trial. AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Creaks Not Wanted—Coughlin's Luck—Increase in Customs Duties Collected.

HAMILTON, Jan. 31.—Dennis Coughlin, a smart-looking boy, was charged with larceny at the Police Court to-day. He was employed at the Toronto House Furnishing Company, James-street north. On Tuesday, when the proprietor was at dinner, he went through the till, took $18.50 and skipped off to Toronto, intending to go to Prescott, where he has some relatives. The police here sent word to Toronto, and Dennis was arrested on his arrival there. He returned all the money, with the exception of the amount he spent for the railway ticket. The prisoner was released on suspended sentence.

"Creeks are not wanted here," was the remark made by Chief McKinnon at the police court to-day when he was prosecuting Jos. McLean and Thos. Burt on a charge of vagrancy. The prisoners were photographed and told to get out of town.

Nancy Scruggs, the Brooklyn woman whom the police have had in custody for several weeks on a charge of insanity, was remanded to-day for another week.

A laborer named Whitmore fell off a scaffolding at the new city hall this morning and was slightly hurt.

The street cars resumed running to-day. The company ran its scraper over the street, completely removing the snow from the cedar-blocking in the vicinity of the tracks.

About 40 men will be employed on the new city hall all winter. The work of lathing the interior of the place will commence next week, and plastering will proceed when the cold weather is at an end.

The customs duties collected at this port during January total $49,973, an increase of $2912 over the corresponding month last year.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEAD.

Tragic Fate of Rev. Father Cornyn of Strathroy—His Death Instantaneous.

STRATHROY, Jan. 31.—Shortly after 1 o'clock to-day Rev. Father Cornyn was found by his housekeeper shot through the head in his own study. Father Cornyn has been unwell for some time and his medical attendant, Dr. Bettridge, had been in constant attendance, in fact Dr. Bettridge had just left him at 1 o'clock and Father Cornyn had seen him to the door.

A few minutes after the housekeeper was startled by a loud report, and thinking the stove had fallen over went up to his study, where she found Father Cornyn with a gun-shot wound through his head, the gun lying near his body. Death must have been instantaneous, as the charge had entered near the chin and passed out near the top of his head and entered the ceiling above.

Whether the shooting was the result of accident or of suicide while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity is not known.

CONFIDENCE IN FLOQUET.

THE FRENCH PREMIER SUSTAINED BY THE DEPUTIES.

A Hot Debate in the Chamber—The Boulanger Strike Spreading—News From the Old World.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Jouvenal interpellated the Government regarding the measures it intended to take to arrest the progress of Boulangism. The speaker attributed the change in public opinion chiefly to the insults daily heaped upon the Government and to the indifference of the ministers toward their revilers. The liberty of the press and liberty of speech had degenerated into license. The Government ought to defend itself from slanderers.

Premier Floquet asked leave to introduce a bill re-establishing the scrutin d'arrondissement system of election.

Deputy d'Ornano, a Bonapartist, exclaimed: "The only possible issue is the dissolution of the Chamber!"

M. Cassagnac of the Right asked leave to speak, on a matter of urgency. The President refused permission. Fresh protests from the Right led to great confusion. The President called the members to order and decided that the House must hear M. Floquet.

M. Floquet held that the establishment of the scrutin d'arrondissement system would in no way assail universal suffrage. If his policy obtained the approval of the Republican party he would pursue it with greater authority, but if it was not approved he would resign. The Government did not think measures ought to be taken against the liberty of the press, but they were bound to legislate against those seeking to overthrow the republic. The existing laws dealing with hostile combinations were inadequate. The Government would propose fresh measures for the repression of attempts against the security of the state. Universal suffrage had become the tool of all sorts of commercial combinations through syndicates operating through paid hands of agitators. The Government also introduced a bill for the modification of the press laws regarding placards and colporting. If a majority of the members were discontented or thought a nearer approach ought to be made to the policy of the Right or the Left, the Chamber must seek other ministers. In the meantime he asked the House for a vote of confidence.

Paul DeCassagnac reproached M. Floquet with attacking universal suffrage and said it was now the Right upon whom fell the duty of defending suffrage against the Government. "Dissolution" had practically been made the test word. The situation for the ministers could be summed up in the phrase "Get out." After accusing M. Floquet of striking at liberty through the proposed laws M. De Cassagnac intimated that he would vote for the present ministry, since its continuance in office would be the best means that could be sought to overthrow the republic.

The sitting of the Chamber was then suspended.

When the Chamber re-convened M. Hubbard demanded that the Government proceed against Boulanger with acts, not words.

M. Floquet replied that it was necessary to combat the idea of a dictatorship. They must fight it resolutely in a legal way.

N. Demontjar declared that it is time to end Boulangism.

M. Laguerre (Boulangist) reminded the House that the Boulangist propaganda was supported by thousands of citizens. There citizens, he said, desired an honest republic.

M. Clemenceau held that although Paris had made a demonstration that displayed its discontent, no reason existed for a change of Government.

M. Montant presented this motion:

"That the House, confident in the firmness of the Government, passes to the order of the day."

The motion was accepted by the Government and adopted by a vote of 300 to 265.

General Boulanger did not appear in the Chamber during the debate.

Two More M.P.'s Sentenced.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—John O'Connor and Thomas Condon, M.P.'s for Tipperary, were to-day sentenced to imprisonment for four months without hard labor for inciting tenants not to pay rent. They appealed.

The Clyde Seamen's Strike Spreading.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The strike of the Clyde seamen is spreading. Crews arriving to-day are joining the movement. The shipowners are resolute.

The Cause of Rudolf's Death.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Vienna correspondent of The British Medical Journal states that the death of Crown Prince Rudolf was caused by a rupture of the cardiac walls with an effusion into the pericardium.

In the Paupers' Hearse.

VIENNA, Jan. 31.—Crowds of people awaited the arrival of the cortege at the Hofburg, where the coffin was borne into the apartments of the deceased prince. An enormous copper coffin was sent to Meyerburg on the same train that conveyed the doctors who had been deputed to enquire into the cause of the death of the Crown Prince. The body was placed in the coffin, but when it was attempted to place the coffin in the hearse, it was discovered that the hearse was too small, and it was necessary to use the hearse in which the bodies of paupers are conveyed, as it was larger than the one selected.

ADVENTURES OF AN ITHACA BOY.

He Lost His Property in a Cuban Hospital and Got Into Jail at Home.

ITHACA, N.Y., Jan. 31.—The arrest of John Foote of this city for robbing the mail bag at Caroline last Saturday has brought out the story of his strange career. He is 22 years old and the only son of W. P. Foote, a florist of this city. Eighteen months ago he threw up a clerkship in a dry goods store here and spent the Summer cruising around the lake in a steam-yacht which he had purchased. Later he went to work in Sherwood's furnishing store, and there was accused of many thefts. After getting out of this scrape last spring he married a notorious woman, took her to Binghamton on their wedding tour, and the next day robbed her, it is alleged, of several hundred dollars. With this money Foote went to Cuba, where he was attacked by yellow fever. When he recovered his clothes had been destroyed and his money appropriated by the authorities. He wandered around for some months, obtained work as cabin boy on a steamer and thus got back to New York. He tramped to Poughkeepsie, where he applied for work on the bridge over the Hudson. A man was wanted to paint a particularly dangerous part of the structure. Foote said he didn't care what became of him, so he was put in a sling and successfully finished the work. Next he walked to Rochester, where he was engaged by a farmer to cut 30 acres of corn at $1 an acre.

Last Thanksgiving a man wearing a ragged, greasy coat, old overalls and bobtailed brogans entered the store at Caroline. It was Foote. The wanderer was kindly received and given employment. Everything went well until a month ago, when large sums were missed from the mails. Decoy letters were sent and last Saturday night Deputy Marshal Norton arrested Foote just after he had stolen a registered letter containing $150. Foote denied having any recollection of the matter, and his friends think he may be insane. Some of the stolen money was discovered in a paper hidden in a [illegible]

Farmers' Institute

THURSDAY, Jan. 31st.

The Institute resumed session this morning. President Kennedy in the chair. The attendance was rather small at the beginning, but increased as the hour advanced.

Mr. T. E. BELL, replying to a question of the previous day, as to sowing clover on rye, said it was a good plan. A catch was almost sure and in the second season the rye would not be ripe when the clover was cut, and the two being cut together, would make valuable feed.

The PRESIDENT read a letter written by Mr. Geo. Laidlaw, which advocated the tilling of less land but extra care in tillage, shorter hours of farm labor, and more time for recreation for the young people on the farm. The advantages of dry earth closets and greater attention to garden tillage were insisted on.

Mr. HUGH DAVIDSON denied the assertion that farming was repulsive to farmers' sons; at least, it was not the case in his neighborhood. With the present improved methods of farming, the boys had more time for reading and recreation, and thus farming was rendered more pleasant and attractive.

Mr. WM. GRAHAM thought farming was ahead of any other occupation. There were some sons of farmers who were naturally unfitted for farming, and it would be unwise to force them to stay on the farm when they would do better at something else. As to long hours, he said few farmers now worked more than ten hours per day.

Mr. S. PAYNE called attention to the advantages of having a vegetable garden on the farm. More could be made off a small piece of garden ground than any other part of the farm of similar size. He added that every load of peat and coal ashes was worth a dollar, and he regretted the large amount of valuable manure allowed to go to waste in town. Coal ashes were useful to keep away potatoe bugs.

COUNTY COUNCIL REFORM.

Mr. M. SAUNDERSON, reeve of Smith, addressed the meeting and said he thought there was a possibility and need of reform in the county council. Referring to certain townships he said the rate of these townships was very small, in comparison with other townships, while the former have equal representation. This state of things leads to the extravagant expenditure because it would not press on these townships having lower assessment. He suggested that valuation should form the basis of representation, in which case proprietary rights would be respected. Let a township have votes in accordance with its assessment. Thus a smaller number of representatives would suffice. He cited a case in the Western States, where three representatives, chosen by grouped townships did the whole business of the county. But he was not sure that decreased representation would be less expensive, for extravagance was as possible with three representatives as with nineteen, the number now composing Peterborough County Council.

Mr. E. INGRAM, ex-reeve of Otonabee, questioned whether Mr. Sanderson's plan would work well. Several back townships would have to be grouped to have a valuation assessment equal to say Otonabee or Smith, and he thought that would be unsatisfactory. If the number were reduced, the difficulty would be in adjusting representation. The plan suggested to him was raising the standard for the second reeve in townships.

Mr. STEWART, reeve of Otonabee, confirmed Mr. Sanderson's contention, that the reeves of lowly assessed townships were inclined to be careless in expenditure.

Mr. SANDERSON pointed out that in the matter of bridges in Otonabee the cost was $4,360; of this amount Otonabee paid $2,184 and some other townships paid about $50 or $60, the same diversity applied to Smith whose share of the bridge at Bridgenorth was $1,697 while the township had no bridge at all. The rating of the different municipalities require adjustment also. He advocated that in case of a village lying in another county, the county to which such village paid its taxes should build such bridges leading to the boundary.

Mr. INGRAM suggested that the government should build bridges over large boundary streams.

Mr. J. G. GALVIN thought we were overgoverned.

Mr. JAMES MOORE reeve of Asphodel, heartily agreed with Mr. Sanderson's proposed scheme of representation. In the matter of roads and bridges he favored dealing liberally with back township municipalities.

A motion affirming the desirability of county council reform in the reduction of membership, was unanimously adopted.

SILOS AND ENSILAGE.

There was a large attendance at the afternoon session. The farmers were intensely interested in ensilage and looked forward to the paper of Mr. R Birdsall on the subject, "Shall we Build Silos," and the subject demands so much attention that we give a pretty full report of his paper.

Mr. BIRDSALL remarked that many people laugh at silos but these men are mostly farmers who keep only scrub cattle and are content to let their cattle find shelter on the lee side of the straw stack. Any farmer who wishes to make the land in his profession should build a silo; it is as suitable for the small farmer as for one owning five hundred acres, and the greater advantage is to the small farmer, as he can produce and preserve a much larger quantity of cattle food from a small acreage. The first style of silo, expensive and cumbrous, was giving way to the cheaper style. The advantages of the silo are that dairymen can have green food for stock the year round and can increase his milk production from 3,000 lbs. a year to 6 or 7 thousand. The stockraiser is able by the aid of the silo to give green food to his stock and thus improve their thrift. The mixed farmer should have a silo, for ensilage is good food for colts and horses as well as stock; it keeps them from becoming costive. Even sheep and pigs and geese eat it greedily. Mr. Birdsall put in a silo this year at a cost, counting rent, taxes, &c., of $1.75 per ton, but next year, after depreciation, he though ensilage could be put at $1.60 per ton. The enormous amount that can be grown in an acre and the small space required for storage to another point in favor of ensilage, and the time required is to be given before and after the busy harvest season. All these facts quieted the assertion that every farmer should have a silo. He sowed the corn before the silo was built. The call for an ensilage corn crop should be well measured. Five different varieties of corn were sown—namely, Southern sweet, ensilage or red cob, Western Indian corn and sorghum. Part of the Southern sweet corn was sown broadcast and part in drills at the rate of a bushel to the acre. This was cultivated three times and yielded at the rate of twenty-five tons per acre. The sugar corn was sown in drills and turned out a splendid crop. What he put into the silo turns out well. Mr Birdsall advocated sowing corns in rows, wide enough for a cultivator, and sowing plaster after growth has started. By drilling the corn it can be harrowed after it is up, and the cultivator should be run through as often as possible especially in a dry season. Mr. Birdsall had corn stalks eleven feet in height and some stalks weighed over four pounds. Corn is ready to cut when it glazes; the best authorities agree this is the proper time to cut. For cutting what was in rows, a sickle was used, and the broadcast was cut with a scythe. Mr. Birdsall's silo was 14x30 feet and 8 feet in height, built under a straw shed in connection with a bank barn. The ground for the bottom was levelled and cedar pipe drains put in, then cedar sleepers one inch above the ground. On these a tight floor was laid of pine boards covered with tarred paper and then another layer of boards. Two by four scantling were set upright and nailed to floor and to timber of shed above—three feet apart, sheeted inside and outside and both aspects covered with tarred paper and again covered with inch boards matched. A door was cut next the cow stable, double and lined with tarred paper. This silo was divided into two bins, but four bins are more convenient for filling. The total cost of Mr. Birdsall's silo was $56 30, made up as follows:

Lumber, 3,760 feet at $6	$30 14
200 feet scantling at $10	2 00
3 rolls paper	3 00
1 keg nails	1 00
Work	16 00
Sundries	2 32
Total	$56 36

Mr. Birdsall stated that ensilage had ceased to be an experiment, if well put in it will come out all right. He began cutting as soon as corn was glazed in the ear and let stand one full day before putting in silo. The corn was all put through a Hamilton cutting machine run by horse power and cut in inch lengths and put in silo from barn floor; fill in five or six feet at once, in conical shape, at the end of three days level and tramp down thoroughly and fill in another layer. When silo is full put two feet of straw, then inch boards and then tarred paper. The thermometer to make good ensilage should mark 140° to 145° Fahr. Cured ensilage weighed from 40 to 45 lbs. per cubic foot. A cow's ration is about 40 lbs. fed with other food. To fill a silo plenty of corn is required, for a small silo held a great deal of corn. Select the best seed for corn and cultivate corn well. Don't cut all the corn at once, cut as fast as it can be put into silo. Mr. Birdsall recommended whether a silo was built or not, to grow corn; it was the best possible feed crop, and the speaker gave examples of the large number of cattle which could be kept on a small farm by growing corn.

A long conversational discussion followed, in which the opinion was general amongst the farmers present, in favor of ensilage and the raising of corn as a feed crop.

While this matter was under discussion, Mr. John Stothart, Smith, exhibited a sample of golden millet, which he had cut one day and put in a large ten-ton mow the next. It had kept well, and both horses and cattle eat it readily.

GERMANY AND SAMOA.

Naval War Breaks Out—The Samoans Unite Against the Common Enemy.

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Jan. 31.—Samoa advices say that the Germans have declared war against Mataafa, and that probably all the Samoans will join against the Germans.

The German officials have given notice that all vessels arriving there will be searched for articles contraband of war. They have suppressed The Samoan Times. A passenger on the British steamer Wainui, which visited Mataafa's camp, was placed under arrest, but was subsequently released in compliance with a demand of the British consul. A proclamation has been issued placing the Apia police force under German control. Mataafa's followers number 6000. They are strongly entrenched, and other Samoans are rapidly joining them. Upon the arrival of the steamer Richmond she was boarded and searched by the Germans.

Reticence at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Officials of the State and Navy Departments were studiously reticent to-day regarding Samoan affairs. It was learned, however, that the Secretary of State has received advices from Auckland confirming the press reports received to-day. Assistant-Secretary Reeves announced that no more information about affairs in Samoa will be given out at the State Department at present. It is understood that the Samoan question was the principal topic of consideration at the Cabinet meeting to-day. It is said the President will send another message to Congress in a few days containing the latest information.

Will Await Reinforcements.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—It is not expected that German military operations in Samoa will commence until sufficient reinforcements are sent to the island. At present there are six Samoan ships, Gothaer Philipp with an available landing force of 300 men.

Commander Leary's Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Commander R. P. Leary of the United States steamer Adams, which arrived from Samoa yesterday, said to-day: "There was a great commotion when I was at Apia. I went there with order suited to a time of peace, but when war broke out I threw the orders to the winds." The Adams left Samoa Dec. 7 and was not present at the fight between the Germans and Mataafa's forces.

WOULD LYNCH HIM THERE.

Dick Hawes Pleads Insanity on Murder and Asks a Change of Venue.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 31.—Richard R. Hawes, charged with the murder of his wife and two children, was brought into court yesterday on a motion for a change of venue. It was for Hawes' protection that Sheriff Smith ordered his deputies to fire on the mob of would-be lynchers, killing and wounding many.

He was neatly shaven and carefully dressed in black. He wore kid gloves. The affidavits presented by his lawyers asserted that there was such intense feeling against him in the county that he could not secure a fair trial. A large number of newspapers were filed with the documents to prove the prejudice existing, and it is shown that a book purporting to give an account of the murder had been published in the county. Hawes then refers to the mob's attack on the jail in attempt to lynch him and the killing of twelve or fifteen citizens in consequence. He swears that the newspapers since that time have been full of sensational articles likely to excite prejudice against him; that he never had more than one interview with a newspaper man, that all others were pure concoctions, and that assertions that he was callous and unaffected at the death of his children were false. He solemnly protests his innocence. Some affidavits signed by citizens were then read, the substance of which was that the defendant could not get an impartial jury in this county.

Answering affidavits were put in by the States, after which Judge Green reserved decision.

Tramps With Revolvers.

SCRANTON, Jan. 31.—Police Officer Ellis is lying at his home in Hyde Park, with two bullet wounds in the abdomen. He received the wounds last evening in a struggle with tramps at the water tank connected with the Briggs shaft in the Twenty-first Ward.

Watchman Patrick Brown reported at 5 p.m. to Police Officer Lewis that four tramps had taken refuge in the water-tank and had caused him great annoyance. Lewis and Officers Davis and Ellis went to arrest the tramps. As soon as a light was struck the tramps, who had their revolvers ready drawn, opened fire. Two of the bullets struck Ellis. Lewis and Davis escaped without a scratch. Ellis did not fall, but, as he had his revolver drawn when he entered the place, he returned the fire until he had emptied the five chambers of his weapon. Then the officers retreated and closed and barricaded the door, imprisoning the tramps, as they thought, securely. Ellis was taken about twenty yards from the water tank so as to be safe from the bullets of the imprisoned tramps, who kept up a fusilade, and Watchman Brown was sent to the nearest telephone station to summon assistance. After about twenty minutes had passed the imprisoned tramps threw themselves against the door of the shanty and forced it down. As they rushed out Officers Davis and Lewis attacked them, exchanging shots until all the cartridges in their revolvers had been discharged. Then they engaged in a fierce hand to hand fight. Overpowered by numbers the officers were finally beaten off and the tramps fled towards the mountains, and many young men and police officers are out looking for the tramps. Locomotives containing detectives are also being run over all the branches of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. The tramps are connected with a gang of burglars who have committed many daring crimes in this region the past month.

A tramp whose wrist is wounded was arrested in the centre of the city at midnight. He refuses to give an account of himself.

The Richmond Terminal's New Scheme.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—It is officially announced that negotiations are nearly completed by which the east bound business of the Gould southwestern system will be turned over to the roads operated by the Richmond Terminal Company. The idea is for the Missouri Pacific to reach the Atlantic at Norfolk and Savannah and to have the freight forwarded to New York by steamer.

Scranton Retires.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 31.—The Scranton Base-ball Association disbanded last night, and the players received their release. Baseball has been a financial failure in this city for the last three seasons.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

MANITOBA'S LEGISLATURE.

The Newspaper Charges not Proven—The C. P. R.'s Move Against the N. P. & M.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 31.—At the re-assembling of the Legislature to-day the report of the Royal Commissioner appointed to enquire into the charges made against the government by the newspapers was presented. It says that no evidence in proof of the charges had been obtained by him.

The Canadian Pacific Railway filed a bill in chancery yesterday to restrain the Northern Pacific and Manitoba road from operating or continuing the construction of that road, on the ground that the Provincial Legislature cannot enact legislation respecting a road connecting with a foreign road at the boundary, and that any legislation of the Provincial Legislature in view which would provide for a railway crossing the Canadian Pacific Railway or its branches.

An accident in the mountains occurred through a broken axle, and Fireman Fidler and Brakeman Phelan were killed.

A New York City Political Sensation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Mayor Grant has created a big sensation in local political circles by asking for the resignations of the members of the supervisory board of the New York City Civil Service Board. The board has control of competitive examinations for all the offices of the city excepting elective offices and the chief appointive offices.

Panama Canal Co. Liquidation.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Two holders of Panama Canal shares applied to the courts yesterday for a summons against DeLesseps. They demand the dissolution of the present company and the appointment of a liquidator with power to make over to a new company the assets of the old concern. The court postponed its decision until Saturday. At the request of a holder of Panama Canal lottery bonds the court appointed a sequestrator of the sums received by the company from all future issues of shares.

The Swindler Bought Orchids.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—While Joseph Chamberlain was on his wedding tour an American swindler by means of a forged letter, purporting to be from Ernestus Wiman, obtained a loan from Austin Chamberlain. He then got a bogus bill cashed by the latter's banker. He afterwards bought a number of orchids, and representing himself as Austin Chamberlain, tendered a forged check in payment for the flowers and obtained a large sum of money in change. He has not been seen since.

The Moon's Influence

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

Diphtheria

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1889.

PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE.

As previously announced in a former issue, Mr. J. R. Stratton on the first of February, to-day, takes formal possession of the Peterborough bookstore, (Late A. L. Davis & Co.) The work of improving and refitting the stationery and wall paper departments is now complete, and in these departments the steam heating apparatus is in operation. With a splendid new stock and elegantly fitted premises, the Peterborough bookstore is ready to meet the wants of the public in a manner to guarantee satisfaction. Mr. Hart to-day assumes charge of the room-paper and stationery departments and Miss Chrowe of the other departments. In regard to the removal of the printing, publishing and bindery departments of Mr. Stratton's business, the necessary changes in the new premises are about completed, and as soon as the state of the weather will admit of conveniently shifting the printing presses and other machines, the removal will be made to the new premises, which will constitute the most complete, best arranged and elegant news and printing premises in any rural town. The EXAMINER'S facilities will be largely increased and its capacity for turning out superior work promptly and in superior style will be unsurpassed.

Electric Light Prolongation.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I have read with much interest your article on the continuation of the electric street lights, as well as the communication of "More Light" on the same subject. There is no doubt but the lamps burning after midnight would be an immense convenience in every respect, and the reform is one which I think the town should consider seriously. Some may argue that there is no necessity for the lamps burning all night, that nobody has any legitimate business to be abroad after that hour. There may be some force in this, but if such objectors want to practice severer economy why make twelve o'clock the limit of light in our streets? Many persons of primitive habits think ten o'clock late enough for any person to be out; others might name nine o'clock, and if the lights were put out either of these hours there would be a saving of two or three hours each night, as the case might be. The best plan, I think, and the plan most worthy of a town of the position of Peterborough, is to have the electric lamps burn all night. Now I live some distance from the C. P. R. station. The other night I came home from the C. P. R. station and on my way home I suddenly found myself in complete darkness and had considerable difficulty in reaching my house. The beaten path was not very wide, and I found myself several times tumbling into the drifts, and for all the inconvenience not to mention the fear of meeting some lawless character, (for I had no small sum of money in my purse) which I suffered on that single occasion. I wouldn't be opposed to paying twice my share of the increase in my taxes which the burning of the electric light all the night would involve. I assume that the added expense would be comparitively trifling; but that is a point which I would be glad to have some definite information. If I knew what remuneration the Electric Light Company would expect for keeping the lights burning all night, I would be in a position to form a fixed opinion in favour of the proposal for all-night lights. As it is, the added expense is the only point upon which I am undecided. In all other respects I am altogether in favor of the continuance of the lights from twelve o'clock till daybreak at least.

Yours, etc.,
GEORGE STREET NORTH.

Annual Meeting in the Charlotte Street Church—Small Attendance—The Reports and Addresses.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Bible Society was held in the Charlotte street church Thursday evening. The attendance was very small. Mr. John Carnegie was called to the chair, and there were on the pulpit platform Rev. Messrs. Pearson, Ball, Shorey, Torrance and Parker.

After opening exercises, Mr. J. D. Collins read the following reports, which were all adopted:—

Annual Report of the Committee of the Peterborough Branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society for 1888:

Your Committee regret to have to state that last year's contributions in aid of the Society from town and county, show a falling off of $49.20 from the contributions of the previous year, the town's deficit being $30 45 and that of the county $9.75.

In the town the collections were taken up in the churches, and in the country by collectors in the usual way.

This year your Committee thought it advisable to employ a collector for the town, which has been done, and the collector's books have been sent to the different districts in the country with the request that the amounts collected be sent in to Mr. McGill, the Treasurer, by March 1st.

Your Committee, on retiring, beg leave to recommend the following gentlemen as Officers and Committee for this year:

THE ADDRESSES.

REV. MR. PEARSON delivered a brief address expressive of his interest in and faith in the ultimate success of the Bible Society. He as well as all other Christian people were greatly indebted to the Bible for the satisfaction they enjoyed in life, and he was grateful to Rev. Mr. Ball for his vigorous defence of the good book several Sundays ago, which was so emphatic and argumentative that it could not be easily refuted. Continuing the reverend gentleman pointed out the advances made by Christianity despite the attacks of infidelity upon the Bible. The circulation of the Bible was necessary to the welfare of every country, and he was pleased to see that this fact was recognized. Just in so far as the Bible was circulated would a nation increase in intelligence, prosperity and morality.

Rev. A. BELL began by pointing out the practical progress made by the Bible. Between the years 1540 and 1546 the Bible was first printed by movable types, but since that time over two hundred and fifty million copies had been issued, or an average of one Bible for every six inhabitants of the earth. He asserted that the Bible was pre-eminently a book for the people, entirely non-sectarian and undenominational, and no one had the right to set it aside. It was the Christian's duty to spread the Bible. The parent Society for which they were asking funds on this occasion had done a great work. In its eighty-four years of existence it had issued one hundred and sixteen millions of Bibles, and with other Societies a total of one hundred and ninety-three million Bibles had been distributed throughout the world. The result was that never before had Christianity taken such strides, and never before had the world's nations made such material advancement as in this nineteenth century. The Bible Society sold Bibles for twopence—a contrast to the price of Bibles, Douay Version, in Dublin, which he saw advertised in a local paper as selling there at six shilling each. That meant about a week's wages to the poor people there. He asked was that dealing in a liberal spirit and doing the utmost to spread the gospel? Rev. Mr. Ball concluded with an earnest appeal to the people to pray for the success of the Society and contribute liberally towards that end.

The meeting was then closed by the singing of the doxology.

The Light Bread Brigade.

Make a Descent on Town Bakers and Confiscate a Quantity of the Staff of Life.

For some time past complaints have been made that some of the town bakers were selling bread under weight. There is a town by-law governing this matter, making the standard weight of a loaf four pounds. This morning Chief of Police Rossel and P. C. Adams hired a sleigh and, armed with a pair of scales and all the authority of their imposing presence, made a tour of the bakeshops. The result was that several bakers were caught unawares in flagrante delicto.

Messrs. J. C. Craig and E. Walsh were first visited. Their bread was found to be up to requirements. Next C. A. Alexander, corner of George and London streets, was called upon. Here the police made quite a haul, twenty-one small loaves being weighed in the balance and found wanting. Loading up the illegal staff of life, the inspectors visited Mr. L. Potvin, corner of George and Edinburgh streets. The bread here was all up to the standard and some actually over weight. Mr. N. Lush's shop on Aylmer street was also found to be supplied with full weight bread. At the store of S. Anglejo, corner Reid and Murray street, 42½ loaves were confiscated as light. Wm. Bacon, Park street, had no bread on hand so the police could not investigate. J. Calvert, Water street, had no bread in his bakeshop, but three light loaves were found in his store and taken possession of.

At noon the "brigade" adjourned for dinner and continued their rounds this afternoon, with what results is not yet known. The light bread averaged from ½ to 1½ ounces under weight.

The by-law provides that all light bread found exposed for sale shall be confiscated and given to the poor. The cause of charity will receive substantial aid as the result of the investigations of the Chief.

It would be well for grocers and others selling bread to understand that if light bread is found in their stores they are liable to punishment as well as the men who made it. They should always see to it that they buy none but "legally qualified" bread.

Mr. Wm. Telford writing from Toronto to a friend in town says:—"The Doctor has made two examinations of my eye, but has not decided as yet whether he will perform an operation or not. I am content and happy, but like a ship-wrecked mariner upon a barren isle, I feel anxious, waiting, longing, thinking if this operation will take place and when. A dread, a fear, Sir, I have not, just whether it will take place or not. If no operation my stay will be short, if otherwise my stay will be long. Please remember me to all who may inquire after me."

Moving Ahead Rapidly.

The lower trestle work of the C.P.R. river spur has been finished and by night the track will be laid to the foot of Simcoe street. The pile-driver will begin at once on the upper gap, which is just half the width of the lower one. The work can be carried on much more rapidly as the upper trestle work will be in a straight line. The piles may be driven right to the Hunter street crossing, in order to save expense and avoid the waste of space that would ensue from the spreading of an embankment.

In pursuance of the scheme to build a new railway from Cobourg out to Marmora, the Cobourg Town Council has purchased from Mr. T. P. Pearce all the property of the C. P. and M. R. The Dominion Government will be petitioned for aid to the new line, and the Legislature will be asked for such legislation as will enable the town to take stock in or bonus the road. It Was For "Blood."

There might have been a tragedy to report last night but for Nightwatchman Gordon's vigilance. The boy who drives the mail-cart was out on the war-path after another youth who had the audacity to throw snowballs at him. They met on the elevated driveway at McBain's warehouse last night and prepared to settle their differences by electric light. They were surrounded by an eager, expectant crowd of small boys who had gathered to witness the mill. But the principals differed at the outset. One wanted the fight to be "rough and tumble," while the other thought they could do each other most harm if prize ring rules were adopted. While they were quarrelling over the matter Mr. Gordon came along and "dispersed the crowd," while their thirst for blood was yet unquenched.

The Matchless Gas Burner.

Mr. J. D. Thornton, of Omemee, is general agent for Eastern Ontario for the Matchless gas burner, a neat and ingenuous device to be attached to any ordinary fitting, by means of which gas can be instantly lighted without the use of matches and independently of electricity. This reduces to nothing the risk of fires from carelessly thrown-down matches, the risk of suffocations, explosions, and is productive of great economy in the use of gas. The "Matchless" is an English invention manufactured in New York, and is worthy the attention of every gas consumer. The EXAMINER has made a trial of it and can testify to its merits. The saving in cost and the increased convenience will soon pay for the Burner. The following gentlemen and firms have it in use: Dr. Kincaid, T. W. Robinson, Donnistoun & Stevenson, barristers and EXAMINER office. Mr. John Kincaid is the local agent.

Successful Entertainment.

A very successful and pleasant entertainment, under the auspices of St. John's South Ward Sunday School, was held in the school room last night. The room was comfortably filled and the following programme, introduced by Mr. A. V. R. Young, superintendent, was very acceptably given:—Instrumental selection, Messrs. Walke and son; reading, Miss Gray; song, Miss Barlee; recitation, Miss Mabel Roy; song, Master Fred Benton; reading, Rev. Mr. Kenrick; song, Mrs. Seward; dialogue, Misses Martin and Matheson; instrumental selection, Messrs. Walke and son; selection, Messrs. Walke and Mr. Seward; recitation, Miss May Martin; song, Master F. Benton; amusing reading, Rev. Mr. Kenrick; song, Mrs. Seward. Rev. Mr. Kenrick thanked the auditors for their presence and countenance of the promotion of the interests of the school, to which Mr. Young added that before very long it was probable that on the present site the St. John's Ward Sunday School, would have a more commodious building in which to welcome their friends in the South Ward. He also for himself and on behalf of the managers of the entertainment, thanked Rev. Mr Kenrick, Mr. and Mrs. Seward, Miss Gray and Messrs. Walke and son for their appreciated contributions to the programme. "God Save the Queen" brought to a close an entertainment both pleasant and profitable, too, a tidy sum having been added to the funds of the school.

ONTARIO'S LEGISLATURE.

Standing Committees Appointed—The Bill Respecting the Voters' List.

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—The Local Legislature resumed yesterday afternoon at the usual hour, the Speaker taking the chair at 3 o'clock. Nothing new was developed, and beyond sanctioning a very small part of the orders of the day, and conducting a little routine business, the session was a repetition of the several preceding brief sittings. The leaders of both sides of the House were in attendance.

A number of petitions were still found for presentment touching upon various matters of interest only to specific localities.

Hon. Mr. Fraser presented the report of the select committee appointed to strike the standing committees. With but few substitutions of the names of new members for those deceased or retired, the personnel of the various committees is practically the same as at the preceding session. The report was adopted without discussion.

On proceeding to the orders of the day, in moving the second reading of the bill respecting voters' lists, Hon. Mr. Fraser explained briefly that no change in the machinery was contemplated, the only amendment sought being to make provision for certain conditions brought about by the Manhood Suffrage Act. As there was no quest on of principle involved, it was desirable that the measure should become law at the conclusion of the session.

The second reading passed without a division.

Hon. Mr. Hardy presented reports showing the number of inmates in public institutions in Ontario and upon other matters.

The House adjourned at 3.20 p.m.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

Hon. John Morrison Gibson Re-elected for Hamilton by Acclamation.

HAMILTON, Jan. 31.—The knowledge that there was to be no opposition to the election of Hon. J. M. Gibson detracted so much from the interest in the nomination that only about fifteen persons gathered on the court house steps at 11 o'clock. This number was gradually augmented, until a pretty fair representation was present before the close of the proceedings.

Mr. T. H. Macpherson nominated John Morrison Gibson as candidate for member of the Ontario Legislature. The considerate course adopted by Hon. Mr. Gibson's political opponents in this instance relieved them of the charge made by John Bright that the Conservative party was a stupid party.

B. E. Charlton, in seconding the nomination, said that although the Conservatives never have admitted heretofore that Oliver Mowat did a commendable public action, they acknowledge he has in this instance done something praiseworthy.

Hon. J. M. Gibson said he had not come with the intention of making a set speech, because he did not anticipate a large attendance or any excitement over the matter. It would be indeed ungrateful on his part if he did not express how pleased he felt at the evidences of kindly feeling shown him by citizens of both political parties. In a city like Hamilton, where the opposing political camps are nearly of equal strength—where the Conservatives retain from year to year their hold upon the Dominion House and the Reformers upon the Ontario House—there is all the more reason for grateful feeling that a decision was arrived at to permit this election so pass off in a harmonious manner. It was a long time since Hamilton had been the home of a cabinet minister. With the exception of a brief term of a few months when the late Hon. Isaac Buchanan held a position, the late Sir Allan McNabb was the only representative in the Ministry from this city. Of course it was taken for granted that he was now in a position to give everyone needing one a situation, and applications were pouring in rapidly. He had no doubt that the city members in the Ottawa House had plenty of that sort of experience, and might wish him to take over what surplus they could not attend to. [Laughter.]

A. T. Wood—whom it was the intention to have as seconder of the nomination, but who did not arrive in time—was then called upon and made a few remarks of a complimentary nature.

DINNER

is always a subject for sighs with a housekeeper and she often wishes that the law settled the question of "What shall we have for dinner," and prescribed certain dishes for certain days. Such a law would certainly save a great deal of worry and questioning to many tired women. But it is not such a difficult problem to solve after all especially in Peterborough, where we have such a good market, besides at China Hall you can secure full Dinner Sets that will grace any table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.60, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.60.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	& in the course
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 60	$1,140,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,326 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 21	2,962,924 80
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 80	475,607 24	4,039,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 46	$10,873,777 60

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

DEBATING THE ADDRESS.

ONLY FOUR SPEECHES MADE IN THE HOUSE YESTERDAY.

Mr. White leads off and is Followed by Mr. Lepine—The Liberal Leader and the Premier Close the Discussion.

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—The House sat for just 3½ hours yesterday afternoon and disposed of the address in a few minutes less than that time. Over three-fourths of the members were in their places. The notable absentees up to date are Mr. Davies of Prince Edward Island and Sir Richard Cartwright from the Liberal benches and Dalton McCarthy of Toronto from the Government's side. Hon. Alexander Mackenzie was in his place yesterday and the old ex-Liberal leader received a welcome from Mr. Blake.

There was one introduction yesterday; Mr. Edward Cochrane, the member-elect for East Northumberland, was introduced by Sir John Macdonald and Mr. Taylor.

There came very near not being a debate on the address at all this afternoon. Such a contingency happened in the Senate, which had to content itself by sitting for a few minutes and then all the members made for their gallery in the House of Commons and took in the passing show. Mr. Laurier complained that the members on his side of the House had not received copies of the Speech from the Throne and they were not disposed to discuss a document which they had not seen. Mr. Laurier made a similar complaint yesterday. Sir John Macdonald replied that this was certainly the result of an oversight and if the leader of the Opposition desired it he would adjourn the debate until Monday. Mr. Laurier replied that he would not insist on such a course.

Then Sir John turned his head around and gave Mr. White the wink and the young member for Cardwell jumped to his feet amid the cheers of his friends and proceeded to the task of moving the address. Mr. White, like all the others that followed him, paid a glowing tribute to our present Governor-General, and it seems to be the unanimous opinion of the entire Parliament and of the people of the Capital, that Lord Stanley of Preston will make a happy ruler over the Dominion's destinies during his stay in Canada.

Mr. White spoke first on that well-worn theme—the fisheries dispute—and said that if there had not been a settlement of the difficulties the blame lay not on Ottawa, not on London, but with Washington. Now there was nothing else left for the people of Canada to do but to maintain her rights under the convention of 1818.

Then Mr. White proceeded to refer to the other paragraphs of the address: the simplification of the Franchise Act, the proposed subsidies for a fast Atlantic mail service, the establishment of a line of steamers between British Columbia and China and Japan and for the development of Canadian trade with Australia, South America and the West Indies by steam connection.

Mr. Lepine of Montreal East, who seconded the address, is about the same age as Mr. White. He spoke in French for 20 minutes. Mr. Lepine has a goodly supply of what is known as "French fire" and gesticulation. His voice is clear and musical, and like his compatriots he makes vigorous use of his hands and arms to give emphasis to his sentences. He stuck very closely to the record and did not travel outside of the beaten path of the address. Mr. Lepine was only selected to second the address late on Thursday afternoon and up to that time it was generally understood that Mr. Dickie of Cumberland would fill the office.

In emphatic terms Mr. Lepine claimed that the working men of Canada were not, as some people supposed, a band of Socialists. All that they wanted was fair treatment from Parliament. The House cheered Mr. Lepine's declaration on this score.

Mr. Laurier congratulated the young men who had moved and seconded the address. He declared Mr. White to be a "chip of the old block." He could agree with nothing that had been said by either except with reference to the popularity of the Governor-General. The blind-fare in the Speech from the Throne was a meagre one. He had heard that said of many other Speeches from the Throne.

Mr. Laurier regretted that the Government had put nothing in the speech looking to legislation for the workingmen. It had been put off from day to day and he supposed the old cry of "To-morrow" would suit this as it had other important questions.

He deprecated the injustices of the Customs Act and said that $100,000 had been collected in levies, fines and seizures last year and distributed among officers in the Customs service. He hoped the session would not pass without a remedy.

Of the Franchise Act he had only to say the Government dare not extend it, although several of the leading journals which support the Government had hoped for such a course.

"The speech," continued Mr. Laurier, "mentions the proposed expansion of trade with Australia and the West Indies. It has been our policy to extend Canada's trade with the whole universe and to knock at the door of our southern neighbors and say that we were ready to freely trade with them. (Opposition cheers.) He was amused at the course of the Government in not congratulating itself as was usual in the speech on the prosperity of the country.

"As for the fisheries dispute he admitted that it was not desirable at present to approach the subject except in the most friendly spirit. The House should remember that a friendly act towards the United States on the part of Canada would be looked upon as a friendly act on the part of the Mother Country."

Then Mr. Laurier concluded: "We on this side are not as numerous as we should be or as large as the good of the country demands, but the House can rest assured that we will do all in our power to accelerate the work of the country."

The veteran Premier replied to the leader of the Opposition in a characteristic speech. He said that if the bill-of-fare in the speech were meagre it was because the digestion of his friends across the floor was weak and weak digestions required a moderate bill-of-fare. [Laughter.]

Mr. Laurier has asked us, "Why don't you extend your trade to the south of us?" "We have," said Sir John, "always endeavored to do this but our neighbors in the United States won't allow us to do so. Canada has always been willing to extend social and commercial relations with the big republic but they won't have us except at a price—a price which I am happy to say no member of this House would be willing to pay. That price is the sale of our heritage, the sale of our birthright, for a mess of pottage. No! gentlemen; we cannot think of such a bargain. The leading men of that country have all along declared that that was their policy. Therefore, I say that the project of Commercial Union must be dropped out of sight. [Cheers.] I like my place, I like my position, but if I were to take the advice of the gentlemen opposite I would have to give up all these. Until you can convince the people of Canada to change their fixed opinions you cannot have what the gentleman asks for."

Then the Premier referred to the customs law. He said his Government had heard no complaint from the commercial bodies about its working. The law was a terror to the smugglers, to the dishonest importers and perhaps they would complain about it. The law was made to protect the honest man and to punish the dishonest man—the man of double invoices and the man of false affidavits. The ways of the dishonest trader needed watching and he was watched and punished by the customs officers. The Premier then paid a warm tribute to the Minister of Customs and his administration of his department.

Sir John closed with a reference to the fisheries dispute, which he said it would be better for all concerned that too much was not said in the House at present about it. There would soon be a new Government in the United States and he was happy to say that if the new President favored a treaty with England he would not be hampered with a Senate that was opposed politically to the President. [Applause.]

The White Caps Left.

ALBANY, Feb. 1.—On Thursday about thirty White Caps visited a man named Ostrander in Cooyman's, this county, who had been accused of immorality. Before this he had received threatening letters. The man fired several shots at the crowd, and then his nephew fired, wounding one of the party slightly. The mob then left.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

TRADE REPORTED DISAPPOINTINGLY DULL.

Speculation Shows a Revival of Activity—Discord in Steel Rail Circles—Wheat Exports—Strike Statistics.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's report general trade of moderate volume and except at a few points disappointingly quiet. The more encouraging reports come from Kansas City, where there has been a marked improvement, particularly in dry goods and boots and shoes, in lumber and to some extent in hardware. At St. Chicago and St. Paul there are some gains. At St. Joseph there has been more activity and prospects for spring trade are good. There is a fair volume of merchandise moving at Boston but no unusual activity. Elsewhere business is less active, St. Louis reporting it to be only "holding its own." At that city, however, some 32,000 tons of pig iron have been sold, groceries, hardware and drugs being relatively most active. The unseasonable weather is complained of at New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Detroit, Chicago and Galveston, and a share of the backward trade is reported due to it. The open winter depresses trade in stoves, coal, groceries and rubber at New York city, but renders the building trade very active, with a demand 50 per cent. in excess of the first month in 1888. Trade in the first four lines is quiet or dull as are also drugs, lumber, leaf tobacco, raw wool, leather and hardware. Jobbers in leaf tobacco, cigars, lumber, prints, jewelry and silk goods report trade fair to active.

Speculation shows a marked revival of activity and strength on the apparent success of western railways in forming an agreement and indications that the South Pennsylvania will no longer be a latent cause of trunk line dissatisfaction. The demand for bonds has been extraordinary and extended to the better class of stocks. Indications favor an increase of public interest in the stock market. Money at New York is easy but hardened a shade at the close of the week, call loans 1½ to 2 per cent. Foreign exchange is lower on foreign buying of securities and a decline in the Bank of England discount rate, demand sterling $4.86½ to $4.86¾.

The total bank clearings at 35 cities aggregate $4,771,597,176 for January, against $4,00 3,063,558 in 1888, an increase of 19 per cent., 10 per cent as compared with 1887, and an increase of 13 per cent. as compared with January, 1888. The total at 34 cities (New York city excluded) amounts to $1,701,823,292, an increase of 14½ per cent. compared with 1888, and 22½ per cent. compared with 1886.

The temporary harmony in steel rail circles established a few weeks ago at a conference of makers has been dissipated by a western Pennsylvania mill, which accepted business at $2 per ton below the prices informally agreed to by mill owners. Other eastern mills at once named $27 and one or two have named less. Inquiries for rails are estimated to-day at 70,000 tons, sales for the week 35,000 tons. Trade is extremely unsettled and the hopes of a permanent restoration of rates to $28 for the year 1889 are further deferred. Cheap southern pig iron making is a disturbing element on the one hand and excessive Bessemer steel making capacity on the other. Pig iron has declined in most northern markets on account of liberal southern offerings.

Copper occupies a more uncertain position than of late. Chili bars have declined heavily at London and lake ingot has sold in the neighborhood of 16c.

Nearly all lines of cotton goods are reasonably active. In jobbing circles at the east agents report only a hand-to-mouth demand. Further advances have been made on print cloths, 1-16c. on some lines of prints and ⅛c. on printed satinets. The weekly consumption of print cloths fully equals production, and stocks are almost unprecedentedly small. Price cuts in ginghams by Chicago jobbers have been fully met at New York and a large distribution has resulted. The cutting in prices is confined to distributive lines, manufacturers are not concerned and consumers reap the benefit.

In woolens, men's goods note a fair demand. Prices note little effect from the advance in price of raw wool. Foreign wool and silk dress, and worsted men's wear goods are in active demand. Raw wool is generally quiet and unchanged.

The total exports of wheat (and flour) this week equal 1,192,101 bushels, against 1,801,665 bushels last week, and 1,852,900 bushels in the last week of January, 1888. The heavy falling off this week is owing to decreased shipments at San Francisco, where they fell from 890,000 last week to 190,000 bushels. Wheat is 3 3-8c. cheaper on the week, corn 1 3-8c., and oats ⅛c. higher.

Raw sugar has arrived more freely, mainly direct to refiners, with still more liberal offerings which resulted in a reaction of 1-16c. Refined has been in slow sale but has not varied in price.

The demand for and movement of coffee in private trade channels has been stronger, but in speculative lines trading has been very dull, owing to the indisposition of dealers to act in the absence of crop news which will enable them to forecast prices to some extent.

There were 71 strikes, involving 18,026 strikers (partly estimated) in January, 1889, against 58 strikes involving 40,436 employes in January, 1888, and 92 strikes involving 76,971 employes in January, 1887.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last 7 days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co. to-day by telegraph, number for the United States 291 and for Canada 41, or a total of 332 as against 343 last week and 330 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 279, made up of 247 in the United States and 32 in Canada.

THIS WILL PLEASE BOODLERS.

The United States Senate Reject the British Extradition Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Senate debated the British extradition treaty nearly three hours to-day and it was rejected. It had been supposed that with the objectionable political offences section stricken out it might pass, as it was conceded that a treaty for the extradition of embezzlers and forgers was greatly to be desired, but it was pointed out to-day that if the treaty as amended were ratified it would be relegated to the realm of diplomacy, where the representatives of the other contracting power might insist upon having the rejected clause inserted again. An earnest effort was made by friends of the treaty to save it from rejection.

The vote against it was greater than had been expected, 30 to 15.

To Report on the Detroit Bridge.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Senate Commerce Committee to-day adopted a resolution requesting the Secretary of War to appoint three army engineers to investigate the expediency of constructing a bridge across the Detroit River at Detroit.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

The Beach Cut-off—A Suit for Damages Against the Grand Trunk.

HAMILTON, Feb. 1.—This morning a member of the members of the finance committee and the board of works had a conference at the City Hall with John Bell, solicitor for the Grand Trunk Railway; Charles Stiff, superintendent, and J. Hobson, engineer. The construction of the beach cut-off line was the main topic discussed.

KAUFMAN'S BIG FORGERIES

THE AMOUNT WILL REACH SIX FIGURES.

How the Brockville Music Dealer Worked the Capitalists—The Defendant Remanded Until Next Friday.

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 1.—The arrest of Music Dealer A. C. J. Kaufman for forgery has caused a great sensation here. The extent of his forgeries is not known, but they are supposed to be in the neighborhood of $100,000. The facts go to show that he has been practising his scheme for a number of years.

His method was to approach a moneylender and inform him he was about to sell an instrument on the instalment plan and having only limited means ask the capitalist would he carry the paper if allowed a good percentage. Kaufman looked after the paper himself, the principals never appearing in the matter. As soon as a note fell due he was on hand to take it up, but presented other paper in payment instead of cash. As time went on he became bolder and began making duplicates of the notes and disposing of them to different parties, three and even five individuals having a note of the same name and amount.

The forgery upon which he was detected was a note for $250, supposed to have been drawn by a well-known commercial man of this town. By accident the purchaser of the note discovered it to be a forgery, and on demanding a settlement from Kaufman it leaked out that he was in difficulty, and others began to look after their securities and discovered that the whole thing was a huge swindle.

Among the losers are T. A. & W. T. McCullough, W. H. Comstock, G. T. Fulford, P. McNamara, G. T. Mallory, D. B. Jones and D. Derbyshire of Brockville, P. Blanchard of Athens, J. Ross of Smith's Falls, a Montreal dealer and the Lansdowne Piano Company.

Kaufman was brought before the Police Magistrate this morning but was remanded until Friday, Feb. 8. He is quite indifferent and does not appear to realize his position.

ANOTHER BRIEF SITTING.

The Ontario Legislature Not Yet in a Working Mood.

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—The Legislature held another brief session yesterday, and the members of the Government again sat in Council until late in the evening. It is the intention of the Premier to make the session as short as possible and he is urging his colleagues to rush through the business of the departments with the greatest despatch.

The interesting feature of yesterday's short session was the introduction of Hon. J. M. Gibson, the new Provincial Secretary. Hon. Mr. Mowat and Mr. Awrey marched him to the front, and he took his seat amidst the loud applause of both sides of the House.

Petitions were presented as follows:

Mr. Stewart—Of the County of Dufferin, asking the abolition of bonuses for manufacturers.

Mr. Blyth—Of the town of Durham, praying for the abolition of tax exemptions.

Mr. Graham—Of the County Council of Lambton, asking to define the responsibility of the council in case of accidents occurring on highways and bridges; also from the village of Wyoming, asking an act for the sale of park reserve.

H. K. Clarke—Of the Knights of Labor, asking $600 exemptions on houses; also an act to amend the statutes governing universities and colleges, in order that the allowance now given them may be transferred to the public schools; also to provide for the better inspection of engines and boilers.

These bills were introduced:

Mr. Freeman—An act to amend the Assessment Act.

Mr. Clarke—An act for the better protection of insectivorous and other birds.

Mr. Graham—An act to amend the Municipal Act.

Mr. Balfour—An act to amend the act respecting the federation of the University of Toronto and University College; also an act to amend the Municipal Act.

Mr. Bishop—An act to amend the Assessment Act.

These were appointed chairmen of the committees yesterday: Public accounts, Mr. Clarke (Wellington); Printing, Mr. Balfour; Privileges and Elections, Mr. Harcourt; Municipal, Hon. Mr. Hardy; Railways, Hon. Mr. Fraser; Standing Orders, Mr. O'Connor.

It is understood that Mr. J. M. Gibson will be elected chairman of the Private Bills Committee.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Big Blaze at Cobourg—A Grist Mill at Abingdon Consumed.

COBOURG, Feb. 1.—A fire occurred about two o'clock this morning in the Dumble Block, over the dry goods store of Mr. Webb. The fire is supposed to have originated in a club room over the store. The building above the store was completely gutted, while the goods in the store below, which were not burned by falling cinders, are completely saturated with water and entirely ruined. Everything in Mr. Huyck's law office was destroyed, except what valuable papers there were in the safe. The adjoining stores sustained some damage by smoke and water. The loss will be heavy.

Grist Mill Burned at Abingdon.

SMITHVILLE, Feb. 1.—The grist and merchant roller mill belonging to Philip Carman was burned at Abingdon this morning. Loss, about $8000; amount of insurance unknown.

A School Burnt.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 1.—The high school building in Johnston, Fulton county, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss $42,500. It accommodated 900 scholars.

Cotton Gone Up in Smoke.

GRANITEVILLE, S. C., Feb. 1.—The warehouse here of the Graniteville Manufacturing Company, containing 2346 bales of cotton, has been burned. Loss $100,000.

Suicide of a Buffalo Man.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Feb. 1.—W. W. Huff of Buffalo was found on the bed in his room at the Niagara Hotel, this morning, with a bullet hole through his head and a revolver by his side. He was engaged in the employ of a transportation company of that city. A letter was found from his employer advising him that the business he was charged with must be attended to, and that his services would not be required after the close of January. A letter, addressed to his wife, was found in the gentlemen's sitting room down stairs, where he had written and left it last night. A note to Mr. Jackman, proprietor of the hotel, stated: "I am sorry that such a thing is necessary, but there are many strange things which cause me to do as I am doing."

A Great South American Railway.

PORT TOWNSEND, Feb. 1.—A corps of American railway engineers left here yesterday for Coquimbo, Peru, under engagement to the Chilian government to superintend the surveying and construction of railway lines from the coast cities to interior points, adjacent to the Argentine republic. The lines will penetrate to the silver mines, and facilitate the settlement of the country. Agents are now on this coast negotiating for 10,000,000 ties and other timber. All articles, including machinery, will be admitted free of duty. Nearly 600 engineers and over 3000 laborers will be engaged for the service in Chili next autumn. The road will probably be 2000 miles long.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1889.

Farmers' Institute

(Continuation of Thursday's Session.)

MANAGEMENT OF MILCH COWS.

Mr. THOMAS HOUSTON read a paper on "Feeding and Management of Milch Cows." He recommended a warm stable, conveniently built to save time in tending stock; also a good root house. Roots, said a bushel per day should be used to blend other feed. Turnips should be cut or pulped, and all feed should be cut and the good and bad mixed, the better if scalded. Cattle should be salted regularly; sprinkle salt over cut feed every day; salt helped the quality and flow of milk. Bran or other slops were good for milch cows. He advised strong feeding, and keeping cows in milk ten months out of twelve. Early calves were better both for cows and calves; and feeding produced good stock and good stock brought good prices. If a cow doesn't pay for feeding she is not worth feeding. He insisted on roots. He drew out his manure in the winter on land ploughed in the fall; plough in manure lightly in spring. He had never in ten years lost a root crop. The seed should be sowed at once the land is ready. Five acres of corn is worth, for feeding stock, 15 acres of hay. Corn fed all winter brought through cattle in good condition. Keep cows as quiet and unexcited as possible. In the winter keep milch cows in stable as much as possible; keep warm, cold will lessen the flow of milk. Regular feeding and regular milking should be observed; feed and milk by the clock. Mr. Hooper added that he had been growing corn ten years, and the more he grew it the better he liked it.

DRAINAGE.

Mr. JOHN GARBUTT, Smith, introduced the subject of draining. He had found tiles satisfactory. The only case of choking he knew was when the tiles were near elm roots. In sandy soil he had used bark and gravel and sods to put tile on. It was a good plan to bend a strip of old tin over the joints of tiles in sandy soil.

Mr. WM. GRAHAM had found good results from stone drains not laid too near the surface.

Mr. HUGH DAVIDSON found as much good from throwing in the stones loosely as from stone laid in the form of a pipe. He had filled a good deal of drain with a dump cart, loading the small stone in the back of the cart, when dumped the small stone would go to the bottom.

Mr. G. HILLIARD said stone drains should be put at least two feet below the ground.

Mr. JOHN STOTHART thought it not worth while to build stone drains if tile could be got this side of Toronto.

Mr. J. G. GALVIN had satisfactory experience with cedar drains.

Mr. T. E. BELL had on his farm stone drains which had been laid down forty years, and were still in good order.

Mr. J. C. BROWN said underdrained land was always sure of a crop.

MARKET ACCOMODATION.

Mr. STEPHEN PAYNE advocated a covered market place, and Mr. John Stothart agreed with him and also advocated the establishment of a stock yard in Peterborough.

Mr. HUGH DAVIDSON pointed out that the market was a mutual advantage to buyer and seller? Why not tax the buyer as well as the seller. He thought market tolls should be abolished altogether. Farmers did not object to paying tolls if it gave them any advantage or even proper accomodation. He added, that on petition of the Dominion grange, a bill was introduced to abolish tolls but the lawyers had so amended it, that it only partially served the intended purpose.

Mr. GALVIN contended that market fees should be abolished altogether.

Moved by Mr. H. Davidson, seconded by Mr. Thos. Stothart, that this meeting is of the opinion that the Central Institute should petition the Legislature to have the market fees abolished; also that a deputation be appointed to wait upon the county council to ask that body to look after the interests of the farmers in such matters, especially when a test of a by-law in the courts is desirable.

The President congratulated the Institute on the success of the meeting. He had the assurance that Hon. Mr. Drury Minister of Agricultural and Prof. Shaw of the Agricultural college would be present at the next meeting.

The President then drew the meeting to a close, and the appointing of dates for the next meeting was left with the board of directors.

A vote of thanks to Messrs. Birdsall, Peters, Brown, Hooper and others for their papers, was passed before adjournment.

They Come to Time.

Victoria County Council Make a Grant Towards the Pigeon Creek Bridge.

The Roads and Bridges committee of the Victoria county council reported the following:—

Your committee have considered the petition of Mr. John Braden and a large number of others asking a grant of a sufficient sum to assist the county council of Peterborough in repairing the Pigeon creek floating bridge for public travel, and would recommend that the sum of $80 be granted for that purpose and that the reeve of Emily be commissioner to act in conjunction with the commissioner appointed by the county council of Peterborough in expending the grant.

The following discussion is reported in the Post:—

Mr. HOPKINS was opposed to the grant owing to the way Peterborough had treated this county in refusing to bear a share of the expense of the Kinmount and Bobcaygeon bridges. The two counties were now in litigation regarding the Bobcaygeon bridge, and action should be deferred until the case was decided. Then he thought the townships of Emily and Verulam should bear a considerable portion of the expense of the bridge, as they would receive special benefit.

Mr. BOWES moved that the clause be struck out on the ground that as Peterborough held that the Bobcaygeon bridges were not boundary bridges, this bridge should not be so regarded.

Mr. LITHGOW urged that the county assist in maintaining the bridge, as it was badly needed by a large number of ratepayers of Verulam and Emily.

Mr. RAY said it would be better to defer action until the case before the supreme court was decided, so that the responsibility of the two counties in the matter could be clearly defined.

Mr. FAIRBAIRN made an eloquent and feeling appeal to the patriotism of the council to make the grant.

Mr. RAY said if the project was worth $80 to the people of Verulam and Emily they should pay it, as it was for their special benefit.

Mr. LITHGOW said the local argument should not be applied in that way. This was a county project and should be aided by the county.

Mr. BOWES said he wished to have the question left over until the supreme court had decided whether it was a boundary bridge or not.

A vote was taken with 11 for the amendment (to strike out the clause) and 11 against. The clause therefore stood as in the report.

Haldimand.

(Montreal Witness.)

Haldimand has been reclaimed by the Liberals. Perhaps reclaimed is hardly the right word as it never was legally lost by them. Doctor Montague, the Conservative candidate in the last three elections, was twice declared elected, but contestation before the courts resulted in each case in the government of the majority, chiefed in the case of the election of Mr. Colter, the Liberal representative of the county in the last Parliament, was the Liberal candidate in the last three elections and he has at last decidedly defeated his opponent. His majority is not large, as majorities go, but it is one which cannot, in all probability, be whittled away before the courts, as the small majorities of Doctor Montague have been. The victory has probably been won by hard work, but it is certain that the commercial reciprocity policy of the Liberals, which has been recently enunciated anew in Ontario by the leaders, who were accused of abandoning it, has not weakened the Liberals. On the contrary, the Liberals all over the Dominion have displayed more energy, more determination, more "grit" in fact, since the adoption of this policy and they have begun to be successful. Mr. Waldie, the Liberal member for Halton, whose seat is being contested, will probably be confirmed as representative by the courts, the case against him having broken down.

In the Interests of Agriculture.

The tenth annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union will be held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 7th and 8th, 1889. The object of this meeting is the advancement of agriculture and the improvement of the condition of the agricultarist. All subjects treated will in consequence bear directly upon this first of Canada's professions. Prof. Shaw, of the O.A.C., will handle in his usual thoughtful, forcible and comprehensive style, "The position of Green Fodders in Ontario," which will alone, under existing agricultural conditions, be worth thrice the time and expense of a visit to the union. Papers treating of "Lucern," "Sheep Husbandry," "Bees," "Fruit Culture," etc., etc., together with concise reports of an extended series of experiments relative to grain fortification and potato growing, will be given by persons competent to do the subjects justice. We extend a very cordial welcome to all. We especially invite all farmers, as they love their calling to endeavor to attend this, one of the first of agricultural meetings in our Province. Any farmers wishing to attend, send name and address to E. Lick, Oshawa, who will be pleased to send railway certificate.

Bad with Eczema. Hair all Gone. Scalp Covered with Eruptions. Thought his Hair would never Grow. Cured by Cuticura Remedies. Hair Splendid and Not a Pimple on Him Now.

I cannot say enough in praise of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My boy, who is over four years of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with scabs and sores, which the doctors said was incurable, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from all sources, I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the CUTICURA REMEDIES to mothers as the most speedy, economical, and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Fashionable Wedding—Long Sentences for Two Brutes—A Tumble in Hardware.

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Captain Cecil Gibson, of the Royal Grenadiers, and Miss Grace Walker, fourth daughter of David Walker, ex-Alderman and proprietor of the Walker House, were married yesterday morning by Rev. D. J. Macdonnell in St. Andrew's Church. There were hundreds of spectators.

Judge Rose yesterday sentenced James Foley to seven years' penal servitude for beating his wife, and Joseph Carde, for criminally assaulting his own daughter, to fifteen years. Charles Nelson, convicted of forgery, stood up to receive sentence, but immediately fell in a fit and was removed for medical attendance.

At 2.30 yesterday afternoon a north bound car was proceeding up Sherbourne-street, when at the corner of Duchess the team became unmanageable. After proceeding half a block they succeeded in upsetting the car in which there were 16 passengers, including several ladies. No one was injured.

Mrs. Scott, Adelaide-street, west had her pocket picked of $40 while witnessing the Gibson-Walker wedding yesterday in St. Andrew's Church, King-street west.

The firm of Risley & Kerrigan, shelf hardware, 39 Front-street west, suspended yesterday, and Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson, accountant, has been placed in charge of the business until the meeting of the creditors Feb. 11. A month ago grave charges were made against this firm for infringement of customs regulations. The matter was fully reported to the Department, and as a basis of action a small seizure was made for under-valuation. The firm issued a circular yesterday saying that owing to the action of the Custom House officials their business was placed in jeopardy, and to protect their interests and the interests of all concerned, they suspended.

There was a hot contest for the presidency of St. George's Society at the annual meeting last night, the vote being W. E. Wellington 71, Goldwin Smith 64.

A WARLIKE RESOLUTION.

Excitement at Washington Over Germany's Action in the Samoan Affair.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The news of the recent action of the German forces at Samoa has given rise to quite a commotion among members of the House of Representatives. Much indignation is felt at the announcement that the Germans intend to search vessels arriving at Samoa. Representative Thomas of Illinois will at the first opportunity offer a resolution in the House authorizing and directing the President to "take such steps, forcibly if deemed expedient, as are necessary and proper to protect and maintain the honor, dignity and interests of the flag and government of the United States and its citizens, wherever disgraced, against the acts of the Emperor of Germany or his forces."

The President this afternoon transmitted to Congress additional correspondence relative to Samoa, showing that in conformity with Secretary Bayard's representations the German Government has exempted foreigners from the operation of martial law in Samoa, and has directed the German consul to refrain from any interference with the administration of the islands.

In the Senate to-day Mr. Saulsbury (Dem., Del.) offered a resolution which was agreed to instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to enquire into affairs in Samoa and report what measures are proper to protect the interests of American citizens, and to discharge the obligations of the United States to the people of Samoa in the maintenance of their own government from the interferences of foreign powers, and to secure the just rights and interests of the United States in the government of the islands.

The Situation in Samoa.

AUCKLAND, Feb. 1.—The latest advices from Samoa say that Tamasese's supporters were reduced to 800 men. The British and American consuls declined to recognize the right of the Germans to establish martial law. The German authorities were willing to recognize Malietoa provided he ruled under German control.

Waiting for Information.

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—The Reichstag to-day discussed the naval estimates. Herr Richter asked for the particulars relating to Samoa. Admiral Hoenner replied that until the arrival of reports from Samoa, expected about the middle of the month, it would be impossible to give the information desired.

CAPITAL CHAT.

The Member for Monck After the Ex-Pm—Personal Notes.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Sir George Baden-Powell, M.P., arrived in the city to-day and lunched with the Governor-General at Rideau Hall.

Lord Stanley's sleighs and horses have been sent to Montreal for use during the carnival.

Hon. John Costigan was 54 to-day.

The drawing room in the Senate chamber to-morrow night will be a brilliant affair because it will be Lord Stanley's first in Canada.

A petition has been received at the Department of Justice asking for a date to vote on the repeal of the Scott Act in Guelph.

Mr. Bergin of Monck is after the man who "bayards" the farmers by the fraudulent sale of autumn stock. If he will introduce a bill to punish them Adam Brown of Hamilton will ask to have his committee of last session called together to look after other kinds of "bayarders," sandmen and pedlars who are fleecing the farmers of the country.

Run Down By an Engine.

CHATHAM, Ont., Feb. 1.—A serious if not fatal railway accident occurred here this evening. About 6.15 as the passenger train from Belleville was coming off the bridge, which is on a curve, a farmer named Neill McArthur was approaching a railway crossing about 100 feet from the bridge. The horse got over the track but the sleigh was struck and knocked to splinters. McArthur was carried about 40 feet on the cow-catcher and then dropped. He is badly injured, but is not considered to be fatally injured and he is not expected to live.

Four Prospective States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A compromise has been effected on the omnibus territorial bill which embodies ideas that the bill will pass both houses. Mr. Springer has agreed that New Mexico shall be stricken from the bill and that the two Dakotas shall be admitted as States upon executive proclamation without further appeal to Congress, provided the Republicans a whole votes for division and that Washington and Montana shall be admitted on executive proclamation.

Louisiana's Way of Securing Quiet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A letter from Port-au-Prince, Hayti, dated Jan. 15 says that Louisiana's arrests and occasional executions has quelled all open opposition to his authority in that city. It is stated that the success of war are being furnished to Louisiana largely by the French Government with a view to securing a protectorate over the island. The German Government is said to be financially hooking Hippolyte.

Woodford Takes a Step Backward.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The Commercial Advertiser states that Gen. Harrison offered Senator Evarts the Attorney-Generalship, but that the Senator declined it. Senator Evarts has been Attorney-General and has also been Secretary of State. He would see take a step backward.

CABLE NOTES.

The Viennese Still Cling to the Belief that Rudolph was Murdered.

VIENNA, Feb. 1.—The idea is still prevalent that Rudolf was murdered. Rumor says he was shot through a window by a person employed on his estate who afterwards committed suicide and that the body of the murderer is already buried.

Renounced in Favor of His Son.

VIENNA, Feb. 1.—Archduke Charles Louis, the Emperor's brother, has renounced his right of succession in favor of his son Francis.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—At the session of the Parnell Commission to-day, Mr. Hagar asked when Attorney-General Webster intended to produce evidence against the accused Parnellites. Nothing in the testimony yet given touched the Parnellites, he said. The Attorney-General curtly responded that that was not his view of the evidence.

The commission then resumed the hearing of evidence.

O'Brien Must Eat.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—The Governor of the Clonmel prison has informed Mr. O'Brien that he will compel him to don the prison uniform and that if he refuses food it will be administered artificially.

Four Months for Making Speeches.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—Mr. Sheehy, M.P. for Galway, has been sentenced to four months' imprisonment without hard labor for making speeches.

Dillon's Tour Postponed.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—John Dillon has postponed his Australian tour. He fears Mr. O'Brien may succumb to the hardships of prison life, and in the event of his death desires to assume his work in Ireland.

King William is Better.

THE HAGUE Feb. 1.—The condition of the King is much improved.

The Bill Tabled.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The Senate d'Arrondissement Bill was tabled in the Chamber of Deputies to-day.

The Seamen's Strike.

GLASGOW, Feb. 1.—Three thousand seamen and firemen are now on strike here. Only two steamers sailed to-day, and they were manned by officers.

The Moon's Influence

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the toender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling around a man's foot, but goes to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w8d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulcerations, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

Diphtheria

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Very Valuable

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in Gold. Willie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w4d

YOU HAVE CATARRH

If you are suffering from any of the following symptoms:

Do you experience ringing or buzzing noises in your ears?

Is your breath frequently offensive from some unaccountable cause?

Have you a dull, oppressive headache, generally located over the eyes?

Do you have to hawk and cough frequently in the effort to clear your throat?

Are you losing your senses of smell and is your sense of taste becoming dull?

Does your nose always feel stopped up, forcing you to breathe through your mouth?

Do you feel as though you must suffocate when lying down?

Are you troubled with a hacking cough and general debility?

Does your voice have a husky, thick sound and nasal sort of twang?

Do you notice a wheezing or cracking sound in your chest when breathing?

Are you generally short of breath, and do you breathe with labor and difficulty?

Do you frequently feel dizzy, particularly when stooping to pick anything off the floor?

Does every little draught of air and every slight change of temperature give you a cold?

Are you annoyed by a constant desire to hawk and spit out an endless quantity of phlegm?

Is there dull pain in your chest be hind the breast bone, or under your shoulder blade?

Are you always tried and indisposed to exertion, whether of business, work or amusement?

Is great effort required to keep your thoughts fixed upon matters that formerly were easily performed

Do you rise from bed as tired and weak as you were the night before and feel as though you wanted to lie there forever?

Do you find the attempt to dislodge the accumulation result in coughing, hawking and spitting, followed by nausea, and often vomiting, especially in the morning?

Are you troubled with a discharge from the head into the throat, sometimes watery and excessive, sometimes mucous, thick, sticking to whatever it touches, sometimes bloody, and nearly always putrid and offensive?

The above are some of the many symptoms by which Catarrh may be known.

Probably not one case in a hundred will have them all, but every one will show more or less of the symptoms. The more of them you have the more serious your trouble and the more urgent the necessity for a speedy treatment with NASAL BALM and a constant use of it until a complete cure is effected.

NAUSEOUS DROPPINGS. Mr. James G. Tennent, Ottawa says: I am pleased to state that the NASAL BALM has already relieved my catarrh to a very great extent. I have not used one bottle but the nauseous droppings from the head into the throat has almost ceased. I breathe easy now; get better sleep; and all weather feel and appreciate the wonderful virtue of the Balm. Its merits cannot possibly be exaggerated for catarrhal troubles, and as a cure I believe it to be genuine.

A TEN YEAR CASE O. L. Potter, manufacturer of woollen and Malto-ha's Mills, Ont., says:—NASAL BALM completely cured me of a case of catarrh from which I had suffered for over ten years. It can at be too highly recommended, and should be used by everyone troubled with catarrh. It is one of the wonders of science.

UNPLEASANT ODORS E. A. Cardinal, of Montreal, says:—After ineffectually trying many of the so-called remedies for catarrh, I made a trial of NASAL BALM, which gave me instant relief, and since commencing its use I daily note the beneficial changes in it producing after a few application. It changes the unpleasant odor of the virus in the throat and the poisonous secretions over which every breath must pass. To any thus troubled it is a priceless medicine.

SUFFERED SEVERELY. Mr. Thos. Roche, Rochefort, Ontario, says:—I have suffered severely from catarrh, and never got any relief until I used NASAL BALM. I never thought I could find so sure a cure. It is a pity all afflicted with catarrh do not know of and use this wonderful medicine.

STOPPED MY COUGH. Mr. Hadley Down Hansall, Ont., says—Your NASAL BALM has done me more good than all other remedies I ever tried. My case is one of the worst kind but NASAL BALM has helped me from the start. It has stopped my cough and relieved me of all the unpleasant symptoms commencing the disease. I am confident of a thorough cure, and know a number of others in this section who have all been cured of catarrh by NASAL BALM.

CATARRHAL HEADACHE. WM. H. Sharp' Trebone, Man., says:—I am delighted to be in a position to say that NASAL BALM is helping me wonderfully, although I have been using it but a very short time. I speedily cleared out the head and stopped the disagreeable droppings into the throat. For some time I have suffered severely from catarrh headache. NASAL BALM has removed every trace of it. I have every confidence in its completely curing me. I believe all you claim for it: "A Positive Cure for Catarrh. Easy and Pleasant to use." I hope it will soon be for sale in every town and village in Manitoba.

BREATHE EASIER, SLEEP BETTER.

Mary J. Little, of Muscotah, Kansas, says:—I am pleased to say your NASAL BALM has wonderfully helped me, although I have not yet used one bottle. The nauseous droppings from the head into the throat have ceased. I breathe easier, sleep better, and altogether feel a new person. I am glad to offer my testimony for the benefit of others afflicted with catarrh.

EFFECT ON BREATH WONDERFUL.

Miss Addie Howison, of Brockville, Ont., says:—I had catarrh for years, my head was stopped up, I could not breathe through my nostrils. My breath was very impure and consequently so. Nothing I could get gave me any relief until I tried NASAL BALM. From the very first it gave me relief, and in a very short time had removed the accumulations so that I could breathe freely through the nostrils. Its effect on my breath was truly wonderful, purifying and removing every vestige of the unpleasant odor, which has never returned.

A CURE IN THE WORST CASE.

Alex. Burns, Sudbury, Ont., says—I may state that I have been affected with catarrh for seven or eight years, and it was attended by consequent symptoms such as foul breath, constant creeping into the throat, hawking and spitting, partial deafness, ringing in the ears, and alternating pains in the head at one time over either eye. I have used powders and douches, but all to no effect the only result arising from the use of such was temporary relief followed by the usual symptoms in a more aggravated form. The trouble arising from the use of NASAL BALM are: Sweet breath, absence of the dropping into the throat (consequently less hawking and spitting), clearness of hearing, and not once since I began to use have I had pain in the head, in fact it is my opinion that a careful and persistent use of the BALM will effect a cure in the worst case of catarrh.

The Presidential Party "Floored."

The match of the Peterborough gun club, President vs. Vice-President for the stake of a barrel of flour to be presented by the losers to the Protestant Home, was won after a close shoot,—by one bird,—by the vice-presidential squad. The match took place on Riverside park yesterday, and in spite of the cold weather pretty good shooting was made. The winners are poking a good deal of fun at their opponents for not being able to "hit a barrel of flour." The following are the scores:—

A Shocking Accident.

Fatally Injured by an Express Train at Campbellford.

Last night about six o'clock, as the Grand Junction train from Belleville was running into Campbellford, a young farmer named Neil McArthur, while attempting to cross the track, was run into and fatally injured. He was leaving the village on his way home and when nearing the crossing just east of the river noticed the train coming. He whipped up his horses in order to cross ahead of it. The team cleared the track but the engine struck the sleigh and smashed it into kindling wood. McArthur was carried a considerable distance on the pilot before being dropped and was picked up unconscious and bleeding from the nose and ears. He was at once taken into an adjacent house and medical aid summoned, but the internal injuries he received proved fatal. His head was also badly lacerated by the collision. The unfortunate man died about ten o'clock last night.

Police Court.

SATURDAY, Feb, 2.

One hundred and thirteen small loaves of light bread stacked up on the benches at the Police Court this morning furnished incontrovertible evidence against the bakers or whose premises it had been found. Messrs. S. Angleyo and C. Alexander were the only men summoned; as the result of "the charge of the light bread brigade" Friday afternoon. Two others had a few underweight loaves in their possession but it was not thought worth while to prosecute them.

Enough of the bread was weighed to satisfy the Magistrate that it was underweight, but the defendants stated that their foremen had instruction to give full weight and if this had not been done it was not intentional. The Magistrate replied that he believed they were honest enough and did not wilfully attempt to defraud the public, and he would give them the benefit of this belief and relieve them of the heavy fine imposed by law in these cases, simply confiscating the light bread taken.

The bread will be distributed among the poor, twelve loaves going to the Home, twelve to the hospital, two dozen to the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the remainder to be given to needy families about the town. Chairman Hall, of the charity committee, is distributing it to-day.

Ashburnham Brevities.

The pay-sheets for January amounted to $14.

Mr. Will Matthews of the Sawyer Business College, Ottawa, has been appointed Honorary-President of the debating and literary society of that institution.

The ice is being rushed out of Little Lake at a tremendous rate. A great many farmers are laying in a stock, it being a necessity in their dairy operations. Wainwright's ice-house alone will hold over 2p,000 cubic feet, or nearly 200,000 gals. of water.

The annexation question is a popular subject now. If a favorable basis of union is laid down, there is no doubt that a large majority of the ratepayers would favor annexation. But just what advantages would come to Ashburnham seems somewhat hazy in the minds of many people. The general feeling, however, seems to be that annexation cannot be a very bad thing as Peterborough is a very respectable place and the residents of this burg would not feel ashamed of having it as a partner on favorable terms.

What is Occurring Among the Curling Fraternity—Playing Off for the Medal.

Yesterday afternoon the Peterborough Curling Club played a point game in the preliminary competition for the Governor-General's cup. It will be remembered that last year the Peterborough club headed the list in this province, and finally won the trophy in competition with the Truro, N.S., club. This year Peterborough will be out of the contest. Their scoring yesterday was very low, on account of the poor quality of the ice which was full of twists and very uncertain. The game had to be played off, however, as that was the date set down for it. Last year their average was 21½, this year it is only 11. Lindsay will likely represent Ontario at Ottawa this year, their score (which is published elsewhere) being 124. The Peterborough curlers say that had they counted the way the Lindsay men did their average would have been about 15. Mr. H. M. Allen, of the Orillia club, acted as umpire, and he was very strict in his decisions. The home curlers were not allowed any latitude and all their points were won on their merits. Following are the scores:—

J. H. Connell, 15,	S. Clegg	13,	C. McGill	13,	Geo. Walker	11,	W. G. Ferguson	10. T.	Rutherford	10,
J. B. Pentland	8,	T. P. Attrill	8;	total,	85;	average,	11.

While at Peterborough on Tuesday, the Post says, the Lindsay rinks played off the point competition for the Governor-General's cup. Lindsay rinks have carried off the trophy on two occasions, and the chances are favorable for doing so again, as the united score made Tuesday was 103 points—giving the high average of 12¾ points to each player. Following are the individual scores made:—

J. W. Wallace, 17; J. D. Flavelle, 16; Wm. McLennan, 15; C. Cornell, 13; E. Knowlson, 12; J. G. Edwards, 11; J. McMillan, 10; J. Bucknell, 9.

It seems that Bobcaygeon curlers are not to enjoy their honors undisturbed. The Independent says:—The Club is greatly tickled over winning the group tournament. A very lame protest has been entered by Campbellford, on the grounds that they did not play Keene; they were drawn with Keene and when time arrived some of their men were absent. One rink being present, Keene played and beat it, though Keene was clearly entitled to claim the match by default, without playing the single rink. In these contests umpires should strictly enforce the rule of time or default. As it was, Bobcaygeon was kept a day longer than was really necessary. Campbellford has not the shadow of a ghost of a show for protest.

Lindsay curlers are sore over their defeat by Whitby, and thus speak out through the Post:—"It is but right to explain the circumstances that led to Lindsay's defeat. The Whitby club came on the ice one player short, and Skip Flavelle kindly allowed them to borrow one of Peterborough's best players to complete rinks, although not constrained to do so by the rules of the game. Next the Whitbyites complained that their stones were to new for the ice and Skip Flavelle magnanimously allowed them to borrow from the Peterborough players. These acts of courtesy would have been appreciated at their proper value by most clubs, as they are unusual in competitions of this character. Very good. Notice how the Whitbyites took them to their bosoms. One of the Lindsay men, somewhat excited perhaps by the closeness of the contest, played but one stone, but the omission was noticed almost immediately. To the surprise of the Lindsay men, however, their opponents refused to allow the second stone to be played, alleging that to do so would be contrary to the rules governing the game—rules ignored twice by the Lindsay men in their opponent's favor. By this brilliant bit of diplomacy—or chicanery—did Whitby win." The Peterborough player referred to was W. F. Hamilton. Willie will be pleased to learn that he is ranked among "the best of 'em."

In Masonic Circles.

Interesting Commemoration of Peterborough Lodge No. 155—Fraternal Visit by the Bowmanville Brethren—Midland Chapter Installation.

There was a large turn-out of Masons at the Masonic Hall on Friday evening, on the occasion of the second regular communication of Peterborough Lodge No. 155 under the new and proficient officers for 1889. In addition to the extra work indicated by the summons, much interest was manifested in the expected visit of prominent members of the fraternity from the land of Bowmanville—a land flowing with music and Masons. The contingent arrived on the 9 o'clock G. T.R., and were received at the station by R. Wor. Bro. B. Shortly and W. Bro. W. Thompson, who escorted them to the Masonic Hall. They registered as follows:—Thos. H. Spry, W. M.; W. McKay, P. M.; W. McArthur, P.M.; E. R. Brunsell, P. M.; T. Fitzgerald, D. B. Fogg, Henry Metcalf, F Rogers, John Kechie, Frances Mason and Joseph Patterson, all of Jerusalem Lodge, Bowmanville. The brethren had just arrived in time to witness the work in the 3°, and on their entrance into the Lodge Wor. Bro. Spence allotted them seats according to their respective rank. After the business of the evening was closed, a number of the visitors, who form part of a glee club, favored the brethren with several beautiful solos and duets, which were given in admirable voice and style, Bros. Keshie, Brunsell and Rogers displaying exceptionally good musical talent and training. Several of the visiting brethren spoke in complimentary terms of the reception they had received from the Peterborough brethren, and dwelt upon the advanced state of Masonry which they had seen evinced during the evening. The lodge then closed down and adjourned to the refreshment room where the tables were spread for supper. Additional speeches and music followed, mingled with general fraternizing for an hour, after which the pleasant company broke up, highly delighted with their evening's experience.

A Rig away.

Last night a farmer's team ran away on Hunter street near the Ashburnham bridge, colliding with and upsetting a cutter in which were two ladies, and starting off a couple of other horses. Fortunately no one was injured and the runaway terminated without much damage being done.

A Successful Operation.

We have seen a letter received to-day from Mr. William Telfard, giving an encouraging account of his resignation in anticipation of the trying operation before him on his eye. Appended to the letter is the following:

TORONTO, Feb. 1st, 1889.

The operation has been satisfactorily performed to-day.

A Pertinent Question.

What is the meaning of that streamer across George street? Evening with Rev. G. W. Dewey! The many friends who were looking forward to the pleasure of hearing Mr. Dewey in his song service and address will be glad to hear that he is better and will be in the opera house next Thursday evening, Feb. 7th. Admission, 10 cents; children, 5 cents. 8 o'clock.

New Music Rooms.

The EXAMINER called at the new music rooms of Mr. W. H. Dingle, 372 Water street, this morning and found everything comfortably and pleasantly arranged for the reception of pupils. The rooms being so centrally located easy of access from all parts of the town. Mr. Dingle's classes will no doubt appreciate the convenience.

Entertained the Choir.

According to their annual custom Dr. and Mrs. Fife entertained the choir of the George street Methodist church and their friends, Friday evening. Tea was served by the hospitable hostess, and afterwards the evening was spent in social enjoyment. An impromptu entertainment was gotten up consisting of songs, recitations, etc., from the talented members of the choir. Before breaking up a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. and Mrs. Fife for their kindness.

A Coming Opera.

The New American Opera Company was organized after and partially out of the financial failure of the National Opera Company, there has been a limit to the expectations of the American Opera Company, the idea being that it would be so hedged by ideas of economy that the artistic excellence of the National Opera Company would be lost. Mr. Hinrichs, the manager and proprietor of the new organization, has not, however, allowed any considerations of this character to interfere with the attainment of an artistic success. He has collected an exceptionally strong company, in individuals and chorus, has costumed it magnificently and set the stage handsomely. This great company will appear at the opera house February 11th in Vincent Wallace's grand opera "Maritana." A large orchestra, chorus and ballet accompany this great organization. 1d

A Boundary Bridge Matter.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., this morning waited on the Road and Bridge Committee of the County Council, and called their attention to the petition presented by Dr. Willoughby to the Ontario Legislature on Wednesday last: "asking that the Bridge over the river Trent, known as the Narrows Bridge, be made a county boundary Bridge between Northumberland and Peterborough." Mr. Blezzard had also communicated with the county clerk on the matter, and Mr. Stratton suggested the advisability of appointing a deputation of members of the County Council conversant with the circumstances of the grants made (without prejudice) by this Council, to the said bridge, to proceed to Toronto, in case Mr. Stratton advised them that the course of legislation or action on the subject of the above petition made the presence of the deputation necessary or desirable. At the same meeting the Committee also decided to ask for tenders for a new iron bridge at Burleigh.

Frederic Villiers.

The amusement-loving people of Peterborough will be delighted to learn that Mr. T. E. Bradburn has made arrangements for the appearance in the Opera House on Thursday evening, February 21st, of Mr. Frederic Villiers, the brilliant war correspondent of the London Graphic, in a lecture illustrated by the great artist himself by sketches made on the spot of scenes witnessed by him. Mr. Villiers has a world-wide reputation, both as a war correspondent of the greatest dash and brilliancy and as a lecturer whose entertainments have won the highest praise of military men and the press of Great Britain and America. Mr. Villiers has seen war in Europe, Asia and Africa, and has been present on many memorable battle fields, and has seen many moving incidents by land and sea. Among other exploits he was with Lord Charles Beresford—"Lord Charley"—at the bombardment of Alexandria. He is not of that class of war correspondents who have never smelt powder, for he has been made to sneeze and choke with powder at Plevna, in Afghan, in the Desert, and in the death-dealing "little square" by Metemneh. And Villiers has, in times of peace, banquetted with the two Czars, as he has hobnobbed with wild Maories. It is worth hearing a man lecture who has had such a knocking-about, and can tell his story so well. He tells his story with a great deal of point and humour, and, as becomes an artist, illustrates his incidents with sketches made on the spot and shown on a screen by means of a magic lantern. The sketches have been photographed on glass, and are a great help to the word pictures, clear and graphic though these are. Nobody should miss the great treat involved in Mr. Villiers illustrated lecture. The Opera House should be crowded on Feb. 21st., not only for the enjoyment of a magnificent intellectual and artistic treat, but in recognition of Mr. Bradburn's enterprise in bringing within reach of the people of the town a gentleman who has created a furore wherever he has appeared in Europe and Canada.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

New Dressmaker AT TURNBULL'S

For the last two months we have been looking for a First-Class Dress-Maker to take charge of our Dress-making Department and have been making enquiry from the Principal Wholesale Dress-goods houses who are familiar through their travellers with all the leading dress-makers in Canada. As those who know Miss Mugridge say she has a natural taste for Dress-making and loves her business we expect to find her a great addition to our already extensive Dress department.

Dresses cut and fitted on short notice for those wishing to go home on early trains.

THE SOCIAL CAPITAL

A BATCH OF INTERESTING GOSSIP FROM OTTAWA.

The Governor-General's Drawing Room—Its Democratic Side and its Exclusive Points—Where the Grapevine Twineth.

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—The political atmosphere of the Capital has given way this evening to the social side. The weather throughout the day and this evening was clear, invigorating and crisp, with the most elegant sleighing imaginable. The skating and tobogganing party at the Rideau Hall grounds this afternoon was largely attended by visitors to the Capital. The event of this evening of course was the drawing room held in the Senate Chamber by Lord and Lady Stanley of Preston. This was the first public drawing room held by Their Excellencies, and of course there was a great collection in the Red Chamber. Everybody that considered themselves anybody at all were there. There was music by the band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards. The scene inside the Chamber was a brilliant one, and the number of presentations probably exceeded those of many recent years. This is accounted for by several reasons: The novelty of the Vice-Regal party to many persons who are now here; the eternal fitness of the weather to take a drive through the streets as the Parliament Buildings; the knowledge that Their Excellencies would be right glad to receive all who might call on them.

This drawing room, as it is called, is always looked upon as the first social event of the season. To be sure there is a state dinner the night that Parliament opens; the Speaker also generally gives a little "blow-out," and various other social gatherings are held. But the state dinner has its limits somewhat narrow, and the other social gatherings of the day are circumscribed by personal friendships. But the drawing room is, like the best event at a well-regulated trotting meeting, free to all, to those who care about putting on a claw-hammer coat, a white tie, a rose and investing in a pair of white kids. That is about the outfit of the gallant. But with the ladies it becomes a more serious affair, as they have to set about their wits to see what they can invest their persons with that will cost them off to advantage and call for masculine praise, to say nothing of the approval of the mirror and the general on-looker.

The drawing-room is divided into different grades of precedents. First come "the cabinet ministers and those gentlemen who have the private entree, together with their wives and daughters." Then the "senators and their wives and daughters." Next members of the House of Commons and their wives and daughters. And lastly, "others than those mentioned;" that is, the great general and long-suffering public, the vox populi, the tail-enders, the gentlemen of the press and the other man who has the aforesaid outfit for an evening dress. All of these grades of the assembly as the drawing-room have different entrances to the Senate Wing, and you must be careful not to attempt to go in by a door through which you should not pass, for if you do you will be ordered to halt by a burly member of Commissioner Sherwood's Dominion Police Force. Mr. and Mrs. Vox Populi are admitted by an entrance on either side of which is a great red light, a danger signal in fact, which is visible to the most confirmed sufferer from color blindness.

The mysterious elements in these grades to me are the ladies and gentlemen of the first class described as those "having the private entree." However, all things considered, the drawing-room is an elegant affair and has its democratic sides as well as its aristocratic points.

The dresses of the ladies, who included all of those who attended the opening on Thursday, were fully commented upon for their richness of color, material and construction, decollete, of course, being largely in the ascendency. The lady visitors at the Capital from points east of Ottawa far outnumbered those from the west. Toronto is scarcely represented.

Adam Brown of Hamilton intends to extend the scope of his "frauds on farmers committee" in a new direction. The grape vine fraud has been practised extensively in the Niagara district and the other parts of Western Ontario where the grape flourishes. Some time ago an American firm sold thousands of dollars worth of a "patent vine" at $1.50 each on outrageously false pretenses. It was claimed that the grape of this vine possessed a commercial value far ahead of anything heard of in Canada before. The fruit would keep long after picking and the wood that was cut from the vines, the American firm stipulated, should be returned to them. The sale of the vine was hedged around with a wordy and voluminous contract, something like the hayfork scheme, and after the buyer had signed it he found that he had promised to pay $1.50 for a vine that was not worth more than 10 or 20 cents, a very ordinary vine indeed. Then the Customs officers dropped on to the racket. The vines were entered at a value of 10 cents and were sold for $1.50. The officers made large seizures in the vineyards of the purchasers, and a large amount of additional duty was collected. The representatives of the fraudulent firm are now endeavoring to collect the unpaid portions of the contract money, and the vine men are resisting them with a vengeance. They want to go before Mr. Brown's committee and tell how they were victimized. Rural sufferers from the shoddy fakire also want to put in some testimony about the operations of this class of swindlers, and it is likely that Mr. Brown will be asked to hear them. It is said the headquarters of the suppliers of shoddy outfits are in Toronto.

The Cabinet had a lengthy session this afternoon, extending until 6 o'clock in the evening. The estimates, it is understood, were under consideration. It is rumored that the Cabinet is seriously considering the question of practical economy in the various branches of the public service. A large number of "extras" have been cut off and more will follow.

Personal Prattle.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—Sir John Macdonald promised yesterday afternoon to open the toboggan slide of the Ashbeck Club, of which he is a patron, on Friday evening next.

Dr. Ferguson, M.P., and family arrived this morning from Toronto.

The Governor-General and party leave for the Montreal carnival to-morrow.

There is illness in Speaker Ouimet's family and he went to Montreal yesterday morning.

Mr. Lister, M.P., Lambton, also arrived last evening. Nearly all the members are now here.

The marriage of Major Cotton, superintendent of the Northwest Mounted Police, and Miss White, daughter of the late Minister of the Interior, has been fixed for Feb. 19, in this city. Ever since the death of her lamented husband a year ago Mrs. White and herfamily have been living quietly at the Capital.

Mme. Albani, during her visit to the Capital next week, will be the guest of Lady Macdonald at "Earnscliffe."

Sir Richard Cartwright has arrived in the city and put in an appearance in the Library, his favorite visiting place, last evening.

One of the most distinguished visitors to the drawing room last evening was Capt. John Herbert Beasy of Toronto.

Mr. S. Nordheimer is in town in connection, it is said, with the establishment of a private banking house. However, I cannot vouch for this.

Mr. Charles E. Wolff, D.L.S., son of the late Dr. James F. Wolff and brother of J. A. Wolff, Inspector of Customs of Montreal, died here this evening in the 42nd year of his age.

Ex-Mayor James E. Smith of Toronto arrived in the Capital this evening from Montreal. His worship intended to go out to Ironsides to-day to visit his old friend, Alonzo Wright, M.P., "the King of the Gatineau," but he found the weather too utterly utter for the drive. The thermometer is away below zero. It is said that the King has hung up in his cellar a wild turkey of the vintage of 1868 which he has been seasoning for the palate of Mr. Smith and other visitors. The chances are that the turkey will adorn the King's table to-morrow.

THE FLETCHER CASE.

IN WHICH A TORONTO MAN WANTS BIG MONEY.

For Alienation of His Wife's Affections—New License Commissioners—C. P. R. Detroit Extension Contracts Let.

TORONTO, Feb. 4.—Edward Fletcher, the American railway man arrested in Toronto on a capias on Thursday morning at the Rossin House, charged with alienating the affections of the wife of William M. Rice, commercial traveler of Toronto, is making a vigorous fight for liberty, through his lawyer, Mr. James Tilt, Q.C. Fletcher is held on a capias for $20,000 damages. Mr. Justice McMahon fixed bail on Thursday at $10,000, but the incarcerated railway man finds it impossible thus far to procure bondsmen in a strange land. Saturday before Mr. Justice McMahon at Osgoode Hall Mr. Tilt made application for the release of Fletcher from jail, putting in the affidavits of the defendant and the wife of the plaintiff to show that the alleged clandestine relations had only existed in imagination, and that the interviews were on business matters. Judgment was reserved.

The appointment of these license commissioners is announced:

Mr. John H. Rogers, the genial husband and manager of Minnie Palmer, is a man of spunk and independence. The company came here a week ago from Detroit by the C. P. R. and they purposed leaving by the 12.20 G. T. R. train yesterday for Pittsburg. But, as Mr. Rogers claimed, the Grand Trunk people refused to give the company of 14 people the usual theatrical rates because they had patronized the C. P. R. in coming here. This to Pittsburg means 90 cents each, or $12.60. So Mr. Rogers went to the C. P. R. and paid them $126 for a special train.

Contracts for the construction of the greater part of the Canadian Pacific Railway between London and Windsor have been awarded and the balance will be let to-day. Over forty tenders were secured for the work, from large and small contractors. The largest contract given was for 30 miles. It extends from Windsor a short distance east of Chatham. Angus Sinclair of Chatham and William Dogheny of Montreal, were the successful competitors for this work. Ten miles east of the Sinclair-Dogheny contract were given to William Brown of Chatham, and another section of ten miles further east, was awarded to Messrs. Hickson and Hutchinson of St. Catharines. The prices obtained are said to be very good. The heaviest part of the work west of London will be constructed by the Canadian Pacific Company itself, and it will alone make many of the heaviest cuttings on the line.

At Saturday's meeting of the Toronto Teachers' Association Inspector Hughes presided. The object of the meeting was to consider the question of extending an invitation to the National Educational Association of the United States to hold their annual convention in Toronto next year. A resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that the Toronto Association heartily invites its co-workers on the other side and will do its utmost to secure the co-operation of the City Council, Ontario Legislature and other influential bodies in furthering the matter. The convention will be held in July.

At the Police Court on Saturday Richard Cole, an elderly man, was charged with bigamy. He was arrested at 29 James-street on Friday night on an information charging him with having on Jan. 4, 1886, at St. John's, Quebec, married Christina S. Chambers, his wife being living. The prisoner, who is a pensioner, was remanded till Friday next.

John H. Sams, on application of Mr. W. G. Murdoch, was released from the county jail by Judge Street on Saturday, from the number of captases under which he has been held for over a year.

Defaulter Moore in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—Moore, the Indianapolis defaulter, is in a private boarding house in the east end of the city. Detective Kellert and his assistants are watching all the houses in the part of the town in which it is believed Moore is located. He cannot possibly escape. A gentleman who evidently has some business with Moore arrived here yesterday, but refuses to tell his name. A woman, supposed to be Moore's daughter, accompanies him. The insurance company, so far as can be learned, has done nothing toward running down Moore. They have not opened communication with the Montreal police or detectives.

THE CARS RUNNING.

Many of the New York Street-car Strikers Asking for Their Old Places.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Patrick Duffy, a striker, and some friends boarded a 42nd-street car to-day and assaulted the conductor. The police were on hand and drove the assailants off with their clubs. The Broadway company to-day took back eleven of its old hands.

A Belt Line car this afternoon passed over the entire road. The policemen in the car were kissed. Three truck-loads of policemen who attended the car to remove obstructions were attacked between 52nd and 53rd-streets by 2000 men and boys, who threw bottles and stones. The police scattered the mob. Policemen also dispersed a crowd in front of the 2nd-avenue stables.

The 40 cars of the 6th-avenue line are now running on schedule time this afternoon without trouble and some cars are now operated without police. It is reported that the whole strike will be off by Monday, many strikers being willing to return to work. Many old men are applying for work. Some of the men declare that a great mistake has been made by the managers of the lockout.

The 8th and 9th-avenue lines have not made a move as yet. The 8th-avenue line may begin operations Monday.

A Sunday Outbreak.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Matters were practically at a standstill in the Brooklyn strike on the surface roads to-day. No cars were run as it was believed the regular Sunday loungers might interfere. Cars will be run to-morrow on Deacon Richardson's lines on 6 minutes' headway.

BISMARCK'S DECLINE.

THE MAN OF BLOOD AND IRON LOSING HIS GRIP.

The Chancellor's Star on the Wane—Anxiety at Berlin Over the Succession to the Austrian Throne.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—Since yesterday morning Emperor William has had two long interviews with Prince Bismarck, who has been in constant communication with the German ambassador at Vienna and Count Kalnoky, the subject of the correspondence being it is reported the succession to the Austrian throne. The removal of Prince Rudolph is regarded by official circles here as a misfortune for the alliance. Rudolph, although he recently quarrelled with Emperor William and was no special admirer of Bismarck, upheld the alliance as a political necessity. He regarded the Anglo-German treaty as the grandest achievement of Austrian statesmen for many years. With the legitimate successor, Karl Ludwig, out of the latter's son Franz, in whose favor Ludwig abdicated, inclins to anti-German policy, favoring rather an entente with Russia. Ludwig has been a frequent visitor to the court of the Czar, toward whom he entertains a feeling of strong personal friendship, while Franz is credited with even stronger Russophile sentiments. Their near approach to the throne gives the Government here cause for anxiety. The opinion in official circles is that Bismarck will seize the earliest opportunity to obtain through Emperor Francis Joseph a definite assurance of how the heir-presumptive regards the alliance.

Prince Bismarck's feud with the ultra-Conservatives threatens to alienate a number of hitherto ardent supporters. Search has been ordered of the offices of The Kreus Zeitung and the house of its editor for the manuscrip of an article attacking the Chancellor's conduct of the Gaffiken enquiry. This order is condemned even in The Cologne Gazette as an offence against the liberty of the press. The Kreus Zeitung charges that Bismarck has injured the monarchial sentiment by the Gaffiken process. The Reichsbote supports the Kreus Zeitung. These and other symptoms disclose the decided growth and strength of the Anti-Bismarck party.

Reunions at the residence of Count von Waldersee unite the partisans of the ex-Empress and the ultra-Conservatives, whose common aim is to weaken Bismarck's influence. Count Eulleneburg, Dr. Stoecker and Herr Koegel appear at these reunions. Count Moscowitz also appears as the representative of the ex-Empress.

The Chancellor's enemies declare that his reign is nearing its close. They assert that besides his physical ailments, which render him incapable of governing, his domestic finances, all-potent with the Emperor, is fast weakening Bismarck's hold and that the Empress, who is a close friend of Countess von Waldersee, sympathizes with the opponents of the Chancellor, Empress Augusta also blaming his action as exposing to the world family scandals. The impression of the diplomatic circle is that though Bismarck's power over the Emperor is lessening his position will remain secure until he retires, but that the successor of Count Herbert is doubtful.

All the Berlin and Frankfort banks are prosperous and bank shares are booming. The Bourse Zeitung gives figures showing the rapid growth of the banks' business since 1886 and proves that the dividends paid in 1888 were in some instances double those of 1886 although the capital has been increased sixfold. A report presented to the Landtag on personal taxation for 1888 discloses that the richest Prussian contributor is in the Dusseldorf circle. The person referred to is undoubtedly Krupp, whose annual revenue is 4,800,000 marks. In the Wiesbaden circle the largest contributor is obviously Rothschild, who admits an income of 4,060,000 marks.

BISMARCK AND BAYARD.

The United States Secretary of State Talks About Samoan Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Secretary Bayard said to-day that he regarded the action of the Australian authorities on the Samoan question as very important, as it indicated that the people of that colony regarded the situation much in the same light as the American people do, and we are not disposed to look favorably upon foreign encroachments in their vicinity. The Secretary said he had not yet received the proposition from Bismarck for a conference regarding Samoan affairs, but thought it would arrive in a few days. He stated that Bismarck's instructions to the German consul at Samoa to withdraw his demand for control of the Islands reached the German minister here before Minister Pendleton at Berlin received Mr. Bayard's telegram, saying the United States would not recognize the martial law declared by the German consul.

Why England is Said to be Glad.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Lord Salisbury had a long interview yesterday with the German ambassador, it is believed about Samoa and contemporary subjects. England is glad that America has protested and that Bismarck has backed down.

The Feeling in Berlin.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The announcement that Bismarck has ordered the expulsion of foreigners from martial law in Samoa and has instructed the German Consul to withdraw from control of the administration has elicited only partial approval in the press. Government journals insist upon the necessity of reprisals for Matzafa's attack on the Germans.

A SCORCHER AT BUFFALO.

Immense Damage Caused by Saturday's Fire—The Losses and Insurance.

BUFFALO, Feb. 3.—Not since the Indians burned the town has Buffalo been so badly scorched as it was yesterday morning, when the best part of the block bounded on three sides by Seneca, Wells and Exchange-streets went heavenward in flame and smoke.

The insurance companies a year ago yesterday were called upon for a million to repay Barnes, Hengerer & Co., C. J. Hamlin and others for losses sustained, and on the first day of the second month of the glad New Year they lost all the premiums expected for the twelvemonth. As a result the companies have had to charge up all the losses in Buffalo since to their profit and loss accounts. Now they have pawned off their premiums as ruing up to Feb. 1, 1892, and the loss to them is a serious matter. The agents talked with are afraid that some of the best companies would now feel compelled to take up their agencies. When a company like the Home of New York loses $25,000 in a day it strikes hard, no matter what their surplus may be.

The loss by this fire will probably not run over $2,000,000, and it may be considerably less. It was found impossible to get a perfect list, but that obtained indicates not a great deal over a million and a half. The insurance agents talked with thought the loss to their companies might be $2,000,000 and to the property owners, $2,200,000. It may be that they are right, but the figures in hand do not indicate it. In some cases no figures could be obtained, and in others those given were possibly too high, but when the round-up comes the prediction is made that $1,800,000 will come near footing the bill.

A Big Contract.

MONTREAL, Feb. 2.—James Ross, who built some of the most difficult sections of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, has contracted with the Chilian Government to construct 700 miles of railway, involving an outlay of $22,000,000.

CHILDREN'S ANNIVERSARY

Annual Services of the Charlotte Street Sunday School.

Sermons by Rev. S. J. Shorey and a Temperance Talk by Mr. John R. Clarke—Take Whiskey Away From Man if Man Can't be Got Away From Whiskey.

The anniversary services of the Charlotte street Methodist Sunday school were begun Sunday and will be continued Monday and Tuesday evenings. On Sunday the sermons were preached by Rev. S. J Shorey, and admirable ones they were, Rev. John R. Clarke lecturing in the afternoon. The attendance at all the services was good.

In the morning the children of the school occupied the middle seats and throughout the sermon paid good attention. The text was from Proverbs xxii, 6:—

Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it.

The Proverbs of Solomon, the speaker pointed out, were not intended to be accepted as infallible truths but rather as general principles or rules laid down upon a broad basis for the guidance of man. In the text the inference was not that it was impossible for a child correctly trained to go astray, but that the general results of proper training of children would bear out the assertion made in this passage. Training should be given a child by practice as well as precept, and the preacher pointed out the force of parental example upon children. "The way he should go," mentioned in the text, was the way in which it was intended by God a child should go, and was the only safe and profitable path to follow. The reverend gentleman, referring to the assertion that "when he is old he will not depart from them," expressed his faith in the restraining influence of the Sabbath school and Christian associations upon young people. There would be no fear of children departing from the way in which they were directed when young if they are kept surrounded by the same moral and loving atmosphere.

Afternoon Meeting.

In the afternoon at 2.30 o'clock an open meeting of the Sunday school was held. There was a large attendance, the church being crowded with the parents and friends of the pupils, many of whom were no doubt attracted by the announcement that the celebrated lecturer, John R. Clarke, would deliver his famous address upon "Moral Heroism in the Temperance and other Reforms." A silver collection was taken as the door. The school children again occupied the middle seats, and a large and imposing looking assemblage they formed.

Rev. S. J. Shorey opened the meeting and was assisted by Mr. D. C. Rowse, superintendent. Mr. Rowse stated that on the first Sunday of the new year the school of the Charlotte street church had stood up in a body and by that act solemnly pledged themselves individually and collectively to never touch or taste intoxicating liquor. The prohibition plank was one of the strongest in the school government, and he asked the parents of the pupils to help them in maintaining their vows.

Before the lecture a class of 26 boys and girls, under the direction of Sergt. Major Randle, gave a recitative chorus, each one reciting a line of verse, the others repeating in unison, after which the pupil would finish the quotation alone. The sentiments uttered were all on the line of temperance, and the general effect was interesting. The children performed their parts without a hitch, and without requiring any prompting.

Mr. John R. Clarke was then introduced. After complimenting the children upon the happy and perfect manner in which they had just given the recitations, which he said he did not know of ever having seen done better before, he remarked that he had a high sense of the proprieties of the Sabbath day, and ideas as to the day's observance. The congregation should not therefore expect much from him in the way of entertainment; he proposed to give them a straight temperance discourse.

It would be impossible to do the speaker justice by a condensed report, yet that is all the EXAMINER is able to give. The address was pungent and replete with many fine expressions and beautiful metaphors. His ornate eloquence held the people's delighted attention for over an hour and a half while they listened to a powerful appeal in behalf of temperance, that stirred the sympathies while it pleased the fancies. Streaks of that humor which is seems impossible to suppress in him, appeared throughout Mr. Clarke's discourse and lent it an additional charm. But the capabilities of John R. Clarke as an orator and are already well known in Peterborough. The following synopsis of his remarks by no means does him justice; we could not attempt to reproduce the elegancy of his diction and the flowery embellishments of his finely expressed thoughts in this abbreviated report.

The temperance question, he said, was an important and timely one for him to speak upon, for outside of the theme of salvation there was nothing grown out of Christianity so potent as the temperance cause. What was the main motive of this movement? To engender a mortal hatred of intoxicants? Yes, a good motive that, truly; but if that were all, it would be cowardly. And if the only motive was to excite hatred of the gin-mill and distillery because they had done harm to some of us, it would be sinister. The great motive that prompted the temperance reform movement was that the liquor traffic was a sin against God and a wrong against man. The traffic was a law breaker, and it was because of this that those assembled were opposed to a thing that was diametrically antagonistic to the Sunday school. The temperance reform he likened to a grand monument in the city of Detroit upon which the sculptor had brought out the distinctive features that had been the motives of that great war that had sullied the southern horizon a few years ago, and of which the monument was intended to be a memorial. These characteristics all entered into the temperance cause; moral, political, social, philanthropical and other motives that were working together to kill the liquor traffic. Passing on to the subject of his address, "The Moral Heroism of Temperance and other reforms," he defined "moral heroism" as being born of God—it was not courageous audacity, or the unblushing effrontery exhibited by the man of Damascus who persecuted the Christians with terrible rigor; but rather the spirit that enabled him when struck blind and humbled to the dust to offer himself wholly up to God. That was the dawning of the moral heroism that shone out through all his after life. This same force was working throughout the world to-day. Heathens and pagans had become eloquently philippic against the liquor traffic. Old Seneca said "It was madness to get drunk." George Fox declared that whiskey was "liquid calamity," and he could not have found in all the vocabulary a more definite or accurate phrase. Loch at its calamitous workings on the streets of Peterborough to-day in spite of the Scott Act. Many others similar sayings of eminent men of all denominations were quoted. John Wesley said many pungent things against the traffic, yet some Methodist of to-day like to hold the thing in one hand and their church in the other, thereby becoming

A HUMAN PARADOX.

For shame, he cried; come out for abstinence and be Methodists. The Baptists had in Robert Hall a prohibition advocate one hundred years ago, and the Congregationalists old Lyman Beecher, who, horrified when a bill for $40 was presented at a church meeting "for ministerial and ordination whiskey," suggested that the name be changed to "maximum hilarity," which was done. Thank God, a change had come over the spirit of the scene since those days, and now no more whiskey was publicly bought for church purposes. The Congregationalists had also Governor St. John and John B. Gough; the Presbyterians, Rev. T. De Witt Talmage and Theodore Cuyler. In the old and highly Episcopal Church of England the heroic and philosophical Archdeacon Farrar. The Roman Catholics could not be left out of the field, for there was Cardinal Matthews in Ireland and Cardinal Manning in London, strong advocates of total abstinence. But, best of all, they had God and the Bible on the side of prohibition. The prohibition movement got its inspiration from that good book which is the common doctrine and exponent of it. This was denied by some—those who could stand with folded arms and refuse to believe the Bible itself. This class of men the speaker dubbed "agnostics," as more suitable than the term agnostic. They try to say that the temperance people have no right to bring the Bible into their movement, because, they claimed, the Bible did not enjoin prohibition. A renowned infidel had once said to the speaker (Mr. Clarke):—"You are no theologian, and how can you consult the Bible in temperance matters?" Mr. Clarke replied that he did so for the same reason that the infidel (who was also a lawyer) said he consulted his Blackstone—because he was a common authority on common law. To myself, the speaker said, the Bible is the common authority. It was the Book that contained the moral code, the golden rule of equity; and it was an indispensable book in the world because it contained accounts of moral heroism and is the common inspiration of it along the line of temperance reform. It was said the Bible did not define the liquor traffic among the other vices it prohibited. To this he would reply that the Bible said "Thou shalt not" to all that was wrong and sinful, and if it could not be proved that the Bible condemned the making, selling and drinking of spirituous liquors, he would take back all he had uttered. There were in the world to-day 87,000 pulpits devoted to clearly defining this prohibitive measure, as a result of the acceptance of Biblical doctrines.

THIS SPIRIT OF MORAL HEROISM

was shown by the Covenanters of bonnie Scotland, the Huguenots of France, the Waldenses of Switzerland, the Quakers, the Lutherans; in the Washingtonian movement at Baltimore, in the Methodist movement of Oxford—all these exhibited moral heroism that triumphed over every foe.

To workers on the temperance line he would say, it is ten thousand times better to take whiskey away from the man than to call in taking man away from whiskey. Moral suasion alone would not do it; it was merely the flash of lightning, while prohibition was the thunderbolt that would strike death to that diabolicum fabrio, the liquor traffic. Speaking directly to the children, he drew a comparison between saving banks and hotels. The former were places where savings were deposited; the latter he defined as "losing banks," where were invested losses of time, character and money, the common dividends being redness of eyes, foulness of breath, remorse of conscience and bitterness of reflection, while to old depositors an extra dividend was sometimes given in the shape of delirium tremens. As instances of moral heroism, the speaker recounted the reformations of several persons, among them Ben Hogan, a Pennsylvania prize fighter, who was to day doing a grand work on the line of gospel temperance. Another case was that of a polished but dissipated young man of position who was brought to his senses by a little beggar girl. She approached him and asked alms, saying she had had nothing to eat that day. The young man, who had just finished a "spree," replied that he had had nothing to eat for three days. The little girl could scarcely understand it, but her sympathies went out to him, and turning to him she offered him the only nickel she had, saying he must need it worse than herself. This simple act touched his heart and taking the girl in charge he collected $30 from his friends for her and sent her home happy. This was the direct means of his reformation, and to-day he was doing a grand work for the temperance cause. Mr. Clarke referred in eulogistic terms to the noble efforts of that magnificent organization, the W.C.T.U., and the moral heroism of the good women connected with it. There was, he said, no stronger or more potent galaxy of consecrated women on the continent than the W.C.T.U. His own reformation, the speaker said, had been brought about by one of these women during his life as an actor, and he gave an interesting account of his experience while shaking off the appetite for liquor. In conclusion he made an earnest appeal to children to be true to there total abstinence vows and help rid the earth of this its greatest curse, the liquor traffic. To-night Mr. Clarke delivers his famous lecture upon "Gough in Humor and Eloquence."

MUNCASTER'S

WAS RUDOLPH MURDERED.

The Whole Story Not Yet Known—Another Sensation Comes to Light.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The Austrian officials have finally decided to father a report stating that Crown Prince Rudolph committed suicide in a moment of insanity. This statement is absolutely official and no other story of the prince's death will ever be permitted to obtain publication in Vienna.

Nevertheless, there is no doubt that the whole story of the tragedy has not been told, neither is there any doubt that the representations of the great grief of Archduchess Stephanie are very much exaggerated. A great many persons believe that Rudolph was murdered by some jealous or injured enemy, and dark hints of vengeance upon the murderer are becoming common.

AND NOW IT'WAS A DUEL.

In Which the Austrian Crown Prince Was Slain by an Injured Husband.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A Berlin special to The Evening Sun says: Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria was killed in a duel Tuesday by Count Franz Clam Gallas. The Prince's witnesses were Count Hoyos and Prince Coburg, his brother-in-law. The Count's witnesses were Prince Ferdinand Kinsky and another nobleman. The duel was fought at 4 p.m. in a little wood near Baden. The Prince was wounded and transported to the nearest castle, Meyerling. He died late in the evening, just at the hour when his coming was anxiously awaited at a state dinner in the Hofburg.

The Prince had been paying attentions to the Countess Clam Gallas, nee Hoyos, for six months. It is claimed that recently while on a shooting excursion on the estate of the lady's mother-in-law Count Clam Gallas surprised his wife in a compromising situation with the Prince. The Countess once challenged Rudolph, and the latter asked for time in which to consider it. At the expiration of the time, which occurred Tuesday, he declared that in accordance with the unwritten rules of affairs of honor in Austria he would avail himself of the privilege of declining the challenge, but he would give satisfaction. Subsequently the Prince changed his mind and the duel occurred.

The whole affair has been largely suppressed by the Austrian court, but it has leaked out through aristocratic compromised in the affair who had to leave the country. The Emperor, who knew of the whole affair, has, it is said, fully approved his son's behavior.

Another Sensation Leaks Out.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The sensational news leaked out to-day that a beautiful young baroness committed suicide by taking poison at Meyering at the same time that the Crown Prince took his life. The two acts were committed almost simultaneously. ww

The Succession.

VIENNA, Feb. 2.—The formal announcement that Archduke Francis is the heir-presumptive to the throne will probably be delayed for legal reasons and on account of the possibility of a posthumous issue of an heir of Rudolph.

LORD BACKVILLE'S SUCCESSOR.

Sir Julian Pauncefote Appointed British Minister at Washington.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—It is stated that Sir Julian Pauncefote, permanent Under Secretary of State for the Foreign Office, has been appointed British Minister to the United States. The report is credited at the foreign office. The appointment is creating irritation in British diplomatic circles, as a departure from the rule of succession in appointments according to rank in the service. Sir Julian is a lawyer, not a diplomat, and was never attached to any embassy. He was appointed to his present post on account of his extensive knowledge of the legal bearings of treaties. As his present salary is only £2000 yearly, the new appointment is a desirable one, the salary of the minister at Washington being £6000. Among officials he has a reputation for shrewdness. He has quiet, amiable manners allied with much acuteness.

O'Brien May Wear His Own Clothes.

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—Thomas Sexton, Lord Mayor of Dublin, has returned his "private entree" tickets for a coming levee at the Castle with a request that the commissioner of police send him no more invitations while the present Government remains in power.

The prison doctor at Clonmel has guaranteed that no further attempt shall be made to force Mr. O'Brien to don the prison garb and has consented to call in another physician for a consultation on Mr. O'Brien's condition.

Killed While Making an Arrest.

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—Police Inspector Martin was killed at Gweedore, County Donegal, to-day while trying to arrest Father McFadden.

Fourteen Killed in a Railway Accident.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 3.—To-day, near Grechrenveal a train bound from Brussels for Namer, struck a pillar of a bridge causing the bridge to collapse. The train was carried down with it and completely wrecked. Fourteen persons were killed and 50 others were injured.

DECLINE OF A GREAT ORDER.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Said to be Going to Pieces.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—A local paper publishes an interview with M. F. Bonnano, Superintendent of the Bound Brook Division of the Reading Railroad system, regarding reports that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is in a bad way financially and that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction within the organization. Mr. Bonnano said he was aware of the dissatisfaction within the order. It was caused, he said, by the heavy assessment upon members of the Brotherhood made in consequence of the strike of engineers upon the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Road.

"The fact is," he said, "that the men and their families cannot live upon their wages and bear such a burden, and I am satisfied—indeed, I know—that of the engineers upon the Reading system not 25, nor even 15, are in good standing. I mean that not over that number have paid their assessments. There have been two powerful causes operating against the continuance of the power of the locomotive engineers. The first was the death-blow the Reading struck at the Knights of Labor, when it fought so successfully the great strike of last winter; and the other was the victory of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Road over the Brotherhood, in successfully overcoming the strike of the engineers."

"It is only a question of time," continued Mr Bonnano, "as to when other systems, that are now measurably or altogether controlled in their employment of engineers by the Brotherhood, will fight with and overthrow it, and I believe that within a year the Pennsylvania Railroad will find it necessary to meet the issue."

THE FAMOUS CORPSE TRUST.

Dr. Shaffer, Its Principal Manager, Dies in the South Carolina Penitentiary.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 1.—The death of Dr. L. M. Shaffer in the State Penitentiary recalls one of the most remarkable series of criminal transactions known to police records, the Bond swindling insurance cases. Dr. Shaffer bore an unblemished reputation for honor and probity among his fellow-men, but he had led a double life. In connection with the Bonds he had used his official position in the Royal Templars, an insurance organization, to defraud it by the enrolment of fictitious names on the membership list, and by furnishing "proofs" of the deaths of the alleged members, and obtaining the insurance money thereon. The grotesque and ghastly nature of the mock funerals and retirements of real bodies stolen from the potter's field under fictitious names has hardly a parallel in fiction. Dr. Shaffer was the leading spirit in the celebrated corpse trust, which defrauded the United States Mutual and a number of other life insurance companies out of thousands of dollars. The ringleaders were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary last year. The body of Dr. Shaffer was interred in the penitentiary cemetery, but will be removed by his sons as soon as they have served out their terms.

The Sarnia Oil Refinery.

DETROIT, Feb. 3.—H. C. Thurber of Marquette, who is in the city, says the Sarnia Oil Company is now fully organized, and only a few minor matters concerning charter and bylaws remain to be adjusted. The capital stock of the company is $250,000. The new company will control the patents of Prof. Hall, who was formerly identified with the Sarnia Refinery, and, according to Mr. Thurber, the old plant has been entirely re-built upon plans which have been perfected to render thoroughly practicable the methods of Hall. The refinery will be in operation in 10 days or two weeks.

Big Bertha Acquitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Big Bertha, the confidence queen who swindled many Hebrews in this city by representing that she was a woman of fabulous wealth, was acquitted yesterday of obtaining $500 by fraud from William Gruhn, whom she promised to marry. Gruhn told a ludicrous story on the stand.

The Moon's Influence

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling around a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6w5d

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, Wholesale Agents. dw

Diphtheria

"Last January," says J. N. Teeple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right." Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w4d

Greatly Excited.

People are apt to get greatly excited in case of sudden accident and injury. It is well to be prepared for such emergencies. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the handiest remedy known for burns, scalds, bruises, lameness, pain and all wounds of the flesh. It is used internally and externally. 2w4d

A Fatal Attack.

A fatal attack of croup is a frequent occurrence among children. Every household should be guarded by keeping Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It breaks up colds, coughs, croup, asthma and bronchitis in a remarkable manner. 2w4d

Very Valuable

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in Gold. Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w4d

The Evils of the Age.

Rev. Mr. Shorey Delineates Some of the Characteristic Evils of the Time in a Forcible Manner.

Sunday night there was a very large congregation in the Charlotte street church, when Rev. Mr. Shorey continued his anniversary sermons to the young people. His sermon was an admirable effort, and deserving of a fuller report than we are able to give. He read the 37th Psalm as a lesson, making running comments and pointing out its special applicability to the young men of to-day. David persuades young people who have not yet had the life experience to verify the statements contained in the psalm, to patience and humble trust in God, by the happy state of the godly and the short-lived prosperity of the wicked. The text was chosen from the first verse of the twelfth Psalm :—

Help, Lord; for the godly man ceaseth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

Rev. Mr. Shorey said he intended to speak more particularly to the young men. A thought had been running through his mind for some months past, which he would develop and present to them to-night. In these times he had observed there was one particular feature of our progress that was not satisfactory. With all the advancement that had been made in every direction, he was not aware that men's consciences had kept pace with other developements. There appears to be a sad lack of trustworthiness in our day. One must come to the conclusion, while reading in the papers of all the failures, embezzlements and defalcations constantly taking place, that something was wrong, and this in a Christian land, too. There were sitting in our churches men who, by means of their superior knowledge of the world and its dealings with mankind, have defrauded, stolen and cheated—those are the English words for it—and have been thoroughly unreliable in business. In view of this in behooved the young generation to take to heart the Bible precepts and guide their lives aright. There was a disposition prevalent among the men of to-day to be careless in regard to the truth—not exactly in telling a straightforward lie or circulating false slanders, but in so presenting the truth that a wrong impression will be given; in not telling the whole truth but withhold part of it—in fact in MAKING THE TRUTH LIE.

For instance, said the reverend gentleman, who would accept the garbled statements of a political newspaper, a party organ? None of them were reliable; and the result is that the young people in reading them grow up with the idea that he is the wise and sagacious man who can so manipulate facts as to deceive people while standing up and saying, "I told you nothing but the truth." There were men of whom it was said their word was as good as their bond—but, all the same, you would prefer to have their bond, and then you would have to look pretty sharp to see that it was carried out. The preacher said he did not wish to present an unreasonably gloomy view of affairs, but all observant people must realize that this is really the state of things. The world was full of selfish combinations and lack of confidence was apparent among all classes of men. Society cannot long maintain itself unless there be confidence among men. It is impossible to tell where it starts, but it is observable on all hands. The employee grumbles at the hard-hearted employer, and the employer complains of the unsatisfactory labor of the employee. Each watches the other with a jealous eye and both suffer. This is the effect of pure selfishness on either side, perhaps on both. On every hand the people were fighting the battle against fraud and deception. A man buys milk, for instance, and how much does he know comes from the cow and how much from the pump? The same way with all other commodities of life. Merchants sell diluted stuff, but of course they in turn are imposed upon and have to sell as they buy. All these things were enough to make one sick at heart, and almost force one to a practice of similar frauds in sheer self defense; but it proved the greater need there was for a higher sense of honor among the young men who were taking their places in life. The young men are told in the papers they read that both the governments of our country are managed by men who defraud and deceive in order to retain office. What is the result? A young man gets the idea into his head that this is the smartest and most sagacious policy, and he plans his life in accordance. The people of this province were, he believed, as good as any people in the world, but there was never a time in the history of the world when was so valuable. Why were guarantee societies necessary? Because men were not honest with each other, and they would not be trusted until some one went security for them. The reverend gentleman said he was not declaiming against such things, but simply giving the result of his observations, which must be apparent to everyone. What was the remedy for this state of things? A higher sense of honor should be taught in the home life. Sunday school teaching once a week was all right, but the home influence was far more potent in guiding children aright. Let Christians put their heel upon this principle that holds sway to-day, that of shamming, covering up and dressing ourselves to hide our wickedness, and teach them that only one policy could succeed in this world, and that principle was absolute truth and honesty. He urged young men to have their employers, interests at heart and not merely stick by the contract. The principle that "there was no use in one killing ones self for anyone else" was not a good one. The government of this country was in the hands of the young men, and if they were honorable and true there could be no danger in the future. But if a policy of dissembling and deceiving became general, ruin could not but follow. The reverend gentleman concluded his address with an eloquent appeal to young men to form their characters upon the Bible, to be true and honorable men, because "an honest man was the noblest work of God."

Church Chimes.

Bishop Dowling on Sunday held confirmation services at Young's Point, Rev. Father Lynch's parish, when 20 candidates were admitted to the church.

Yesterday was Candlemas Sunday at St. Peter's Cathedral. The ceremony of blessing the candles was performed by Rev. Father Dube.

At St. Paul's church Sunday the choir rendered Stayner's anthem, "Awake, Awake, put on thy Strength." The anthem is a beautiful one, and this was its first rendition in Peterborough.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's church takes place Thursday evening. Tea will be served by the ladies at six o'clock.

The annual missionary services of the Charlotte street church will be held next Sunday. Rev. A. B. Chambers, of Napanee, and Rev. Mr. McLean, a Northwest missionary, will be the speakers.

At St. John's Sunday night the congregation was unusually large, every seat being occupied. The musical part of the services were excellent, and after the Collects Mr. J. B. Hutchins sang "There is a Green Hill far Away" in fine voice. The recessional hymn was also worthy of especial mention. The inspiriting words of Rev. Baring Gould's "Onward Christian Soldiers," was sung with splendid spirit and expression by the choir to an air composed by Mr. Seward, organist. The magnificent militant rythm of the air, and its speaking accompaniment, are a fitting setting for the grand words of the hymn.

On Sunday the parishioners of Eastmoore and Douro paid a farewell tribute to their priests, Rev. Fathers Kelly and O'Connell, who have been transferred to another part of the diocese. Sunday was the last day of their present ministrations, and their congregations could not let the opportunity pass without giving tokens of their esteem for their faithful pastors and regret at their leaving. Complimentary addresses were presented each of them, accompanied by more substantial testimonials in the shape of purses of money. The addresses and replies will be published later.

Mr. Lalliberte, late leader of the Fenelon Falls choir, has arrived in town and will shortly assume charge of the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral. Mr. Lalliberte is an accomplished musician and good teacher.

Songs.

The following beautiful stanza are by the world-renowned John R. Clarke, the lecturer, who lectures in the Charlotte street Methodist church to-night on "Gough in Humor and Eloquence." Mr. Clarke travels extensively on the railroads in the pursuit of his vocation and spends part of his time in jotting down inspired thoughts. The inspiration of the rhyme is the fact of the songs that are unsung in life as well as those that are sung.

Sweet are the songs we sing,
Yet some unsung are sweeter;
As our best thoughts rarely ring
Into measured time and metre.

The scenes of life are apt to reveal
Its changing of storm and shine,
Sad or glad, about as we feel,
Throbs into every line.

What thrilling notes of gladness
Swell from the joyous tongue,
But mute is the pathos of sadness,
In the silence of songs unsung.

Sometimes we feel the tremolo,
As we sing the songs that sigh:
For well we know a soul's great woe
Molds th' strange sweet melody.

Songs are like the tears that flow
From the empire of the heart,
Where sweetest joy or wildest woe,
Dwell till thought and life depart.

A beautiful thought is the soul of rhyme,
'Tis the charm that moves along
The cadence of melodious chime,
In the glorious mission of song.

The song of love will linger fond,
At Vernal Mound and Sculptured Stone;
The song of hope will soar beyond,
And find once more her own.

The song of memory often strides
Back o'er the years and longs,
But the song of faith forever abides
With the ideal of her songs.
